The additional associate judge for the second circuit herein provided for shall be a resident of Cecil County, shall be appointed by the Governor after the expiration of six (6) months after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Caroline, Cecil, Kent, Queen Anne's and Talbot counties, constituting the second circuit. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit, and the judge so elected shall be subject to the same constitutional provision, hold his office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation, and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit.

The additional judge for the sixth circuit herein provided for and elected by the qualified voters of Frederick and Montgomery Counties at the 1938 election in accordance with the terms of the Constitutional Amendment heretofore submitted and adopted shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the sixth circuit and his successor shall be appointed and/or elected in accordance with the constitutional provisions relating to judges. The Chief Judge may be elected from either Frederick or Montgomery Counties, but when the Chief Judge is elected from Frederick County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said county and the two remaining associate judges shall be residents of Montgomery County and when the Chief Judge is elected from Montgomery County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said Montgomery County and the remaining two associate judges residents of Frederick County. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the sixth judicial circuit shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be declared elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuit, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be, residing in said county in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates as the case may be, residing in the other county, and not similarly disqualified, who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If, by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said sixth judicial circuit, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State shall be, at the next general election to be held in this State in the year 1938, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State, and at the said general election, the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment," as now prescribed by law, and immediately after said election, due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution.

Said Board shall consist of six registered and practicing dentists of recognized ability and honor, residents of the State of Maryland, each of whom shall have been in active practice in the State for at least five years immediately preceding his appointment. No member of the faculty or teaching staff of any university or college in the State of Maryland which offers undergraduate courses in dentistry shall be eligible for appointment. The members of the Board as at present constituted shall hold office for the residue of the respective terms for which they have been appointed. No member who has served two full consecutive terms shall be eligible to succeed himself. In case of a vacancy occurring in said Board by reason of the death of any member, or of his incapacity, neglect or refusal to act, or in any other way, the Governor shall, from a list of duly qualified dentists of double the number of vacancies to be filled, chosen, submitted and proposed to him as hereinbefore provided, appoint a successor or successors of said member or members, who shall hold office for the remainder of the unexpired term or terms of said member or members. Any member of said Board, who, without adequate reason shall be absent from two successive meetings thereof shall cease to be a member thereof, and the Governor shall have the power to remove from office, at any time, any member of the Board for continued neglect of duty required by this Act, or for incompetency, unprofessional or dishonorable conduct.

3. Said Board shall hold regular meetings in the months of June and November of every year, and special meetings as it may deem necessary, upon call of the president or secretary thereof and upon due notice. Meetings may be held at any time and place and without notice, by the unanimous consent evidenced either by writing or by the presence of any member whose consent is necessary.

4. The Board shall give an examination twice each year at a suitable place in Maryland to be decided by the Board, to all persons who may desire to qualify to practice dentistry in this State. This examination shall be at such time, place, under such conditions and of such kind or character as the Board in its sole discretion may determine.

(b) The Board may, in its discretion, register without examination, in whole or in part, and issue a certificate to any person who has been graduated and admitted to the degree of Doctor of Dental Surgery or equivalent degree by any university or college incorporated and authorized to grant such degree by the laws of the United States or any of its territories, districts or possessions, or by the laws of any State of the United States or by the laws of any province of the Dominion of Canada and who has been duly registered and licensed to practice dentistry by a Board of Dental Examiners created and existing under the laws of the United States, or any of its territories, districts or possessions, or under the laws of any State of the United States, or who may have absolved any part of the requirements of examination under the authority of a recognized Board generally accepted as a reputable agent of the profession.

(c) Students of dentistry at a recognized college of dentistry who have completed the regularly prescribed pre-clinical instruction in dental schools recognized by the Board, and who may be certified by the dean of the college at which they are in attendance as having satisfactorily completed certain subjects included in the examination given by the Board may on application be admitted by said Board to its regular examination upon such subjects and upon passing such examination shall be deemed to have absolved the requirements of the Board in such subjects.

(d) Upon application of the Board of Managers or executive head of any bona fide general hospital or State hospital or sanatorium in the State of Maryland, and upon the payment of a fee of five dollars the Board shall issue a certificate of limited registration to any individual of good moral character who shall furnish the Board with proof entitling such person to be examined for registration under sub-paragraph (a) of this section. Such limited registration shall be for one year only and the date of expiration shall be plainly stated on the face of the certificate of registration. Such limited registration shall entitle the said applicant to practice dentistry only for the said institution designated on his certificate of registration and only on bona fide patients of said institution. Such certificate may be revoked by the Board at any time for cause.

6. If any license herein provided for is lost or destroyed, and if the holder thereof shall desire a new license to be issued in place of the license lost or destroyed, he shall make written application to the secretary of the Board for re-issuance of the same under affidavit, setting forth that such license is lost or destroyed, and the circumstances under which such loss or destruction occurred, and upon receipt of such satisfactory application and affidavit, the secretary shall issue to said applicant a duplicate license, for which there shall be paid a fee of five dollars.

7. A fee of twenty dollars shall be paid to the secretary of the Board at the time of application by each applicant for examination, or registration, or both, as often as he or she shall apply for same; provided that payment of said fee of twenty dollars by an applicant who may apply for examination upon certain subjects as provided in Section 5, Article 3, hereof shall entitle him or her to take the examination upon the remainder of the prescribed subjects, no part of said fee to be refunded under any circumstances.

8. The fees collected by the Board shall be used to defray the cost of executing and enforcing the provisions of this Article, including a salary to the secretary as fixed by the Board and a per diem to each member of the Board of twenty-five dollars for every day he is actually employed in the discharge of his official duties, necessary expenses of the secretary and members in the performance of their duties, and such other expenses as the Board shall deem necessary in carrying out the purposes of this Article. The secretary shall receive and disburse all moneys of the Board, and shall account for the same to the State Comptroller in the month of December in each and every year; and should the amount in his hands as of December first in any year, after deducting all expenses paid or incurred, exceed five hundred dollars, the excess shall be paid over to the State Board of Health.

9. Transcripts from the aforesaid book of registration certified by the secretary, sealed with its seal, and all certificates issued in pursuance of the terms of this Article, shall be evidence of the acts and proceedings of the Board in any court of this State.

10. Following a hearing, as hereafter provided, the Board may revoke or suspend for such period as the Board in its sole discretion may determine, the license of any dentist practicing in this State upon a finding by the Board that the dentist whose license was revoked or suspended:

(1) was convicted of a crime involving moral turpitude, in which case a certified copy of the docket entries by the Clerk of the Court wherein the final judgment was entered, shall be conclusive evidence of the same;

(e) Notices may be mailed to the general public by any dentist who is about to begin the practice of dentistry notifying the public of this fact. Such notice shall not be more than 3 1-2 inches by 2 inches and may only contain the name, title, address, telephone number, and office hours of such dentist. Such notice may be printed in any newspaper or publication. Not more than one notice shall be in any edition of any newspaper or publication at one time.

This Section is severable, and if this Section is declared unconstitutional, the decision so holding the same shall not be construed as impairing any other provision of this act. It is hereby declared as a legislative intent that this Act would have been adopted had this provision not been included therein.

11. In the event the license of any dentist is revoked or suspended, such fact shall be noted by the Board upon the record of registration, and the registration and certificate of the practitioner so offending shall be suspended or revoked as the case may be; and any person whose registration has been so suspended or revoked under the provisions of this Section shall be deemed an unregistered person and subject, as such, to the penalties prescribed for the practice of dentistry by persons that are not duly registered.

Every licensee whose license has been suspended or revoked by the Board may appeal to the Baltimore City Court of Baltimore City or the Circuit Court of the County wherein the licensee has his or her office where the matter shall be heard de novo, and where either party shall be entitled to a jury trial. The decision of the said Court shall be final and such appeal shall operate as a stay of the order or decision of the Board from which the appeal was taken. All appeals must be taken within fifteen (15) days from the date of the decision of the Board. All costs on appeal shall be paid by the losing party.

12. The proceedings to revoke or suspend any license under Section 10 of this Act may only be taken by the Board upon the complaint of another. All complaints must be in writing, verified by some person familiar with the facts therein charged, and two copies thereof must be filed with the secretary of the Board. All complaints must contain the request that the Board take action against the offender. Upon receiving any complaint the Board shall, if it deems the complaint sufficient following an investigation, pass an order setting the same for a hearing at a specified time and place, and the secretary shall cause a copy of the order and of the complaint, or of a complaint drawn by the Board, to be served upon the accused at least ten days before the day appointed in the order for said hearing. Service upon the accused shall be by delivery of a copy of the order and complaint to the accused in person. In the event the Board is unable to serve the accused in person, the service shall be had by delivery of the same to his last known residence and last known business address, or by sending a copy of the same by registered mail to the accused at his last known residence and last known business address, any of which means shall constitute sufficient notice to justify proceedings with a hearing of the charges. The accused must appear at the time appointed in the order and answer the charges and make his defense to the same, unless for sufficient cause the Board may assign another day for the purpose. If the accused does not appear the Board may proceed with the hearing and finally determine the accusation or complaint, in the absence of the accused. If the accused pleads guilty, or refuses to answer the charges or upon a hearing thereof the Board shall find said charges or any of them true, the Board may proceed to suspend or revoke the license of the accused for such length of time as the Board, in its discretion, shall deem proper. The Board and the accused may have the benefit of counsel. The Board shall have the power to administer oaths, take the depositions of witnesses in the manner provided by law in civil cases, and to compel the attendance of witnesses by subpoena issued over the signature of the secretary of the Board. The Board shall issue for any and all witnesses requested in writing by the accused.

Whenever any person subpoenaed to appear and give testimony shall refuse to appear or testify before said Board, or to answer any pertinent, relative or proper questions, he shall be deemed in contempt of said Board, and it shall be the duty of the presiding officer of said Board to report the fact to the Superior Court of Baltimore City in the event the party guilty of contempt resides in said City, or has a place of business in said City, or to the Judge of the Circuit Court of the County wherein the party guilty of said contempt resides; thereupon the Court shall issue an attachment in the usual form, directed to the Sheriff of the City or County commanding said Sheriff to attach said person and forthwith bring him before the Court. On the return of said attachment and the production of the person attached, the Court shall have jurisdiction of the contempt, and the person charged may purge himself of the contempt in the same way, and the same proceedings shall be had, and the same penalties may be imposed, and the same punishment may be inflicted as in the case of a witness subpoenaed to appear and give evidence in the trial of a civil cause. The Board shall have the power in its discretion, to authorize the payment of fees and traveling expenses of witnesses called before the Board and examined in any proceeding properly before the Board.

13. All signs prohibited by this Act shall be removed within three months after the passage of this Act. Any person or persons who shall prohibit, neglect, fail or refuse to remove any sign prohibited by this Act is guilty of a violation of this Act and subject to the penalties thereof.

14. Each person holding a license under this Act shall exhibit on the door or the wall of the building wherein he shall practice dentistry, not more than two signs on which shall be placed the name and title or degree of such person, the letters of which shall not exceed three inches square. Any person practicing dentistry in any building may exhibit such sign on the door of his office in addition to those on the door or wall of such building.

15. Any person shall be deemed to be practicing dentistry, within the meaning of this Act, (a) who is a manager, proprietor, or conductor of, or an operator in, any place in which any dental service or any dental operation is performed within the mouth of any person; or (b) who for a fee, salary, or other remuneration or reward, paid or to be paid to himself or to another, or gratuitously or otherwise, performs any such service or operation; or (c) who diagnoses or treats, or attempts to diagnose or treat, any disease, lesion, malocclusion, or malposition of a tooth, gum or jaw, in any person, mechanically, medicinally, by use of x-ray, or otherwise; or (d) who attempts to perform in the mouth of any person any operation incident to the repair or replacement of a tooth or teeth; or (e) who publicly or privately applies to himself the title "Dentist" or "Dental Surgeon" or uses the letters D.D.S. or D.M.D., or any other titles or letters in connection with his name which, in any way, represent him as being competent or ready to perform any dental service or any dental operation in any human mouth. This sub-section shall have no application to any person who is the holder of a dental degree who does not, either directly or indirectly, practice, or attempt to practice, dentistry as hereinbefore set forth in this Section 15.

16. Nothing in this Act shall apply to a bona fide student of dentistry in the clinic rooms of a reputable dental college; to a legally qualified physician or surgeon unless he practices dentistry as a specialty; to a dental surgeon of the United States Army, Navy, Public Health Service or Veterans Bureau, in the discharge of his official duties; nor to a lawful practitioner of dentistry of another State, territory or foreign country making a clinical demonstration before a dental society, dental convention, association of dentists, or dental college, or in performing professional duties in connection with a specific case on which he may have been called to the State of Maryland. Nothing in this Article shall apply to public school clinics, to state institutions, to eleemosynary institutions, or to business corporations which may maintain clinics for pupils, inmates or employees only which shall employ only legally qualified dentists. No such public school clinic, State institution, eleemosynary institution, or business corporation shall advertise in any manner or by any method, either directly or indirectly, anything relative to the practice of dentistry. Such institutions are prohibited not only from advertising in violation of this act but are prohibited from advertising in any manner anything relative to the practice of dentistry.

Nothing in this Article shall prohibit the Dental Division of the State Department of Health, or the Director of the Public School Clinics of the City Health Department from broadcasting educational programs over the radio.

17. All persons now authorized to practice dentistry in this State, and those who may be hereafter registered, under the provisions of this Article, shall be exempt from service as jurors in any of the Courts of this State, during the continuance of the practice of their profession.

18. The Board shall always be designated as the "State Board of Dental Examiners", and under this name it shall have the right to sue or be sued in the Courts of this State.

19. Any person who shall practice, or attempt to practice dentistry within the State of Maryland, without having a license as hereinbefore provided or during the period of suspension or revocation of such license previously granted shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than fifty dollars nor more than three hundred dollars, or be confined not more than six months in jail, in the discretion of the Judge or Judges of the Circuit Court of the respective counties of this State, or the Judge or Judges of the Criminal Court of Baltimore City, before whom the matter shall be tried; and upon conviction of a subsequent offense, shall be confined not more than six months in jail or fined not less than three hundred dollars or more than five hundred dollars. Any violation of this Article by a person convicted under the then existing laws of this State of practicing dentistry without a license or registration shall be included in the term subsequent offense. Every conviction of unlawful practice subsequent to a first conviction thereof shall be a conviction of a subsequent offense.

20. MT. LAKE PARK

We have just finished reading "Autumn Thoughts" by Bill Nye. It is too long to give it all but one or two paragraphs struck us most forcibly and we pass it along:

"Leaves have their time to fall—and so has the price of coal. And yet how sadly at variance with decaying nautre is the robust coal market.

"Another glorious summer with its wealth of pleasant memories is stored away among the archives of our history. Another gloomy winter is upon us. These wonderful colors that flame across the softened sky of Indian Summer, like the gory banner of a royal conqueror, come but to warn us that in a few short weeks the water pipes will he 'busted' in the kitchen and the decorated wash bowl will be broken."

On Monday night around eight o'clock (which is late for Mt. Lake) the sound of drums and the blare of horns were heard. Everyone rushed to find out what it was all about. It was Mickey's Band. They were serenading several of their good patrons—Dr. Logan Carr, Mrs. E. L. Winebell, Mr. McClelland Clayton. It was grand music and even those who were not honored got a thrill when they heard the drums, which brings us to what we really started out to tell you. The band wants through this column to thank all those who so loyally supported them on Sunday. They are very grateful and very pleased and they take this means to express their thanks. Personally we have tried so hard and have worked to see that the band did "get along." Night after night they sat through the regular band practice; time after time they had food sales to raise money; when the boys had a chance to go to another town the fathers used their trucks or cars to transport them, so we say that the parents are in line for congratulations.

The news has just come that Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Gilmore will not be with us this year. Rev. Gilmore, who has been pastor of the Methodist church, has been transferred to Ripley, W. Va. THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 62. OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MARYLAND, OCTOBER 6, 1938. NUMBER 32.

STATE CLOSES ITS YEAR WITH A HUGE SURPLUS

Nice Says Comptroller and Republican Governor Are Entitled to Commendation for Condition

$2,200,000 PILED UP

Fiscal-minded persons glancing at State balance sheets today (October 1)—the first day of the new fiscal year—could find these items worthy of note.

An estimated surplus of $2,200,000 in the treasury.

Relief tax collections approximately $800,000 under estimates made by the legislature.

Sixteen counties "in the red" in their lateral road fund accounts with the State Roads Commission.

The end of the year Friday brought that flurry of figures from the Comptroller's office in Annapolis and the Roads Commission in Baltimore.

Nice Commends His Regime

Governor Harry W. Nice, on learning of the surplus, said:

"I feel that the Comptroller (Democrat William S. Gordy, Jr., who made an unsuccessful bid in the recent primary for the gubernatorial nomination) and the Republican Governor are entitled to commendation for the healthy and structurally sound condition of State finances.

"Charges brought against my administration of wasteful and reckless spending of public funds cannot be maintained in the face of this surplus, especially when it is recalled that there was a deficit of $3,900,000 when I took office."

Roads Commission Accounts

The Roads Commission listed these counties as overdrawn in their road funds:

Allegany, $40,244; Anne Arundel, $5,687; Calvert, $279; Caroline, $5,923; Carroll, $16,211; Cecil, $14,121; Charles, $3,214; Dorchester, $2,866; Frederick, $29,627; Garrett, $13,502; Howard, $519; Kent, $10,476; Prince George's, $32,855; St. Mary's, $3,348; Talbot, $9,044; Washington, $33,580.

Biggest disappointment of the relief tax schedule was the new one-half of one percent income levy. It was estimated to bring in $1,500,000 but actually returned only $1,012,059.

The whole schedule was estimated to bring $4,545,000 for relief and actual collections were $3,744,932.76.

State's Cash Jingles

The State of Maryland jingled its biggest pocketful of cash in history on Friday.

The State Comptroller's office reported a cash balance of $16,404,270.17 on deposit in various banks of the State. This total is the largest cash balance ever carriad by the State.

The cash on hand figure almost doubled since 1936, Comptroller William S. Gordy said. The cash balance at the close of the fiscal year two years ago was $8,994,479.50.

Monthly Meeting Of Mayor And City Council Monday

One of the shortest meetings of the year was held by the City Council on Monday evening, which was the regular monthly session of that body.

H. P. Stuck was employed to sit with the County Commissioners during the appeal session this week to note any change in the assessments for the town of Oakland.

A motion was passed to purchase 20 new water meters, and another motion authorizing the purchase of a new coat for the town policeman, B. B. Nethkin. Monthly bills amounting to $1500 were ordered paid. The total included half-year salaries of the Mayor and Councilmen. Another bill ordered paid was that of $1248, to the Garrett National Bank for a loan. This sum, however, was included in the figure given last month.

Golf course receipts for the year were listed at $863.65. During the past month there was received $133.35 from green fees and $50 for memberships. Last week's receipts were $31.25.

Masons To Reconvene

Oakland Lodge No. 192, A., F. and A. Masons, will convene next Tuesday evening, October 11, after its summer recess of three months. Although regular communications are at 7:30, the meeting on Tuesday will open at 7 for a special program. Dr. E. E. Church, president of Potomac State College, Keyser, W. Va., will deliver an address. Notices of the meeting have been sent out by Neil V. Liller, worshipful master.

LUTHERANS CONVENE FOR 11TH NATIONAL MEETING

President Knubel Says Church Is United "Now as Never Before"

Dr. Frederick H. Knubel, New York, president of the United Lutheran church in America, opened the group's 11th biennial convention at Baltimore last night with the assertion "I believe the United Lutheran church is truly united now as never before. . . . ."

Dr. Knubel sounded the convention keynote of "unity of fellowship in christian faith and life" in his sermon at the opening communion service. In the solemn procession opening the service, were clerical officers of the church, Dr. Knubel, Dr. Walter H. Creever, church secretary, and the presidents of the thirty-four synods.

"I appeal for the unanimous will to unite among us," Dr. Knubel said to the 550 delegates from all sections of America. "There never was a time when our unity was more needed than now.

"I appeal especially to all our pastors, beseeching them to tell men's weary souls chiefly what God has done and is willing to do for them."

The duty of the United Lutheran church, he asserted, is "to rid ourselves of any state of mind that finds more pleasure in disagreeing with other Lutherans than in agreeing with them."

Church officials, commenting on the theme of unity, pointed out that the American Lutheran church whose headquarters are at Columbus, Ohio, will send a representative to the convention to express the hope that progress toward unity may continue. The two churches recently had a series of negotiations on the subject.

SCORES OF NEW FEATURES ARE IN TABLELAND FAIR

Opens At Gimbels In Pittsburgh On Wednesday, October 19

Scores of new features, including displays from the Federal Government and the State of West Virginia will make the seventh annual Tableland Fair this year an unusual one. There will be exhibits by the United States Soil Conservation Service and ten other exhibits from the U. .S. Department of Agriculture. There will also be an exhibit ofrural art scenes partly owned by the Russel Sage Foundation and partly by the Department of Agriculture.

The fair will be staged, as in 1937, in the 13th floor auditorium and on the sun deck of Gimbels Department store in Pittsburgh. The date of opening this year will be Wednesday, October 19, and continue through October 22. Prizes will be awarded as usual for best exhibits entered from the Tablelands, and the number of contests will be large and varied.

Of particular interest will be a showing of rare Brown Swiss cattle by Meyers Bros. of Meyersdale. Four-H boys and girls of the Tablelands will once again enter competition in a wide range of prize contests, including twenty classifications and four prizes. There will be stamp and coin exhibits, craft exhibits, photography and many other interesting hobbies on display. The best in every case will earn its owner a prize.

The Conservation Department of the State of West Virginia is sending dioramas of forestry, recreational and fire protection activities, panels illustrating state parks, plus an automatic projector showing motion pictures in color of park recreational activities.

Poultry raisers will be esepcially interested in an exhibition of fine turkeys and a large number of rare poultry collected particularly for the 1938 Tableland Fair. Cages for these fowl will be set up on the spacious outdoor sun deck as in past years.

Another noteworthy addition to the Fair will be a personal representative of the United States Department of Agriculture, who will set up an information bureau and who will have on hand booklets on every phase of agriculture. Every visitor is cordially invited to visit this bureau and make use of its facilities.

The United States Farm Security Administration is preparing a special exhibit of photographs which will portray human problems in American rural life, particularly in the Tableland section.

Not only are the number of exhibits, both from Government agencies and the Tableland, unprecedented this year, but the number of contestants has never been so large. Gimbels is flooded with entry blanks from all over the Tableland.

Tableland merchandise will find a ready market in Pittsburgh when given the opportunity of display which the Fair offers. Experience has shown the value of having potato raisers, egg dealers, apple growers, or anyone with farm produce ready for the market on the spot ready to take orders. An unusually large number of people visit the Fair from Pittsburgh.

Any man or woman subscribing to The Republican can get an entry list from either Gimbels in Pittsburgh or from County Agent John H. Carter. If you haven't time to get a copy of the official entry blank, make up your own list on plain paper and forward it to Gimbeds by October 10.

Theere is no charge for making entries. Trucks will come out from Pittsburgh to pick up each exhibit after entries are received.

MT. TOP PREPARING TO WELCOME EXCURSIONISTS

CITIZENS DONATING CARS

Oakland residents and citizens living nearby are preparing to give Baltimore excursionists a warm welcome when they come here on Sunday, October 9, for the final train trip of the year, sponsored by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad in cooperation with the Mayor and Town Council.

This final excursion of 1938 will carry only members of the Baltimore Booster Club, and several weeks ago the railway company seased selling tickets, as more than 500 persons had applied for transportation. The officials feared that it would be impossible for Oakland citizens to care for more than that number of people, as the thirty-mile tour through this area will be made in private automobiles of citizens of the community.

This will be by far the largest group of excursionists to come to Oakland in recent years, and a determined effort is being made, not only by town officials, but by those who will drive the automobiles on the tour to make the visit a pleasant one.

This will be the third excursion to this section to show Baltimore and Washington people the beauties of the mountain top and interest them in spending their vacations here.

A special feature of the tour on Sunday will be a visit to the Swallow Falls CCC camp, when the dedication of the new educational building recently erected on the reservation, will take place.

Upon arrival at Swallow Falls the excursionists will be met by guides who are members of the 304th Company, CCC, and will be shown the camp, the sights of the Swallow Falls State forest, and then taken on a tour of inspection of the new building. Officials at the camp have made plans to furnish refreshments in the mess hall during the tour. Captain Isiminger, in command, has also extended an invitation to the general public of Oakland and of the county to visit Swallow Falls on Sunday.

The excursionists are expected to arrive at the Oakland station about 12:30, as railroad officials are planning to make the run in less time than formerly, as the train will no go into the Washington station at all. The entire expense of the trip is costing each individual from Baltimore the sum of $6.45.

The excursionists will be met at the Oakland station by the Mayor and his party. Mickey's Band of Mountain Lake Park and Loch Lynn will play several numbers and then the visitors will begin the tour of the Tableland.

Among those coming on the excursion are Mr. Charles Potter, vice-president and general manager of the Baltimore City street railway system, and Mrs. Potter.

To Make Attempt To Revive Declining Rural Churches

Rev. Paul R. Maness, who was pastor of the Corinth M. E. circuit the past year and who has been active in the organization of the Mountain Lake Park Self-Help University, has been appointed as a minister of the Tableland Larger Parish.

The appointment was made by Bishop A. W. Leonard, of the West Virginia Conference, through District Superintendent Charles S. Jones, of Morgantown.

The work cut out for Mr. Maness is to revive abandoned and declining rural Methodist churches in the Tahleland area and comes under the country and town department of Home Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist church, of which A. H. Rapking, West Virginia pastor, is the head. Rev. Maness will confer with Rev. Rapking in Washington, D. C., today.

Rev. Maness was appointed to the Farmington, W. Va., pastorate at the conclusion of the recent meeting of the West Virginia Conference, but his new appointment was announced on Tuesday. Rev. W. H. Gilmore, pastor at Mountain Lake Park last year, who was appointed to the Ripley, W. Va., charge, will go to Farmington.

It was also announced on Tuesday that Rev. Maness had been made business manager and superintendent of Mountain Lake Park. With his family he has moved into the superintendent's residence there.

CANDIDATES REPORT ON EXPENSES OF ELECTION

Mayor Jackson Spent $1,000 Here During Unsuccessful Campaign

A number of county and State-wide candidates have filed reports with the Clerk of the Circuit Court showing expenses they incurred during the recent campaign which ended disastrously for the majority of them. Reports of some county candidates shows they paid dearly for every vote they received, in some cases running almost $1 per vote.

In a number of cases those who spent the least were nominated. Mayor Jackson, Baltimore, seeking the Democratic Gubernatorial nomination, paid out $1,000 in Garrett county. The fund was contributed by a committee from Baltimore, $500; D. E. Offutt and W. R. Offutt, Oakland, $200 each and A. T. Matthews, $100. The fund was expended for distributing literature, printing, hiring of automobiles and workers on election day and messenger service. The Jackson report was filed by Dr. N. I. Broadwater, treasurer.

A. T. Matthews filed the report for Senator Tydings, which showed receipts of $800 from F. A. Dolfield, treasurer, and expenditures of $586.56. "Messenger service" was a frequent item in the list of expenditures, indicating that somebody may have suffered from "leg ache" as a result of foot work.

J. Frank Browning, filing a report for W. D. Byron, Democratic candidate for Congress, showed receipts and expenditures of $100.

In the county, Clifford Friend, reported expenditures of $44.00, which did not include his filing fee of $25 with the Board of Election Supervisors. Other candidates' expenses ras as follows:

Norval Speelman, $29.25; Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., $75.78; C. F. Hammond, $61.75; Mrs. Vernie Smouse, $42.00; Bert C. Scott, $62.75; W. D. Casteel, $15.75; Thomas W. Enlow, $81; John T. Dixon, $110.03; Daniel N. Green, $134.70; J. C. Myers, $86.45; J. S. Teats, $80.37; J. C. Renninger, $10.25; Frank Callis, $15; George J. Pool, $39.75; Terrence F. O'Donnell, $8.25; O. S. Fike, $43.25; J. W. Glotfelty, $177.75; Nelson Brenneman, $50.25; Mark H. Moon, $3.25; W. A. Smith, $17.67; W. E. Pew, $55.33; T. E. Bishoff, $17.67; Donald Chisholm, $77; H. W. McComas, Jr., $8; A. T. Matthews, $3; Alex Frazee, $116.53; J. W. Herman, $71. Several candidates for committees and delegates to conventions reported no expenses.

Darwin B. Martin, $59; Albert F. Howard, $65.25; Harry C. Edwards, $100.44; T. C. Bittinger, $54.00.

HARRY W. NICE PLANNING "CROSS ROADS" CAMPAIGN

Will Visit In Garrett County On Saturday, October 15; To Be In Every County Of The State

PLAN RALLY AT OAKLAND

Governor Harry W. Nice plans an old-fashioned "cross roads" campaign for re-election, he has announced. The Governor's campaign caravan will visit every county and almost every community of any size in the State, he said on the tour starting Thursday.

Governor Nice will be accompanied by the four Republican candidates who face State-wide tests: Oscar Leser, U. S. Senatorial candidate; Leo Weinberg, for attorney general; E. Ray Jones, Oakland, clerk of the Court of Appeals, and Dr. W. G. Jack, candidate for Comptroller.

The candidates for State offices will meet county candidates in each of the counties to form caravans, Governor Nice said. The Republican "flying squadrons" will hold brief rallies in the main communities of each county. "We are going to tell our story to the people," Governor Nice said. "It'll be an old-time country store campaign." The Republican caravan will start Thursday from Prince Frederick.

Lesson for October 9

SPIRITUAL WORSHIP

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 20:4-6; 32:1-8; John 4:19-24.

GOLDEN TEXT—God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth.—John 4:24.

"The First Commandment bids us to worship God exclusively; the Second bids us to worship Him spiritually. The First Commandment forbids us to worship false gods; the Second forbids us to worship the true God under false forms" (Farrar). Israel had lived among the Egyptians, a people known for their worship of images, and was about to enter into Canaan where there were many false gods. The Lord was therefore careful not only to forbid the worship of other gods, but also to forbid the making of images of any kind, whether they represented the many gods of heathendom, or were attempts to symbolize the true God. In studying this lesson we need to exercise care lest we miss the point by talking only of the gods of wood and stone which the heathen worship, and fail to apply the truth to any improper use of images which may prevail in our land and in the present day. Let us lay aside any preconceived notions and face the facts in the light of God's Word.

I. True Worship Required (Exod. 20:4-6).

This commandment expressly forbids idolatry in any form. The injunction is twofold. (1) Men are forbidden to make any material likeness which to them represents a being to be worshiped. It matters not whether it be an image of what men believe God to be like, or the image of an angelic being, a heavenly body, in fact "anything that is in the heaven above," or on the earth—such as a man or animal; or under the water—such as a fish. (2) If such objects have been made either by ourselves or others we may not bow down to them, nor render any service to them. Let us all examine our religious ceremonies and practices in the light of God's commandment.

Observe that obedience to this command brings rich blessing to "thousands" (v. 6), whereas disobedience is a curse not only to the man who disobeys, but also to his descendants. Spiritual blight so often runs through whole families, while spiritual life just as often blesses those who follow us. Blessed is the man who gives his children and his children's children a true spiritual heritage, but woe be unto that man who passes on the darkness and spiritual death of unbelief to his children!

II. False Worship Established (Exod. 32:1-8).

It comes to us as a real shock that a people so highly privileged, so well-instructed and so ably led as Israel should turn to idolatry. The story reveals the depravity of the human heart. Their excuse that Moses was gone was only an excuse without foundation. They did what their hearts wanted to do, and they used his absence to put forward their wicked desires.

Let us be careful lest we be misled or indeed, mislead ourselves into creating a God after the concept of our own heart and mind. We, like Israel, may be tempted to "make us gods" to which we will bow down and worship. It may not be out of place at this point to warn against a folly which seems to have laid hold of the church, that of almost deifying our Christian leaders. A man who is called to speak for God is a highly privileged man, worthy of our support and our respect. But let us remember that he is only a servant, an instrument in God's hand, and let us never be guilty of worshiping and serving "the creature more than the Creator, who is blessed forever" (Rom. 1:25).

III. True Worship Defined (John 4:19-24).

One would suppose that a truth so vital and fundamental as that stated in these verses would long since have completely saturated the life of the church as well as of the individual believer. "God is a Spirit, and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth."

Even in this year of our Lord 1938, countless men and women still believe that worship has something to do with place (vv. 20, 21) or race (v. 22) or some other external device or formula. What a pity that this should be true when the gracious and delightful way to worship is through personal spiritual communion between God and man.

Deadening formalism is not our only enemy. There is the powerless preachment of modernism—and in all honesty must we not admit that even some so-called fundamentalism has in many respects lost the true spirit of the faith for which it rightly contends. We who cherish the truth of God's Word will shun modern liberalism. We may not be tempted to obscure the worship of God by formalism. But we may be in danger of a dead orthodoxy, being as someone said "orthodox about everything except I Corinthians 13"—or failing to worship God in spirit and in truth and not living out that spirit in loving service to our brethren.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS. . . . . .

Relief A Real Issue

Washington, Oct. 4.

If the Republicans and anti-New Deal Democrats had any real gumption they would unite in making an issue this fall, in the next session of Congress and, if still unsuccessful, in the 1940 campaign, of getting the business of relief back in the hands of nonpartisan State committees.

• • •

If the country is to free itself of the New Deal disease in time to recover health and sanity, what it needs is concentration upon a single simple issue which people can easily understand instead of a blanket indictment covering so many points that the force is diulted and the effect nil. The proposal to return relief to the local committees presents such an issue. By far, it is the best upon which to make the fight. Even if the Federal Government puts up ninety-five per cent. of the money, that would be an immense gain in that it would end a situation which has become a great national shame.

• • •

There are many reasons for centering the attack on the Administration's relief policy and urging the change. The first, of course, is that, under Mr. Harry Hopkins, the relief organization has become saturated with politics. Appointments are made on recommendation and approval of the politicians and the pretense of non-partisanship and non-political participation is completely transparent. Mr. Hopkins himself has become a recognized political factor. He is boosted for Governor in one State (New York); makes declarations in favor of the Administration Senatorial candidate in another (Iowa), and recently in a third (California); justifies Administration support of the absurd $30-every Thursday pension scheme candidate by asserting that that "is only a local issue, after all."

• • •

Nor can the trick words last June of Mr. Hopkins and his aide, Mr. Aubrey Williams, with which, in effect, they told people on relief how to cast their ballots, be forgotten. Characterizing these utterances, Mr. Hoover recently said "Ripped of all disguises and all intellectual dishonesty, the statements of these two men were a direction to the millions on relief and their wives and relatives how to vote." Wholly aside from all partisan indictment, there is evidence enough to justify this issue over and over again. Politics in the WPA has been denounced by a Senate investigation committee controlled by Democrats; it has been exposed in Democratic newspapers supporting the President; it has been vehemently asserted by leading Democrats in Congress.

• • •

In fact, it has been so widely charged and so generally recognized and admitted that the periodical gestures made by Mr. Hopkins, his stage resignation over the charges and his blatant assertions of his non-political attitude have become worse than ridiculous—they are impudent and brazen. In anti-New Deal circles they create a steadily growing resentment; among the New Deal politicians there is admiration for the way in which "Hop" gets away with it. One of the chief things some assert he has "gotten away with" is the adding to the relief rolls during political campaigns and at a time when, according to the Administration's own figures, business is improving and unemployment decreasing. That this singular fact, noted by Republicans more than once before a campaign, is anything more than a "coincidence" is hotly but not convincingly denied by Mr. Hopkins. At the present moment, though there certainly are signs of better business and Government agencies speak of less unemployment, more and more men are being put on relief rolls, which now have reached their highest peak—over 3,100,000, and still going up. It is, perhaps, just a coincidence that an election will be held in five weeks.

• • •

Take it all in all, this relief business, while probably the Administration's greatest political asset, is also its most indefensible activity. It is being conducted at so vast a cost as to threaten the stability of the Government, and in so muddled a way as to shock every man who abhors waste and believes that the last thing which politics should touch is the relief of human misery. Those who advocate the return of relief to nonpartisan local committees can urge it on three sound grounds—first, that it would remove relief from politics; second, that it would save a lot of money now wasted; third, that the destitute and distressed would be better cared for. Whether there will be a sufficient change in the complexion of the next Congress to bring about this vitally needed reform is doubtful, but two things are sure—first, a majority of thoughtful men in House and Senate know the present system is bad and the other would be better; second, if the change comes it will be against the will of Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Hopkins, both of whom are irrevocably committed to the Federal Administration of relief and each of whom has obvious reasons for resisting.

Fry the onion and the green pepper in the butter; add the tomatoes and cook slowly 10 minutes. Add seasonings, and beans which have been well drained. Simmer slowly 20 minutes. Put beans and grated cheese in alternate layers in a casserole; bake in moderate oven 350 degrees, 20 to 30 minutes.

Two cups of cooked dried lima beans may be used if preferred.

Vegetable Pie

Two cups cooked flaked fish, 2 cups cooked diced potatoes, 1 cup cooked diced celery, 1 green pepper, chopped, ½ pound grated cheese, 2 cups cream sauce, salt, pepper, pastry.

Combine fish with vegetables. Add 1½ cups grated cheese, the cream sauce, and seasoning to taste. Place in a shallow baking dish, and sprinkle with remaining cheese.

Roll out pastry, cover the dish with it, trim the edges and press firmly onto the edge of the dish. Cut slits in the top, as for pie. Bake in a moderately hot oven, 400 degrees, until pastry is done and browned. Serve hot.

Salmon Casserole

One 1-lb. can salmon, ½ lb. cheese, 1-3 cup milk, 2 cups prepared biscuit flour, ¾ cup milk.

Flake the salmon and place it in a casserole. Slowly heat the cheese and 1-3 cup milk in the top of a double boiler, stirring occassionally until cheese is melted. Pour this sauce over the salmon.

Mix the biscuit flour and ¾ cup of milk. Toss onto a floured board, knead lightly, roll and cut into biscuits. Cut each biscuit in half, and place the halves around the edge of the casserole. Bake in a hot oven, 425 degrees, until the biscuits are done and lightly browned.

FIRE PREVENTION—

Governor Harry W. Nice has designated October 9 to 15 as Fire Prevention Week, and most fire departments throughout Maryland will participate in some manner in this annual campaign to protect life and preserve property.

The dormant public must awaken to the danger of fire, and their cooperation is needed to reduce fires in all parts of the country.

Serious thought should be given to Fire Prevention Week and any fire company making fire inspections should have wholehearted cooperation of the public. J. Lloyd Hopkins, Annapolis, chairman of the Fire Prevention and Inspection committee of the State Association, says that "fire inspections are especially valuable because they lead to the removal of rubbish and material often thought harmless by the public but which in reality are dangerous because they are readily susceptible to spontaneous ignition.

"Survey of localities where inspections are made clearly shows a noticeable reduction in fires, in many instances as much as 50 per cent."

Any correction of existing hazards will reduce the number of fires and decrease fire losses which will be reflected in lower insurance premiums. The importance of individual fire inspections can be seen from the records that show that 62 per cent of the lives lost from fires are in dwellings, the greater part of which is among children, and clearly demonstrates that our homes can stand more careful inspection.

NATIONAL AFFAIRS

By FRANK P. LITSCHERT

Events over the world during the past few weeks have entirely changed the picture of the Congressional campaign to be concluded in the United States during the month of October. Issues which some time ago seemed paramount have faded into comparative insignificance. The threat of the World War has been hanging over the universe like a pall. Even in America, more than 4,000 miles away from the seat of trouble, the people have thrust aside domestic problems for the moment to wonder what is going to become of Europe.

• • •

Earlier in the campaign it was believed that the question of relief and relief expenditure would play a major part in the campaign. The President's purge, it has been predicted, would leave deep scars on the Democratic front. Undoubtedly this is true to an extent, yet in the closing days of the purge, even, political headlines were given way to news from Europe.

• • •

Just what will emerge as the big issue before election day rolls around cannot be safely predicted at this writing. But there are many political prophets who believe that the campaign will not be far different, in its appeals, from the campaign of 1916, when President Wilson was asking for re-election to the Presidency because "he keeps us out of war." At this particular time the American people want more than anything else to be kept away from active participation in the war-torn politics of Europe. And for this reason it is believed that European problems will play an increasing part in the closing days of this campaign.

• • •

Doubtless the supporters of the administration will not be slow to take a page from the successful campaign book of 1916 when the Democrats won an unexpected victory on the "he keeps us out of war" issue. The stage seems well set for such a campaign at this time when the concern of the American people has reached fever heat, so far as the difficulties of Europe are concerned.

• • •

On the other hand there are statesmen who profess to see in Mr. Roosevelt a statesman whose deep sympathy is with the democratic nations of Europe and who expresse the belief that he might swing America to the side of the allies when favorable opportunity is offered. They will assert therefore that now is no time to elect rubber-stamp men to Congress. The country is faced with a real danger, they say, and the American Congress should regain its constitutional prerogative of passing on the foreign policy of the country. Some of this kind of argument has already been heard in the primary campaigns, and it was advanced, although not developed to any great degree, by Senator Tydings in his fight against the Presidential purge.

• • •

So, before election day rolls around, the voters are very likely to be confronted by the slogan "stand by the President and elect men to Congress who will stand by him and steer us safely between the shoals of European warfare." And on the other hand we will hear the demand that the voters send to Congress men of clear vision and determination who will use their own judgment in helping to frame a foreign policy for the nation.

• • •

If this situation comes about then the Republicans ought easily to shed that spirit of defeatism which caused many of them to be frightened by the thought that it is impossible to beat four and a half billion dollars. The people may easily be thinking about something else when election day rolls around.

FIRE PREVENTION--

Governor Harry W. Nice has designated October 9 to 15 as Fire Prevention Week, and most fire departments throughout Maryland will participate in some manner in this annual campaign to protect life and preserve property.

The dormant public must awaken to the danger of fire, and their cooperation is needed to reduce fires in all parts of the country.

Serious thought should be given to Fire Prevention Week and any fire company making fire inspections should have wholehearted cooperation of the public. J. Lloyd Hopkins, Annapolis, chairman of the Fire Prevention and Inspection committee of the State Association, says that "fire inspections are especially valuable because they lead to the removal of rubbish and material often thought harmless by the public but which in reality are dangerous because they are readily susceptible to spontaneous ignition.

"Survey of localities where inspections are made clearly shows a noticeable reduction in fires, in many instances as much as 50 per cent."

Any correction of existing hazards will reduce the number of fires and decrease fire losses which will be reflected in lower insurance premiums. The importance of individual fire inspections can be seen from the records that show that 62 per cent of the lives lost from fires are in dwellings, the greater part of which is among children, and clearly demonstrates that our homes can stand more careful inspection.

NATIONAL AFFAIRS

By FRANK P. LITSCHERT

Events over the world during the past few weeks have entirely changed the picture of the Congressional campaign to be concluded in the United States during the month of October. Issues which some time ago seemed paramount have faded into comparative insignificance. The threat of the World War has been hanging over the universe like a pall. Even in America, more than 4,000 miles away from the seat of trouble, the people have thrust aside domestic problems for the moment to wonder what is going to become of Europe.

* * *

Earlier in the campaign it was believed that the question of relief and relief expenditure would play a major part in the campaign. The President's purge, it has been predicted, would leave deep scars on the Democratic front. Undoubtedly this is true to an extent, yet in the closing days of the purge, even, political headlines were given way to news from Europe.

* * *

Just what will emerge as the big issue before election day rolls around cannot be safely predicted at this writing. But there are many political prophets who believe that the campaign will not be far different, in its appeals, from the campaign of 1916, when President Wilson was asking for re-election to the Presidency because "he keeps us out of war." At this particular time the American people want more than anything else to be kept away from active participation in the war-torn politics of Europe. And for this reason it is believed that European problems will play an increasing part in the closing days of this campaign.

* * *

Doubtless the supporters of the administration will not be slow to take a page from the successful campaign book of 1916 when the Democrats won an unexpected victory on the "he keeps us out of war" issue. The stage seems well set for such a campaign at this time when the concern of the American people has reached fever heat, so far as the difficulties of Europe are concerned.

On the other hand there are statesmen who profess to see in Mr. Roosevelt a statesman whose deep sympathy is with the democratic nations of Europe and who expresse the belief that he might swing America to the side of the allies when favorable opportunity is offered. They will assert therefore that now is no time to elect rubber-stamp men to Congress. By FRANKLYN WALTMAN

Publicity Director, Republican National Committee

Much has been said in recent weeks about "coattail riding." Mr. Roosevelt's friends assume that any Democrat elected in the last six years achieved success solely because of him. The results in some of the Democratic primaries this year, however, have put a big dent in that bit of Roosevelt egotism.

Nothing, however, has been said about the "coattail riding" which Mr. Roosevelt has done. With little regard for the facts, Mr. Roosvelt blithely takes all credit for every financial reform achieved in the last six years. Not once has he shared anl credit whatever with anyone else for the improved banking laws, the Securities and Exchange Commission or the insurance of bank deposits. Mr. Roosevelt forever would have us believethat none but he ever recognized evils or sought their correction by governmental action.

Lest We Forget

The truth of the matter is that legislation reforming the banks and stock tradmg would have been passed if we never heard about Mr. Roosevelt. Actually the deposit insurance law, sponsored by Republican Senator Arthur Vandenberg, was enacted over Mr. Roosevelt's "bitter" opposition.

Senator Carter Glass, whom Mr. Roosevelt now classifies as a hard-hearted reactionary, is more responsibit than any other man for the reformation of the banking system. It was he who first cried out against what Wall Street was doing, even before the 1929 stock market crash.

It was he who in January, 1931, sponsored and conducted, with the support of Republicans, an investigation to ascertain the weaknesses of the banking structure in order to remedy them. It was he who fought thru Congress the first demedial banking legislation in 1931-32. It was he who drafted and piloted through the Senate, despite a filibuster by Mr. Roosevelt's friend, Huey P. Long, a more comprehensive banking reform bill in the Winter of 1932-33—a bill which the Democratic-controlled House refused to consider before Mr. Roosevelt was inaugurated.

But Mr. Roosevelt is entitled to no credit, directly or indirectly, for initiating Federal bank deposit insurance. He was "bitterly opposed to it." He deserves credit only for appointing an exceedingly able F.D.I.C. board after the law was passed over his opposition

Instead of spending their time writing painful alibis for the failure of the Roosevelt "purge", let the New Deal propagandists undertake to challenge these contentions. If they lack the hardihood to do that, then at least, they should stop Mr. Roosevelt in his efforts to save face from grabbing the coattails of Republicans and Democrats whom he now denuonces.

Committee had drafted months previously. It was Senator Glass who, supported by Republicans, drafted the legislation now known as the Banking Act of 1935.

What Republicans Did

It was Senator Frederick Walcott, Connecticut Republican, who sponsored in February, 1932, the resolution for an investigation of stock market practices—an investigation which was the basis for the Security and Exchange Commission Act. It was a Republican-controlled Senate Committee which conducted this investigation for eleven months before Mr. Roosevelt entered the White House. It was this committee that employed Ferdinand Pecora as counsel to conduct the invesigation.

But, most amazing of all, in view of Mr. Roosevelt's current boast that he gave the country bank deposit insurance, is the fact that three months after he entered the White House he opposed in writing the deposit insurance provision then known as the "Vandenberg Amendment."

It was Senator Vandenberg who sponsored and fought to successful passage insurance of bank deposits. The Associated Press acknowlendged that fact, for in a Washington dispatch dated May 25, 1933, it stated:

"In an amazing burst of speed the Senate adopted the Vandenberg Amendment and then because of the powerful popularity of this immediate bank deposit insurance thus provided by the Vandenberg Amendment the Senate passed the Glass Bill itself."

Vandenberg Given Credit

Leo T. Crowley, Democratic chairman of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, recognized that fact when in 1931 he called Senator Vandenberg "the father of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act." Judge L. E. Birdsell, F.D.I.C. counsel, recognized it when he declared that Senator Vandenberg "is perhaps more responsible than any other one individual for putting into the Banking Act of 1933 the provisions which made it possible to insure deposits in banks beginning last January."

Yet now, when other New Deal programs are falling apart, Mr. Roosevelt boasts that he and his Administration gave the country deposit insurance. It is certainly true that Federal bank deposit is one thing which saves the present depression from as obvious and as deep dehacle as the last one. Indeed, were it not for bank deposit insurance the Roosevelt depression might easily become more serious than the situation in 1932-33.

WHEREAS, at the January session of toe General Assembly of Maryland, held in the year 1935, nn Act was passed, to-wit: Chapter 163 proposing an amendment to repeal Section 36 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department", said section prohibiting the General Assembly from authorizing a lottery, and providing for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection; and

WHEREAS, at the January session of the General Assembly of Maryland, held in the year 1937, an Act was passed, to-wit: Chapter 494 proposing to amend Section 21 of Article 4, title "Judiciary Department", sub-title "Part III—Circuit Courts", of the Constitution of this State, to provide an additional judge in the Second Circuit and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of this State for adoption or rejection; and

WHEREAS, at the January session of the General Assembly of Maryland, held in the year 1937, an Act was passed, to-wit: Chapter 525 proposing an amendment to Article 15 of the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, authorizing the General Assembly to impose taxes on incomes, and providing for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection; in words and figures as follows:

CHAPTER 463--1935

AN ACT to propose an amendment to repeal Section 36 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department," said section prohibiting the General Assembly from authorizing a lottery, and providing for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That Section 36 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department," prohibiting the General Assembly from authorizing lottery grants, be and it is hereby repealed if adopted by the legally qualified voters of the State, as herein provided.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the next ensuing general election for members of the General Assembly of Maryland, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words: "For Constitutional Amendment" and "Against Constitutional Amendment," as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14.

Approved: May 17, 1935.

CHAPTER 494--1937

AN ACT to amend Section 21 of Article 4, title "Judiciary Department," sub-title "Part III—Circuit Courts", of the Constitution of this State, to provide an additional judge in the Second Circuit and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of this State for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all of the members elected to each of the two Houses concurring), That the following section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 21 of Article 4, title "Judiciary Department", sub-title "Part III—Circuit Courts" of the Constitution of the State, and if adopted by the legal and qualified voters thereof as herein provided, it shall supersede and stand in the place and stead of Section 21 of said Article 4.

21. For each of the said circuits, excepting the eighth, the second, the third and the sixth, there shall be a chief judge and two associate judges, to be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be selected or appointed as herein provided, and for the second circuit, the third circuit and the sixth circuit there shall be a chief judge and three associate judges to be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be elected or appointed as herein provided. And no two of said associate judges, for any of the said circuits, except the third and sixth circuits shall, at the time of their election or appointment or during the term for which they may have been elected or appointed, reside in the same county. If two or more persons shall be candidates for associate judge in the same county in any of the circuits, except the third and sixth circuits, that one only in said county shall be declared elected who has the highest number of votes in the circuit. In case any two candidates for associate judge in any of the circuits, except the third and sixth circuits, residing in the same county shall have an equal number of votes greater than any other candidates for associate judge in the circuit, it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for one associate judge; but the person residing in any other county of the circuit and who has the highest number of votes shall be declared elected. The said judges shall hold not less than two terms of the Circuit Court in each of the counties composing their respective circuits, at such times as are now or may hereafter be prescribed to which jurors shall be summoned; and in those counties where only two such terms are held, two other and intermediate terms, to which jurors shall not be summoned; they may alter or fix the times for holding any or all terms, until otherwise prescribed, and shall adopt rules to the end that all business not requiring the interposition of the jury shall be, as far as practicable, disposed of at said intermediate terms. One judge in each of the above circuits, including the second, the third and sixth circuits, shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business; and the said judges or any of them may hold special terms of their courts, whenever in their discretion the business of the several counties renders such terms necessary. The additional associate judge for the third circuit elected in accordance with the terms of the Constitutional Amendment heretofore submitted and adopted shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, hold his office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the third circuit.

The additional associate judge for the second circuit herein provided for shall be a resident of Cecil County, shall be appointed by the Governor after the expiration of six (6) months after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Caroline, Cecil, Kent, Queen Anne's and Talbot counties, constituting the second circuit. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit, and the judge so elected shall be subject to the same constitutional provision, hold his office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation, and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit.

The additional judge for the sixth circuit herein provided for and elected by the qualified voters of Frederick and Montgomery Counties at the 1938 election in accordance with the terms of the Constitutional Amendment heretofore submitted and adopted shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the sixth circuit and his successor shall be appointed and/or elected in accordance with the constitutional provisions relating to judges. The Chief Judge may be elected from either Frederick or Montgomery Counties, but when the Chief Judge is elected from Frederick County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said county and the two remaining associate judges shall be residents of Montgomery County and when the Chief Judge is elected from Montgomery County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said Montgomery County and the remaining two associate judges residents of Frederick County. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the sixth judicial circuit shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be declared elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuit, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be, residing in said county in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates as the case may be, residing in the other county, and not similarly disqualified, who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If, by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said sixth judicial circuit, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State shall be, at the next general election to be held in this State in the year 1938, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State, and at the said general election, the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment," as now prescribed by law, and immediately after said election, due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution.

Approved: May 18, 1937.

CHAPTER 525--1937

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Article 15 of the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, authorizing the General Assembly to impose taxes on incomes, and providing for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following amendment be and the same is hereby proposed to Article 15 of the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Article 15 of the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

Art. 15. That the levying of taxes by the poll is grievous and oppressive and ought to be prohibited: that pnupers ought not to be assessed for the support of the government: that the General Assembly shall, by uniform rules, provide for separate assessment of land and classification and sub-classification of improvements on land and personal property, as it may deem proper; and all taxes thereafter provided to be levied by the State for the support of the general State Government, and by the counties and by the City of Baltimore for their respective purposes, shall be uniform as to land within the taxing district, and uniform within the class or sub-class of improvements on land and personal property which the respective taxing powers may have directed to be subjected to the tax levy; yet fines, duties or taxes may properly and justly be imposed, or laid with a political view for the good government and benefit of the community. Taxes may be imposed on incomes, which may be classified, graduated and progressive and the exemption of a reasonable amount of income from taxation may be provided and such taxes may be in lieu of taxes on any class or classes of real or personal property as the General Assembly may determine.

Sec. 2. And be be it further enacted, That the aforegoing amendment to the Declnration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the election to be held in November, 1938, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection, in pursunnce of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, upon each ballot there shall be printed the words: "For Constitutional Amendment" nnd "Against Constitutional Amendment," as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14.

Approved: May 18, 1937.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

Marybelle Emmaline Lewis vs. Joseph Franklin Lewis

No. 3486 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

The object of this suit is to procure a decree for a divorce a vinculo matrimonii by the plaintiff from the defendant.

The bill states:

That on the 19th day of January, 1933, she was married, at Oakland, Maryland, to one Joseph Franklin Lewis, with whom she resided in Garrett County Maryland, for about four months; that although the conduct of your oratrix towards her husband, the said Joseph Franklin Lewis, was always kind, affectionate and above reproach, the said Joseph Franklin Lewis, without any just cause or reason abandoned and deserted her during the spring of 1933, and such abandonment has continued uninterraptedly for more than five years, is deliberate and final and the separation of the parties beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation; that your oratrix and the said defendant Joseph Franklin Lewis, have had no children born to them from said marriage; that your oratrix has heard nothing from the said defendant since he deserted and abandoned her and does not know where he now resides, but inasmuch as he was formerly a resident of Pennsylvania she does not believe that he is now a resident of the State of Maryland.

The bill then prays for a divorce a vinculo matrimonii of the plaintiff from the defendant, for general relief and for an order of publication.

It is thereupon, this 26th day of September, 1938, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, ordered, that the plaintiff by having a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once in each of four successive weeks before the 28th day of October, 1938, notice to the said absent defendant of the object and substance of this bill, warning him to be and appear in this Court, either in person or by licitor, on or before the 14th day of November, 1938, to show cause, if any he has, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

MR. OTIS REGRETS

By JULIAN STREET

MY DEAR Mrs. Plamondin: How kind, how very kind of you to ask me to your place in the country for the coming week-end!

Your invitation reached me a little more than two weeks ago, and I suppose I ought to have answered sooner. In fact I know I ought to have. But for reasons which I shall explain I have kept putting it off.

Having failed to answer promptly, I suppose I ought now to telegraph. In fact I know I ought to. A telegram might ease matters quite a bit. I could say I had just got back from Europe and found your letter. But there's the rub! My dear old father, Fabian P. Otis, was always the soul of honor in spite of that trouble about his bank, and he taught me from infancy never to lie if there was n chance of my being found out. If I wired that I had been in Europe you might meet somebody who had seen me in the past fortnight, or you might have been in town yourself and caught sight of me somewhere—for though I am harder up than I ever thought a member of the Otis family could be, I have devised some little economies which enable me to get about as much as ever, and I still go to the best places. Father, I know, would wish it so, for though he believed in thrift, he always said there was nothing too good for an Otis.

You will probably remember that just after the bank trouble, when father was being prosecuted, the papers used to say there was nothing too bad for an Otis, but that was mere hysteria, and the whole thing is mostly forgotten already. Moreover I want to say that in spite of father's jail sentence it wasn't his fault about the bank. People came in and drew out money against father's advice, and after a while the money was gone, so what could father do but shut the doors?

However, I hadn't meant to go into these matters. I was coming to the reason why I hadn't telegraphed you. That has something to do with father, too. I wish you could know him, but of course he isn't getting around these days. He was such a fine man, Mrs. Plamondin. He did everything for his family, even when he had to borrow money from his bank to do it. That's one of the things they blamed him for. Imagine! And yet at the same time, by a kind of paradox in his nature, father always tried to teach us children thrift. I still have the copy books he gave me when I was learning to write. They are full of quaint old maxims of the pre-Brain Trust era which I had to copy in a careful spencerian hand—things like, "From saving comes having," and "Economy is the parent of integrity, of liberty and of [illegible]."

Of course we now realize that the people who wrote such maxims didn't know what they were talking about. Benjamin Franklin and Aesop are simply funny, and I was much interested to hear, the other day, that there's going to be a new Brain Trust copy book with maxims containing the best modern thought on economies, and that to symbolize the spirit of the age the writing will be backhand.

My sister is grown up now and of course she doesn't wear pigtails. I don't think you've met her, and there's no chance of your meeting her for at least another year, even if she gets the full deduction for good behavior. In her case it was not the bank. Her trouble was that she had always been told there was nothing too good for an Otis, so she went ahead on that basis and got into a kind of scrape.

Well, what I was coming to is this: that in spite of the fact that I still go to the best places, those old copy-book maxims ride me a bit at times. When you've had thrift dinned into you from early childhood it's hard to throw it off completely no matter how much you read the Washington dispatches.

That's why I'm not telegraphing you. A stamp costs only three cents and the right sort of telegram would cost at least fifty. I have enough of father in me to realize that the differential is forty-seven cents. Not much money, you will say, and in a sense you are right. Yet even under present conditions, forty-seven cents is worth about thirty cents, and thirty cents will take care of the hat-check girl in one of the best places with a nickel to spare.

I can remember just when I first thought of practicing little economies like this. Last year, after father left town, I decided to have his mattress made over, and what do you think I found, Mrs. Plamondin? Money, quite a bit of money. It was the money that made the mattress so hard.

I decided to invest it, and so I went downtown and called on one of father's old banking friends who is still banking although scared to death, and asked him about investments.

At first he wouldn't tell me anything. He kept trying to change the subject, wanting to play tick-tack-toe and show me card tricks. When I kept asking him about investments he said bankers weren't allowed to give advice about such matters. Bishops, bartenders, musicians and masseurs can give all the investment advice they want to, but my understanding is that bankers can be put in jail for doing such a thing. I told him I had come to him not as a banker but as a friend, so at last he sent his secretary out of the office, locked the door, pulled down the shades and whispered a tip.

And what do you suppose he told me to buy, Mrs. Plamondin? He said to buy Chateau Latour 1929, or Cliquot 1923. I am passing the tip on to you, dear lady, because it comes from one of the most conservative and able bankers in the country, and it may repay you for any slight inconvenience caused by this tardy reply to your invitation.

Now as to the invitation, I am awfully sorry to say I shall not be coming to you for the week-end. I could easily pretend that I had a previous engagement, but I like you, Mrs. Plamondin—I really do, in spite of your painting your fingernails red—and I much prefer to be candid with those I like, red fingernails or no red fingernails. The plain truth is that I just don't want to come. Let me add, though, that this is in no way your fault.

Why don't I want to come? Because of the way I'm made. Because your household is so well ordered. Because you like to have everything planned and running on schedule, and I don't.

So there you are, dear Mrs. Plamondin; and do ring me up some day when you're in town—not too early, mind—and invite me to lunch.

It is odd, now that I have made this simple statement of the case, to reflect on how I dreaded doing it. It really wasn't so difficult after all. Ah, how often life is like that. How often we dread something we must do, only to find, when we do it, that it isn't really so bad. For two weeks your letter has been kicking around my desk, unanswered, among the bills, also unanswered—another of my little economies. The longer it lay there the worse it looked. There's a cigarette hole burned in it, and it is all streaked and bulgy where someone used it as a mat for a wet glass. Is there anything more repellent, I ask you, than a rumpled, messy letter, with a cigarette hole in it, staring up at one and demanding to be answered?

Now, thank heaven, I can tear it up!

Always sincerely yours,
P. FOTHERINGAY OTIS.

Republican State Platform

The Republican State platform, adopted last Thursday, at the Republican State convention, praised the work done by the administration of Governor Nice and pledged continuation of certain recently inaugurated changes and adoption of certain new ones. Excerpts from the platform outlining these proposals follow:

PREAMBLE

. . . During the past four years, we have had at Annapolis, in Harry W. Nice, a leader—wise, patient, understanding, resourceful, ever-present at his post of duty, tireless in his efforts and unswervingly faithful to the best interests of the people. He has been unfairly criticized by an unfriendly press, and grudging and sparing have been words of praise. . . .

Voting Machines

. . . We believe the fair-minded people of Maryland appreciate the efforts of the Republican Party in the legalization and adoption, by Baltimore city, of voting machines and of permanent registration, and we advocate and pledge ourselves to the passage of legislation to extend the use of voting machines in such counties as desire them. . . .

Equal Rights of Women

Our party completely performed the pledges of our convention of 1934 by recognizing the equal right of women to participate in public affairs . . with the election of Governor Nice, women, for the first time, were appointed to many important State offices. . . . . We pledge ourselves to a continuance of the policy of broadening the influence of women in the State government.

Labor

Our pledges to labor have been redeemed in full. . . We advocate a competent Labor Board to consist of three members, authorized and empowered to regulate and control disputes between employe and employer. . . . We pledge our every effort to the passage of legislation which will more nearly equalize the rate of compensation to injured employes to an amount commensurate with that earned while employed and to eliminate the waiting period for injured workers entitled to compensation. . . Maryland projects, where possible, should be undertaken by and carried on by Marylanders. . . We advocate a careful study . . with the ultimate view of finding a solution.

Income Tax

We advocate, if the constitutional amendment authorizing a graduated State income tax be ratified, that the rates be such as to insure that adequate revenue for aid to the needy may be provided. . . .

Colored Citizens

(Cheltenham Institute for colored delinquent children has been taken over by the State) and vigorous steps are being taken and will be taken to correct the notorious faults of its previous administration. . . We pledge ourselves to a repeal of the present, unconstitutional and totally inequitable law which differtiates between the pay of colored and white school teachers, and we pledge ourselves to the enactment of a law which will remove any discrimination as to the pay of white and colored school teachers. All institutions having complete Negro population should be operated by an adequately trained colored personnel. . . . We recommend the establishment of a State university for Negroes in connection with which the adaptobility of Morgan College should be favorable considered.

State Roads

. . This administration has completed and paved 242 miles of the State's main system, including ten miles of asphalt streets built in the city of Baltimore; twenty miles more of the State's roads are graded and drained, ready for surfacing; ninety-seven miles (of existing State roads) have been resurfaced. . . As to maintenance, the cost under this administration has been reduced $193.57 per mile. We recommend, in addition to the future road building program, that Route 213, throughout its entire length from Elkton to Ocean City, be widened and straightened; that the Crain highway be widened with stabilizer shoulders and resurfaced; that an alternate highway be constructed from Baltimore to Washington, with dual lanes . . that U. S. Route No. 40 . . . be modernized where needed . . . We advocate State-owned ferries to be operated by the Sttate Roads Commission, to be financed on a self liquidating basis. . . .

Gasoline Tax Diversion

Governor Nice has constantly reiterated his opposition to the diverting of highway gasoline and automobile tax funds to general treasury use.

Gasoline Price Inequality

We pledge ourselves to take all measures necessary to bring the price of gasoline in Maryland to the same level as is maintained in our neighboring States.

Automobile License Fees

The Republican convention of 1934 pledged itself to procure a reduction in the cost of tags to a flat rate of $2 and Governor Nice made this an issue of his campaign. The Democratic party must answer for the failure of (Governor Nice's efforts to have such a bill passed by the Legislature.) We believe that a substntial reduction in the cost of license tags is feasible and should be made, provided there be no diversion of the gasoline tax.

Educational Facilities

We take pride in the efficient and non-political administration of public education in Maryland during this administration. . . . . We pledge ourselves to a continuation of the educational progress . . to an increase of the minimum salary schedule for all teachers . . . to an increase of transportation facilities for white (and colored) children and the elimination through consolidation of one-teacher schools.

University of Maryland

. . The Republican party pledges itself to continue its interest in the university to maintain high standards, to meet the demands that the people of the State make for its services, subject, of course, to whatever reasonable limitations may be imposed by the State's financial condition.

Soil Erosion

The widespread adoption by our farmers of the provisions of the Maryland Soil Conservation District laws, approved by Governor Nice on May 28, 1937, will materially reduce the ravages of soil erosion and should result in the saving of millions of dollars. The Republican party pledges its cooperation in promating this work, and further pledges its aid to Maryland farmers to help them overcome their erosion problems and thus protect their land.

Forestry

Nowhere in the whole field of conservation has the State been more profligate with its resources than in its forests. . . Rehabilitation should take place in two main directions, one through the aequisition of present cut-over areas and the acquirement of otherwise waste lands; with subsequent replanting so that they will again become forests. The other should be through development of wood lots on privately owned farms. . . . The Republican party is particularly cognizant of the fact that Frederick, Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties offer such great possibilities for recreation that they should become the playground for those who love the mountain regions but who now largely go to the mountains of other States.

Agriculture

. . . There are certain fundamental principles upon which the success of Maryland agriculture depends. Some of these for which the Republican party pledges itself are: To eliminate Bang's disease from all (dairy) herds, and to give its support toward providing funds for further indemnities so that the farmers' losses shall be reduced to as low a point as practicable . . . to support the dairy people of the State in helping them to maintain their present markets and to establish new markets whenever possible . . . to a policy of development of the meat-producing industry of the State, for the benefit of both farmers and packers . . to work whole-heartedly in the interest of the tobacco growers of Southern Maryland to help them regain their foreign markets and to help them establish better conditions under which to dispose of their tobacco in home markets . . to cooperate fully with the farm organizations of the State in order to secure for them the greatest possible benefits from the Federal Government . . to give the farmers better marketing facilities. . .

Conservation

. . Considering the splendid improvement that has been made in the conservation of the State's natural resources during this administration, we shall endeavor to increase the appropriation for oyster . . propagation and extend the facilities for research work at the Biological Laboratory and increase the activities for the protection of fish against the recurring of pollution. . . The Republican party will oppose any effort for a leasing law other than that now existing.

Public Utlity Rates

The record for reduction of rates of public utilities during this administration, without usual litigation expense to the taxpayers, is one of which this administration can be justly proud. . . Our party pledges itself to a continuation of the policy of rate reduction.

State Auditing Department

We recommend that the State Auditing Department . . be allowed additional funds so that it may increase its personnel. It is essential that the State's money, spent by the various departments, be properly, regularly and systematicall audited, and the administration of the State departments thereby kept on a thorough business bases. . .

The Merit System

We pledge ourselves to a continuance of rigid enforcement of the Merit System of Maryland. It is now being administered with efficiency, vision, and utterly free from politics. We favor a standardization of salaries for Merit System employes. . . . We believe also that the law should be changed vesting reasonable discretion in department heads with respect to pay in cases of illness. . . .

Department of Mechanical Engineering

As this department expands the scope of its operations, it is becoming more and more valuable to the State, saving the State large sums which were heretofore paid on consultation fees and engineering advice. We pledge our candidates to a continuation of these economic policies.

Veteran Aid

. . . We pledge our party to furnish adequate monetary assistance necessary in securing provision for sick, disabled and indigent veterans and their families.

State Police

. . For a further reduction of fatalities upon the highways of the State, a rigid and impartial enforcement of highways laws is absolutely necessary, and therefore, we believe that this arm of the State should be enlarged in every direction, for which reason it is important that its personnel be increased, enabling it to render additional service, in cooperation with the Baltimore city police and county constabularies. . . .

Social Welfare

In this important subject, the present administration has been a model for other States. Unemployment insurance compensation has been established, as have other forms of relief. Old-age assistance, aid to dependent and crippled children, to the blind, and administrative costs of the Board of State Aid and Charities' relief division, during this administration, were, for the first time, sufficiently systematized to enable it to be included in the State budget.

Public Health

We pledge ourselves to remedy the following needs:

1. The establishment of four additional branch bachteriological laboratories.
2. More intensive efforts in the control of venereal diseases.
3. Provision for the free distribution of pneumonia serum to call cases.
4. Facilities for educating all the citizens of the State to the necessity of periodic medical examinations to be made by their family physicians for the purpose of detecting incipient cases of organic disease with particular references to heart ailments and cancer.

5. Extension of the program for the control of tuberculosis.

6. Provision for the employment of additional public health nurses with special reference to their activities in reducing infant mortality and the maternal death rate.

7. Provision to assist the seafood industry in producing products which will meet the requirements of the Federal Government for interstate shipment.

Mental Institutions

Upon the advent of Governor Nice's Administration he found that our institutions for the care of the mentally ill were totally inadequate to provide for the needs of the increasing population. Hospitals are now enabled to treat these mentally ill patients and return them to their families. . . . We pledge our party to a continuance of this humane and economic policy toward these unfortunates, who are entitled to every consideration from society.

Penal Administration

We pledge our party to a continuation of policies which make for contentment as far as that is possible among persons deprived of their liberty, and at the same time assure the law-abiding people of Maryland of every reasonable effort to lessen crime.

The party pledges itself to a continued progressive policy in the management of the penal problems of the State which will provide for proper case study and classification of prisoners, together with a closer supervised policy of after-care on parole.

Care of Delinquent Boys

We recommend that the State of Maryland take a forward step in the care and development of unfortunate boys, and establish an institution of medium security, in which such boys, while they will be under restraint preventing escape, will nevertheless be taught useful occupations, discharged free from the stigma of being criminals and rehabbilitated to the point of becoming useful citizens.

The Judiciary

The selection of judges should be conducted in such a way as to assure the people that only lawyers of the highest type, possessing character, ability and judicial temperament, shall be elevated to the bench. In order to accomplish this, we propose that the judiciary shall be removed from politics and that a system shall be devised whereby the independence, intelligence and integrity of judges shall be properly safeguarded.. We shall give serious study to the system in vogue in other States, and decide upon the one most suitable for Maryland and best adapted to fulfill its purposes.

State Finances and Auxation

Under the present Administration Maryland's credit has reached the highest point in years. Its bonds have sold, all through this Administration, at the lowest coupon rate and the lowest interest cost at which Maryland has ever been able to obtain money.

A reduction in the tax burdens is highly desirable. At this time, with conditions as they now exist, to make any definite recommendations concerning methods of taxation, is idle, and any statement would be made only for the purpose of vote getting. It is highly necessary that there be made a thorough examination of our State system of taxation, with a view to such modification and equalization as will secure an equitable distribution of tax burdens. . . . We definitely pledge our party to the practice of governmental economy.

Primary Election Law

The recent Democratic primary election has demonstrated the unwisdom of the first and second choice provisions of the primary election law, which have resulted not only in confusion and in the apparent disfranchisement of many voters, but has caused uncertainty and delay. We propose, without effecting the present unit system in nominating conventions, to change the law so that a plurality of votes shall be sufficient for the nomination as it is for the election of candidates for office. This is the only way to enforce the popular will as it is expressed in the polling places.

Repeal of Declaration of Intentions Law

The Republican party for many years has advocated the complete repeal of the declaration of intentions law. We pledge ourselves to repeal this obnoxious statute and give all citizens, otherwise entitled, the right to voters in Maryland.

Liquor Laws

We pledge our party to such amendments of these laws as will correct abuses arising under the present system. Pressure lobbies, maintained by groups having their own selfish interests to subserve, ought not to be permitted to exert their influence in favor of any change inimical to a reasonable and temperate control of the manufacture and sale of alcoholic drinks.

MT. LAKE PARK

My friends came to me unsought —the great God gave them to me.

—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

I fnews is scarce, blame it on two things—sickness and moving. Either one of the two are bad enough, but both together are too much. Anyhow, we must get into trouble to realize just how kind people really are. And once again we say, happy are those who live in a small community, where the gas man, the electrician, the plumber, the carpenter, and last, but not least, the neighbors, are interested in just how we get settled. It's a grand and glorious feeling to know that people are interested, and so, after a hectic week, we do not have much news.

Summer homes are being closed rapidly, but there are a great number remaining. The saddest thought of all is that the lights will soon be numbered. In other words, certain streets will be in semi-darkness. We realize that this is probably a necessity, but it doesn't help the looks of the Park any. Wouldn't it be grand if we had the same lighting in winter as in the summer.

The weather couldn't be beat any where in the country, and according to numerous weather prophets we shall have good weather until December first. At that date, so says the Hagerstown Almanac, we shall have some snow.

Well, only four months of winter will please us mightily. And Garrett county has good weather. More people are coming in than ever before.

The Mountain Lake Park Neighborhood club will meet Wednesday, October 12, at 1 p. m., at the home of Mrs. C. O. Thayer. Mrs. Gregory Bleakly and Mrs. Wiley Welling will be assistant hostesses. The program will be a review of the story of the Martha Berry School in the South by Mrs. John Stevenson.

Formal Announcement

Candidacy of Oliver H. Bruce, Jr.,

FOR

ASSOCIATE JUDGE FOURTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT OF MARYLAND

To the People of Garrett, Allegany and Washington Counties:

A person elected, or appointed, to the office of Judge is not a legislator. A judge has no authority or power to make, amend or abolish laws and should have no more influence or concern over legislation than any other citizen may have. In asking for your support of my candidacy for Judge, therefore, I shall not promise to reform or change existing laws nor to labor for the enactment of any new laws that I might consider wholesome and desirable for the people, because making or revising laws is not the business of Judges who should limit their work and endeavors to an interpretation of the laws we have and an enforcement of those laws by just decisions and order. Since the courts have no authority or rightful power over legislation, a candidate for a judicial office cannot sincerely promise the people relief from any of the burdens that unwise laws may have placed upon them. The most that he can do is to studiously strive to correctly interpret the laws legislators have made and to see that decisions in accord with the law are strictly and impartially enforced.

Although no political party has any right or power to prescribe a policy for courts to follow, it is nevertheless a custom in this State for candidates for the Judiciary to be nominated by the parties of which they are members. In aspiring to the office of Associate Judge, therefore, I am submitting my cause to all the voters, being a member of the Democratic Party, and nominated without opposition, although I fully realize that a person who is elected Judge, in the discharge of his official duties, should be free from obligations to any party.

Since the people cannot look to any party policy for guidance in selecting a member of the court I feel that it is proper for a candidate for that high office to state his conviction of what a Judge should or should not do in order to properly perform the duties of this high office. It is my conviction that a lawyer elected a Judge, should from the hour of his qualification, devote his time and talents to the duties of his office, exclusive of all other business activities or occupations for gain either in monetary rewards or public prestige. He should be impartial and should cultivate intellectual honesty, so that he shall be ever free from prejudgment and be competent to make decisions and pass orders on the law and the facts before him with no incentive or desire except to be right as God may inspire him to see the right. He should abolish all excessive likes or dislikes he may have for or against any and all human beings. The shibboleth that he has "no friends to reward and no enemies to punish" should not be a mere lip pretense but a fact of conscience from which there should never be the slightest deviation. On and off the bench his conduct should be that of a person who never forgets the duties, the responsibility and the dignity of the high office the people have entrusted to him. His decisions, studiously arrived at, should be stated with the greatest clarity he can command, without compliment to successful lawyers or reflection upon lawyers who have failed, but with stress only on the supremacy of the law. In passing sentence on persons convicted of crime, I believe a Judge should always aim to temper justice with mercy, especially where the criminal is shown to be a victim of inherent weakness or such unfortunate environment as would lessen the deliberateness of his criminality. But in all criminal cases, as in all other cases, a Judge should act with judicious firmness and not prove himself weak by hesitating to punish hardened or deliberate criminals with the severity the law provides for the protection of Society against crime.

I believe the Parole System should be applied with the greatest possible caution and should never be used as a means of letting hardened or habitual criminals have freedom to further impose upon law-abiding people.

I hold the conviction there is no law in this State or country that warrants any person, or group of persons, to seize and hold possession of the property of others, without due process of law. And I know of no law that gives any person or any number of persons a warrant to interfere by force with the exercise of natural and legal rights of other persons. I believe it is the duty of Judges where such interference occurs to remind Grand Juries that no individual, no group, no organization, can have any semblance of a right to set aside, permanently, or temporarily, to ignore or refuse to obey the laws of the land no matter what the objectives of such ignoring or refusal may be.

I have the most profound respect and the sincerest sympathy with every person who works for a living. In this regard I hold no opposition to the righteous ambition of working people's organizations or to any lawful efforts they may employ to obtain just and satisfactory compensation for the service they render; greater security for their future; more satisfactory working conditions or any other lawful objective that may make their living happier. Governors, sheriffs and law-enforcement officers have no more justification for tolerating law defiance by a group whose business it may be to employ wage earners. Every individual and every group should stand equally before the law and be equally amenable for breaking the law.

I feel that it is proper for me to make this statement at this time, because Allegany County in the quiet recent past has witnessed organized defiance of law. I deplore the unbridled license exercised in Allegany County and elsewhere and I cannot condone the apparent comfort and encouragement this law defiance seemed to obtain from the lack of energy and courage of persons in high places whose business it should be to see the law upheld. This comfort to leaders of law defiance has caused the advance agents of Communism with its foreign political thought and its so-called philosophy, in opposition to all free government, its institutions, property rights and human liberty, to dream that they are free from obedience to the law and to take courage in inciting the unwary to thoughts and acts that would eventually break down all law.

It is my conviction that the people of Allegany County, the honest, law-abiding members of organized labor groups as well as all others who work for an honest living and do not seek to profit by labor racketeering or any other form of racketeering, have suffered great harm from indifference to law defiance and periodic mob supremacy.

I hope the facts stated above and the judgment expressed will give to every resident of Allegany, Garrett and Washington Counties, a true presentation of my conviction of the manner of person a Judge should be and of what a Judge should do and should not do. If elected, I give every pledge and assurance that it is possible for a person to give, that these convictions will be diligently followed.

To every man and woman who feels these convictions are sound and right, I earnestly appeal for support of my candidacy.

Very respectfully,

OLIVER H. BRUCE, JR.

CHOIR FESTIVAL PLANNING TO STEP INTO NEW DRESS

Founder Announces Creation Of Year-Round Association; Plans To Organize Choirs

PEACE JUBILEE PLANNED

The Mountain Choir Festival is planning to step into its sixth consecutive season in a new dress.

Rev. Felix Robinson, founder and director, announces the creation of a year-round association, dedicated to increase its work for a higher standard of expression in the praise and worship of God.

Rev. Robinson announced also that in cooperation with Prof. Raymond K. Hollinger, last year's associate director, and R. F. Boening, newly appointed executive secretary, plans had been worked out for organization of local choirs, the publication of a magazine, "Jubilate," dedicated to church music, climaxing activities in a festival July 2, 5, 6, 7, 8, and 9, 1939.

The Deep Creek Lake Association, in cooperation with the choir festival association, will tentatively open the festivities on July 2 when a "Peace Jubilee" will be held at McComas Beach. Festival choirs are to render songs from a floating pavilion anchored near the shore of Deep Creek Lake. The days of July 5 and 9 will have a number of events entertaining and soul-lifting with rendition of classical church music. The oratorio "Messiah," by Handel, will be given by the festival choir and a symphony orchestra. Organ recitals will be given by Mr. Boening and a lawn fete is to be held on the grounds of the Mountain Lake Hotel.

Rev. Robinson also announced a Swiss yodeler ensemble would furnish entertainment and that a guest choir from London, England, would be on the program. Four choir contests and a finale by combined festival choirs will round out the program. In addition choir schools and lectures will give opportunity to those who desire to combine the useful with the pleasing.

Memberships in the association are now available at $4.00, $3.00 and $2.00, the former entitling holder to subscription to "Jubilate", free admission to choir school and all sessions of the festival. The middle figure eliminates the subscription, while the latter admits to all sessions of the festival.

The association will again print a souvenir program book which is to contain names of all members, and the association is hoping that its endeavors will receive the support of the people of this and surrounding communities.

Garrett County CCC Worker Is Sentenced For Failing To Stop Following Accident

Following a motor crash in Cumberland last Thursday, October 6, a youth who gave his name as Garland Beckman, 18, of Kempton, Garrett county, a CCC camp member, was sentenced in the Cumberland Justice of the Peace court to serve 25 days in the Allegany county jail in default of $25 fine and costs for failing to stop after the accident occurred.

Beckman was injured about the head but did not require hospital attention, while four other CCC camp members riding with him escaped injury.

Motorcycle Officer James E. Kelly said Beckman sidewiped the machine of Harry Cornelius, LaVale, and then crashed into a dwelling. Beckman attempted to flee, it was reported.

Dr. E. C. Powers To Speak On Bible Society Activities

Dr. Ergar C. Powers, executive secretary of the Maryland Bible Society will speak in St. Paul's Methodist church, Oakland, on Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. At the close of the service a meeting will be held for the purpose of reorganizing the Garrett County Bible Society.

The board of directors will elect officers and plan for distributing Bibles and religious literature. The society was organized here in the Lutheran church two years ago and since that time many homes were furnished Bibles and literature that would aid them in conducting family worship. The organization was formed after Dr. E. G. Leonard, Baltimore, visited many sections of the county in 1935 and found a lack of the Bible in many homes.

The public is invited to attend the Sunday night service and the meeting which follows.

2 DEMOCRATS WITHDRAW FROM GENERAL ELECTION

Walter H. Haenftling and Asa T. Matthews Notify Clerk Thayer

There will be two less contests in the general election than were counted a week ago, as two Democratic candidates for county offices withdrew prior to the thirty-day limit. Asa T. Matthews withdrew as a candidate for State's Attorney, and W. H. Haenftling withdrew as candidate for the House of Delegates. Both men had been named by the Democratic State Central Committee. This means re-election of Neil C. Fraley as State's Attorney, and election to the House of the three Republican nominees, Nelson Breuneman, M. L. Groves and Darwin Martin.

The law requires that withdrawals must be made thirty days before the general election and that time was up on Saturday. Mr. Matthews notified Frederick Thayer, Jr., clerk to the Board of Election Supervisors, on Friday, October 7, and Mr. Haenftling notified Mr. Thayer on the following day.

This leaves four contests in the race for county offices.

In the Senate race Clifford Friend, Republican, will oppose Bernard I. Gonder, Democrat. J. S. Teats, Republican, will oppose J. W. Owens, Democrat, for Sheriff. W. G. Meyers, Republican, will oppose H. A. Loraditch, Democrat, for clerk to the County Commissioners; while in the race for County Commissioner, there will be three Republicans, Cheston H. Browning, Paul M. Friend, and G. Blaine Giessman, arrayed against three Democrats, Norval Speelman, John B. Campbell and Wilbert Ridder. Three are to be leeted.

FALL EXCURSION BRINGS 522 PEOPLE TO OAKLAND

Citizens Of Oakland Again Donate Their Cars and Act as Drivers and Guides to Baltimoreans

VISITORS SEEM PLEASED

Mail carriers who go for walks in spare moments had nothing on street car motormen, conductors and families of the Baltimore Transit Company.

Five hundred and twenty-two of them, members of the Baltimore Boosters club, came to Oakland Sunday on a train-ride vacation and were treated again by the citizens of Oakland to a thirty-mile tour of the Swallow Falls Forest and Deep Creek Lake areas.

The excursion train consisting of eight coaches, four diners and a recreation car, arrived in Oakland around 1 o'clock, and the Baltimoreans were welcomed by Mayor Lawrence M. Fraley and a number of townspeople. Mickey's Band of Mountain Lake Park and Loch Lynn Heights furnished music when the train arrived and the guests were welcomed heartily by officials of the town.

The visitors were then invited to occupy cars of the private citizens of town and eight trucks donated by the CCC camps of the county, along with two busses. The route covered was practically the same that other excursionists were taken over, including the Swallow Falls and Muddy Creek area, McComas Beach and sections bordering on Deep Creek Lake, while some of the party returning earlier than others were taken to Mountain Lake Park and some other nearby points.

A new recreation center at Swallow Falls CCC camp was dedicated during the afternoon and refreshments were served to all visitors in the camp mess hall. Citizens of Oakland and members of the CCC company acted as guides in conducting the exxcursionists thru forest trails and the bauty spots along the lake.

Along on the trip were H. B. Potter, vice-president and general manager of the Baltimore Transit Company; Geo. E. Wolf, assistant superintendent of personnel, and John Gast, president of the Booster Club. Baltimore and Ohio officials included Ray Kureth and Fred. G. Baugh. Camera men from Baltimore newspapers also accompanied the party.

The weather was ideal for the trip and excursionists saw the beauties of this community in their gay autumn colors.

This is the third time that Oakland citizens have entertained excursionists from Baltimore and Washington. Baltimore and Ohio officials stated that Oakland was unique in this respect, being the only place where people offer the use of their cars and donate their time as drivers and guides to excursionists.

Firemen Answer Alarm

Oakland Firemen answered an alarm Sunday morning about 8:45, calling them to extinguish a blaze at the Mountain Lake Hotel. Sparks from an overheated flue had caught a portion of the roof and only prompt action prevented a serious loss.

A hole, about one foot square, was burned through the roof. There was no damage otherwise.

Was Riding Eastbound Freight And Fell Between Cars

John Robert Weicht, 14, of Swanton, who was riding on top of a freight car of an eastbound train Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock, fell between two cars and was ground to death beneath the wheels at a point just west of Altamont.

It is said that the youth was endeavoring to pass from the top of one car to the next where his brother was riding when the accident occurred.

The body was badly mangled and death was instantaneous.

State's Attorney Neil C. Fraley investigated the accident and termed an inquest unnecessary.

The deceased was born August 23, 1924, and was a son of Mrs. D. E. Wilson, of Swanton, who was the former Miss Laura Bray, of Elk Garden. Besides his mother and step-father, David E. Wilson, he is survived by four sisters, Gladys Weicht, Columbus, O.; Mrs. Earl Gentry, Newark, O.; Mrs. Hager Hamilton, Franklin, Md., and Daphne Weicht, at home; one brother, Gus, and a step-brother, Thomas Wilson, both at home.

Lesson for October 16

REVERENCE FOR GOD

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 20:7; Matthew 5:33-37; 12:33-37.
GOLDEN TEXT—Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name.—Matthew 6:9.

Character reveals itself through the words and deeds of a man. He may try to conceal his real spiritual condition and may assume an outward appearance of piety but he need not say many words, nor meet many of life's problems, before his true condition is revealed.

Our lesson for today touches primarily on the matter of the words of men, presenting first God's command that in speaking we are to show reverence for His name, and then leading up to the expression of that reverence in abstinence from swearing and from idle talk.

I. Reverence Commanded (Exod. 20:7).

The forbidden thing is the taking of the name of the Lord "in vain." Our use of the word "vain" carries the meaning of "useless, without purpose or meaning." This is part of what is in mind in this commandment, for the name of Jehovah is sacred and is to be revereneed as standing for the eternal God. It is never to be used carelessly, or for a frivolous purpose. All too often we tell jokes or stories which have no real purpose or meaning except to elicit a laugh and in them we use the name of God. We all need to exercise care at that point.

The Hebrew word translated "vain" has the additional meaning of "evil" and "falsehood." Men are so bold that they may even use the name of God to support themselves in a lie. God hears and will in no wise hold them guiltless.

II. Swearing Forbidden (Matt. 5: 33-37).

The Sermon on the Mount (so-called), from which this portion of Scripture is taken, is difficult to interpret to the satisfaction of all. Some disregard its evident application to the kingdom and, attempting to apply it in the midst of an ungodly generation, fall into such inconsistency that they abandon the effort and regard the teaching of the passage as impossible idealism. Others, who rightly interpret the passage as presenting the laws and principles of life in the kingdom of God when it shall be fully set up on earth with Jesus as King, fail to make any application of those principles to the life of those who are now living in this world—though not of it—but rather have their citizenship in heaven. This is also an unfortunate error.

We who follow the Lord Jesus are not to swear by either things sacred or things that might be called secular. Perhaps He has in mind that our lives should be so true that men will not need to have any kind of an oath to be assured of our sincerity and honesty. Some believe that all oaths even in court are forbidden, while others, with due respect for the feelings of those who hold this view, regard the taking of oaths in official matters as not being in mind. All would agree that the careless and almost sacrilegious use of God's name in administering oaths would be taking His name in vain.

Swearing is also entirely beyond the pale with Christian men and women. It is all too common with both men and women. A great church has organized a "Holy Name Society" to keep its members from using the name of the Lord in profanity. What a telling comment on the times in which we live!

III Judgment Assured (Matt. 12: 33-37).

Jesus had cast out a demon who had possessed a man and made him blind and dumb. The Pharisees could not deny the miracle but attributed it to the power of Beelzebub, prince of the demons. Jesus closed their mouths by pointing out that Satan did not work against himself, and went on to speak solemn words regarding their and our responsibility for what we say.

A day of judgment is coming, when we shall answer for the idle and wicked words which we speak. While we would not bring condemnation upon those who indulge in the innocent pleasantries of life by making too severe an application of these words, neither should we destroy their evident import by failing to apply them to our daily conversation. One need but listen to the casual small talk of men and women in public places to realize that we need to give attention to the matter of elevating not only the conversation of others but our own as well to a nobler and more helpful level. Surely Christians should speak for the glory of God on every occasion and in each circumstance of life

The way to accomplish this worthy purpose, and the only way, is to have the heart and life filled with the good treasure of God's Word, for verily out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh. What do your words and mine indicate to others regarding what is in our hearts?

For State Senator

Citizens of Garrett County:

You have honored me at the recent primary by nominating me as the Democratic Candidate to the Maryland State Senate. I am now appealing to you for your continued support in the coming General Election to be held November 8, 1938, and if I am elected to this high office, I pledge myself to honestly serve my native county and all of its citizens to the best of my ability, and to work faithfully for the following legislation:

1. Relocate portions, widen and improve State road, No. 219, enabling us to obtain proper cross-country connection between U. S. highways Nos. 40 and 50, thereby further aiding in the development of the Deep Creek Lake area and other parts of Garrett County.

2. See that Garrett County secures its full share of all funds allotted for building and improving roads generally.

3. Change the present tax law as it works an unbearable hardship on a great number of our taxpayers, especially the farmer, as this law calls for payment of taxes before he has marketed his crops.

4. Place a bounty on predatory animals, thereby conserving our game, also amend our game laws to propagate and protect our game both in and out of season.

5. A systematic stocking of Deep Creek Lake with fish natural to our waters and climate.

6. Erection of cattle crossing signs at farms desiring such crossings, making the motorist responsible for livestock killed as such crossings.

7. Advocate rigid economy in state and county government.

Respectfully yours,
BERNARD I. GONDER.

MT. LAKE PARK

They had so little in their narrow way:
A hilly farm, a tiny garden patch;
A weather-beaten house ragged and gray—
A pair of mules whose color did not match.
They had a white-faced cow, a hog or two,
And weary days of toil that stretched ahead:
Their goal so distant, leisure hours few;
Their stony acres yielding little bread.
But when the farthest hill drank up the sun
Soft dusk met lamplight in their quiet room.
When all the length of sun-parched day was done,
The breeze came sweet from purple clover bloom,
And thus he faced each year of scanty yield,
And brought her dogwood blossoms from the field.

—Alma Robison Higbee.

No special reason for this, other than the complete story that you may read in these lines, and a story that we know to be a not uncommon one throughout our own community. Anyhow, it's a very lovely "Portrait," which, by the way, is the title of the poem.

A great many of the homes are already closed and by the end of this week there will be but few of our summer neighbors remaining. A large majority of them will take the road south. But east or west, north or south, they will encounter no more beautiful weather or scenery than we have had here in Garrett county this fall. Long may it last!

October 9-15 is National Fire Prevention Week. It's a good time to watch your step while burning leaves—or anything else.

Star Performer ushers in new Style Cycle with stunning designs that keynote next year's mode

IT all started with "catwalk-cooling," on the costly racing cars of Europe.

They were shooting at better aerodynamics, not new styling—but they touched off something that will re-pattern cars everywhere before it's done.

Not that looks alone ever come first with Buick. What's really Buick is underneath all that, down deep in the good true metals, the split-hair precisions, the tough alloys.

But everyone goes for beauty, and you would be less than human if you didn't thrill to an eyeful of the smartest dressed automobile you ever saw.

So let your gaze take it in.

Spot the radiator grilles . . . down low. They're the key to new-day design.

They're also placed where air pressure's greatest—your engine cools under forced draft!

Under that comely bonnet is the engine with more abundant life—that quick quiet Dynaflash valve-in-head straight-eight!

Under that roomy Body by Fisher are the great slow spirals of BuiCoil springing, to give you the true "full float" ride. And in that body, is new wide-paned visibility—up to 413 more square inches of glass.

The whole staunch, firm, beautiful car looks like what it is—a car to love and live with.

Come see it. Just as it stands there, tuned for your service, it seems to be ready to fly!

LOOKING FORWARD

By FRANKLYN WALTMAN

Publicity Director, Republican National Committee

"Quick, Wallace! The hypodermic needle—before the election!"

Perhaps President Roosevelt did not use those exact words but they undoubtedly represent the substance of the instructions given to Secretary of Agriculture Wallace when the cries and groans of the suffering American farmers reached Washington. Of course, Mr. Roosevelt must have been surprised when he learned that prices of major farm productst were lower than in 1933, for he repeatedly had told the farmers that everything was all right because "we are planning it that way—don't let anybody tell you differently." And of course, Mr. Roosevelt would not deliberately mislead anyone.

But it is not surprising that we should surmise that Mr. Roosevelt's first thought was to give the farmer another shot in the arm, for that is tho way the New Deal has worked. So Doc Wallace grabbed his black bag and set forth for the wheat and corn States, again, to tell the farmers how the New Deal had saved them—that is, ah, uhmmm uhmmm—that is—would save them. Meanwhile, Dr. Key Pittman, who does not think Doc Wallace is so hot, got out his own hypodermic needle and proposed that the farm patients in the cotton States be given a little shot of inflation narcotics.

But every time the corn and wheat farmers and the cotton planters looked at the current price quotations, they let out another yell of protest. Not even New Deal drugs proved very soothing. Doc Wallace found himself proposing remedies which a few months ago he had denounced as quackery. Dr. Pittman was heard muttering such words as "hopelessness of present program," "absolute failure," "great loss to the government" and "continuing destruction of foreign markets for American cotton."

Not Funny For Farmers

All of this would be very funny were it not for the tragic plight into which the New Deal has cast American agriculture. It is not funny in the slightest degree because what has happened to farm prices vitally and directly affects almost one-half our population and indirectly presses down on the remainder of us. It is certainly not funny for the farmers who had been led to believe that their troubles had been solved.

Hehe we are, after five years of New Deal hypodermic needles, with farm prices lower than when the schemes for crop control were placed in effect—with prices for the New Deal period far below the previous period from 1921 to 1932. For instance, the annual average price of wheat from 1921 to 1932—and this includes the bottom of the world-wide depression—was $1.017 a bushel. The average annual price from 1933 to 1937—the period of experimental control—was 85.5 cents a bushel, or 16 per cent less. When the 1938 average price can be computed the difference will be much greater because wheat is now selling down around 60 cents a bushel. In the last year the price of wheat has fallen approximately 50 per cent.

Here we are, after five years of New Deal wisdom and crop restriction, with a cotton carry-over of 13,400,000 bales—7,000,000 of which are under government loans. Here we are with cotton selling at around eight cents a pound as compared with 12 cents in July last year and an average of 16.7 cents during the 1921-32 period—which again includes the worst period of the world-wide depression.

And, here we are again, plowing under cotton—destroying cotton when millions need clothing—in order to comply with the provisions of a nonsensical futile farm program. Mr. Roosevelt in 1935 indignantly declared that "it is high time for you and me to make clear that we are not plowing under cotton this year—that we did not plow it under in 1934 and that we only plowed some of it under in 1933 because the Agricultural Adjustment Act was passed after a huge crop of cotton was already in the ground." Mr. Roosevelt asserted that anyone who said anything to the contrary was "lying."

Is This A "Lie"?

Maybe so, but witness this story which appeared under an Atlanta, Ga., date line on September 4 last:

"Thousands of acres of cotton, much of it white with open bolls, ready for picking, are being plowed under by Southern farmers eager to qualify for farm bill benefits and to escape its penalties.

"Any accurate estimate of the number of acres being destroyed probably would run high in the thousands. It might be obtained only by a county to county study of the area but, even then, the percentage of error would be high. One county in middle Georgia has almost 2,000 acres subject to penalties of the cotton on them is not plowed up. * * *

"'It is much like 1934,' one county agent said."

What does Secretary Wallace now propose? He has become so confused it is a little difficult to tell. He seems to be floundering around like a man in a daze, stunned over the collapse of the Farm Act enacted only last January. One day he denounces export subsidies—indeed, none recently has been more denuncitatory of export subsidies than Mr. Wallace. The next day he suggests export subsidies as the solution. Then he suggests we go back to procassing taxes. Always, he undertakes to give the impression that he knew what would happen all along.

Can't Fool Wallace, He Says

For instance, in his speech at Hutchinson, Kansas, he asserted that "to anyone who has watched the wheat market closely in the last few years, the fall in the price of wheat is not a surprise," and he addad: "It was bound to come with the return of ordinary weather." It would have been nice of him to have let Mr. Roosevelt in on that wisdom, for the latter in the 1936 campaign emphatically declared that "by a program of land use and conservation we have ended the possibility of immediate glut."

A few months earlier Mr. Roosevelt said that "steps like these which we have taken and are taking will at least greatly cushion depressions and prevent the up-curve from rushing to a violent, mad peak of false prosperity and prevent another violent, mad descent into another sink of suffering and disillusionment like the one from which, for the yast three and a half years, we have been surely emerging."

Of course, Mr. Roosevelt would not deliberately mislead anyone. He just did not know—even if Mr. Wallace did.

STEWART SAYS "PLANNED ECONOMY" NOT GOODSENSE

Congressional Candidate Denounces New Deal Economic Policies

In one of the most productive agricultural sections of the country, at Frederick, A. Charles Stewart, Frostburg, Md., Republican candidate for Congress from the Sixth Congressional District, scathingly denounced those New Deal economic policies which have brought untold hardship to the nation's farmers and livestock growers.

Pointing out how the Amercian market has been given to the farmers of other lands through the Roosevelt reciprocal trade treaties and tariff manipulations, Mr. Stewart drew a startling contrast between imports of agricultural products before the present administrntion and since 1933.

"In 1932," said the Republican leader, "we imported only 34,155 pounds of hogs, but in 1937, thanks to the 'good neighbor' policy which has been particularly good for the foreigner, we flooded the American market with 16,555,218 pounds of hogs, brought in from other lands.

"Nor is that nll," Stewart continued. "Before the Roosevelt administration, we imported only 97,040 head of cattle, but last year we imported 494,943 head. Could any one deny that these foreign cattle displaced American-raised cattle in our own market?

"In the year before the New Deal came into being," the Republican candidate said, "the United Statess imported just 1,052,598 pounds of butter, but in 1937, we imported 11,110,762 pounds, more than ten times as much. Naturally this foreign butter knocked our farmers out of the market to the tune of about ten million pounds.

"Those great importations," Stewart concluded, "have come about during the very time our own people have hod to restrict production. Our people, and the farmers themselves, have been taxed to pay for lessened production. At the very same time, over the lowered tariff walls, there has come a vast flood of foreign commodities which this country must have needed or it would not have brought them. This may be 'planned economy', but it certainly isn't common sense."

Political Transparencies

Washington, October 8.

As an election in which 435 members of the House, one-third of the Senate and a number of Governors in key States are to be chosen in less than four weeks off, political announcements from party leaders are orthodox and to be expected. Nevertheless, two last week from the Administration seem worthy of special attention if only for their bland assumption that the voters in the main are incapable of analysis, recollection or even thought, and that if you are sufficiently solemn even the larger absurdities and contradictions can be safely risked.

* * *

One of these came from the President; the other from his Postmaster General. At a specially called press conference the latter, in his capacity as chairman, solemnly announced that the Democratic National Committee would support the Democratic candidates. No one laughed. On the contrary, the statement was considered first-page news by most of the papers, which is certainly revealing. The explanation, of course, lies in the recent Roosevelt intimation that he considered a "liberal Republican preferable to a reactionary Democrat." (The adjectice "reactionary" is the mildest one in the New Deal lexicon to describe dissenters.) In view of Mr. Roosevelt's past record in opposing Democrats in Wisconsin, Nebraska, Minnesota and other States, this seemed almost as unnecessary a statement as Mr. Farley's that a Democratic committee would support Democrats. While there appears here a conflict between the chairman and his chief, actually there is none. As pointed out by an irreverent reporter, it is simply an effort to work both sides of the street, firm in the belief that an astigmatic public will see only one.

* * *

Just as transparent as Mr. Farley's, the President's announcement was supposed not to be political. Nothing could have been more so. Using the old Coolidge device of a "spokesman," Mr. Roosevelt urged business men to "cease calling names" and "cooperate with governmental policies." And no one laughed at that, though why it is hard to understand. For one thing, it is so badly frayed around the edges. At least three times, and always before an election—the President has made gestures like this toward business. Every time he has gotten a response, and every time very soon after election business has been kicked in its collective pants, exhibited as completely boobish to have believed him.

* * *

There are several points which should be made in connection with this most recent "won't you cooperate and stop calling names" plea of the President. One is that there is not the slightest suggestion that such men as Mr. Harold Ickes, Mr. Harry Hopkins and Mr. Robert Jackson, whose violent tirades against business have been so conspicuous, should be toned down or called off—and they are still at it. As name callers, business men lack the ingenuity, the ferocity and the consistency of these Administration mouthpieces. A lot has been written about the haters of Mr. Roosevelt and it is true that there are a good many who greatly dislike him. But in neither the intensity of their feeling nor in its expression do they compare with the New Deal hatchet men whose bitterness toward business is fanatical and who work so hard to stir up class feeling and foment hate.

* * *

The second point is that any business man asked to cooperate with Mr. Roosevelt now is supposed to forget that Mr. Roosevelt is behind the anti-monopoly investigation, admittedly conceived for a political purpose and which the slick boys of the "inner circle" regard as a means of solidifying sentiment against business. They are also supposed to forget that Mr. Roosevelt is committed to restore, if he can, the undivided-surplus tax, wiped out against his will at the last session and which business men, big and little, believe to be unsound and unjust. If business men, realizing these facts, and once more misled by the stooges on Mr. Roper's Advisory Board, respond again to an appeal for cooperation, then experience teaches them nothing—they are incurable saps and deserve what they get. It is as if they were asked to cooperate in cutting their own throats. The truth is that when you ask business men to "cooperate with governmental policies" you ask them to subordinate their reason and sacrifice their self-respect. Stripped of all disguise, the one basic policy left to this Administration is the spending policy—an indefinite continuation of pump priming until the well runs dry. There is really nothing else and every intelligent and posted man knows it. Before they "respond" again it would be well for business men to digest this fact.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Some of the following hints may prove to be time and labor saving:

When painting woodwork, coat the door knobs, lock and hinges with vaseline so that paint can easily be wiped off if it splashes on these surfaces.

It is difficult to fill muffin pans without getting some of the dough on the outside rim. The next time you are making cupcakes, try this: Pour your batter from a well-greased pitcher and the cups will be filled without any spillage or overflow.

Broken walnuts mixed with hot maple syrup make a delicious sauce for vanilla ice cream.

Use a wire strainer when poaching eggs. Place strainer in vessel of hot water and break eggs into it. The white will not spread.

To remove paint from glass, use hot vinegar.

Place a teaspoon of moist peanut butter in the bottom of muffin rings. Pour in muffin batter and bake as usual. Very tasty.

Add one teaspoon lemon juice to the water in which rice is cooked to help keep it white and fluffy.

To segment oranges and grapefruit for a salad more easily: Submerge the fruit in boiling water for three minutes. Then cut a piece from the top of the fruit with a sharp knife and peel as you would an apple. The outside membrane pulls away with the rind.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

Marybelle Emmaline Lewis vs. Joseph Franklin Lewis
No. 3486 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

The object of this suit is to procure a decree for a divorce a vinculo matrimonii by the plaintiff from the defendant.

The bill states:

That on the 19th day of January, 1933, she was married, at Oakland, Maryland, to one Joseph Franklin Lewis, with whom she resided in Garrett County Maryland, for about four months; that although the conduct of your oratrix towards her husband, the said Joseph Franklin Lewis, was always kind, affectionate and above reproach, the said Joseph Franklin Lewis, without any just cause or reason abandoned and deserted her during the spring of 1933, and such abandonment has continued uninterruptedly for more than five years, is deliberate and final and the separation of the parties beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation; that your oratrix and the said defendant, Joseph Franklin Lewis, have had no children born to them from said marriage; that your oratrix has heard nothing from the said defendant since he deserted and abandoned her and does not know where he now resides, but inasmuch as he was formerly a resident of Pennsylvania she does not believe that he is now a resident of the State of Maryland.

The bill then prays for a divorce a vinculo matrimonii of the plaintiff from the defendant, for general relief and for an order of publication.

It is thereupon, this 26th day of September, 1938, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, ordered, that the plaintiff by having a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once in each of four successive weeks before the 28th day of October, 1938, give notice to the said absent defendant of the object and substance of this bill, warning him to be and appear in this Court, either in person or by solicitor, on or before the 14th day of November, 1938, to show cause, if any he has, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

WHEREAS, at the January session of the General Assembly of Maryland, held in the year 1937, an Act was passed, to-wit: Chapter 525 propusing an amendment to Article 15 of the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, authorizing the General Assembly to impose taxes on incomes, and providing for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection; in words and figures as follows:

CHAPTER 463—1935

AN ACT to propose an amendment to repeal Section 36 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department," said section prohibiting the General Assembly from authorizing a lottery, and providing for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That Section 36 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department," prohibiting the General Assembly from authorizing lottery grants, be and it is hereby repealed if adopted by the legally qualified voters of the State, as herein provided.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the next ensuing general election for members of the General Assembly of Maryland, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words: "For Constitutional Amendment" and "Against Constitutional Amendment," as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14.

Approved: May 17, 1937.

CHAPTER 491—1937

AN ACT to amend Section 21 of Article 4, title "Judiciary Department," sub-title "Part III—Circuit Courts", of the Constitution of this State, to provide an additional judge in the Second Circuit and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of this State for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all of the members elected to each of the two Houses concurring), That the following section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 21 of Article 4, title "Judiciary Department", sub-title "Part III—Circuit Courts" of the Constitution of the State, and if adopted by the legal and qualified voters thereof as herein provided, it shall supersede and stand in the place and stead of Section 21 of said Article 1.

21. For each of the said circuits, excepting the eighth, the second, the third and the sixth, there shall be a chief judge and two associate judges, to be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be selected or appointed as herein provided, and for the second circuit, the third circuit and the sixth circuit there shall be a chief judge and three associate judges to be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be elected or appointed as herein provided. And no two of said associate judges, for any of the said circuits, except the third and sixth circuits shall, at the time of their election or appointment or during the term for which they may have been elected or appointed, reside in the same county. If two or more persons shall be candidates for associate judge in the same county in any of the circuits, except the third and sixth circuits, that one only in said county shall be declared elected who has the highest number of votes in the circuit. In case any two candidates for associate judge in any of the circuits, except the third and sixth circuits, residing in the same county shall have an equal number of votes greater than any other candidates for associate judge in the circuit, it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for one associate judge; but the person residing in any other county of the circuit and who has the highest number of votes shall be declared elected. The said judges shall hold not less than two terms of the Circuit Court in each of the counties composing their respective circuits, at such times as are now or may hereafter be prescribed to which jurors shall be summoned; and in those counties where only two such terms are held, two other and intermediate terms, to which jurors shall not be summoned; they may alter or fix the times for holding any or all terms, until otherwise prescribed, and shall adopt rules to the end that all business not requiring the interposition of the jury shall be, as far as practicable, disposed of at said intermediate terms. One judge in each of the above circuits, including the second, the third and sixth circuits, shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business; and the said judges or any of them may hold special terms of their courts, whenever in their discretion the business of the several counties renders such terms necessary. The additional associate judge for the third circuit elected in accordance with the terms of the Constitutional Amendment heretofore submitted and adopted shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, hold his office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the third circuit.

The additional associate judge for the second circuit herein provided for shall be a resident of Cecil County, shall be appointed by the Governor after the expirntion of six (6) months after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Caroline, Cecil, Kent, Queen Anne's and Talbot counties, constituting the second circuit. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit, and the judge so elected shall be subject to the same constitutional provision, hold his office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation, and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit.

The additional judge for the sixth circuit herein provided for and elected by the qualified voters of Frederick and Montgomery Counties at the 1938 election in accordance with the terms of the Constitutional Amendment heretofore submitted and adopted shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the sixth circuit and his successor shall be appointed and/or elected in accordance with the constitutional provisions relating to judges. The Chief Judge may be elected from either Frederick or Montgomery Counties, but when the Chief Judge is elected from Frederick County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said county and the two remaining associate judges shall be residents of Montgomery County and when the Chief Judge is elected from Montgomery County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said Montgomery County and the remaining two associate judges residents of Frederick County. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the sixth judicial circuit shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be declared elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuit, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be, residing in said county in the order of the vote received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates as the case may be residing in the other county, and not similarly disqualified who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If, by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said sixth judicial circuit, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State shall be, at the next general election to be held in this State in the year 1938, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State, and at the said general election, the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment," as now prescribed by law, and immediately after said election, due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution.

Approved: May 18, 1937.

CHAPTER 525—1937

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Article 15 of the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, authorizing the General Assembly to impose taxes on incomes, and providing for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following amendment be and the same is hereby proposed to Article 15 of the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, the same, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Article 15 of the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

Art. 15. That the levying of taxes by the poll is grievous and oppressive and ought to be prohibited; that paupers ought not to be assessed for the support of the government; that the General Assembly shall, by uniform rules, provide for separate assessment of land and classification and sub-classification of improvements on land and personal property, as it may deem proper; and all taxes thereafter provided to be levied by the State for the support of the general State Government, and by the counties and by the City of Baltimore for their respective purposes, shall be uniform as to land within the taxing district, and uniform within the class or sub-class of improvements on land and personal property which the respective taxing powers may have directed to be subjected to the tax levy; yet lines, duties or taxes may properly and justly be imposed, or laid with a political view for the good government and benefit of the community. Taxes may be imposed on incomes, which may be classified, graduated and progressive and the exemption of a reasonable amount of income from taxation may be provided and such taxes may be in lieu of taxes on any class or classes of real or personal property as the General Assembly may determine.

Sec. 2. And be be it further enacted, That the aforegoing amendment to the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the election to be held in November, 1938, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, upon each ballot there shall be printed the words: "For Constitutional Amendment" and "Against Constitutional Amendment," as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14.

Approved: May 18, 1937.

NICE, GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF MARYLAND, in pursuance of the direction contained in Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of Maryland, do hereby order and direct that this proclamation containing a full, true and correct copy of the text of said Chapter 463 of the Acts of the General Assembly of Maryland of 1935, and said Chapters 494 and 525 of the Acts of the General Assembly of Maryland of 1937, be published in at least two newspapers in each of the counties of the State where so many may be published and where not more than one may be published then in that newspaper, and in three newspapers published in the City of Baltimore, one of which shall be published in the German language, in such manner and for such time as is provided in Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of Maryland.

OLIVER H. BRUCE, Jr.,

Democratic Candidate for Associate Judge

Although no political party has any right or power to prescribe a policy for courts to follow, it is nevertheless a custom in this State for candidates for the Judiciary to be nominated by the parties of which they are members. In aspiring to the office of Associate Judge, therefore, I am submitting my cause to all the voters, being a member of the Democratic party, and nominated without opposition, although I fully realize that a person who is elected Judge, in the discharge of his official duties, should be free from obligation to any party.

I believe the Parole System should be applied with the greatest possible caution and should never be used as a means of letting hardened or habitual criminals have freedom to further impose upon law-abiding people.

I hold the conviction there is no law in this State or country that warrants any person, or group of persons, to seize and hold possession of the property of others, without due process of law. And I know of no law that gives any person or any number of persons a warrant to interfere by force with the exercise of natural and legal rights of other persons. I believe it is the duty of Judges where such interference occurs to remind Grand Juries that no individual, no group, no organization, can have any semblance of a right to set aside, permanently or temporarily, to ignore or refuse to obey the laws of the land no matter what the objectives of such ignoring or refusal may be.

The advance agents of disruption never filled a pay envelope. Hostile companions and domestic enemies will not bring prosperity and security.

To every man and woman of Garrett County who believes the above convictions are sound and right, I appeal for the support of my candidacy.

WASH FRUIT TO GET RID OF THE POISONOUS SPRAYS

Fruits Go Through Much Handling Before Reaching Consumer

Before you bite into that luscious looking apple, wash it off thoroughly to be sure you have gotten rid of all traces of the poisonous spray used to destroy insect pests while the fruit was growing," is the advice of Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the State Department of Health. Dr. Riley doesn't limit his precautionary reminder to apples, but includes pears, grapes and other fruits now in the market, and vegetables, also.

"Fruits and vegetables that are in use today," he said, "go through a great deal of handling before they reach you, or me. The custom of spraying growing fruits and vegetables with poisonous chemicals to protect them against pests, has also become very general. Much of the poisonous spray is washed off by the summer rains, but there is always a possibility of some trace of it being left. A thorough washing before the fruit, or vegetables are used, will remove dirt or soil acquired in handling, and will get rid of the substances used to protect the growing crops from insect enemies.

"Great care is taken," Dr. Riley continued, "to protect Maryland fruit from damage by the spray used to destroy insects. The Bureau of Food and Drugs of the State Department of Health is in touch with farmers and fruit growers throughout the State, and with the inspection service of the University of Maryland.

"Samples of Maryland-grown fruit are collected from representative orchards by the inspection service before the crop is harvested, and are brought to the chemical laboratories of the State Department of Health to be tested for traces of left-over-spray containing arsenic or some other poisonous substance. If excess spray residue is found the growers or shippers are notified that it must be removed before the fruit may be put on the market. Other States are giving similar service to growers and purchasers in other parts of the country.

"The growers are very cooperative and work very readily with us. But it is always safest to wash both fruits and vegetables before using them."

Albert Richter, of Accident, who had three steers entered in the show, took first, second and third places in the Garrett-Allegany class, and then in the grand show, won first, second and seventh. In the final judging two of his steers were given the titles Grand Champion and Reserve Grand Champion. The Grand Champion was a Hereford steer about one year old.

In the Garrett-Allegany class, Calvin Harvey, Marshall Harvey and Fred Harvey, all of Swanton, won 4th, 5th and 6th places, respectively, and in the grand show, in which there were 22 entries, Calvin Harvey was 15th and Marshall Harvey was 16th.

Richter's Grand Champion steer brought 30 cents a pound on the hoof in the regular Four States Auction sale, which followed the show. The steer weighed 1025 pounds and was bought by Hoffman Brothers, of Hagerstown, for $307.50. Other steers sold for 17, 15 and 14 cents per pound and lower.

Attending the show yesterday in addition to those with enterics were A. J. Richter, Richard Kolb and Marvin Schlossnagle, Accident.

The Garrett County Baby Beef club is conducted under the supervision of John H. Carter, County Agent.

Oakland Community Choir To Be Reorganized

Choral music is to be developed in the Oakland community this winter season under the direction of Rev. Felix Robinson and the opportunity to join the choir is being extended to all who are willing to devote one evening each week to rehearsals.

A meeting is to be held Monday evening, October 24, at 8:30, in the assembly room of St. Paul's Methodist church. Rev. Robinson said he had a number of announcements to make that would interest Oakland musicians.

Following the meeting on Monday refreshments will be served by Mrs. Frederick Thayer, Mrs. S. H. Jackson and Miss Grace Loar.

Friendsville F. F. A. Members Make Trip To Frederick.

Wilbur Thomas, Leslie Guard, Irvin Lowdermilk, Charles Ross, members of the Friendsville Chapter, F. F. A., and Charley Miller, vocational instructor, attended the Frederick Fair last Thursday and Friday.

At the annual meeting and banquet Thursday evening, Wilbur Thomas had the degree of State Farmer bestowed upon him in recognition of his outstanding project work. On Friday the boys took part in the state-wide dairy cattle judging contest.

Parent-Teachers To Meet

The first meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association of the Oakland Elementary school will be held on Thursday, October 27, at 7:30, in Room 9.

All parents interested in the work of the school are urged to be present.

Tuesday, October 25, and Wednesday, October 26, have been designated at visitors' days in this school. Parents are invited to be present and observe the work being done by their children and later to discuss any problems or questions that may arise in connection with the school work.

Will Be Parade And Dancing On Hollowe'en

The Hallowe'en celebration, annually sponsored by the Oakland Fire Department, will consist of a parade at 7 o'clock, a dance at the Manhattan hotel and square dancing on Second street, according to Robert Stanton, a member of the committee.

The only difference this year will be the fact that no prizes are being offered for attractions in the parade.

Second street will be roped off for the merry-making, as in former years.

Subdue Forest Fires

Two forest fires in the vicinity of Oakland were subdued Sunday and yesterday by forestry men with the assistance of CCC enrollees.

There was a small fire last evening on the Dr. M. C. Hinebaugh farm and a fire Sunday near the Youghiogheny River bridge.

BALLOT WILL BE LARGER THAN FOR SEVERAL YEARS

Seven Candidates Are Listed for Governor; 54 Names On Ballot

Although the names on the November ballot will be practically the same in number as that of four years ago, 54 this year and 51 in 1934, the ballot is going to be much larger than for a number of years, on account of a ruling of the Court of Appeals specifying that there must be blank spaces on the ballot to give voters an opportunity to write in their choice, regardless of whether or not the name is on the official ballot prepared by the Board of Election Supervisors.

This means that in the bracket under the group of candidates for Governor, and there are seven of them this year, there will be a blank space, should none of the seven suit the voter, and in this space he may write the name of anyone whom he wishes to vote for, but of course the X mark in the square provided for it is necessary to make the ballot count. In the bracket beneath the names of the County Commissioners there will be three blank spaces provided where a voter may vote for three persons if those who are the regular candidates are not pleasing. It is to be thus in each instance where one, two or three candidates are to be voted for. The approximate size of the ballot will be 19x25 inches.

The full list of names of those who will appear on the ballot and who are to be voted for at the general election on Tuesday, November 8, has been received from the office of the Secretary of State and shows seven candidates for Governor. Besides Governor Nice and Herbert R. O'Conor, major party candidates, there are David W. Eyman, socialist; Herbert Brune, independent; Robert Kadish, labor; Joshua C. Gwin, union; and Samuel Gordon, communist.

There are six candidates for United States Senator. Besides the two major party candidates, Oscar Leser and Millard E. Tydings, there are candidates of the socialist, labor, communist and union parties.

There are six candidates of Comptroller of the treasury and five candidates for Clerk of the Court of Appeals. In the Congressianal race in this district, and the contest for associate judge, there are candidates of only the two major parties involved.

There will also be spaces on the ballot for or against three proposed Constitutional Amendments and a space for or against a referendum fixing the time within which a marriage license may be issued.

The proposed amendments to the Constitution have to do with authorizing lotteries, providing an additional judge in the Second Circuit and authorizing a tax on incomes.

A facsimile of the official ballot will be printed in The Republican at the proper time.

Turkey Festival Advocated

Since Preston county, West Va., had such a successful buckwheat festival and homecoming last week-end, a number of persons here have been advocating a Turkey Festival for Garrett county, to be held a wek or ten days prior to Thanksgiving.

There would be a parade, judging of birds, crowning of a turkey queen, shooting match and various other events.

Garrett county can furnish the turkeys, but a queen would be hard to choose, as there are so many fair damsels from whom to choose.

Thus far, however, no organization has volunteered to sponsor such a celebration.

The committee in charge includes Miss Sincell, chairman; Miss Catherine Baker, Mrs. Duncan Patton and Mrs. Benj. H. Sincell, assistants.

WPA ROADS PROJECT FOR HALF MILLION APPROVED

Covers Repair And Improvement Of 50 Miles of County Roads

A blanket project covering the repair and improvement of 50 miles of Garrett county roads has been approved by WPA headquarters in Washington, it was learned last night.

The project will necessitate an outlay of about one-half million dollars, of which the county must furnish $110,000.

The roads to be repaired will be selected by the County Commissioners from time to time during the next few years, and the amount of the project to be taken up depends upon the decisions of the Commissioners.

The project calls for the roads to be constructed at a cost not to exceed $10,000 per mile. Of this amount the county furnishes in the neighborhood of $2,500 per mile, according to Henry Tarring, Jr., county WPA administrator.

Mountain Top Ministers Elect Rev. Foster Jones President

The first meeting of the season for the Mountain Top Ministers' Association was held Monday morning, when ten members met in Oakland to hear Dr. Edgar C. Powers, of the Maryland Bible Society, speak upon the efforts being made in this county in Bible distribution and sales.

Rev. Foster Jones, Aurora, W. Va., was elected president for 1938-1939; Rev. A. C. Curran, Bittinger, was chosen vice-president; Rev. David C. Trimble, Oakland, secretary-treasurer, and Rev. A. B. Leamer, D.D., Oakland, delegate at large.

It was decided to continue monthly meetings held at various points in the area. The group will meet in the Bittinger Lutheran parsonage in November, as guests of Rev. Curran. Dr. Leamer will speak on "The Ministry of Example," and Rev. W. S. Patterson, Oakland, will give the customary book review.

To Construct Large Inn Along National Highway

A score of workmen are engaged on the log inn of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Prichard, which, when completed, will be the main structure of Meadow Mountain Inn, on U. S. Route 40, and located about six miles east of Grantsville. The foundation, started in the summer,, together with the sun-floors, have been completed and the laying of the logs, to be of saddle notch construction, was started Saturday morning.

The building, measuring 50 by 60 feet, and two stories in height, when completed, will have a store, dining hall and kitchen on the first floor and twelve bedrooms on the second floor. Modern equipment will be installed and a winter parking space for motor cars will be provided in the basement of the structure.

The building will occupy the central position of a group of twenty smaller cottages, and, according to the architects, will be one of the most attractive group of buildings along the National Highway.

MANY PERSONS GREET NICE AND CANDIDATES ON TOUR

All-Day Trip Through County Ends Saturday Night With Mass Meeting In Oakland

CROWD IS ENTHUSIASTIC

Governor Harry W. Nice, charging his Democratic gubernatorial opponent, Herbert R. O'Conor, is lifting campaign promises from the Republican platform and the Governor's declarations, challenged him at the Republican rally in Oakland last Saturday evening to answer where he stood on the subject of capital and labor and where he stood on President Roosevelt's New Deal.

The Governor, apparently determined to force the battle as he sees it in the campaign said:

"Promises made in the campaign for the Democratic nomination, which cost him and his supporters $70,000, are repetitions of facts already established by my administration.

Cites Teachers' Pay

"Let me demonstrate how he has resorted to the Republican achievements during the past four years as well as to the Republican platform to impress the people that he now is indulging in promises which already have been put into effect.

"For instance, his statement of yesterday that he will ask for more pay for school teachers. Certainly he must know that the cuts formerly made in their pay by his party have been fully restored by my administration through my placing of these restorations in my bi-annual budget.

Schools Free Of Politics

"He knows, and, if he doesn't know, he should ask the State School Board for information that under my administration the School Board has functioned with a greater degree of efficiency than it has ever before been permitted, due entirely to the fact that it has been freed of political influence.

"No man has a right to place a political and benighted hand on the public school system of this State.

Hint To "Ghost Writers"

"Really, Mr. O'Conor, if I may be permitted the impertinence, I suggest that your ghost writers seek sources of information other than the Republican platform and my public declarations. If I may continue my probably unwelcome suggestion, a clearer discussion of your conflicting and altogether irreconcilable fiscal programs of 1937 and 1938 would be in better taste.

"Surely among those who so liberally contributed to your $70,000 primary campaign there can be found a brilliancy of intellect that will guide you away from inconsistencies, repetition of what I said months ago and the lifting bodily out of the Republican platform statements now attributed to you as being original.

Brings In New Deal

"I would like to ask you, Mr. O'Conor, why, during 1937, you were most eloquent and altogether fulsome in praise of President Roosevelt and the New Deal? Then you proclaimed the President's virtues and the merits of the New Deal from the house tops in language strong and eloquence persuasive.

"Since becoming the nominee of your party, not one single, soulful word of praise for your President or his Administration has escaped your lips; not a single word of appreciation for his grant of funds for the Susquehanna and Potomac River bridges? Why is this, Mr. O'Conor?

"Rare Political Figure"

"Certainly you are too outstanding a statesman and rare political figure, possessing the courage of your convictions, to attempt to adroitly trim your sails to each changing, varying wind of political expediency.

"I do hope that your present attitude is not assumed for the purpose of gaining votes at the sacrifice of your press-built reputation for political courage.

"If I may be permitted, may I ask you to enlighten the people of Maryland as to your reason for omitting any and all planks in your platform dealing with the vitally important subject of labor and capital? Have you gone capitalistic or have you plunged into what you may seem to think are the troubled waters of labor, refusing to make known your position for political expediency and for the purpose of deceiving some of the people a short time?

Lesson for October 23

OUR DAY OF REST

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 20:8 11; Luke 13: 10-17.

GOLDEN TEXT—Remember the Sabbath day, to keep it holy.—Exodus 20:8.

Rest—how full of meaning that little word is when we recall that it means quiet for the struggling one, calm for the troubled, repose for the weary, tranquillity for the disturbed, cessation of labor for the worn-out one. God in His infinite wisdom saw that without rest man would soon destroy himself, and He made provision for one day in seven when labor should cease and man should be free for that re-creation of soul and body which should fit him for the labor of the week. Men in their greed have coveted the time God gave for rest and have used it for themselves, and the ragged nerves and broken bodies, to say nothing of the impoverished spirits of our day, testify that it can be done only at our peril.

Our study centers around Scripture passages which have to do with the Jewish Sabbath, but since it was essentially a day of rest, and afforded an opportunity for the worship of God, the principles surrounding it are applicable to our day of rest—the first day of the week, the Lord's Day.

I. Why We Keep a Day of Rest (Exod. 20:8-11).

1. God commanded that there should be a day of rest—one out of seven—and that should be sufficient to cause His people to "remember" the day "to keep it holy." It is cause for grave concern that Sunday has become a day of swimming, hiking, auto-driving, golfing, and one might go on with the list almost indefinitely. Many men or women who have had built into their own characters the stalwart virtues nurtured by family attendance at the house of God, have not only forgotten their own need and responsibility but are destroying every vestige of interest in divine worship in the hearts of their children. It is serious business to go astray oneself, but infinitely more serious to mislead one's own children.

Notice that the day of rest was to be not only for the family but also for servants and for visitors. The employer who operates his factory or office on Sunday violates this commandment. Note also that the man who is to rest on the seventh day is supposed to work on the six days. Some folk neglect to do both.

2. God's command is strengthened by the divine example (v. 11). We are not able to do all things that God does, but here we are privileged to follow His example.

II. How We Keep the Day of Rest (Luke 13:10-17).

The incident recorded by Luke does not give us an exhaustive list of things to be done with our day of rest, but it is interesting to note that our Lord was

1. In the house of God (v. 10). Jesus was in the synagogue. The distinguished Apostle Paul never became too great or too good to attend divine worship. We all need to go to church (if it is at all possible for us to do so) to fellowship with others in the things of Christ. Let us have a revival of church attendance, and not only on Sunday mornings, but also on Sunday night and for midweek prayer meeting.

2. Alert to the needs of others (vv. 11, 12). It is not indicated that the woman asked to be healed. Jesus saw her need and met it. We can not do what he did, but there are needs that we can meet if we are but alert to see them and willing to help.

3. Active in service (v. 13). In spite of the criticism which He knew would come from the lazy and helpless standers-by, Jesus did the work of God. We may glorify God by being ready—yes anxious—to serve in the church. Our daily work is set aside on the Lord's Day not that we should be indolent, but that we should be free to do the Lord's work.

4. Contending for the faith (vv. 14-17). Jesus met the unjust criticism (which, by the way, was leveled at the poor woman because the critic feared Jesus) by a masterly appeal to the law of the Pharisees (vv. 15, 16). But He did more than that, for He ably defended the rights of humanity as superior to the formalities of man-made law. The law is always supreme until the Lawgiver comes, and no law can hinder Him by its letter, as He fulfills its spirit.

We may not speak as Jesus did, that is to declare what the law is, but we may in His name, and by His grace and power declare the full counsel of God, defend it against its critics and withstand those who while bearing the name of Christian leaders only hinder the work of Christ (compare III John 9, 10). For such service we need His guidance, His wisdom, His power, and His grace.

The Wise Man

The wise man is like the druggist's chest, silent but full of virtues; and the blockhead resembles the warrior's drum, noisy but empty.—Sadi the Persian.

Scoop's Column

By Scoop Himself

After listening to each candidate for office get up in these mass meetings, thank everyone for support in the primary, ask for continued support for himself and all the others on the same ticket, from the lowest to the highest, in the coming election, shows an appreciative mind, but it becomes rather tiresome and monotonous by the time the sixteenth or twentieth candidate has spoken.

In a county in Ohio they are campaigning in an entirely different way, and it appears to be taking the county by storm. There is little mention of the candidates except to say that so-and-so is sponsoring different parts of the program. There is a magician who performs for about 20 minutes (it wasn't stated whether this magician pulls new taxes out of a hat). Then there is a group of singers and then this is followed by selections on musical instruments of one kind or another. Political talks are almost taboo.

On the surface this is a happy-go-lucky way of campaigning, but interesting for the time being. Whether or not it will be effective when the time comes for actual vote-casting, remains to be seen.

In one way it seems like fooling the people by entertaining them, but in most political speeches the candidates are fooling the people, and it isn't nearly as interesting as hearing some snappy swing music.

In politics, so many times, the people seem to enjoy getting fooled.

* * *

The Idea!

Someone who knows more truth than poetry, has posted a sign near his home cautioning sportsmen:—"Warning to Hunters—Don't shoot until you see it move—it might be a WPA worker."

* * *

J. Millard Tawes, the Eastern Shore Democratic candidate for Comptroller, just couldn't get the fish and oysters of his section out of his mind. In speaking of the beautiful scenery in Garrett county he mentioned particularly the drive up "Fishbone Mountain," which brought a roar in Monday night's mass meeting. Of course, he wasn't expected to remember Backbone Mountain.

Herbert O'Conor, in his speech, saw the need of forest preservation. The need of forest preservation and recreation spots is in Governor Nice's platform.

O'Conor says politics should not be in the schools. Under Nice politics have not been in the schools.

O'Conor says that the roads are in bad shape. They were on the downward path during the Ritchie administration and so far down that it was impossible to bring them back in four years.

* * *

Pity the plight of Mary Louise Helbig. She didn't know until Tuesday morning that somebody had placed a Governor Nice picture in Mr. Hamill's office window near that of Handsome Herbert.

* * *

At Last!

A Kansas paper exclaims that it has happened at last. A recent news paragraph bearing an Illinois dateline says that William Colvin, a WPA worker, aged 43, while leaning on his shovel handle, fell and broke an arm.

It would be safer if they leaned on one another. Then, if one fell, the other might be able to let him down with ease.

* * *

Hair Is On The Up And Up

Hair is on the up and up. Just how far and how long, I don't know. I do know that when women get it up as high as they can they add a Robin Hood feather just for good measure.

Pity the average husband. Wife looks in magazine and finds that "down" style is taboo—nothing but "up" style will do. Goes to hair-dresser undecided, hoping someone will talk her into making change. Someone does. Husband calls for wife and has to muster all his courage to outwardly remain unruffled when he sees several in chairs with hair up. Counts eeny-meeny-miny-mo and hopes that he has found his right wife. Discovers in car that he has. Children don't recognize her until they get home. He decides it's her own funeral if she wants to look like that. At home wife tries to get out of street dress to change to party dress. Can't get dress over head for fear of mussing up hair, so has to split dress. Almost splits party dress getting it on.

In perparing to leave wife tries on hat. It looks like chicken on a perch with brim high above ears. To pull it down would ruin "up-style" hair.

Net result: One new dress; one new hat.

Two days later hair is on the slight "down" grade. Maybe it will go up again; maybe it won't.

* * *

And, by the way! A sign in the Maryland theatre Monday night lost the Democrats some good Republican votes. Some of them went there, according to reports, prepared to split their ticket just a little, and the first thing they saw was the sign: "Eat Democratic Popcorn." That's something they couldn't swallow, they said. So it looks like a straight Republican ticket—and it should be.

If you are looking for an enjoyable Sunday afternoon take a hike in the woods with your children, hear the rustle of leaves beneath your feet, rest under an oak tree and have your children serve you tea or chocolate from acorn teacups. It's a grand feeling, but you'd better hurry. These fine October days are almost at an end, say the weather prophets.

So here is the column again, since the rush of work in other departments has subsided about the office, for the time being, at least.

SOME FACTS ADMITTED—

Facts set forth by Governor Nice and his supporters but refuted in flat contradiction or by intimation or innuendo are beginning to stick.

Even the caustic Baltimore Sun is coming to acknowledge some of these truths here and there, although grudgingly, amidst the criticisms it is directing at the Governor for partisan reasons. In the course of a two-column editorial, in which it overplays a sing-song about Governor Nice's good intentions—which, by the way, are freely and candidly admitted—the Sun is forced to recognize that—

The Governor made an excellent appointment in the selection of Major Elmer F. Munshower as head of the State police.

The Governor made a good appointment in the selection of Judge Stanton, as police commissioner of Baltimore City.

The Governor persuaded some "excellent men" to take "key positions" as magistrates. In this connection it is to be noted that the Sun continues its misrepresentations of the gubernatorial responsibility herein by again ignoring the senatorial participation in such appointments.

The Governor came into office finding the roads conditions were bad because, "in the latter part of his regime, Governor Ritchie did not handle his 'road' problems as well as he might have."

"When Governor Nice came in there was a deficit." Too many Democratic politicians have been attempting to dodge or ignore that fact.

The legislature, "to be sure," has not handled well its budgetary responsibilities. It is not to be forgotten that the legislature has been overwhelmingly Democratic.

These admissions are significant, indeed, for they show that critics of Governor Nice are hard put to it in their frantic efforts to smear him, which efforts, by the way, are indicative of the alarm the opposing side is inwardly experiencing over the Governor's widespread popularity in this campaign.

GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

Copyright by the Baltimore Sun and reprinted in The Republican by permission.

Is This Coincidence?

For more than three months, according to governmental statements, business has been getting better. According to the United States News, in manufacturing industries jobs are becoming plentiful and pay rolls higher. There are more jobs on the railroads than since the start of the recession; there are more jobs on farms and more jobs in the heavy industries. So assert the authorities.

* * *

In the retail trade, it is true, there has been a drop in job opportunities, but take the picture as a whole and business has made a steady improvement. Partly this is due to the artificial stimulation of Federal expenditures, but partly to the fact that there is every essential to a business boom which is prevented from getting fully under way by uncertainty as to the future caused by the New Deal itch to regulate and the fear of confiscatory taxes. The plain fact is that in three months there has been a decrease in unemployment; more jobs have been available and more people have jobs now than last July. This is attested by organized labor, by the Chamber of Commerce and by the Government. All three agree.

* * *

And yet, in these three months the WPA relief rolls have been steadily augmented. As business gets better the relief load grows heavier. This seems an incongruous and incredible thing, but the fact is beyond contradiction. As things are today, the relief rolls have reached undreamed of peaks. More than twenty-one million people are dependent on public aid from Federal, State and local sources. The number on the WPA alone is above 3,100,000. This is the all-time top, but it is increasing daily, though, as stated, every authority insists that unemployment is diminishing. Those who observe this strange situation point out that this is an election year. They assert—and the facts support the assertion—that the same phenomenon has occurred twice before in election years—once in 1934 and again in 1936.

This is the third time. In each of these years as the campaign grew hot the number on the relief rolls increased, though in 1934 and 1936, as in 1938, business was improving. Immediately after the elections in 1934 and in 1936 the relief rolls began to decline, but before election people were being put on; none taken off. Now, with an election less than four weeks off they are being put on more rapidly than they were in either of the other two election years. None are being dropped. In California the increase in the number on relief has just been supplemented by an increase in pay. At least it has been announced that on October 16—just three weeks before election—WPA rates will be raised. The Los Angeles Times editorially recalls that some time ago Deputy Relief Alministrator Aubrey Williams declared that, of course, WPA workers will vote to keep their friends in office. This seems the most reasonable explanation of the increased rates. The pay boost, the Times says, is well timed to remind those on relief who their "friends" are. A more forthright view is that the New Deal is trying to buy another election with the taxpayers' money.

Some time ago, confronted with the extraordinay fact of an increased relief load in a period of business improvement Mr. Harry Hopkins made a vague and involved explanation. Angrily he denied that politics had anything to do with it. The fact that these increases occurred in the six months ahead of an election, he insisted, was "simply a coincidence." This would not impose quite so great a strain upon the credulity if Mr. Hopkins himself had not gone political in so big a way; if he had not become recognized as one of the Administration's political strategists; if he had not injected himself into the party primaries in Iowa; if he had not permitted his aides, like Mr. Williams, to make inflammatory speeches to WPA workers; if he himself had not made statements which in effect were admonitions to WPA workers to "vote right"; if he hadn't been excitedly telling acquaintances that we are going to "spend, and spend, and spend, and tax, and tax, and tax, and elect, and elect, and elect." As it is, the extent to which Federal relief has been put in politics is the most shocking and shameful thing that has occurred in this country in many years.

October 31 Named Final Date To Achieve Soil-Building Goal

Maryland farmers cooperating in the conservation phase of the 1938 Triple-A program are reminded by W. G. Finn, director of the East Central Division, that they still have time to earn full payment for achieving the soil-building goal for their farms. October 31 is the closing date for carrying out soil-building practices under the 1938 program.

Mr. Finn points out that provision for improving non-chop open pasture land is included in the 1938 soil-building goal for the farm. This allowance can be earned by applying lime, superphosphate, or potash to pasture land prior to October 31, 1938.

Credit toward earning the soil building allowance also will be given for new seedings of specified grasses and legumes, including bluegrass, clovers, lespedoza and winter legumes in adapted areas.

In addition to applying lime, superphosphate and potash on established pastures, the soil-building payment may be earned by the application of these materials in connection with fall seedings.

Farmers may obtain further information concerning soil-building practices from John H. Carter, County Agent.

Employment Service Assists In Finding Jobs

The placing of a citizen of Oakland in permanent lucrative employment in Cumberland recently through the local office of the Maryland State Employment Service, has brought before the public a fact that is not widely known—that there is a bureau here to assist employers with their employment problems and to assist people who want work to find it. This service is free.

A number of persons are being placed in permanent positions in the State and in other States through the clearance system of this service, and quite a few employers in the county are getting their workers through the bureau.

When an employer desires a person's services a copy of the work history and qualifications of applicants is sent to the employer after a copy of the order has been sent to each office in several states. The employer makes his selection from the registration cards sent by the various offices. An interview follows and usually the person is hired.

The office here, located in the McIntire building, is open every Monday, Wednesday and Friday, from 8:30 to 4:00, and can furnish almost any type of worker desired, according to those in charge. Persons are available for housework, raking leaves or other duties.

Senator Millard E. Tydings made a good Republican speech on Monday night and offered some excellent advice. "Never let democracy get away from the people and never let any one man have any more power than the Constitution of the United States allows him."

A. meeting of the West Vindex school was held Monday night, October 10, when the following officers were elected: Charles Paugh, president; Mrs. Haven DeWitt, vice-president; Mrs. Frank Parks, secretary; Mrs. Lola Bell, treasurer. Adopt Statement On God's Word And The Scriptures

A statement concerning the Bible that came out of reports brought to final sessions of the convention of the United Lutheran Church in America at Baltimore, has been received with much interest throughout the country.

The convention decided to give to the world a simple statement of its belief in the authority of the Bible and adopted a statement entitled, "God's Word and the Scriptures."

Stated briefly, the declaration in its eight points says that the Bible has its authority as a standard Truth because it is God's Word; that in most important sense God's Word is the message concerning Jesus Christ and the meaning of His teaching—life, death and resurrection for the religious life of men; that in a wider sense God's Word is that revelation of Himself which "began with human history and came to a climax in Jesus Christ; that this entire revelation of God is faithfully recorded and preserved in the Bible and is a complete whole; that His Word is infallible in all matters that pertain to His revelation and man's salvation and that the whole body of Scriptures in all its parts is God's Word; that there is a difference between the Old and the New Testaments, the measure of importance being the closeness of relation to the Gospel of Christ; that the present accepted books of the Bible became the Scriptures through the Church under the guidance of the Holy Spirit; that the whole of the Bible is inspired, but that we cannot venture to describe the mode or the method of this inspiration but accept it as a fact of which faith assures us.

Holding these things to be true, we believe that the Scriptures are:—

1. The spring from which the saving power of God continuously flows into the lives of men;

2. The only source of truly Christian doctrine; and

3. The only rule and norm for Christian faith and life.

OLIVER H. BRUCE, Jr.,
Democratic Candidate for Associate Judge

Although no political party has any right or power to prescribe a policy for courts to follow, it is nevertheless a custom in this State for candidates for the Judiciary to be nominated by the parties of which they are members. In aspiring to the office of Associate Judge, therefore, I am submitting my cause to all the voters, being a member of the Democratic party, and nominated without opposition, although I fully realize that a person who is elected Judge, in the discharge of his official duties, should be free from obligation to any party.

I believe the Parole System should be applied with the greatest possible caution and should never be used as a means of letting hardened or habitual criminals have freedom to further impose upon law-abiding people.

I hold the conviction there is no law in this State or country that warrants any person, or group of persons, to seize and hold possession of the property of others, without due process of law. And I know of no law that gives any person or any number of persons a warrant to interfere by force with the exercise of natural and legal rights of other persons. I believe it is the duty of Judges where such interference occurs to remind Grand Juries that no individual, no group, no organization, can have any semblance of a right to set aside, permanently or temporarily, to ignore or refuse to obey the laws of the land no matter what the objectives of such ignoring or refusal may be.

The advance agents of disruption never filled a pay envelope. Hostile companions and domestic enemies will not bring prosperity and security.

To every man and woman of Garrett County who believes the above convictions are sound and right, I appeal for the support of my candidacy.

Homemakers' Column

GROUND BEEF

The quality of ground beef, usually thought of as hamburger, depends on the cut of the carcass used, the care used in grinding and storing, and the quality of the cut. Most reputable meat dealers are very careful to use perfectly fresh meats, have their grinders clean and make up only enough for quick sale. Be careful about buying bargain price hamburger at any time. It may be made from the less desirable cuts and may be excessively fat so that it shrinks badly in cooking. In order to be sure of getting good ground meat some homemakers prefer having the butcher grind round steak, while others like more fat in ground meat than round steak offers—this is a matter of taste.

The homemaker should remember that the grinding process divides the meat into very small pieces, exposing it to the action of bacteria in the air and causing it to keep less well than other fresh meats. For this reason ground meats should not be kept longer than one or two days under ordinary conditions—either cook it or freeze it.

Ground meat is tender before it is cooked, but can easily be toughened by fast cooking or over-cooking. Remember to: Bake meat loaves in very low oven for long time; broil or pan fry meat patties with a moderate fire and just long enough to cook them through. If hamburgers have no pork in them they may be cooked rare; never press meat patties tightly together. They will be much more tender if patted loosely together.

Rolled Meat Loaf

Six strips bacon, 1½ lbs. ground veal shoulder, 1 slice green pepper, ½ lb. ground pork shoulder, ½ cup of celery (chopped), 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 2½ cups fine bread crumbs, 1 tablespoon minced onion, 2 tablespoons butter, hot water to moisten, 1 egg.

Mix the ground meats with 1½ teaspoon salt. Put out into a thin sheet on waxed paper. Make a dressing of other ingredients and place in center of meat. Shape the meat around the dressing to form a roll 9 to 10 inches long and four inches across. Place on a baking pan and place 5 or 6 strips of bacon over the top. Bake 50 minutes in a 350 degree F. oven.

One pound of ground meat serves four or five people.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

Marybelle Emmaline Lewis vs. Joseph Franklin Lewis

No. 3486 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

The object of this suit is to procure a decree for a divorce a vinculo matrimonii by the plaintiff from the defendant.

The bill states:

That on the 19th day of January, 1933, she was married, at Oakland, Maryland, to one Joseph Franklin Lewis, with whom she resided in Garrett County Maryland, for about four months; that although the conduct of your oratrix towards her husband, the said Joseph Franklin Lewis, was always kind, affectionate and above reproach, the said Joseph Franklin Lewis, without any just cause or reason abandoned and deserted her during the spring of 1933, and such abandonment has continued uninterruptedly for more than five years, is deliberate and final and the separation of the parties beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation; that your oratrix and the said defendant, Joseph Franklin Lewis, have had no children born to them from said marriage; that your oratrix has heard nothing from the said defendant since he deserted and abandoned her and does not know where he now resides, but inasmuch as he was formerly a resident of Pennsylvania she does not believe that he is now a resident of the State of Maryland.

The bill then prays for a divorce a vinculo matrimonii of the plaintiff from the defendant, for general relief and for an order of publication.

It is thereupon, this 26th day of September, 1938, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, ordered, that the plaintiff by having a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once in each of four successive weeks before the 28th day of October, 1938, give notice to the said absent defendant of the object and substance of this bill, warning him to be and appear in this Court, either in person or by solicitor, on or before the 14th day of November, 1938, to show cause, if any he has, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

WHEREAS, at the January session of the General Assembly of Maryland, held in the year 1937, an Act was passed, to-wit: Chapter 525 proposing an amendment to Article 15 of the Declaration of Rights of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, authorizing the General Assembly to impose taxes on incomes, and providing for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection; in words and figures as follows:

CHAPTER 463—1935

AN ACT to propose an amendment to repeal Section 36 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department," said section prohibiting the General Assembly from authorizing a lottery, and providing for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That Section 36 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department," prohibiting the General Assembly from authorizing lottery grants, be and it is hereby repealed if adopted by the legally qualified voters of the State, as herein provided.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the next ensuing general election for members of the General Assembly of Maryland, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words: "For Constitutional Amendment" and "Against Constitutional Amendment," as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14.

Approved: May 17, 1935.

CHAPTER 491—1937

AN ACT to amend Section 21 of Article 4, title "Judiciary Department," sub-title "Part III—Circuit Courts", of the Constitution of this State, to provide an additional judge in the Second Circuit and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of this State for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all of the members elected to each of the two Houses concurring), That the following section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 21 of Article 4, title "Judiciary Department", sub-title "Part III—Circuit Courts" of the Constitution of the State, and if adopted by the legal and qualified voters thereof as herein provided, it shall supersede and stand in the place and stead of Section 21 of said Article 4.

21. For each of the said circuits, excepting the eighth, the second, the third and the sixth, there shall be a chief judge and two associate judges, to be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be selected or appointed as herein provided, and for the second circuit, the third circuit and the sixth circuit there shall be a chief judge and three associate judges to be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be elected or appointed as herein provided. And no two of said associate judges, for any of the said circuits, except the third and sixth circuits shall, at the time of their election or appointment or during the term for which they may have been elected or appointed, reside in the same county. If two or more persons shall be candidates for associate judge in the same county in any of the circuits, except the third and sixth circuits, that one only in said county shall be declared elected who has the highest number of votes in the circuit. In case any two candidates for associate judge in any of the circuits, except the third and sixth circuits, residing in the same county shall have an equal number of votes greater than any other candidates for associate judge in the circuit, it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for one associate judge; but the person residing in any other county of the circuit and who has the highest number of votes shall be declared elected. The said judges shall hold not less than two terms of the Circuit Court in each of the counties composing their respective circuits, at such times as are now or may hereafter be prescribed by which jurors shall be summoned; and in those counties where only two such terms are held, two other and intermediate terms, to which jurors shall not be summoned; they may alter or fix the times for holding any or all terms, until otherwise prescribed, and shall adopt rules to the end that all business not requiring the interposition of the jury shall be, as far as practicable, disposed of at said intermediate terms. One judge in each of the above circuits, including the second, the third and sixth circuits, shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business; and the said judges or any of them may hold special terms of their courts, whenever in their discretion the business of the several counties renders such terms necessary. The additional associate judge for the third circuit elected in accordance with the terms of the Constitutional Amendment heretofore submitted and adopted shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, hold his office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the third circuit.

The additional associate judge for the second circuit herein provided for shall be a resident of Cecil County, shall be appointed by the Governor after the expiration of six (6) months after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Caroline, Cecil, Kent, Queen Anne's and Talbot counties, constituting the second circuit. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit, and the judge so elected shall be subject to the same constitutional provision, hold his office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation, and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit.

The additional judge for the sixth circuit herein provided for and elected by the qualified voters of Frederick and Montgomery Counties at the 1938 election in accordance with the terms of the Constitutional Amendment heretofore submitted and adopted shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the sixth circuit and his successor shall be appointed and/or elected in accordance with the constitutional provisions relating to judges. The Chief Judge may be elected from either Frederick or Montgomery Counties, but when the Chief Judge is elected from Frederick County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said county and the two remaining associate judges shall be residents of Montgomery County and when the Chief Judge is elected from Montgomery County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said Montgomery County and the remaining two associate judges residents of Frederick County. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the sixth judicial circuit shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be declared elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuit, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be, residing in said county in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates as the case may be, residing in the other county, and not similarly disqualified, who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If, by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said sixth judicial circuit, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State shall be, at the next general election to be held in this State in the year 1938, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State, and at the said general election, the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment," as now prescribed by law, and immediately after said election, due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution.

For State Senator

Citizens of Garrett County:

You have honored me at the recent primary by nominating me as the Democratic Candidate to the Maryland State Senate. I am now appealing to you for your continued support in the coming General Election to be held November 8, 1938, and if I am elected to this high office, I pledge myself to honestly serve my native county and all of its citizens to the best of my ability, and to work faithfully for the following legislation:

1. Relocate portions, widen and improve State road, No. 219, enabling us to obtain proper cross-country connection between U. S. highways Nos. 40 and 50, thereby further aiding in the development of the Deep Creek Lake area and other parts of Garrett County.

2. See that Garrett County secures its full share of all funds allotted for building and improving roads generally.

3. Change the present tax law as it works an unbearable hardship on a great number of our taxpayers, especially the farmer, as this law calls for payment of taxes before he has marketed his crops.

4. Place a bounty on predatory animals, thereby conserving our game, also amend our game laws to propagate and protect our game both in and out of season.

5. A systematic stocking of Deep Creek Lake with fish natural to our waters and climate.

6. Erection of cattle crossing signs at farms desiring such crossings, making the motorist responsible for livestock killed as such crossings.

7. Advocate rigid economy in state and county government.

Respectfully yours,
BERNARD I. GONDER.

FOR ASSOCIATE JUDGE
ALLEGANY, GARRETT AND WASHINGTON COUNTY

OLIVER H. BRUCE, JR.

I hold the conviction that too much attention has been paid to the particular demands of groups and organizations to the injury of the people as a whole. It is seemingly difficult for certain politicians to resist the pressure of certain organizations or groups, thereby denoting that we are woefully shy of men who have the broader view-point and who believe in a government of laws. I cannot excuse, nor do I believe the people of Garrett County will excuse, any public officials who tolerate illegal acts by any group or organization, because of their influence in elections.

I appeal to the sturdy citizenship of Garrett County to resist every effort to destroy the Government of our Forefathers. America has no room for Communism or any Foreign-isms.

"I challenge you, Mr. O'Conor, to make known your attitude on the New Deal and to publicly assert without equivocation your stand on the labor situation in your State."

The Oakland meeting in the High school climaxed a 'hard' day's campaign throughout the county, stopping at Grantsville, Jennings, Bittinger, Friendsville, Accident, McHenry, Deer Park, Swanton, Kitzmiller, Red House, Kempton and Crellin.

Governor Nice shook hands with hundreds of farmers and townspeople during the various stops. Accompanying him on the trip were the State candidates, Oscar Leser, for United States Senate; Dr. W. G. Jack, for State Comptroller; E. Ray Jones, for Clerk of the Court of Appeals; Judge William A. Huster; A. Charles Stewart, Congressional candidate; members of the Republican State Central Committee and most of the county candidates. Julius C. The Governor has averaged 150 miles a day since the tour began but is detehmined to meet as many people and shake as many hands as possible, notwithstanding his handicap.

While motoring through this county he frequently had his machine halted and alighted to cross roads and fields to grasp the hands of farmers and others working in the fields or about their homes.

THE vast Buick factory is a grand place to visit, these days.

Down the roaring aisles, throughout the sprawling bays there's a sense of great things happening.

They're building something ultra, here at Buick, and they know it.

It looks like five years from now, they'll say of this dazzling 1939 Buick, and they're not talking of appearance only.

They're talking of "catwalk-cooling" that floods air under forced draft to ease the temperature of your engine.

They're talking of BuiCoil springing and the soft shock-smothering spirals that give you the true "full float" ride.

They're talking of that Dynaflash great eight engine, instant with life and wringing good from every drop of fuel.

They're talking of weight-balance and gravity-center that hold you to your line—of wheels that camber to let you take the curves more safely—of new visibility—up to 413 square inches more glass in SPECIAL and CENTURY models.

They're talking a thousand and one details of Buick that you'll never know nor need to know but that to their schooled eyes spell a better built automobile.

And they're thinking of now as they talk.

For they know that no car sells spectacularly when it's merely up-to-date. They know that for big years a car has to be ahead—that a car which looks like the future means better times for today.

You can see this car they're talking of at the nearest Buick showroom.

When you do see it, think of what the men who built it are saying, not boastfully, but with quiet sureness.

STEWART FAVORS DECENT PENSIONS FOR THE AGED

Nominee Declares System Must Have Definite Safeguards

Striking a telling blow for the aged and needy, A Charles Stewart, of Frostburg, Republican nominee for Congress, told voters in the Frederick section yesterday that he "believes in a system that will properly provide for those who have passed the productive years of life," but explained that such a system must have definite safeguards.

"The money that is collected today in the guise of a Social Security tax is dumped into the United States treasury at the merey of Congress," Stewart explained. "It is not set up in trust for the aged; it can be spent by Congress like any other public revenue. When payments of benefits have to be made, the pockets of the general taxpayers can always be tapped for a few dollars more.

Pensions Desirable

"I believe in the payment of old age pensions," he went on, "and I believe that they should be adequate for the pensioner to maintain the American standard of living. But I believe just as firmly that both pension and pensioner must be fully protected from the politician.

"We have seen what has happened in the administration of relief. We know what has happened in the administration of the WPA. And we must see to it that in the administration of assistance for the aged there is no politics, regardless of what party is in power. We must hold in trust for the old folk of tomorrow," said Stewart, "what we take from the young folk of today in taxes for old age security.

Must Provide Jobs

"In addition to this," he continued, "we must make provision to get private enterprise functioning again so that the American worker can have a real job. We must, of course, continue WPA and other forms of relief just so long as they are needed. But let's get back on a sound basis; let's give business a real chance to put men to work. That is the best way, the American way, to cure unemployment and aid in making old age safe and secure."

Funeral Services Held For Accident Victim

Funeral services were conducted last Friday afternoon from the Sand Flat Tabernacle for Miss Minnie Bertha Lewis, 26, who died of accidental wounds. Rev. Carroll Skipper officiated, assisted by P. P. Snyder and Lowney Loraw. Interment was in the Marshall Friend cemetery.

Miss Lewis was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Lewis, of near Crellin, and other survivors are seven brothers, George H., Claude and Paul Lewis, Oakland; Woodrow, Daniel and Worthy Lewis, Crellin; Robert, Morgantown; and four sisters, Mrs. Lydia Atkinson, Terra Alta; Pauline, Oakland; Josephine, Morgantown; and Ruby, Crellin.

Death came from a bullet wound inflicted by a rifle in the hands of a three-year old girl, Preston county authorities reported. The sheriff stated there would be no prosecution. He said the child found the rifle in the kitchen of the Lewis home and pulled the trigger.

SITE IS PURCHASED FOR U. S. POSTOFFICE IN OAKLAND

Agreement Reached On Offutt Property, Second Street, Opposite William-James Hotel

That Oakland will have a Federal postoffice building was virtually assured early during the present week when the Offutt property, opposite the William-James Hotel, on Second street, was offered the building branch of the Postoffice Department at a price of $7,000, and which, according to reports, was accepted by that branch of the Government.

The property is owned by the Offutt estate and was held originally at $8,500, but a compromise price was made and the property is being sold at the price of $7,000. The site in question is 120 by 150 feet and includes the dwelling now occupied by F. A. Roth and family.

No deed has as yet been made, the only assurance being a letter from the procurement director stating that the $7,000 offer had been accepted.

Summer Resident Of Mt. Lake Park For 40 Years, Died Oct. 20

Rev. Dr. Thomas Davis Richards, retired Presbyterian clergyman, a summer resident of Mountain Lake Park for forty years, died last Thursday morning, October 20, at his home in Cumberland. Dr. Richards, who was 81 years of age, had been in ill health for several years. He spent the summer at his cottage in the Park for forty-four years, but the past two seasons was obliged to remain at his home in Cumberland owing to his physical condition.

Dr. Richards is survived by his widow, the former Sarah Ella Carl, and two sons, William Carl Richards and Thomas Lohr Richards, members of the Allegany County Bar and residents of Cumberland. Once Taught School

Dr. Richards was a native of Buck Valley, Fulton county, Pa., a son of the late John T. and Martha M. Richards. Previous to studying for the ministry he taught school for several years at Catalpa, a few miles west of Hancock, Md., near Lock 53. This was his only charge. He retired in 1918. He attended thirteen sessions of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church and was high commissioner at two.

Dr. Richards had much to do with the early development of Mountain Lake Park. He served ten years as one of the five directors of the Mountain Lake Park Association. Until the past few years, Dr. and Mrs. Richards spent their winters in Florida. Dr. Richards was a member of the Masonic Fraternity.

STATE MAINTAINING 30 FIRE TOWERS AT PRESENT

Towermen To Remain On Watch For Forest Fires Until December

With the fall season well under way the State Forestry department has been maintaining the thirty state forest fire towers. Thirty tower men, twenty-five guards and semi-volunteer guards are on the lookout for fires in the forest lands according to Walter J. Quick, Jr., assistant state forester. Since October twenty-eight fires were reported in timberlands in the state.

Eleven of the fire towers are in the Western Maryland district and five of the towers on the eastern shore are equipped with radio. The State Forestry department also has four automobiles equipped with two-way radios. They are manned by guards who speed to the scene of fires after they are spotted by the tower men. The guards report the significance of the fire to the tower men who may call on the local warden, volunteers from the CCC camps or fire companies for aid. In Western Maryland the forest men rely on the telephone to report locations of fires, etc.

Before the fire season tower men received instructions on how to sight fires, use binoculars and to make necessary reports, while the guards were taught methods of investigating and fighting fires and show how to prevent them. The fire season closes around the first week in December.

Mr. Quick said forest fires were caused by incendiaries, careless hunters tossing lighted cigarets away or by smoking animals from trees; by camp fires spreading and by sparks from locomotives. Unusual causes are electric power lines falling down and lighting. It was reported that six fires along Laurel run, near Bloomington, were incendiary. No arrests were made.

DEFINITE MOVEMENT MADE FOR COMMUNITY BUILDING

Mayor And Council Approve The Plans At Special Meeting Last Night, Must Await WPA Approval

WOULD COST $74,608.15

A definite movement toward the construction of a Community Building was made last evening at a special meeting of the Mayor and Town Council, when the group approved plans which were presented by C. William Hetzer, architect, of Williamsport, Md.

What the ultimate outcome will be depends upon several matters—the willingness of the people to have the building, the acquisition of suitable ground for the building, approval of the project by the state WPA administration.

The plans are along the same line as those used in the construction of a community building which is now nearing completion in Williamsport. The estimated cost would be $74,608.15, of which the sponsor would have to furnish $22,433.25. The balance of $52,171.90 would be furnished by WPA funds.

The proposed building would be of Garrett county limestone, from a quarry at Sang Run, and of a colonial type construction. The first floor would contain, in the front of the building, a clerk's room, 18x25, a library 18x25, ticket office, check room, and hallway. Then there would be an auditorium 62x76, with a stage 17x28 and dressing rooms on each side 11x17. In front to the side would be a one-story room 38x45 to house the fire engines and equipment.

The auditorium would be two stories in height. On the second floor in front would be a fire company room 25x32, a council chamber the same size and an office for the mayor 12x18.

In the front basement would be showers and toilets, heating plant, while in the rear of the building, under the stage and dressing rooms would be showers and lockers for both men and women and also a kitchen.

According to present plans, the Mayor and Council would sponsor the project, with both the town and fire department being responsible for payment of the cost of the building. It was intimated at last night's meeting that a referendum might be asked, giving the people the right to vote on the question. This would require an act of the Legislature in January and a special election soon thereafter.

Nothing definite, however, was done in this direction, pending action of WPA officials approving or disapproving the proposed project.

Kitzmiller Teams Take Connty Championship On Modnay

Kitzmiller High school soccer and fieldball teams won the county championship Monday afternoon from the Grantsville teams. The games were played on the Accident field.

In the soccer game the Kitzmiller boys won six to two, while the girls won the fieldball contest from Grantsville 20 to 3.

Kitzmiller had previously defeated the Kempton and Oakland teams to win the southern championship. The Grantsville teams won the northern section championship by defeating Friendsville and Accident.

The Kitzmiller teams will play Allegany county winners in their quest for the State title.

CONSTRUCTION OF SCHOOL ADDITIONS GETS SETBACK

Bids For New Additions To Oakland Elementary and Kitzmiller Buildings Are Rejected

HELD TO BE TOO HIGH

All bids for the construction of the proposed additions to the Oakland Elementary school building and the Kitzmiller school building were rejected by the Garrett County Board of Education, it was announced, following a meeting of that body last Friday afternoon.

The bids were rejected mainly because the figures named therein exceeded the amount of money available for the construction of the proposed additions by a total of about $22,000, it was stated by F. E. Rathbun, County Superintendent. Others present at the meeting were Walter W. Dawson, president, and Walter W. Savage, vice-president.

The bids submitted by contractors were as follows:

Oakland addition, Paul S. Horner Company, Clarksburg, West Va., $49,000; Hardesty Brothers, Oakland, $49,438.

Kitzmiller addition, Paul S. Horner Company, $48,300; Snider Brothers, Keyser, W. Va., $47,832.

The Board, however, passed resolutions requesting from the Public Works Administration an extension of time for beginning the work, the same to be not later than Friday, November 25, which will give time sufficient for sealed bids to be received until Friday, November 18. Revised plans and specifications in the meantime will be prepared and become available on or about November 3, it was said by the school authorities.

The second resolution was passed requesting additional funds from the WPA for each of the two proposed new additions in such amount as may later be found necessary.

Construction work on the additions would have begun this week had the contracts been awarded.

PARENT-TEACHERS SET DATE OF FIRST MEETING

Plans for Coming Year will be Formulated

The Oakland High School Parent-Teacher Association has set November 8 as a tentative date of its first meeting of the year, according to Mrs. Walter Brock, president of the organization.

An election of next year's officers will be held at that time, after which plans for the coming year will be formulated. The program committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. W. W. Grant, has not yet announced a definite program for the evening, although it is expected that there will be musical selections and that a prominent citizen from the local community will present a timely speech.

Authorities Seeking Thieves Who Robbed Lake Cottages

An intensive search has been made this week by county officers in an effort to find the thief or thieves who broke into several lake cottages near Glendale bridge, in recent days, and stole a quantity of furnishings.

The cottage of Delbert Davis was stripped of a mattress, old clock, quantity of silverware, and other things, while the house of F. R. Corliss lost a radio, quantity of blankets, silverware, pots and pans, Aladdin lamp, and possibly other furnishings. These two were thought to have been robbed Saturday or Sunday.

The cottage of Ruth Beckman also had blankets, aluminum wear, pillow cases, sheets and silverware stolen from it during the past week or two.

Clarence Spear, sheriff, stated they they had held one person for questioning but that no arrests had been made.

Firemen Extinguish Blazes

Members of the local fire department responded to three calls during the week, two of them coming yesterday evening about six o'clock. Both calls yesterday were on account of brush and leaf fires, one at Mountain Lake Park and the other near Crellin. Both were extinguished with little or no damage resulting to property.

The firemen were also called to the William-James Hotel last Saturday morning when it was feared sparks from a flaming flue would start a blaze on the roof. No damage, however, resulted.

LOOKING FORWARD

By FRANKLYN WALTMAN

Publicity Director, Republican National Committee

Just as day is certain to follow the night, so President Roosevelt can be expected a short time before the election to deliver to the country his usual message calling for cooperation between business and government and an end to name-calling. After the election Mr. Roosevelt forgets it. This event he might not be able to keep straight has become so much a part of American campaigning that business would almost feel neglected if the President did not call it names. Perhaps the humor of what Mr. Roosevelt has to say, this time, will be lost on the people. Perhaps the people will be too busy laughing at the antics of the Democratic candidates for Congress to pay much attention to the President. But the White House has yet to meet with success in its attempts to stop name-calling. Remember some of the genuine references which Mr. Roosevelt has uttered about business? Best known, of course, is the "economic royalist" phrase. But there are others. The first thought conveyed by the message, through the inaugural address is spotted by several which shine like mackerel in the moonlight. For instance, there was the "unscrupulous money-changers" and then there was the phrase that one: the economic structure broke down because "the rulers of the exchange of credit have failed through their own stubbornness and their own incompetency." Then in a message to Congress was the boast that "we have Stacarneled the hatred of entrenched greed." In the same message "political puppets of an economic autocracy" appeared. Less severe was the phrase at Atlanta: "Gentlemen in well-warmed and well-stocked clubs."

There are a number of others which the White House Spokesman to serve set the previous record. The epithets which Mr. Roosevelt has hurled at five business and industry will give a silly not need to give quarter when it comes to calling names. The thing which gives him complete supremacy in this field is the fact some of his aides are a chance to be Governor of New York. son in one night talked himself out of asks business to stop calling names and rattling sabers! And after all that, Mr. Roosevelt conveyed the message, through the "cooperation" between business and government, but if he runs true to form he will give business another election is over. As for cooperation, is it not a two-way proposition? Business and industry have tried again and again to cooperate with the Roosevelt Administration only to have their efforts seldom have been reciprocated.

Perhaps the reason is that the Roosevelt Administration must have a whipping boy to divert attention from its incompetence and failures.

Surely, Mr. Roosevelt, must realize that whatever shortcomings he may have, he could qualify as the champion name-caller and epithet-hurler among American Presidents. Saving The Chestnut

It is a comfort to learn that the checking of the chestnut blight is now virtually a fact and that the rehabilitating of a tree which has been the glory of many an eastern forest is in prospect.

Two factors seem to have been at work in this restoration; and what appears a third has just materialized. From the roots of blighted trees have sprung out sprouts which seem to enjoy an immunity to the disease. It may be that the blight runs a course, now almost done. Meanwhile, experiments have produced eighteen hybrid, disease-resistant varieties of chestnut, which are growing with success.

And no wa new experiment shows promise in its first trials. It is based on a theory that tannin (an acid) is a natural tree antiseptic. An Eastern amateur has tried feeding tannin to the life stream of affected trees and reports cures in a matter of a few weeks.

So there may be a rebirth of this economically important and beautiful member of the forest family. And perhaps those of us who gathered chestnuts in our youth, may yet live to see the day when we can go out with our grandchildren and revive the delightful experiences we once had.

A Swanton lady writes to pay her subscription and on a postscript to her letter says: "You can tell Scoop that it's not any of his hints which cause me to pay up, it's my inherent honesty."

Very well said, Swanton.

If any one reads this who wishes to duplicate the Swanton example, we will be glad to extend the same pardon.

In Allegany county a humorous touch was furnished in one of the expense reports of a defeated candidate for member of the Republican State Central Committee.

Noting no receipts and no expenditures he neatly and wryly summarized it thus: "Received nothing, spent nothing, got nothing."

One of the nice things about the excursions which brought people to this county from Baltimore and Washington is the friendships that are formed. Appreciation of the reception many of these people received is shown by letters written to their hosts following their return to the city. One has even reported the receipt of a gift from his guests on the last excursion. There is no way of telling just how far this "good will" will benefit the county in years to come.

Eagle Rock was once a famed spot, well known to the people of this county, just as Swallow Falls and Muddy Creek Falls are known to the people of today.

On top of this rock for the first time on Sunday I was able to look about and see mountains in the distance from the four directions, north, east, south, and west. On a clear day there would be no greater breath-taking sight in this entire county. The road into Eagle Rock is solid, although narrow, and would be worth anybody's time. The Eagle Rock road turns sharply left from the road leading from Deer Park to the Potomac CCC camp, about two miles from Deer Park.

Another office traveler last Sunday saw an unusual marker—in Kempton. The boundary marker there shows two states and four counties—West Virginia and Maryland, and Garrett county, Md., Grant, Tucker and Preston counties, W. Va.

A person writing from Kempton several weeks ago was congratulating H. S. Mickey for his fine band at Loch Lynn. Mr. Mickey at one time organized two bands in Kempton which the writer said, "were never to be forgotten."

Mr. Mickey, it seems, organizes bands wherever he goes. His group at Loch Lynn now numbers 40 and he has announced that he is starting another class of recruits next Tuesday.

It takes a lot of perseveranee and a number of other things to make a good band, and Mr. Mickey must have what it takes.

Two motorists met at a bridge too narrow for two cars to pass.

"I never back up for any old fool," shouted one.

"That's all right," replied the other quietly as he shifted in reverse, "I always do."

NICE RECEIVES BIG RECEPTION THROUGH STATE

CLAIMS DROPPING OF PARTY LINES SHOWN

In his triumphant swing through the counties of Maryland in the interest of his re-election, Governor Harry W. Nice has met with the most enthusiastic receptions in the history of political campaigning in the "Free State."

On all sides he has been greeted with open arms by the citizens, Republicans and Democrats alike, and the receptions have literally turned into old-fashioned political love-feasts.

Never before has there appeared, so vividly, in a gubernatorial campaign such an unmistakable trend of dropping party lines. That this trend is sweeping through the state is undeniable and clearly points to the advantage of Governor Nice and his running mates in the election of November 8.

The Governor has talked personally to thousands of persons on the streets, roads and in homes. He has addressed overflowing mass-meetings and has intelligently discussed the problems of the state—those which he has solved, those which he is studying and those which must be faced during the next administration.

Victory Forecast

While touring the counties the Governor kept in constant touch with the progress of the campaign in Baltimore City. Reports to him confirmed the fact that conditions in the city are the same as in the counties—a strong trend of dropping party lines. City leaders expressed to him their conviction that the Nice banner would be carried to victory there despite the strong Democratic registration.

Because of the conditions he found in the counties and the reports from the City of Baltimore, Governor Nice has declared himself confident of re-election. He and his running mates are certain that the majority will be far in excess of the figures in 1934. All signs point to this result.

Throughout the counties Governor Nice has found a keen interest by the voters in the platform of the Republican Party, which has been praised by The Sun. He has been told by many, both Republicans and Democrats, that it is the best document of the kind put out by a political party in Maryland in many years.

Platform Interests

Especially were tho voters interested in that part of the platform covering the major projects of the State Roads Commission, educational facilities, labor, forestry, agriculture and conservation. The platform reported to the people that the oyster business is in better condition now than it has been in twenty years. It pointed out that during the season preceding the appointment of the present Conservation Commission the total yield of oysters was 2,148,000 bushels, but that since then there has been a steady and healthy growth in production until the yield at the close of the season last spring was 3,245,816 bushels.

On Monday Governor Nice will complete his swing through the counties with a tour of Worcester county, starting at 9.30 o'clock in the morning from the Court House at Snow Hill. Friday of this week he is due in Somerset county and Saturday he will spend with the people of Wicomico county.

Women Organized

From November 1st to election day Governor Nice and his running mates will stay in Baltimore City, with occasional trips to nearby points in the county. The Baltimore campaign has been saved until the last eight days and plans for several huge demonstrations and mass-meetings are under way.

While the Governor has been touring, party leaders has been forming a real working organization to function through election day and to take an active interest at the polls in all sections of the state. Miss Helen Elizabeth Brown, prominent attorney, chairman of the Women's Division of the Nice campaign, has formed a group with a membership extending into the far corners of Maryland. Its objective is to interest the women in the election and to see to it that the work at the polls is carried through efficiently and to aid persons in reaching their respective voting destinations. In addressing the women, Miss Brown said:

"Women's rights and women's problems were disregarded and ignored in Maryland until Governor Nice assumed office."

NOTICE

There is an impression among seme of our people that I had the law repealed which required the payment of a bounty on predatory wild animals, such as weasels, wildcats and foxes.

The law was repealed several years ago by one of my predecessors before I became your senator.

I did, however, pass a bounty bill which was introduced by our Delegation in the House, with an amendment, requiring that the bounty fees be paid out of the hunting license fees instead of out of County funds.

Several weeks after the Legislature adjourned, the Bill was vetoed at the request of the Conservation Commission.

It is my intention to pass another bounty bill for the County that the State Conservation Commission will not ask to have vetoed.

ONLY A SPLINTER, BUT THE RESULT WAS A FATAL ONE

Health Department Advises Immediate Treatment to Prevent "Lockjaw"

A lively small boy down on the Eastern Shore ran a splinter in his toe; the toe became infected, but it was not supposed to be anything serious. Some days later alarming symptoms developed; he was rushed to a hospital, where, in spite of all that medical skill could do, he died of lockjaw.

Going to the records of the State Department of Health, Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the Department, pointed to other experiences which ended the same way. There was the story of a riverman who ran a small nail into his foot in getting out of his boat. He applied home remedies, but did not go to a doctor, or to a hospital for care or preventive treatment. He died within a week of acute lockjaw. There was also the story of the little girl who jabbed a pencil into her foot. By the time preventive treatment was started, it was too late in her case also.

"All of these deaths might have been prevented," Dr. Riley said, "if tetanus anti-toxin had been administered promptly." Tetanus he explained is the medical name for lockjaw and tetanus anti-toxin counteracts the action of the germs that cause lockjaw, in the same way that diphtheria antotoxin overcomes the action of the germs that cause diphtheria.

"Lockjaw (tetanus) is caused," Dr. Riley continued, "by a germ tha tis found in dirt from the street and roads and particularly in dirt and manure around stables. The tetanus germs are inactive while they are in the air. They begin to develop when they are crushed into a closed wound. As they increase in numbers they throw off a very active poison which causes the agonizing contraction of the muscles characteristic of the disease. The muscles of the jaw are among the first to be affected, hence the name lockjaw.

"The disease can be prevented by injecting tetanus anti-toxin into the muscles. But it must be done at the time of the injury and of course, must be done by a doctor. Any 'crushed-in' wounds, or injuries in which the skin is broken, or punctured or torn, should be opened thoroughly and surgically cleansed, and kept open in order that any tetanus germs that have lodged in the wound may be exposed to the air, which will be fatal to them. The tetanus anti-toxin should be given without delay.

"The size of the wound has nothing to do with the possible serious outcome. The injury may be caused by 'just a splinter,' or a nail, as in the cases of which I have spoken. The disease may develop from any injury in which the skin is broken and dirt is forced into the flesh—as frequently happens in automobile accidents.

"There is always danger of it developing, also, from gunshot wounds, or from injuries from blank cartridges, toy pistols and fireworks.

"When anything of this sort happens the best thing to do is to get the injured person to a doctor as soon as possible.

"The State Board of Health supplies the tetanus anti-toxin for preventive treatments free of charge for persons who live in the counties."

OLIVER H. BRUCE, Jr.,

Democratic Candidate for Associate Judge

Although no political party has any right or power to prescribe a policy for courts to follow, it is nevertheless a custom in this State for candidates for the Judiciary to be nominated by the parties of which they are members. In aspiring to the office of Associate Judge, therefore, I am submitting my cause to all the voters, being a member of the Democratic party, and nominated without opposition, although I fully realize that a person who is elected Judge, in the discharge of his official duties, should be free from obligation to any party.

I believe the Parole System should be applied with the greatest possible caution and should never be used as a means of letting hardened or habitual criminals have freedom to further impose upon law-abiding people.

I hold the conviction there is no law in this State or country that warrants any person, or group of persons, to seize and hold possession of the property of others, without due process of law. And I know of no law that gives any person or any number of persons a warrant to interfere by force with the exercise of natural and legal rights of other persons. I believe it is the duty of Judges where such interference occurs to remind Grand Juries that no individual, no group, no organization, can have any semblance of a right to set aside, permanently or temporarily, to ignore or refuse to obey the laws of the land no matter what the objectives of such ignoring or refusal may be.

The advance agents of disruption never filled a pay envelope. Hostile companions and domestic enemies will not bring prosperity and security.

To every man and woman of Garrett County who believes the above convictions are sound and right, I appeal for the support of my candidacy.

For State Senator

Citizens of Garrett County:

You have honored me at the recent primary by nominating me as the Democratic Candidate to the Maryland State Senate. I am now appealing to you for your continued support in the coming General Election to be held November 8, 1938, and if I am elected to this high office, I pledge myself to honestly serve my native county and all of its citizens to the best of my ability, and to work faithfully for the following legislation:

1. Relocate portions, widen and improve State road, No. 219, enabling us to obtain proper cross-country connection between U. S. highways Nos. 40 and 50, thereby further aiding in the development of the Deep Creek Lake area and other parts of Garrett County.

2. See that Garrett County secures its full share of all funds allotted for building and improving roads generally.

3. Change the present tax law as it works an unbearable hardship on a great number of our taxpayers, especially the farmer, as this law calls for payment of taxes before he has marketed his crops.

4. Place a bounty on predatory animals, thereby conserving our game, also amend our game laws to propagate and protect our game both in and out of season.

5. A systematic stocking of Deep Creek Lake with fish natural to our waters and climate.

6. Erection of cattle crossing signs at farms desiring such crossings, making the motorist responsible for livestock killed as such crossings.

7. Advocate rigid economy in state and county government.

Respectfully yours,

BERNARD I. GONDER.

JUDGE WILLIAM A. HUSTER

In Judge William A. Huster the voters and taxpayers of the Fourth Judicial Circuit of Maryland, which is composed of Garrett, Allegany and Washington counties, have a gentleman of high character, well versed in law and of extremely fine judicial temperament as a candidate for Associate Judge of the Circuit.

Judge Huster is a Republican. He has been on the bench for more than two years, succeeding the late Judge David A. Robb. He is a worthy successor and his election to the important position will reflect the choice of the voters as being well founded.

Judge Huster's long practice at the bar of the Allegany County Circuit Court and other courts of the State has given him an insight into the law and its just execution. He has retained the dignity of the bench and will continue to do so.

THE COST OF CORN—

By "corn", in the title, is meant food, writes Charles L. Brooks, in The New Age, a fraternity publication.

On account of a famine that "was over the face of the earth" Jacob said to his sons:

I have heard that there is corn in Egypt: get you down thither, and buy for us from thence; that we may live, and not die.

And in the simple language of the narrative we are told:

And Joseph's ten brothers went down to buy corn in Egypt.

What was the cost of that "corn" to Israel?

The average man will say, "Its market value in money"; and that is about as far as the ordinary mind can see.

That indeed was paid, though Joseph restored "every man's money into his sack," which makes it appear on its fact that the "corn" really cost them nothing.

There are no free lunches in nature. "The early bird catches the worm," we are told, and it would seem that he gets his breakfast free; but in the end the worm gets the bird, and the meal is paid for.

No, the initial cost, even if it had been accepted, would not have been of any consequence; it is the total sum that any transaction costs that must be considered. And when we follow this story to its denouement, we will discover that the price paid was excessive in the extreme.

Taxeaters are aggressive and their greed is insatiable. They never cease their demands until the people finally collapse under the burden. The accumulating burden in the cost of that "corn" to Israel is revealed in numerous ways. First the presence of Benjamin is demanded and a hostage held to insure it. Next, the presence of Jacob is required:

Haste ye, and go up to my father, and say unto him, Thus saith they son Joseph, God hath made me lord of all Egypt: come unto me, tarry not.

And it climaxes with the information:

And Jacob took all that he had and journeyed into Egypt.

The "all that he had" means infinitely more than his children and his chattels; it included his liberty, his personal initiative, his right to think for himself and be the arbiter of his own destiny. These are the pearls of great price which Jacob gave in exchange for that "corn." For it his children paid in centuries of bondage.

Yes, during that 438 years of frightfulness "the Egyptians made the children of Israel to serve with rigour," "made their lives bitter with hard bondage" and finally in extreme harshness forced them to make brick without straw. By reason of it "the children of Israel sighed."

This was just another sales tax on their purchase of that "corn."

After their exodus from this bondage they were not yet through. They faced the terrors of the wilderness on their way to Canaan, the land of their fathers. There they experienced a hunger which caused them to long for the garlic and onions of Egypt, a thirst for which the waters of Marah offered no relief, the sting of fiery serpents which brought death to many, and the awful toils of forty years of wandering. In that wilderness all that generation gave up their lives save Joshua and Caleb.

This was the final cost of the "corn" to Israel which the sons of Jacob went down into Egypt to buy.

What significance has this for us?

The major tragedy of our times is the prodigal fashion in which we are giving our freedom and that of our children for "corn," exchanging our personal initiative, individual opportunity and right to direct our own lives for what is popularly called "economic security."

Jesus said, "The poor ye have with you always." They have always been here and always will be. I am not speaking of the unfortunate, nor the incompetent; I have in mind only the leeches and deadbeats—the men who are able, yet too trifling to work. The more that is given them, the more they will demand. It would bankrupt any government on earth to feed them. As long as this is true, "economic security" is a human impossibility.

Many times in history excessive prices have been paid for "corn," and ours is one of them.

The philosophy that we can borrow ourselves out of debt and build again our fortune by the wildest waste has paralyzed the manhood of the nation and made of us an aggregation of parasites.

I make no protest against hardship and suffering. I have no quarrel with God if we must endure those trials that naturally meet us on our way to the goal He has set for us. We have no right to our existence if we are either unable or unwilling to pay the price of it. What I am trying to protest against is our imagining a famine where none exists and our willingness to buy "corn" of the Egyptians before we know it can be produced by our own efforts.

The pinch of hunger drives the wolf to a wider range. Must the American people confess they are less resourceful than the wolf?

We are sacrificing idealism to materialism, independence to parasitism, sincerity to hypocrisy, faith to sight, security to chance, and thereby entering our children into a bondage—for God alone knows how long—that will force them to make brick without straw.

This is the price we are paying; the cost of "corn" to us.

If this is the best we can do, then we are unworthy the men who sired us, and deserve only the fate of the barren fig tree which withered under the contempt of Jesus.

John A. Long, Kitzmiller, was a business visitor in Oakland yesterday.

ONLY ONE CHANGE MADE IN SCHOOL TEXT BOOKS

New Chemistry Book Is Praised By Mr. Everly

This year Oakland High School obtained some much needed chemistry books. "Modern Everyday Chemistry" by Horton, replaced "Chemistry of Today," by McPherson, Henderson and Owler. Mr. Everly, chemistry teacher, said that "Modern Everyday Chemistry" was written from a more practical standpoint and was easier to read. This was the only change in text books. For the 152 students taking chemistry, there are only 140 books.

Many New Books Added To The School Library

The library, during the summer, has seen many changes, both in books, and in staff, as well as arrangement on the shelves.

Nearly eight hundred new books have been added to the original fifteen hundred, at a cost of approximately $700.00. These include volumes of fiction, biography, travel, art, philosophy, religion, physical education, mathematics, vocation, business training, science, consumer education, and social studies.

Whether it is due to these new books, or not, the library has received more patronage than ever before, and the students have been reading more non-fiction than formerly.

The library staff, under the direction of Lois Sincell and Susanna Porter, is working in shifts. Assistant librarians include Mary Mitchell, Marie Schmidt, Grace King, Lorena Fitzwater, Betty Rexrode, Isolde Boening, Eleanor Sincell, Barbara Meisenbach, Mary Treacy, Martha Lewis, James Glass and James Darby.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving remembrance of our brother and son, Grover C. Friend, who passed away two years ago, October 22, 1936:

Two years it's been since you left us,
Tho it seems like many more;
We were happy when you were with us
But now our hearts are sore.

God knows how much we miss you—
Never shall your memory fade;
Loving thoughts shall ever wander
To the spot where you were laid.

We often sit and think of you,
And speak of how you died—
To think you could not say good bye
Before you closed your eyes.

We don't know why you had to be called
So soon to that far-off land
Since God does things for the very best
Some day we'll understand.

—Sadly missed by Mother, Brothers and Sisters.

A COLD CATCHES ONE IF HE IS NOT UP TO MARK

It Is Important to Keep As Physically Fit As Possible

Prefacing some seasonable advice on common sense ways of avoiding colds, with the remark that it is a mistake to say you 'catch' a cold, Dr. R. H. Riley, director of the State Department of Health, added "As a matter of fact the cold catches you when you are not up to the mark, physically. Therefore:

1. Keep yourself as physically fit as possible. Eat nourishing food. Have your meals at regular times. Avoid rich, indigestible combinations. Include plenty of milk, other dairy products and fruit in your diet. Remember to drink plenty of water—several glasses during the day, every day.

2. Dress according to the weather. Add a sweater to your outfit, or a heavy coat when the frosty days come. Avoid sudden chilling. Don't expose yourself unnecessarily to draughts. Don't sit around in wet clothing. If you are caught in a drenching downpour, change to dry clothing, including shoes and stockings, as soon as possible.

3. Take some outdoor exercise every day. Be out in the sunlight as much as possible. If you have a job that keeps you indoors most of the day, you will find it pays to spend a few minutes two or three times a day, at an open window, flushing your breathing apparatus with fresh air. Hold your head up, and learn to breathe deeply.

4. Get plenty of sleep. Have a good time, but don't have it too strenuously. Strike a balance between work and play. Don't fool yourself into thinking you can play around at all hours of the day or night, day after day; snatch a few hours sleep, and be entirely fit, physically, and ready for your profession, your job, or for school, or household duties, when morning comes.

5. Colds are spread by the discharges from the nose and throat. Every time the victim of a cold has a coughing spell, germ-laden droplets of mucus are brought to the surface and spread around. Every sneeze throws germ-laden spray into the air. Avoid these hazards. Don't mingle unnecessarily with persons who have colds. You can show your sympathy in other ways.

6. The careless cougher or sneezer sprays his germs all around the place and leaves them on everything he touches. Don't use a common drinking cup. Have your own towel and wash cloth. Always wash your hands before eating.

7. If you happen to be overtaken by a cold, show as much consideration for your neighbor as you would like him to show to you. Don't be a transmitter. Don't broadcast your germs. Sneeze or cough into your handkerchief. Use paper handkerchiefs that can be burned or otherwise disposed of. The quickest way to get rid of a cold is to go to bed; eat very lightly and drink plenty of water. At the first indication of fever send for your doctor, and then follow his advice."

And no two of said associate judges, for any of the said circuits, except the third and sixth circuits shall, at the time of their election or appointment or during the term for which they may have been elected or appointed, reside in the same county. If two or more persons shall be candidates for associate judge in the same county in any of the circuits, except the third and sixth circuits, that one only in said county shall be declared elected who has the highest number of votes in the circuit. In case any two candidates for associate judge in any of the circuits, except the third and sixth circuits, residing in the same county shall have an equal number of votes greater than any other candidates for associate judge in the circuit, it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for one associate judge; but the person residing in any other county of the circuit and who has the highest number of votes shall be declared elected. The said judges shall hold not less than two terms of the Circuit Court in each of the counties composing their respective circuits, at such times as are now or may hereafter be prescribed to which jurors shall be summoned; and in those counties where only two such terms are held, two other and intermediate terms, to which jurors shall not be summoned; they may alter or fix the times for holding any or all terms, until otherwise prescribed, and shall adopt rules to the end that all business not requiring the interposition of the jury shall be, as far as practicable, disposed of at said intermediate terms. One judge in each of the above circuits, including the second, the third and sixth circuits, shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business; and the said judges or any of them may hold special terms of their courts, whenever in their discretion the business of the several counties renders such terms necessary. The additional associate judge for the third circuit elected in accordance with the terms of the Constitutional Amendment heretofore submitted and adopted shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, hold his office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the third circuit.

The additional associate judge for the second circuit herein provided for shall be a resident of Cecil County, shall be appointed by the Governor after the expiration of six (6) months after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Caroline, Cecil, Kent, Queen Anne's and Talbot counties, constituting the second circuit. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit, and the judge so elected shall be subject to the same constitutional provision, hold his office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation, and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit.

The additional judge for the sixth circuit herein provided for and elected by the qualified voters of Frederick and Montgomery Counties at the 1938 election in accordance with the terms of the Constitutional Amendment heretofore submitted and adopted shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the sixth circuit and his successor shall be appointed and/or elected in accordance with the constitutional provisions relating to judges. The Chief Judge may be elected from either Frederick or Montgomery Counties, but when the Chief Judge is elected from Frederick County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said county and the two remaining associate judges shall be residents of Montgomery County and when the Chief Judge is elected from Montgomery County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said Montgomery County and the remaining two associate judges residents of Frederick County. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the sixth judicial circuit shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be declared elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuit, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be, residing in said county in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates as the case may be, residing in the other county, and not similarly disqualified, who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If, by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said sixth judicial circuit, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State shall be, at the next general election to be held in this State in the year 1938, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State, and at the said general election, the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment," as now prescribed by law, and immediately after said election, due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution of this State, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For Constitutional Amendment" and "Against Constitutional Amendment," as now prescribed by law, and immediately after said election, due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution.

FOR ASSOCIATE JUDGE

OLIVER H. BRUCE, JR.

I hold the conviction that too much attention has been paid to the particular demands of groups and organizations to the injury of the people as a whole. It is seemingly difficult for certain politicians to resist the pressure of certain organizations or groups, thereby denoting that we are woefully shy of men who have the broader view-point and who believe in a government of laws. I cannot excuse, nor do I believe the people of Garrett County will excuse, any public officials who tolerate illegal acts by any group or organization, because of their influence in elections.

I appeal to the sturdy citizenship of Garrett County to resist every effort to destroy the Government of our Forefathers. America has no room for Communism or any Foreign-isms.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all of the members elected to each of the two Houses concurring), That the following section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 21 of Article 4, title "Judiciary Department", sub-title Part III—Circuit Courts" of the Constitution of the State, and if adopted by the legal and qualified voters thereof as herein provided, it shall supersede and stand in the place and stead of Section 21 of said Article 4.

21. ORDER OF PUBLICATION

Marybelle Emmaline Lewis vs. Joseph Franklin Lewis
No. 3486 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

The object of this suit is to proeure a decree for a divorce a vinculo matrimonii by the plaintiff from the defendant.

The bill states:

That on the 19th day of January, 1933, she was married, at Oakland, Maryland, to one Joseph Franklin Lewis, with whom she resided in Garrett County Maryland, for about four months; that although the conduct of your oratrix towards her husband, the said Joseph Franklin Lewis, was always kind, affectionate and above reproach, the said Joseph Franklin Lewis, without any just cause or reason abandoned and deserted her during the spring of 1933, and such abandonment has continued uninterruptedly for more than five years, is deliberate and final and the separation of the parties beyond any reasonable expee tation of reconciliation; that your oratrix and the said defendant, Joseph Franklin Lewis, have had no children born to them from said marriage; that your oratrix has heard nothing from the said defendant since he deserted and abandoned her and does not know where he now resides, but inasmuch as he was formerly a resident of Pennsylvania she does not believe that he is now a resident of the State of Maryland.

The bill then prays for a divorce a vinculo matrimonii of the plaintiff from the defendant, for general relief and for an order of publication.

It is thereupon, this 26th day of September, 1938, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, ordered, that the plaintiff by having a eopy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once in each of four successive weeks before the 28th day of October, 1938, give notice to the said absent defendant of the objeet and substance of this bill, warning him to be and appear in this Court, either in person or by solicitor, on or before the 14th day of November, 1938, to show eause, if any he has, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

Lesson for October 30

PERSONAL RIGHTS AND WHERE THEY END

LESSON TEXT—Ecclesiastes 2:1-3, 10, 11; Romans 6:17-23; 14:21.

GOLDEN TEXT—What shall we say then? Shall we continue in sin, that grace may abound?—Romans 6:15.

"Personal liberty"—what endless misuse was made of that expression in the days when men seeking the right to again flood this country with intoxicating liquors were attacking prohibition. One would think that some of our political leaders and our newspaper editors would blush for shame when they see what has now been accomplished in the name of personal liberty.

My liberty ends, as someone has well said, where yours begins. I have the personal liberty to swing my arms as far as the tip of your nose, but there my liberty ends. All of life is, and necessarily must be built on that principle. For the Christian there is an even higher measure of responsibility—his relationship to God and his consequent heart interest in the welfare of his fellow men.

Our Scripture portions for today present a sharp contrast. Man without God, but with every earthly advantage is pictured in Ecclesiastes in his fruitless search for real joy. Then man as the glad bondslave of Jesus Christ is spoken of in Romans as truly free and joyful.

I. The Way of Emptiness and Disappointment (Eccles. 2;1-3, 10, 11).

1. Physical pleasures do not satisfy (Eccles. 2:1-3). Men who have tasted the distress and disappointment of life are prone to think that if they only had all the money they wanted, and an opportunity to partake of life's "thrills" they would be happy. Solomon had everything. He deliberately set himself to prove the pleasures of this world. He planned to "enjoy" intoxicants—doing it "with wisdom"—that is, not in a drunken debauch that would bring remorse. Note it, you who advocate the moderate use of alcohol (whatever that may be) Solomon found it to be only vain emptiness. (See Prov. 23:31, 32.)

What is true of wine is also true of the attempt to satisfy oneself by the gratification of any physical appetite. Those who live for the pleasures of the flesh can reap only corruption (Gal. 6:8). The hectic search for such satisfaction by countless men and women today reveals that they, like Solomon, cannot find it. If they did, they would cease their wild searching. It just is not there.

2. Pleasures of the mind do not satisfy (Eccles. 2:10, 11). Solomon sought real joy in labor, in accomplishing worthy ends. There is a satisfaction in work well done, but that joy is only lasting when the doing of the work is for the glory of God. Work for its own sake—yes, even wisdom for its own sake (Eccles. 1:12-18)—is not enough to satisfy the soul of man. The great poet Goethe, who set himself to enjoy the higher pleasures of life—art, science, and literature—came to his seventy-fifth year to testify that he had "never had four weeks of genuine pleasure." Satisfaction is not in the pleasures of the aesthetic nature.

II. The Way of Victory, Peace, and True Joy (Rom. 6:17-23; 14:21).

We say with Paul "God be thanked" that there is a way for men to find freedom from the sin and disappointment of life. It comes by

1. Personal allegiance to God (Rom. 6:17-23). Clear thinking on spiritual matters recognizes that the man who boasts of his personal liberty, his freedom from God's control over his life is in reality the slave of sin (vv. 17-19; Titus 3:3). On the other hand, the one who is a willing bondslave of Jesus Christ is free. The way of victory and peace is to yield to God, even as the way of defeat and disappointment is to yield to sin. The first way leads to joy in this life and eternal fellowship with God. The other way results in ultimate ghastly disillusionment in this life and eternal spiritual death and separation from God.

2. Recognized responsibility for others (Rom. 14:21). It should not take two minutes of intelligent consideration for any man to understand that "none of us liveth to himself and no man dieth to himself" (Rom. 14:7). Yet that is the obvious assumption under which men live, leaving behind them not only their own wrecked lives, but carrying along in the stream of their personal influence their acquaintances, friends and members of their families.

The principle stated in Romans 14:21 should govern all of our actions. Paul was speaking of meat offered to idols, which he could have eaten with a clear conscience. But if he ate it someone else would be caused to stumble, and he was rather willing to do without it as long as he lived. One wonders what would happen in the Christian world if every professed follower of Christ would thus evaluate not only the use of intoxicants but also his every personal habit.

MT. LAKE PARK

"IT'LL NOT BE LONG."
(A Paraphrase)

Some day we'll cross the mystic strand
It'll not be long, it may be soon;
Some day we'll see the promised land,
It'll not be long, it may be soon;
Some day we'll reach the golden shore
And dwell with Him for evermore
With all the blest ones who've gone before;
It'll not be long, it may be soon.

Some day this mortal life will cease,
It'll not be long, it may be soon;
We'll see our Savior face to face,
It'll not be long, it may be soon;
Some day we'll leave this vale of tears
Forget the strife of bygone years
And know no pain and shed no tears;
It'll not be long, it may be soon.

He's coming back with glory rare,
It'll not be long, it may be soon;
We'll rise to meet Him in the air,
It'll not be long, it may be soon;
If He should call us, this we know
We may be ready now to go
With joyful hope and faith aglow;
Be it long or be it soon.

Then as we journey on life's way,
Through waters still or billows' foam,
Let us walk with Jesus every day
And He will lead us to His home;
It'll not be long, it may be soon.

The above lines were written quite some time ago by the late Dr. T. D. Richards, whose passing is noted in another column of The Republican today.

The Life of the Party now Looks it!

ABLEST OF THE EIGHTS is this mighty Buick Dynaflash Valve-in-Head Straight-Eight, with a cyclone in each cylinder to increase full power from every drop of fuel.

WHEN you've got something mighty good and know it, it's not easy to pass it up even for something better!

There's a whale of a temptation to play it safe, to coast along a while, when you're riding such a vote of confidence as we've had this year.

We had ample evidence from the start that our past season's good Buick was the life of the 1938 party.

Right through the darkest months it paced the industry in sales, setting a bright example that shone like a sudden sun smiling through the rain.

But itching in our heads and on our drawing boards were ideas.

★ ★ ★ ★

NO OTHER CAR IN THE WORLD HAS ALL THESE FEATURES

★ DYNAFLASH VALVE-IN-HEAD STRAIGHT-EIGHT ENGINE ★ BUICOIL TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING ★ GREATER VISIBILITY ★ HANDISHIFT TRANSMISSION ★ ROOMIER UNISTEEL BODIES BY FISHER ★ TORQUE-TUBE DRIVE ★ TIPTOE HYDRAULIC BRAKES ★ CROWN SPRING CLUTCH ★ "CATWALK-COOLING" ★ OPTIONAL REAR AXLE GEAR RATIOS ★ FLASH-WAY DIRECTION SIGNAL ★ SELF-BANKING KNEE-ACTION FRONT SPRINGING

Ideas that started with practical things like better cooling and more efficient aerodynamics and a wider field of vision for the driver and his folks.

Ideas that wouldn't stand still — that budded, burgeoned, flowered full into gorgeous new beauty of line and form and action.

Ideas that promised to re-pattern motor car design for the next half decade or more!

Now, the price of progress is daring to make good things better—even if you've got a winner to start with. Buick's whole come-back has been based on that.

We couldn't refuse to climb while empty rungs on the ladder beckoned us up!

So the life of the party now looks it. And you'll see a Buick for 1938 of very different pattern, a car fit to fix the fashion for many a long year to come.

GOVERNOR NICE PRAISES ROAD WORK IN MARYLAND

Says His Administration Found Highways in Bad Condition—Nice Confident of Re-Election

ENDS COUNTY CAMPAIGN

Governor Harry Nice returned to Baltimore yesterday for the final stages of his campaign for re-election reporting he was "abundantly confident that the people of Maryland will again make me their governor."

In the speech prepared for broadcast the governor said the campaign tour through the state showed "the people aprove my action" in restoring pay to teachers, rehabilitating state institutions, highway construction, labor policy, rehabilitation of natural resources, fiscal policy and for having obtained aid from the Democratic administration in Washington.

"I return to Baltimore still in doubt—the people are in doubt as to where my opponent Attorney General Herbert R. O'Conor stands on many vital issues," he said. "He has yet to tell the people where he stands on labor." Asserting that O'Conor was a short year ago "most vocal in his laudation of the New Deal," Nice asked:

"Why in this campaign has he failed to mention the President of the United States or the New Deal? Is it because he is afraid? He is now a Democratic candidate. Why doesn't he speak up?

"He cannot concoct schemes to build a great park in Garrett county or to rebeautify the Eastern shore with millions of dollars of your hard earned money and exect these childish dreams to camouflage the issues—or to be a substitute for hhis position on labor and the New Deal."

In the Governor's speech at Salisbury on Monday evening he praised the road-building achievements of his Republican administration and criticized the highways built by his Democratic predecessors. "My administration is building adequate scientifically roads — my state roads commission is not lending money to bankrupt street car companies." The governor pledged his administration to continued construction of "accident-proof highways" as rapidly as finances would permit.

Goes Bear Hunting

Jesse J. Ashby, Jr., and J. William Glotfelty, of Oakland were two of a party of twenty who went bear hunting in the West Virginia hills between Davis and Harmon on Monday. Their eighteen dogs routed out three bears but only one became a casualty, having been slain by a rifle in the hands of a Mr. Rohrbaugh. Although Messrs. Ashby and Glotfelty were not there "at the kill" they received the doubtful honor of being among those to carry the 250-lb. bruin out of the thick woods, a distance of several miles, to a roadway.

Said Mr. Ashby on Tuesday, "I do not choose to go bear hunting today."

Electrocuted Friday

Joseph Olds, 36, of Fairmont, W. Va., electrician for the Monongahela West Penn Public Service company, was killed in the company's sub station at Terra Alta, on last Friday morning, October 28, when he contacted a wire carrying 5,900 volts.

The current was shut of in order to remove the man, and a call was immediately sent to the Oakland Fire Department for the use of the inhalator. Local firemen labored for several hours in an attempt to restore life to the man, but to no avail.

P-T. Oficers Elected

Mrs. Edwin G. Lanzer was elected president of the Parent-Teachers Association of the Oakland elementary school at a meeting last Thursday evening. Others chosen were Mrs. Scott W. Shirer, vice-president Mrs. J. J. Ashby, Jr., treasurer; and Mrs. W. S. Patterson, secretary.

Dr. H. R. DuPuy, county health officer, spoke to the group on his work among the schools, and F. E. Rathbun, county superintendent of schools, paid a tribute to Miss Marion Leary for her work as a teacher in the elementary school for so many years. Miss Leary gave up her position this year.

NICE FAVORS BUILDING OF SAVAGE RIVER DAM

Sends Telegram to Garrett County Commissioners on Monday

A telegram from Governor Harry W. Nice to the County Commissioners of Garrett County on Monday clearly stated his stand on the building of the Savage River dam. The telegram follows:

"Will be glad to cooperate in every way in the plan to secure the building of the Savage River dam in Garrett county. Pleased to see that labor and industry are working together on this problem. Believe building of the dam will help the unemployment situation while dam is under construction and when dam is completed industry will be aided by the increased flow of water in dry weather and the pollution problem in Upper Potomac in the vicinity of Luke, Westernport and Cumberland will be partially solved."

The telegram was also sent to the commissioners of Allegany county, Mayor Thomas W. Koon, of Cumberland; Harold W. Smith, secretary, chamber of Commerce, Cumberland, and John T. Jones, president district 16, United Mine Workeds of America, Cumberland.

SUICIDE VICTIM IS LAID TO REST AT MEYERSDALE

Alvin C. Englehart, Former County Resident, Shoots Self at Home

Funeral services for Alvin C. Englehart, who committed suicide by shooting himself in the head early Friday morning at the family home in Meyersdale, Pa., were conducted Sunday afternoon with interment in the Union cemetery at Meyersdale.

Coroner F. E. Saas announced that Mr. Englehart had shot himself in the head with a revolver while in a fit of despondency, and lying in bed. The shooting is believed to have occurred about 4 o'clock when the B. and O. "streamliner" rushed by the house, and at which time also one of the daughters believed that she heard a shot, and it is believed that Mr. Englehart timed the shooting while the train was passing in order to deaden the noise.

The deed was not discovered until nearly noon on Friday when a daughter Ruth went upstairs to awaken her father and found his body. Mr. Englehart had been in ill health for some time, having only recently returned from a sanitarium at Clifton Springs, N. Y., where he and Mrs. Englehart had spent the summer and autumn months.

Mr. Englehart was a native of Accident, this county, but had been a resident of Meyersdale for more than twenty-five years, and since 1926 had served as a salesman for the J. M. Cook and Son Company, a wholesale concern in which he later acquired the controlling interest. He was a son of the late William and Elizabeth (Cropp) Englehart, and was born July 4, 1888. Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Josephine (Browning) Englehart, and five children, Ruth, Eloise, Lois and William, at hoem,and Ted, a divinity student at Gettysburg college. He also leaves one brother, J. L. Englehart, Accident; two sisters: Mrs. Annie Speicher, Meyersdale, Pa., and Mrs. William A. Hauser, Oakland. He was a member of the Zion Evangelical Lutheran church and was widely known in the community as a progressive business man.

A TWO MILLION JUMP IN RELIEF COSTS EXPECTED

Maryland's Program for Current Year Will Cost $11,106,620

Maryland's relief program for the current fiscal year will cost $11,106,620, or nearly $2,000,000 more than was spent during the year which ended October 1, it was aanounced. Samuel E. Shannahan, chairman of the Board of State Aid and Charities, reported that $9,666,109 was spent for welfare purposes during the last fiscal year.

To carry on the welfare load during the current fiscal year the State is expected to provide $1,435,000, the Federal Government $3,810,950, and local governments $3,160,670. Special taxes are expected to raise the state's share.

The 1939 budget provides $3,960,000 for old-age assistance, $2,808,150 for aid to dependent children and $200,000 for the needy blind.

The counties and Baltimore city will be required to raise $2,000,000 to care for unemployables not eligible for assistance under the other relief categories.

It cost $790,215 to administer the entire State welfare program, which J. Milton Patterson, executive secretary said was one of the lowest in the United States.

During the past fiscal year the amount spent in Garrett county for the three types of assistance were: old age, $73,437.42; dependent children, 37,149. 19; needy blind, $1,990.67.

KITZMILLER GETTING IN TRIM FOR SOCCER QUEST

Will Meet Beall High, Frostburg, in State Elimination Contest

Coach Joe Sollar's Kitzmiller High booters, scholastic soccer champions of Garrett county, will begin their quest of the state Western Shore title on Wednesday, November 9, by battling Beall High, of Frostburg, winner of the Allegany county crown.

The date for the Beall-Kitzmiller contest as well as arrangements for other Western Shore elimination games were announced by Arthur G. Ramey, supervisor of pupil personnel for the Allegany County Board of Education, following receipt of the program from Thomas C. Ferguson, Baltimore, director of physical education and recreation for the State Department of Education.

The winner of the Beall-Kitzmiller game will oopose the survivor of of games involving Frederick Carroll and Washington counties on Thursday, November 17, for the right to battle for the state championpship on Monday, November 21.

Frostburg copped Allegany's crown this fall by turning back both Allegany High, Cumberland, and Bruce High, Westernport. Kitzmiller won the southern chamionship of the county by defeating both Oakland and Kempton in home and home series, and and then defeated Grantsville, winner of the northern division of the county, in a game played October 24.

Kitzmiller wo nthe county championship last year and also advanced in the state round by defeating the Allegany county winner.

Hallowe'en Passes Quietly

Hallowe'en pased off quietly in Oakland, in comparison with Hallowe'en celebrations of former years.

In place of the five hundred or more who usually participated in the parade there were a mere one hundred, but this was expected as no prizes of any kind were offered this year.

There was practically no soaping of windows or cars in the downtown area, and no pranks were reported. Police made no arrests.

The parade was followed by band selections by Mickey's band, and then square dancing on Second street. A round dance was held at the Manhattan Hotel.

DEFINITE STEPS TAKEN FOR BAND ORGANIZATION

Oakland Rotary Club Expecting To Sponsor Group; Budget Will Be Raised For Expenses

COMMUNITY NEEDS BAND

Definite steps toward the permanent organization of the Oakland Boys Band and a permanent sponsoring organization were completed at a meeting Tuesday night of a committee appointed by the Rotary club.

This committee was composed of Delbert Davis, chairman, Grover C. Stemple, Dr. W. W. Grant, Ralph E. Weber, Arthur Lawton, and Foster D. Bittle. The group met with Mayor Lawrence Fraley and worked out plans that are to be presented to the Oakland Rotary club on Friday evening.

It is expected, according to the committee, that the Rotary club will sponsor the band. Present plans call for a budget of $600 annually. Legislation already makes it mandatory for the town to levy $200 annually for the band's support, and the group plans on obtaining about $150 from town organizations, and donations from citizens amounting to $250.

With a budget it will be possible to pay the band leader for his two evenings spent with the band each week, and also to pay the drum major for his marching instruction and other work with the boys.

Mr. Davis said the business men and other citizens seemed to be feeling the need of a band and realizing the worth of such an organization not only to the members, but to the community, and that such an arrangement would probably be made Friday evening.

HUNTING SEASON BRINGS MANY OUT FOR RABBITS

Over 2,000 Hunters in County Are Legally Entitled to Shoot Game

Tuesday, November 1, marked the opening of the hunting season for rabbits and other upland game, except squirrels and deer, in Western Maryland.

Over 2,000 hunters in Garrett county are legally entitled to tramp the woods and forests and shoot, as that many licenses have been issued at the office of the clerk of the Circuit Court. This is an increase of about 500 over the number issued up to this time last year, and is said to be due to the prevalence of more game.

Besides rabbit, hunters may also search for certain species of pheasant, wild turkey, and quail. The season will close on November 30, after which the deer season will be open for five days, December 1 to 5 inclusive.

Hunters are being urged by forestry officials to exercise extreme care in the woods to prevent any more forest fires such as occurred during the squirrel season in October. There will be danger of forest fires until early in December.

Hunters are finding that more and more organizations are being formed for the preservation of game and that several large areas have been posted prohibiting hunting. The most recent organization is one at Mt. Lake Park.

The game division of the conservation deartment announced it had collected $120,618.10 in license fees during the fiscal year ended September 30, or $30,211.10 more than the previous year.

A total of 69,600 hunters' permits were issued. The game division collected $7,095 from game and fish fines.

Funds collected in Garrett county included $2,773.10 in county resident licenses; $61.75 in state-wide, and $327.75 from non-residents.

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES WIND UP THEIR CAMPAIGN

Will Hold Large Mass Meeting in Grantsville School on Friday Evening, November 4

NICE WILL BROADCAST

County Republican candidates will wind up their campaign tomorrow evening, Friday, November 4, 7:30 p. m. with a mass meeting in the Grantsville school house. From then until election individual candidates will travel over the county and discuss issues personally.

During the past several weeks meetings have been held almost nightly in various sections of the county and the issues of the campaign have been thoroughly discussed. Candidates have been accompanied by members of the Republican State Central Committe of Garrett county, and a straight Republican ticket is being urged by all.

Polls will be open from 6 a. m. until 7 p. m., on Tuesday, November 11, and both parties are working diligently to get out a large vote on that day.

Nice To Broadcast

Governor Harry W. Nice, Republican candidate for re-election, will broadcast over the radio each evening except Sunday, until the election. This evening he will speak fram 8 to 8:15 o'clock. Friday, November 4, he will speak from 7 to 7:15; Saturday, November 5, 8 to 8:15; Monday, November 7, 10:30 to 10:45.

Oakland Citizens Also Get Alarmed Over Radio Broadcast

A number of Oakland citizens were among thousands of terror-stricken radio listeners throughout the country on Sunday night who became alarmed when they tuned in on a series of synthetic news broadcasts which depicted the beginning of an interplanetary war, but as far as can be learned none here fled from homes or voiced the opinion that the world was coming to an end, as was the case in many other places.

One person did, however, put in a telephone call to a relative in New Jersey, to find out if she was all right. Several people were really worried for a while.

The simulated news bulletins which accompanied a radio dramatization of H. G. Wells' fantasy, "The War of the Worlds," became so realistic that they sent a wave of mass hysteria across the continent. The broadcast was intended only as fiction.

Persons believed that a poison gas expedition had arrived from Mars and was spreading death and destruction over the New York metropolitan area. All over the metropolitan area people jumped in their automobiles and started for the wide open spaces. A hysteria developed unknown since the World War.

Cancer Clinic Bazaar Again To Be Held in Cumberland

An event that last year made possible free cancer treatment for sixteen Garrett county residents will be presented in Cumberland soon again. The Cumberland Memorial hospital auxiliary's third annual cancer clinic bazaar to be held in the Cumberland State armory for one week starting Saturday night, November 26.

These sixteen Garrett county residents received their treatments at the free cancer clinic that was established at Memorial hospital with the $7,200 in funds that was raised by the first and second bazaars. The auxiliary this year hopes to raise $1,600, of which $4,200 will be used for the purchase of a new x-ray machine for the diagnosis of a patient's ills—free of charge.

The current and third annual bazaar has been entitled "Cumberland's Little World's Fair," with the sub-title "Fun for Funds." It will provide an outstanding week of entertainment on Cumberland's fall schedule, coming as it does the week following Thanksgiving.

As in former years the State armory basement will be attractively decorated—this year as a French street cafe—and is expected to prove a mecca for the crowds that will attend the bazaar. Members of the Town Hall players, a Cumberland dramatic organization, will provide vocal and instrumental entertainment.

LOOKING FORWARD

By FRANKLYN WALTMAN

Publicity Director, Republican National Committee

So callous to political morality have the New Dealers become that they no longer bother even to go through the motions of trying to defend or justify their politics and actions. Instead of facing the conditions confronting them, they are relying on their apparent belief that the entire country has been sufficiently Tammanyized to permit them to check their defeat solely by the lavish use of government funds.

Sitting on the lid of the New Dealer's Box and saying as little as possible seems to be the 1938 New Deal strategy. Admit nothing; answer nothing. That is the technique. Evidence of the use of relief funds for political purposes accumulates; grand juries indict; a Senate Committee proclaims the Federal Corrupt Act is being violated; unemployment becomes greater than in 1933; farm prices dip below their 1933 levels; social progress decays as a result of ineptness and maladministration; the deficit has been seventeen billion dollars—with nothing to show for it.

How New Dealers Talk

So what? Ignore it all. Stop worrying about this election! Harry Hopkins will take care of it—is taking care of it! Isn't he shoveling out the money at a faster rate than ever before in the country's history? He's up at Hyde Park now. He and F. D. R. will work it out! Good old Harry! There's a boy who knows how to spend money—and where it will do the most good for the party! And he's not squeamish, either. He explains nothing! Just stares the Republicans down—tells 'em "they are too dumb to understand." Good old Harry!

Thus the New Dealers in Washington talk—and it is not all imaginary conversation, either. The President has gone into partial retirement. He will make only one speech during the campaign and in that, it is whispered, he may confine himself to the New York situation. Harold Ickes is still trying to lay down a smoke-screen by talking about the mythical "sixty families," whom he says run America. Henry Wallace is trying to be the Administration's funny man, apparently in the belief that he can laugh it off. Or perhaps it is nervousness.

Harry Woodring—well, he has been about his master's business. He went up to Jersey City to give the New Deal blessing to the Senatorial candidate of the unsavory Mayor Frank Hague. He told the Hague henchmen the President would be "thrilled" when he heard about the meeting.

New Dealers Hail Hague

Yeah! A great fellow, Hague! He's not squeamish, either! He knows how to handle 'em—just buys 'em! And, a great liberal, too. Sure the President would be "thrilled". Why not? Isn't Hague the vice-chairman of the Democratic Party—yeah, a great liberal party, too!

All the others are just sitting on the lid—holding it down until November 8—waiting for something to turn up. You know, another white rabbit out of a hat! Hasn't F. D. R. a rabbit's foot in his pocket? Yeah! He's lucky! Something will turn up. Of course, you can't argue about this unemployment and those farm prices! Why didn't Wallace keep 'em up—until the election anyway?

Look what happened out in Ohio to Bob Bulkley when he started arguing about the New Deal! He spent most of his time denying he was a New Dealer! Yeah! He kept repeating he did not vote for this or that. That's a heck of a way to defend the New Deal. Gee, Michelson should have put Bulkley wise—told him this was no time to debate the New Deal! Yeah! Charley's doing a great job—saying nothing!

What can you expect? Look at Lehman! Eats the boss's lunch and then tells him he won't defend the New Deal. Yeah! That's gratitude for you! Funny fellow Lehman! Yeah! Jim always said you couldn't count on Lehman. Yeah!

White Rabbit Wanted

What kind of white rabbit do you think the boss will pull out of the hat? Dunno yet. Thought he had it on that peace business! Yeah! That was a great trick—getting that statement out late at night for the morning papers. Kind of beat Mussolini to it! Yeah! It's a boomerang! That European peace doesn't look so good now as it did that night. Yeah! Can't talk about that!

How about that British-American trade agreement? Isn't that gonna be the good old white rabbit? We could tell those Iowa farmers how we are gonna sell lard and pork and bacon to the limies? Yeah! But the boss is afraid of it! You know we have to reduce some of our tariffs, too. The fellow in the mill towns might not like it! Yeah! And there's that Canadian agreement—there's where the farmers will get it in the neck! Better keep that in the hitch until after the election! Yeah! Then let 'em yell! Lot of good it'll do 'em then. Yeah!

Oh well! Harry'll take care of us—good old Harry!

If two or more persons shall be candidates for associate judgs in the same county in any of the circuits, except the third and sixth circuits, that one only in said county shall be declared elected who has the highest number of votes in the circuit. In case any two candidates for associate judge in any of the circuits, except the third and sixth circuits, residing in the same county shall have an equal number of votes greater than any other candidates for associate judge in the circuit, it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for one associate judge; but the person residing in any other county of the circuit and who has the highest number of votes shall be declared elected. The said judges shall hold not less than two terms of the Circuit Court in each of the counties composing their respective circuits, at such times as are now or may hereafter be prescribed to which jurors shall be summoned; and in those counties where only two such terms are held, two other and intermediate terms, to which jurors shall not be summoned; they may alter or fix the times for holding any or all terms, until otherwise prescribed, and shall adopt rules to the end that all business not requiring the interposition of the jury shall be, as far as practicable, disposed of at said intermediate terms. One judge in each of the above circuits, including the second, the third and sixth circuits, shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business and the said judges or any of them may hold special terms of their courts, whenever in their discretion the business of the several counties renders such terms necessary. The additional associate judge for the third circuit elected in accordance with the terms of the Constitutional Amendment heretofore submitted and adopted shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, hold his office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the third circuit.

The additional associate judge for the second circuit herein provided for shall be a resident of Cecil County, shall be appointed by the Governor after the expiration of six (6) months after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Caroline, Cecil, Kent, Queen Anne's and Talbot Counties, constituting the second circuit. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit, and the judge so elected shall be subject to the same constitutional provision, hold his office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation, and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit.

240 MARRIAGE LICENSES ISSUED DURING OCTOBER

Brings Year's Total Thus Far To 1986; 58 Granted Last Week

With fifty-eight marriage licenses being issued during the final week of October, the total for the month reached 240, making the fifth month during 1938 that the number had gone over the 200 mark. Almost three hundred was reached during August.

These figures show a substantial increase over the previous year in which for the entire twelve months 1828 licenses were issued. Already this year there have been 1986 permits granted with the indication that the figures will be increased by four hundred during the two remaining months.

Couples this month came from nine states. From West Virginia came 116 couples, from Pennsylvania 74, and from Maryland and Ohio, 14 each. Other states were Kentucky, Missouri, Virginia, Michigan and New York.

Of the fifty-eight licenses granted during the past week ending Monday evening, twenty-two were granted on Saturday. Three licenses were marked "don't publish", and two applicants were refused.

Main Dish Meals

Now they're calling it a "main dish" meal. No, it's not a new fad. It's just a more sincere name for the old favorite "one-dish" meal, that comes with salad and dessert, perhaps a hot roll and always a beverage, just as a matter of course. It's a modern streamline meal, planned to perform its task of supplying the family's food needs with the least possible friction. And "friction" applies to disturbance of the pocketbook, as well as strenuous effort in the kitchen.

The main-dish pattern is simple. First, there is a protein-rich food, usually meat or cheese, or perhaps fish or eggs. Then, there is a starchy food such as potatoes or a cereal in some form, corn or rice, macaroni or noodles. Frequently one or more succulent vegetables are added, as well as onion, celery, parsley, and green pepper for seasoning. Tomatoes fit nicely into the main-dish pattern, supplying color, flavor, and liquid, as well as valuable vitamin C.

Ideally, the main dish presents a "balanced" meal. But the children should always have their milk, and frequently a crisp raw vegetable salad or a fruit dessert are also needed to round out the balance. The protein food, always found in a true main dish, is necessary for building and repairing body tissues; while starchy foods furnish calories at comparatively low cost. The succulent vegetables supply vitamins and minerals.

For codfish, with spaghetti, and tomatoes, freshen salt codfish in cold water. But not long enough to take out all the salt. Simmer the fish in the tomato sauce, with a bay leaf or two added for distinctive flavor. Fry a little onion and parsley in olive oil or other fat and add this after the codfish is tender. A quarter cup or so of chopped olives put in just before serving time is also a welcome "touch". For enough of this main dish to serve to 6 persons, use one-half pound of codfish, 2 cups of uncooked spaghetti broken into short lengths, and a quart of canned tomatoes.

Chop suey, Chinese in name and inspiration, adapts some Oriental ideas in food preparation to American foods and American tastes. From China come the careful shredding, the quick-cooking in slightly thickened broth, and the tang of the soy sauce. For us, a modern vegetable shredder is a good substitute for the sharp pointed knife and unlimited patience of the Oriental.

Recipes for chop suey are found in almst every cookbook, with scarcely any two alike. Chicken, pork, beef, lamb, veal or even sea food, make satisfactory "meats" for the dish. Use plenty of shredded onion and celery, and such other appropriate vegetables —and nuts—as are available. Green pepper, mushrooms, sliced Brazil nuts, or radishes, and fresh or canned bamboo and bean sprouts are all good in a chop suey mixture.

Chow mein, even more of a main dish, is chop suey served with fried noodles as well as hot, flaky rice. For the fried noodles, cook narrow, dried noodles in a large quantity of boiling salted water for 15 minutes. Drain, and dry on absorbent paper. Then fry only a few noodles at a time in deep fat, kept hot enough to brown a cube of bread in 60 seconds (375 to 400 degrees Fahrenheit). As soon as the noodles are light brown, drain on absorbent paper.

OLIVER H. BRUCE, Jr.,

Democratic Candidate for Associate Judge

Although no political party has any right or power to prescribe a policy for courts to follow, it is nevertheless a custom in this State for candidates for the Judiciary to be nominated by the parties of which they are members. In aspiring to the office of Associate Judge, therefore, I am submitting my cause to all the voters, being a member of the Democratic party, and nominated without opposition, although I fully realize that a person who is elected Judge, in the discharge of his official duties, should be free from obligation to any party.

I believe the Parole System should be applied with the greatest possible caution and should never be used as a means of letting hardened or habitual criminals have freedom to further impose upon law-abiding people.

I hold the conviction there is no law in this State or country that warrants any person, or group of persons, to seize and hold possession of the property of others, without due process of law. And I know of no law that gives any person or any number of persons a warrant to interfere by force with the exercise of natural and legal rights of other persons. I believe it is the duty of Judges where such interference occurs to remind Grand Juries that no individual, no group, no organization, can have any semblance of a right to set aside, permanently or temporarily, to ignore or refuse to obey the laws of the land no matter what the objectives of such ignoring or refusal may be.

The advance agents of disruption never filled a pay envelope. Hostile companions and domestic enemies will not bring prosperity and security.

To every man and woman of Garrett County who believes the above convictions are sound and right, I appeal for the support of my candidacy.

For State Senator

Citizens of Garrett County:

You have honored me at the recent primary by nominating me as the Democratic Candidate to the Maryland State Senate. I am now appealing to you for your continued support in the coming General Election to be held November 8, 1938, and if I am elected to this high office, I pledge myself to honestly serve my native county and all of its citizens to the best of my ability, and to work faithfully for the following legislation:

1. Relocate portions, widen and improve State road, No. 219, enabling us to obtain proper cross-country connection between U. S. highways Nos. 40 and 50, thereby further aiding in the development of the Deep Creek Lake area and other parts of Garrett County.

2. See that Garrett County secures its full share of all funds allotted for building and improving roads generally.

3. Change the present tax law as it works an unbearable hardship on a great number of our taxpayers, especially the farmer, as this law calls for payment of taxes before he has marketed his crops.

4. Place a bounty on predatory animals, thereby conserving our game, also amend our game laws to propagate and protect our game both in and out of season.

5. A systematic stocking of Deep Creek Lake with fish natural to our waters and climate.

6. Erection of cattle crossing signs at farms desiring such crossings, making the motorist responsible for livestock killed as such crossings.

7. Advocate rigid economy in state and county government.

Respectfully yours,

BERNARD I. GONDER.

INQUIRE ABOUT OUR NEW LOW PRICES!

The Fords Tell Their Plans for 1939

Henry and Edsel Ford, on the occasion of the 35th anniversary of the founding of the Ford Motor Company, June 16, 1938

IF WE KNEW anything better we could do for the country than make good motor cars, we would do it.

By every one doing his best in the job he thinks most useful, this country is going to regain its momentum. We have tried to do our best in our job.

When business was suddenly halted in its recovery more than a year ago, we determined that we should keep going anyway, if not at full-volume motor car production, then at getting ready for greater motor car values that would help future production.

EXPANDING FOR THE FUTURE

We began to build 34 million dollars' worth of new plants and equipment. We felt that if we could not employ all our men building motor cars, we would employ as many as we could building better production facilities.

We were told, of course, that this was no time for expansion, that a wiser business policy would be to "hold everything"—which means, stop everything. But no one ever got anywhere standing still.

Besides, we are not defeatists. We do not believe this country has seen its best days. We believe this country is yet in the infancy of its growth. We believe that every atom of faith invested in our Country and our People will be amply justified by the future. We believe America is just beginning. Never yet have our People seen real Prosperity. Never yet have we seen adequate Production. But we shall see it! That is the assurance in which we have built.

Business is not just coming back. It will have to be brought back. That is now becoming well understood in this country; for that reason 1939 will be a co-operative year. Manufacturers, sellers and buyers will co-operate to bring back the business that is waiting to be brought back.

This construction program is almost completed. It has increased activity and payrolls in a number of related industries. It has given us better facilities for building better cars and trucks, and eventually our new tractor which is being perfected.

THIS MEANS MORE VALUE

The current program has provided a new tire plant, which will turn out a part of our tire requirements . . . a new tool and die plant that will help us cut the cost of dies . . . and a steel-press plant that will enable us to make more of our own automobile bodies. These are in addition to the plants we already had for producing glass, iron, steel, plastics, and many other things.

We don't supply all our own needs, of course, and never expect to. The Ford engine is one thing that no one's hand touches but ours. Of nearly everything else we use we build some quantity ourselves, to find, if possible, better and more economical ways of doing it. The experience and knowledge we gain are freely shared with our suppliers, and with other industries.

We take no profit on anything we make for ourselves and sell to ourselves. Every operation, from the Ford ships which first bring iron ore to the Rouge, is figured at accurate cost. The only profit is on the finished result—the car or truck as it comes off the line. Some years, there is no profit for us. But we see to it that our customers always profit. A basic article of our business creed is that no sale is economically constructive unless it profits the buyer as much as or more than the seller.

Our new plants have helped us build more value into all our cars for 1939. That means more profit on the purchase to the purchaser.

We have not cut quality to reduce costs.

We simply will not build anything inferior.

NEW TESTING EQUIPMENT

While we were putting up new plants to produce cars, we constructed new equipment to test them. The first weather tunnel of its kind ever built for automobile research went into operation at our laboratories this year.

It makes any kind of weather to order. The weather it delivers every day would take months to find in Nature. Our cars are weather-tested to give you good service in any climate anywhere.

In other tests, every part of the car is punished unmercifully. Then our engineers tear it down to see if they can find abnormal wear or any sign of weakness.

The money we spend on tests saves you money on repairs. And your family car is safer and more dependable when we put it in your hands.

THE NEW CARS

We have two new Ford cars for 1939—better cars and better looking—but we also have an entirely new car.

It's called the Mercury 8. It fits into our line between the De Luxe Ford and the Lincoln-Zephyr. It is larger than the Ford, with 116-inch wheelbase, hydraulic brakes, and a new 95-horsepower V-type 8-cylinder engine.

We know that our 1939 cars are cars of good quality. We think they're fine values in their price classes.

With new cars, new plants, new equipment, the whole Ford organization is geared to go forward.

CHAPTER 494—1937

AN ACT to amend Section 21 of Article 4, title "Judiciary Department," sub-title Part III—Circuit Courts", of the Constitution of this State, to provide an additional judge in the Second Circuit and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of this State for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all of the members elected to each of the two Houses concurring), That the following section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 21 of Article 4, title "Judiciary Department", sub-title Part III—Circuit Courts" of the Constitution of the State, and if adopted by the legal and qualified voters thereof as herein provided, it shall supersede and stand in the place and stead of Section 21 of said Article 4.

21. For each of the said circuits, excepting the eighth, the second, the third and the sixth, there shall be a chief judge and two associate judges, to be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be selected or appointed as herein provided, and for the second circuit, the third circuit and the sixth circuit there shall be a chief judge and three associate judges to be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be elected or appointed as herein provided. And no two of said associate judges for any of the said circuits, except the third and sixth circuits shall, at the time of their election or appointment or during the term for which they may have been elected or appointed, reside in the same county. If two or more persons shall be candidates for associate judge in the same county in any of the circuits, except the third and sixth circuits, that one only in said county shall be declared elected who has the highest number of votes in the circuit. In case any two candidates for associate judge in any of the circuits, except the third and sixth circuits, residing in the same county shall have an equal number of votes greater than any other candidates for associate judge in the circuit, it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for one associate judge; but the person residing in any other county of the circuit and who has the highest number of votes shall be declared elected. The said judges shall hold not less than two terms of the Circuit Court in each of the counties composing their respective circuits, at such times as are now or may hereafter be prescribed to which jurors shall be summoned; and in those counties where only two such terms are held, two other and intermediate terms, to which jurors shall not be summoned; they may alter or fix the times for holding any or all terms, until otherwise prescribed, and shall adopt rules to the end that all business not requiringg the interposition of the jury shall be, as far as practicable, disposed of at said intermediate terms. One judge in each of the above circuits, including the second, the third and sixth circuits, shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business; and the said judges or any of them may hold special terms of their courts, whenever in their discretion the business of the several counties renders such terms necessary. The additional associate judge for the third circuit elected in accordance with the terms of the Constitutional Amendment heretofore submitted and adopted shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, hold his office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the third circuit.

The additional associate judge for the second circuit herein provided for shall be a resident of Cecil County, shall be appointed by the Governor after the expiration of six (6) months after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Caroline, Cecil, Kent, Queen Anne's and Talbot counties, constituting the second circuit. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit, and the judge so elected shall be subject to the same constitutional provision, hold his office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation, and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit.

The additional judge for the sixth circuit herein provided for and elected by the qualified voters of Frederick and Montgomery Counties at the 1938 election in accordance with the terms of the Constitutional Amendment heretofore submitted and adopted shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the sixth circuit and his successor shall be appointed and/or elected in accordance with the constitutional provisions relating to judges. The Chief Judge may be elected from either Frederick or Montgomery Counties, but when the Chief Judge is elected from Frederick County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said county and the two remaining associate judges shall be residents of Montgomery County and when the Chief Judge is elected from Montgomery County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said Montgomery County and the remaining two associate judges residents of Frederick County. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the sixth judicial circuit shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be declared elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuit, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be, residing in said county in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates as the case may be, residing in the other county, and not similarly disqualified, who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If, by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said sixth judicial circuit, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State shall be, at the next general election to be held in this State in the year 1938, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State, and at said general election, the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment," as now prescribed by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution.

FOR ASSOCIATE JUDGE

OLIVER H. BRUCE, JR.

I hold the conviction that too much attention has been paid to the particular demands of groups and organizations to the injury of the people as a whole. It is seemingly difficult for certain politicians to resist the pressnre of certain organizations or groups, thereby denoting that we are woefully shy of men who have the broader view-point and who believe in a government of laws. I cannot excuse, nor do I believe the people of Garrett County will excuse, any public officials who tolerate illegal acts by any group or organization, because of their influence in elections.

I appeal to the sturdy citizenship of Garrett County to resist every effort to destroy the Government of our Forefathers. America has no room for Communism or any Foreign-isms.

ITS STAND JUSTIFIED—

While citizens of many counties and a majority of the states were giving their votes to Democratic and New Deal aspirants in elections in recent years Garrett county has remained faithfully in the Republican column, steadfast in the belief that Republicanism was the form of government for them.

All true Republicans of the county have taken pride in the fact that Garrett has always been such a firm believer in the Republican form of government. They have not been swayed, as have so many in other counties, with the bait of outlandish spending, with all sorts of cure-alls for the farmers which if taken seriously would eventually lead to regimentation and government control of ones own land and his very actions.

For a while it looked like Garrett countians might be out of step with the rest of the country as the majority seemed eager to try out something new. Well, the people got something new and they didn't like it so well, and now the trend is definitely back toward Republicanism — the place where Garrett county has been all the time. With the swinging of the pendulum Garrett county's stand in the past years is justified.

In 1928 Republicans had a majority of 3103 in the Presidential election. In 1932 they remained steadfast and gave out a majority of 816 for the Republican candidate for president. In 1936, in face of the New Deal spending program, Landon was given a majority of 805 over Roosevelt. In 1930 Broening had a majority of 1976 over Ritchie for the governorship of the state. In 1934 Nice had a majority of 2,105 over Ritchie and Nice was elected, the first Republican to be governor of Maryland for many years.

Although voters will not have the privilege of casting their ballots for a President this year, the opportunity is given for voting for a capable man for governor on the Republican ticket. The opportunity is also given for keeping Garrett strictly in the Republican column, from the head of the State ticket, down to the last man on the county ticket. In other words, vote Republican and feel it a privilege to do so. Republicanism has always meant so much to Garrett county. Keep it that way.

Mr. and Mrs. Voter:

ARE YOU INTERESTED IN THE WELFARE OF GARRETT COUNTY?

If you are you should elect a Senator to represent you in Annapolis who has a chance to do something for you and for your county.

Any thinking person knows that the majority of the Maryland Senate during the next four years will belong to the Democratic party. Likeswise those who are familiar with the signs of the times are convinced that the next Governor will be a Democvrat.

Why elect a man who has no chance whatever to get anything done for you and for the welfore of our county? A Republican Senator from Garrett county during the next four years, regardless of who he is, would simply be ignored by the Democrats at Annapolis. On the other hand, a Democratic Senator will have a change to mingle and mix with the leaders of the State. He will have a chance to put Garrett county's needs before them in such a way that he will be heard and in such a way that he can get results.

If you put the welfare of Garrett county above petty polities and above your own personal likes and dislikes, you must plainly see that Bernard Gonder, the man with a chance, should have your vote on November 8th.

Electing any other to the job of representing Garrett county during the next four years would be like sending one man alone in a large field to harvest hay for you and providing him with a scythe and a push cart. On the other hand, electing Bernard Gonder to the job of representing you in Annapolis will be like sending a man to the harvest field along with a large force of helpers and providing them with the best and most up-to-date machinery on the market.

Vote for Bernard Gonder, the man who has a chance to succeed. Don't vote for another man, the man who is doomed to failure, even if he wins the election.

REPUBLICAN PARTY ISN'T NEGATIVE ORGANIZATION

Proposes to Do a Number of Things, Says Congressional Candidate

"Any political prattler," asserted A. Charles Stewart, of Frostburg, " who says that the Republican party is a negative organization, against everything and for nothing, is talking without any regard whatsoever for the truth or the facts."

Stewart, who was at Frostburg in the interests of his candidacy for election to Congress from the Sixth District on the Republican ticket, went on: "Here are some of the things we propose to do, after we have put a curb on New Deal spending, free trade policies, restricted production, and regimentation of workers and farmers.

"We propose to substitute payrolls for relief rolls; to replace political racketeering with political decency and honesty; to seek bills of lading instead of bills of legislation; to secure a balanced budget instead of piling deficit on deficit and heading for wild inflation.

"We propose to give relief to those who need it instead of handing them a pittance and allowing the lion's share of the taxpayers' money to be used for New Deal political purposes," Stewart stated. "We propose to substitute efficiency and economy in government for political incompetency, want, waste and venality.

"We propose to provide assistance to every citizen who needs it, regardless of his political affiliation," the Frosthurg Republican said. "We propose to give the workers of America real social security and old age assistance by treating the money raised for the purpose as a sacred trust instead of as a political war chest.

"And furthermore," Stewart added, "we propose to remove the suffocating hand of bureaucracy and regimentation from the throats of labor and industry; and to encourage rather than harass private enterprise. And above all, we propose that the youth of America shall have at our hands the same golden, glorious opportunities which our forefathers, by blood and sacrifice, handed to us as a priceless heritage."

OLIVER H. BRUCE, JR.

Associate Judge Fourth Judicial Circuit of Maryland

To the People of Garrett County:

A person elected, or appointed to the office of Judge is not a legislator. A Judge has no authority or power to make, amend or abolish laws and should have no more influence or concern over legislation than any other citizen may have. In asking for your support of my candidacy for Judge, therefore, I shall not promise to reform or change existing laws nor to labor for the enactment of any new laws that I might consider wholesome and desirable for the people, because making or revising laws is not the business of Judges who should limit their work and endeavors to an interpretation of the laws we have and an enforcement of those laws by just decisions and order. Since the courts have no authority or rightful power over legislation, a candidate for a judicial office cannot sincerely promise the people relief from any of the burdens that unwise laws may have placed upon them. The most that he can do is to studiously strive to correctly interpret the laws legislators have made and to see that decisions in accord with the law are strictly and impartially enforced.

Since the people cannot look to any party policy for guidance in selecting a member of the court, I feel that it is proper for a candidate for that high office to state his convictions of what a Judge should or should not do in order to properly perform the duties of that high office. It is my conviction that a lawyer elected a Judge, should from the hour of his qualification, devote his time and talents to the duties of his office, exclusive of all other business activities or occupations for gain either in monetary rewards or public prestige. He should be impartial and should cultivate intellectual honesty, so that he shall be ever free from prejudgment and be competent to make decisions and pass orders on the law and the facts before him with no incentive or desire except to be right as God may inspire him to see the right. He should abolish all excessive likes or dislikes he may have for or against any and all human beings. The shibboleth that he has "no friends to reward and no enemies to punish" should not be a mere lip pretense but a fact of conscience from which there should never be the slightest deviation. On and off the bench his conduct should be that of a person who never forgets the duties, the responsibility and the dignity of the high office the people have entrusted to him. His decisions, studiously arrived at, should be stated with the greatest clarity he can command, without compliment to successful lawyers or reflection upon lawyers who have failed, but with stress only on the supremacy of the law. In passing sentence on persons convicted of crime, I believe a Judge should always aim to temper justice with mercy, especially where the criminal is shown to be a victim of inherent weakness or such unfortunate environment as would lessen the deliberateness of his criminality. But in all criminal cases, as in all other cases, a Judge should act with judicious firmness and not prove himself weak by hesitating to punish hardened or deliberate criminals with the severity the law provides for the protection of Society against crime.

I believe the Parole System should be applied with the greatest possible caution and should never be used as a means of letting hardened or habitual criminals have freedom to further impose upon law-abiding people.

I hold the conviction there is no law in this state or country that warrants any person, or group of persons, to seize and hold possession of the property of others, without due process of law. And I know of no law that gives any person or number of persons a warrant to interfere by force with the exercise of natural and legal rights of other persons. I believe it is the duty of Judges where such interference occurs to remind Grand Juries that no individual, no group, no organization, can have any semblance of a right to set aside, permanently, or temporarily, to ignore or refuse to obey the laws of the land no matter what the objective of such ignoring or refusal may be.

I have the most profound respect and the sincerest sympathy with every person who works for a living. In this regard I hold no opposition to the righteous ambition of working people's organizntions or to any lawful efforts they may employ to obtain just and satisfactory compensation for the service they render; greater security for their future; more satisfactory working conditions or any other lawful objective that may make their lives happier. Governors, sheriffs and law-enforcement officers have no more justification for tolerating law defiance by a group whose business is wage earning than to tolerate illegal practices by groups whose business it may be to employ wage earners. Every individual and every group should stand equally before the law and be equally amenable for breaking the law.

I feel that it is proper for me to make this statement at this time, because Allegany County in the quite recent past has witnessed organized defiance of law. I deplore the unbridled license exercised in Allegany County and elsewhere and I cannot condone the apparent comfort and encouragement this law defiance seemed to obtain from the lack of energy and courage of persons in high places whose business it should be to see the law upheld. This comfort to leaders of law defiance has caused the advance agents of Communism with its foreign political thought and its so-called philosophy, in opposition to all free government, its institutions, property rights and human liberty, to dream that they are free from obedience to the law and to take courage in inciting the unwary to thoughts and acts that would eventually break down all law.

It is my conviction that the people of Allegany County, the honest, law-abiding members of organized labor groups as well as all others who work for an honest living and do not seek to profit by labor racketeering or any other form of racketeering, have suffered great harm from indifference to law defiance and periodic mob supremacy.

I hope the facts stated above and the judgment expressed will give to every resident of Garrett County a true presentation of my conviction of the manner of person a Judge should be and what a Judge should do and should not do. If elected, I give every pledge and assurance that it is possible for a person to give, that these conviction will be diligently followed.

To every man and woman who feels these convictions are sound and right, I earnestly appeal for support of my candidacy.

Very respectfully,
OLIVER H. BRUCE, JR.

CHAPTER 463- 1935

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That Section 36 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Legislative Department," prohibiting the General Assembly from authorizing lottery grants, be and it is hereby repealed if adopted by the legally qualified voters of the State, as herein provided.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the next ensuing general election for members of the General Assembly of Maryland, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words: "For Constitutional Amendment" and "Against Constitutional Amendment," as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14.

Approved: May 17, 1935.

CHAPTER 494—1937

AN ACT to amend Section 21 of Article 4, title "Judiciary Department," sub-title "Part III—Circuit Courts", of the Constitution of this State, to provide an additional judge in the Second Circuit and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of this State for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all of the members elected to each of the two Houses concurring), That the following section be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 21 of Article 4, title "Judiciary Department", sub-title "Part III—Circuit Courts" of the Constitution of the State, and if adopted by the legal and qualified voters thereof as herein provided, it shall supersede and stand in the place and stead of Section 21 of said Article 4.

21. For each of the said circuits, excepting the eighth, the second, the third and the sixth, there shall be a chief judge and two associate judges, to be styled judges of the Circuit Court, to be selected or appointed as herein provided, and for the second circuit, the third circuit and the sixth circuit there shall be a chief judge and three associate judges to be styled judge of the Circuit Court, to be elected or appointed as herein provided. And no two of said associate judges of the said circuits except the second, the third and sixth circuits shall, at the time of their election or appointment or during the term for which they may have been elected or appointed, reside in the same county. If two or more persons shall be candidates for associate judge in the same county in any of the circuits, except the third and sixth circuits, that one only in said county shall be declared elected who has the highest number of votes in the circuit. In case any two candidates for associate judge in any of the circuits, except the third and sixth circuits, residing in the same county shall have an equal number of votes greater than any other candidates for associate judge in the circuit, it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for one associate judge; but the person residing in any other county of the circuit and who has the highest number of votes shall be declared elected. The said judges shall hold not less than two terms of the Circuit Court in each of the counties composing their respective circuits, at such times as are now or may hereafter be prescribed to which jurors shall be summoned; and in those counties where only two such terms are held, two other and intermediate terms, to which jurors shall not be summoned; they may alter or fix the times for holding any or all terms, until otherwise prescribed, and shall adopt rules to the end that all business not requiring the interposition of the jury shall be, as far as practicable, disposed of at said intermediate terms. One judge in each of the above circuits, including the second, the third and sixth circuits, shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business; and the said judges or any of them may hold special terms of their courts, whenever in their discretion the business of the several counties renders such terms necessary. The additional associate judge for the third circuit elected in accordance with the terms of the Constitutional Amendment heretofore submitted and adopted shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, hold his office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the third circuit.

The additional associate judge for the second circuit herein provided for shall be a resident of Cecil County, shall be appointed by the Governor after the expiration of six (6) months after the adoption of this amendment and shall serve until the first general election for members of the General Assembly that shall be held in said circuit subsequent to the adoption of this amendment, at which election his successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of Carroline, Cecil, Kent, Queen Anne's and Talbot counties, constituting the second circuit. The judge so appointed shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit, and the judge so elected shall be subject to the same constitutional provision, hold his office for the same term of years, receive the same compensation, and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the second circuit.

The additional judge for the sixth circuit herein provided for and elected by the qualified voters of Frederick and Montgomery Counties at the 1938 election in accordance with the terms of the Constitutional Amendment heretofore submitted and adopted shall be subject to the same constitutional provisions, receive the same compensation and have the same powers as are herein provided for the other associate judges in the sixth circuit and his successor shall be appointed and/or elected in accordance with the constitutional provisions relating to judges. The Chief Judge may be elected from either Frederick or Montgomery Counties, but when the Chief Judge is elected from Frederick County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said county and the two remaining associate judges shall be residents of Montgomery County and when the Chief Judge is elected from Montgomery County one of the associate judges shall be a resident of said Montgomery County and the remaining two associate judges residents of Frederick County. In case any candidate or candidates for associate judge at any judicial election held in the sixth judicial circuit shall receive sufficient votes to cause such candidate or candidates to be declared elected, but the election of such candidate or candidates would cause more associate judges than herein permitted to reside in any county of said circuit, then and in that event only that candidate or those candidates, as the case may be, residing in said county in the order of the votes received shall be declared elected whose election would provide the permitted number of associate judges from said county and the candidate or candidates as the case may be, residing in the other county, and not similarly disqualified, who shall have the next highest number of votes in said election shall be declared elected. If, by reason of such a condition or by reason of an equal vote for two or more candidates a sufficient number of associate judges duly qualified as to residence as above set out should not be elected at any election in said sixth judicial circuit, then it shall be the duty of the Governor to order a new election for such unfilled office or offices.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State shall be, at the next general election to be held in this State in the year 1938, submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State, and at the said general election, the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment," as now prescribed by law, and immediately after said election, due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution.

Approved: May 18, 1937.

Taxes may be imposed on incomes, which may be classified, graduated and progressive and the exemption of a reasonable amount of income from taxation may be provided and such taxes may be in lieu of taxes on any class or classes of real or personal property as the General Assembly may determine.

NICE CONFIDENT AS HE CARRIES FIGHT TO CITY

Attacks O'Conor On Impossible Promises.

Governor Harry W. Nice completed his tour of the counties on Monday and returned to Baltimore, where he is nightly being greeted by great throngs of voters anxious to meet him, encourage him and hear the true story of his four years' stewardship.

The Governor and his friends are confident that he will be re-elected by an overwhelming majority. His receptions in the counties proved to him that he will come to Baltimore with a huge majority and the city leaders point out that he will smother under his opponent within the confines of Baltimore.

Governor Nice directed his fire against Herbert R. O'Conor on the grounds that the candidate is making promises that he cannot fulfill and is endeavoring to set himself up as "All things to all sections of the State of Maryland."

He said:

"He pledges economy, and solemnly announces that he will cut $750,000 from the state expenditures, but he cannot be made to tell us from what departments he will make this enormous deduction. That is a general statement made by him, but when he goes into Western Maryland, he proposes to buy up the entire county of Garrett, and make a great State park.

Where's the Money?

"But from where does he expect to get the money? That would cost millions of dollars, deprive people of their homes, increase the State tax rate, and further burden the people of Maryland. In other words, he proposes to save $750,000 and expend millions.

"He goes to the Eastern Shore, and tells the good folks there that he will build a straight dual highway from Elkton to Ocean City. From where does he expect to get the money? That will cost millions, so that a saving of $750,000 is swallowed up in an expenditure of millions.

"He welcomes the Negro and urges him to rest his weary head upon Abraham's bosom, telling him that he is entitled to transportation of his children to and from school and that such transportation is now only furnished by nine counties.

Deep End Jump

"Here he went off the deep end. Twenty-two out of the twenty-three counties already furnish that transportation. He tells the oystermen that he will plant shells and seed oysters and transplant oysters to places where they will have a better chance to grow, all of which he knows we have been doing for four years and which has resulted in more than doubling the yield from the Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries, a yield that is now greater than the demand.

"He says that he is opposed to leasing. This I have opposed for the last four years and have during the last four years prevented any enlargement of the leasing law. Is it not possible for Mr. O'Conor to say something original? Why continue to repeat the Sunpaper and use my platform?

"He tells the crabbers that he will effect a compact with Virginia to protect the crab. Bless his soul! That compact has already been effected, and was in force before he announced his candidacy for Governor. I effected that compact.

Where Is O'Conor?

"He tells us that he is for a graduated income tax, but the tax amendment has not, as yet, been passed. Last year he was for a cigarette tax, a beer tax and a sales tax. This year he is for neither, but strong for the income tax, which has not, as yet, passed. Will he go back to his first love, the lotteries?

"He indicates great resentment and scorn at my suggestion that he and his party is badly treated Mayor Howard W. Jackson. It is not what I said about him. It is his conscience, for he knows that he and his friends shamefully and viciously made an attack upon the character and personal integrity of Mayor Howard W. Jackson, and having done so, feel that all that is necessary now is for them to pronounce words of praise of His Honor, and say: 'Let bygones be bygones.'

Mayor Not Deceived

"The Governor and his friends will not be deceived by this rather insufficient [illegible] at the feet of him who [illegible] O'Conor's political machine [illegible] to destroy. Down In Dorchester county there were elected to the Democratic State Central Committee three Jackson and two O'Conor men. The O'Conor men are today predicting that, in the event of Mr. O'Conor's election, two will become a majority of five.

"One story more eloquently than any words of mine. It discloses the Greeks bearing gifts but, unfortunately, it opens the door of the wooden horse before the animal has been got[illegible] of Troy.

Lesson for November 6

HONORING OUR PARENTS

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 20:12; Luke 2:46-52; John 19:26, 27; Ephesians 6:1-4.

GOLDEN TEXT—Honor thy father and thy mother: that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.—Exodus 20:12.

The splendid obedience of parents to their children has been pointed out as one of the remarkable developments of modern life. No, we have not made a mistake in writing or in typesetting. We mean just what we say—the obedience of parents to their children. In all too many homes God's order has been reversed and instead of honoring and obeying their parents, children (both young and old) have taken the place of "boss," and mother and father must obey if they want peace and rest.

The need for our lesson of today is both great and acute. The future happiness of hundreds of thousands of children (Eph. 6:3) and the present welfare of thousands of neglected and boss-ridden parents will depend on the intelligence and faithfulness with which this lesson is taught in our churches, and the honesty of heart with which men and women study and receive its truth.

I. The Command of God (Exod. 20:12).

The first and most important consideration to come before us is—what is the mind and will of the Maker of us all regarding this matter of the relation between parents and children? His words are plain—we are to "honor" our fathers and our mothers.

The word "honor" carries with it a great many things, but perhaps the three outstanding elements are respect, obedience, and affection. We should look up to them with high regard, obey them as long as they have the authority over us, and show true affection for them.

II. The Example of Jesus (Luke 2:46-52).

The fact that Jesus was God manifest in the flesh only enhances the glory of His conduct. He who is divine presents an example of obedience and consideration both as boy and man which we do well to emulate.

1. As a boy (Luke 2:46-52). The boy Jesus, increasing "in wisdom and stature and in favor with God and man," (v. 52) had come to His twelfth year and with His parents had gone up to Jerusalem to celebrate the Passover. There moved in His heart the conviction that He must now be about His Father's business—an altogether proper and commendable purpose but one which resulted for the moment in separation from His parents. This was far more serious than a physical separation, for we read that they did not understand Him (v. 50). Tragic indeed are the consequences of our failure to understand our children. Notice, however, that Jesus did not withdraw Himself from their watch care, nor refuse to obey them even though they failed to understand Him. Equally tragic are the results of hasty and bitter separations brought about by the disobedience of children.

2. As a man (John 19:26, 27). The value of our lesson will be greatly reduced if we see only the responsibility of children while they are young. We are the children of our parents as long as we and they live. Being grown up and having a family of one's own does not relieve one of the precious responsibility of care for one's parents. Jesus was dying on the cross, His brethren apparently still regarded Him in unbelief, and His mother now needed a son to care for her. Even in His dying agony Jesus remembers to commit her to the care of His beloved disciple, John. One marvels at the carelessness and hardness of heart that will permit men and women who have time and money for everything else and yet will neglect their aged parents and even shunt them off into a public institution for care. Notice the promise that accompanies the command of God (Exod. 20:12; Eph. 6:3). If that is the reward of those who do right, what do you think will be the punishment of those who disobey God?

III. The Admonition of Paul (Eph. 6:1-4).

This matter of honoring and obeying parents "is right," says Paul. It is the Lord's way. Only if parents command their children to do wickedness would there be ground for disobedience to parents. Apart from such circumstances every parent has the right to expect the child's obedience.

There is tremendously important truth on the other side of the picture. Parents are not to provoke their children to anger, to disrespect or disobedience. How much we need God's grace at that point. It is so easy to say and do things that needlessly irritate our children. It is so convenient to nag at a careless child. Often we expect more of them than their age will justify. We are apt to punish them in a spirit of anger or revenge and thus to destroy the value of discipline. May God help us, who are parents, that we may take to heart this part of our lesson. Our children are our most valuable possession.

MT. LAKE PARK

Hallowe'en passed very very quietly in the Park. On Saturday night there were several places where chairs and swings were placed on roofs and garbage cans emptied or moved but on Monday night there was little damage done, we heard of several instances where pranks were played and later regretted and the damages repaired. Mrs. Darwin Martin who had an accident and was ill had her windows marked. When the boys found out that she was ill they returned and erased all signs of their markings. Some one suggested that they go to the Kiser-Nursing Home and play some jokes this was vetoed by the majority who said "there are sick people there", which goes to show that we are "better."

The sale of property in Mt. Lake Park the last few months has been something to think about. So far as we can ascertain there are very few places left to either purchase or rent. The tenants are all—or nearly all—from out of town, and all good people to have in a community. When we attempted to find out why Mt. Lake has sudenly become popular (and you don't know the half of it yet) there are numerous answers. A great many people credited the Rotary Club with their advertising. Several gave the credit to the Self-Help School. Many gave it to the town oficials. But no matter to whom the credit belongs it's a fine thing to see Mt. Lake again going forward.

All over the Park there is work being done. The new bridge near the School house, to our mind is the greatest improvement. Then there is the bridge at Pilgrim Rest which is being done over entirely by the State road, new underpinnings and new cement work. From the post ofice across the glade there is a new cement walk being constructed, this work we understand is done by the town.

And speaking of the town, Is there any law or ordinance whereby the person who has a lot covered with leaves and does not remove them can be made to do so? It's pretty tough when one works to get his own leaves raked and burned and the other fellow's blows over on yours. Some one has suggested that the town have them burned and send the bill to the owner. Sounds all right but—I wonder if it would do any good. Just the same there is something else other than the blowing of the leaves—its the fire hazard—that should be excuse enough for any action. Mt. Lake has the reputation of having more fires than most places. This year we have so far done very well, and the leaves are nearly all burned.

Parcel Post Week is being celebrated here and at all U. S. post ofices. How many can remember when Parcel post went into effect. Well, it was 1913.

Perfect weather, and a perfect fall. Far ahead of the summer weather so far, but look out for next week.

Here's one worth going after!

COMING at you, it looks like a million. Going away, it looks like good fortune you've missed.

A lot of fussy care went into the way it looks from the rear—you know, that's the angle from which it's oftenest seen.

Going or coming, it moves like a honey bee about its business. Better look quick if you want to see it—one sudden "swo-o-o-sh!" and it's gone!

How about it—is this stunning 1939 Buick really as lively as it looks? Well, just try it and see—you'll find it the car and the value of the year!

Maybe a bullet gets off faster. Maybe a rabbit can beat it on the jump or a skyliner lead it from point to point.

But you'll never want a highway cruiser that answers quicker to the green light's "go"—that slips more deftly through the holes in traffic—that with keener relish eats up the miles.

That bonnet houses a full complement of eight cylinders, and Dynaflash cylinders at that. All four wheels dance on BuiCoil springing of stout spiraled steel; no quiver or shiver shakes the luxurious body in its flight.

You'll see the world — lots of it — for this sightly Buick now parades the passing panorama through windows with up to 413 more square inches of outlook than before.

Other things you'll like: A gearshift out of knee-way. Front wheels that "bank" the curves for you. Brakes that stop on a dime — and leave nine cents change.

Go see this lovely lively traveler. Drive it — feel its magic yourself, first-hand.

You'll find it beautiful in action as in aspect — you'll go for the way it goes for you.

You'll find it obedient and willing, a car that holds its marks in crosswinds, bears sharp around curves without slide or slew.

In fine — we think you'll like all of it—from its looks to the way it lives up to them. Won't you try it out — and see?

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 62. OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MARYLAND, NOVEMBER 10, 1938 NUMBER 37.

COUNTY GIVES ITS USUAL REPUBLICAN MAJORITIES

J. William Owens, Democrat, However, Is Elected Sheriff; Friend Tops Gonder

SENATE RACE IS CLOSE

Garrett County returned its usual Republican majorities at the general election on Tuesday with two exceptions. A Democrat was elected sheriff of this county for the third consecutive time, J. W. Owens defeating Juniper S. Teats 3458 to 2631 in 24 of 25 precincts reporting, to give him the largest majority ever accorded a Democrat here.

Millard Tydings, Democratic U. S. Senator, seeking re-election after defying President Roosevelt in his "purge" attempt in the primary election, carried Garrett county by more than 300 majority.

All other candidates had little difficulty, although a hot fight was waged for the State Senatorship and the Democrats were hopeful of electing at least one County Commissioner.

Clifford Friend had a majority of 170 with one district yet to hear from.

While Garrett county gave substantial majorities to the State candidates in all instances, Governor Nice carrying the county by more than 1,500 majority, the O'Conor landslide in other sections of the state was too much to overcome.

E. R. Jones, only local man on the state ticket, got a good vote here but was snowed under with the other Republican candidates throughout the state.

Eleven Republican candidates were unopposed for office, and all received a good complimentary vote.

Paul M. Friend, Cheston H. Browning and G. Blaine Giessman won out for County Commissioner over their Democratic opponents with comfortable majorities, although Norval Speelman and Wilbert Ridder, Democratic opponents, ran a good race.

All constitutional amendments were defeated in this county along with the referendum on the delayed marriage law. In the state, however, the marriage law was ratified and after December 8, it will be necessary for applicants to wait 48 hours before a marriage license is granted.

Unofficial returns are being printed in today's issue.

Two Injured In Crash Early Sunday Morning

Stanley Stark, 24, and Milton Turney, 18, both of Oakland, suffered lacerations and other minor injuries in an automobile accident which occurred about 5:30 Sunday morning in Cumberland, as the car in which they were riding slid into a pole on a dangerous curve on Washington street. They were taken to Allegany hospital for treatment, and were reported on Tuesday at improving.

There have been a long list of accidents at this curve and all kinds of signals and warning devices and a 15-mile speed limit on the curve have failed to reduce the number, many of which are of a minor nature and fail to reach attention of the police.

No charges were made by police in this case.

Farm Bureau To Hold Banquet

Members of the Garrett County Farm Bureau, which was recently organized, will hold their first annual banquet at Grantsville on Wednesday, November 16.

Dr. F. B. Bomberger, president of the Baltimore Bank of Cooperatives, will be the speaker.

Dr. Bombergger spoke at the banquet of the Oakland Future Farmers of America last Friday evening and also the Oakland Rotary club.

64-Year-Old Garrett Countian Struck By Car In Frostburg

Richard Layman, 64, of Avilton, this county, suffered a fractured left leg and lacerations of the head Monday evening when struck by a car as he crossed Main street in Frostburg. Taken to Miners hospital, he was said to be in a satisfactory condition.

A technical charge of reckless driving was placed against Irvin J. Bittner, 45, of Sand Patch, Pa., said to have been the driver of the car which struck Layman. Bittner posted collateral of $26.45 for his appearance at a hearing before Judge John Keller, at Frostburg. State Trooper Austin H. Bikle investigated.

WELFARE BOARDS NAMED IN MARYLAND COUNTIES

J. F. Fahey, Grantsville, Named Garrett County Chairman

Personnel of welfare boards which will administer relief programs in the counties the remainder of this year and next year, were made known by J. Milton Patterson, executive secretary of the State Board of Aid and Charities.

The county welfare boards oversee the expenditures of relief funds, both Federal and State, including those for old-age pensions, aid to dependent children and the needy blind. All except five county boards handle funds for direct relief, Garrett county being one of the five.

Joseph F. Fahey, Grantsville, was named chairman of the Garrett County Welfare Board. Other members are Ray McCullough, Mrs. W. W. Grant, Paul B. Naylor, and G. Blaine Giessman. Miss Ethel Miller, executive secretary, stated that two more members were to be named. Delbert Davis, former chairman, resigned his position recently. His term expired in June. Jasper Myers' term has also expired but he has continued to attend meetings, pending the appointment of a successor.

Board Meets Monday

The County Welfare Board met Monday evening. Three applications for old age pension were granted and three were rejected. Three applications for aid to dependent children funds were granted and three were rejected.

During October 82 applications for assignments to WPA were received, as compared to 139 for September. There have been no WPA assignments since October 8.

During October 370 old age pensionstrs, 306 children and 9 blind persons received assistance. For old age assistance $6,347.22 was expended, $1,051.20 coming from the county, the remainder from State and Federal funds. Children received $3,135.52. $169.80 for the blind and $1,631.07 went for administration, making a total of $11,283.61 spent for these various agencies during October. Miss Miller said the average old-age pension paid in the county is about $17 per individual.

Miss Ethel Grove, home economics teacher, Friendsville, is teaching a class in home management in White Rock, under the auspices of the county welfare board.

KITZMILLER HIGH BEATS BEALL HIGH IN SOCCER

Garrett County Champions Pull Stunning Upset Yesterday

Kitzmiller High of Kitzmiller defeated Beall High of Frostburg 2-0 in the first soccer game to determine the champion of the Western Shore, at Kitzmiller yesterday in the elimination tourney for the State Championship of Maryland.

Beall Hi was completely outplayed throughout the game and had very few opportunities to score at Kitzmiller's defense was almost perfect. The defeat came as a complete surprise to the Frostburgers who had figured the contest would be a landslide victory for their team.

The first quarter was even with the home team having the most chances to score. These were denied by the play of Goalie Lewis. In the second period Kitzmiller took the kick-off through the complete Beall team, without a single Beall man touching the ball, Malouse booting it for the only score of the game. Coach Joe Sollar's team displayed wonderful team work throughout the rest of the game but was not able to get the ball past Goalie Lewis.

It would be difficult to pick an outstanding player for Kitzmiller as the victory was an all team win. For Frostburg Lewis, the goalie, was the only outstanding man for a losing cause, making a few near impossible saves.

Kitzmiller will play its next game on November 17, against the winner of the playoff between Carroll, Frederick and Washington counties.

Players on the Kitzmiller team included Weicht, Croseo, Cardoro, Dawson, Pratt, McIntyre, Markley, Moore, Burton, Malouse and Hershberger. Yukon was a substitute.

Washington County Man Is In Lead; Ten Precincts to Report

With ten of 282 precincts missing throughout the Congressional district William D. Byron, Washington county Democratic nominee for the Sixth District Congressional representative, was leading A. 	Byron	Stewart
Allegany	8,558	15,775
Garrett	1,680	3,616

HERBERT R. O'CONOR IS NEW GOVERNOR OF STATE

O'Conor's Majority Shows Advance Over His Republican Opponent, Harry W. Nice

TYDINGS IS VICTORIOUS

Attorney General Herbert R. O'Conor was elected Maryland's new governor on Tuesday by virtue of sweeping majorities in Baltimore City and comfortable leads in some of the counties.

O'Conor's widening margins left him ahead in fourteen counties on the basis of returns from 1,037 precincts out of 1288. The vote gave Nice 190,509; O'Conor 251,003; O'Conor's plurality, 60,494.

Governor Nice, admitting defeat of his attempt to become the first Republican governor ever re-elected in Maryland, conceded shortly before noon Wednesday and pledged his "fullest cooperation" to O'Conor's administration.

Tydings Tops Ticket

Senator Millard E. Tydings, Democrat, re-elected for his third term, led the ticket throughout the state. Tydings, whom President Roosevelt vainly tried to eliminate in his democratic primary "purge," surpassed even the chief executive's own previous high plurality in leading the Democratic ticket to victory.

Returns from 1,023 of the state's 1,288 polling places gave Tydings 285,102 votes to 120,754 for former judge Oscar Leser, of Baltimore, his Republican opponent.

Only one cloud seemed to dim the attorney general's victory. On returns from 784 precincts voters disapproved 59,951 to 46,480 the constitutional amendment to authorize a graduated state income tax, a basic plank in O'Conor's fiscal program.

Democrats seeking other statewide offices held the following safe margins:

Attorney General—William C. Walsh, Cumberland, ahead of Republican Leo Weinberg, Frederick, by 75,699.

State Comptroller — J. Millard Tawes, Crisfield, ahead of Republican William G. Jack, by 88,425.

Clerk of the Court of Appeals—Incumbent James A. Young, of Cumberland, ahead of Republican E. Ray Jones, Oakland, by 83,688.

Killed On Cheat Mountain In Automobile Wreck

Kerfoot Daily, of Charleroi, Pa., a frequent visitor along Deep Creek Lake, was killed about 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon when his car skidded while descending Cheat Mountain on Route 50, and crashed into an embankment, six miles west of Red House.

His companion, a Dr. McNaughton, Charleroi dentist, was not injured. West Virginia State police from Kingwood investigated. The men were enroute to Clarksburg after a hunting trip near Deep Creek Lake. Daily's skull was fractured and his chest was crushed. He was dead when extracted from the wreckage.

A dog, in the car at the time, also died of a broken neck.

The deceased was for many years president of the National Bank and Trust company, of Charleroi. His funeral was held in Charleroi on Tuesday. D. Edward Offutt and Lawrence M. Fraley attended the funeral services from Oakland.

URSDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1938

THE ROAD BACK—

THAT the political tide has defi- ely turned against the New Deal erimentation and fiscal mismanage- nt was demonstrated in no uncer- n terms in Tuesday's elections.

The Roosevelt upset was far greater n had been anticipated by Republi- leaders as along the Atlantic sea- rd, in the Midwest and on to the ific one Democratic administration er another toppled before the tide pposing votes; and the Republican rease in national legislative seats nt considerably beyond the mini- m that had been established by st political observers as the mark ow or above which definite repudia- n of Roosevelt and his New Deal ld be determined. The exact extent this change has not been deter- ed at this writing further than t the Republican gains were above minimum, while the number was wing as later returns began com- in. The minimum which had been erally agreed upon was fifty House ts and as this was written the ociated Press reported more than t number switching from the Dem- atic to the Republican side.

n Pennsylvania and Ohio the Re- blican victories were notable and e states swung back into the umn to which they belong by tra- ion. The Pennsylvania upset was unexpected but away beyond the dest hopes of the Republicans and just repudiation of the scandalous ation disclosed at Harrisburg as ll as New Deal management. This be regarded as the most serious blow suffered by the New Deal and is undoubtedly important in view of that state's large share of electoral votes. In Kansas, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Hampshire, Wisconsin, New Jersey, South Dakota and Oregon, the Republican tide rolled upward relentlessly. In New York, Thomas E. Dewey made a remarkable run, and while it is regrettable from the Republican viewpoint as well as the viewpoint of good government that he was not victorious, the odds were too heavy against him what with the vast spending power, the federal and Tammany machines and the aid of the underworld all against him.

In Maryland, Governor Nice was defeated by his Democratic opponent for the governorship also as the result of odds too great to be overcome. Included were the studied vituperation and reiterated misrepresentations of the opposing side, which cunningly clouded the actual handicaps under which the Nice administration was compelled to suffer in carrying out its program. Governor Nice made a good, hard fight, nevertheless, and

The forty-eight-hour marriage law appears to have been adopted by a large majority in the referendum on that measure. While the law was believed by a number to be far short of what it should be, the concensus appears to have been that it was a step in the right direction. The income tax amendment and the lottery amendment were properly defeated, while the judicial amendment, providing for an extra judge in the Second (Eastern Shore) district, was scarcely a question for opposition as that appears to have been needed.

West Virginia, with its terrible handicap of a 167,000 registered Democratic majority did splendidly all things considered, having defeated Ramsey, the rubber stamp representative in the First, or Wheeling, district, where New Deal trade and tariff policies played a large part, this being a largely industrial district, by an unexpectedly large plurality, while the voters also whittled down Democratic majorities in other districts to a marked extent. As noted by Walter S. Hallahan, Republican national committeeman for that state, this is "preliminary to taking them all over in 1940," and as such preliminary step it was most effective.

Judge William A. Huster appeared to be re-elected by a good majority, which is very pleasing.

The returns on the Sixth congressional district race were not reported in sufficient numbers at the time this was written to indicate whether Stewart or Byron had been chosen.

All in all, Republicans of the county have achieved notably, and the results should give them renewed courage and hope in their battle against crackpot experimentalism and egregiously wasteful administration in Washington. They indicate beyond peradventure of doubt that the people are sick and tired of things as they have been and that there is a splendid chance of changing the administration two years hence, which, in the opinion of this newspaper, would be the salvation of the country.

MARRIED

Evans-Murphy—Mr. Melvin R. Evans and Miss Gertrude Murphy were quietly married on Thursday, October 20, 1938, at the Rectory of St. Matthew's Episcopal church in Oakland, by Reverend David C. Trimble.

Mrs. Evans is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Murphy, of Swanton; and Mr. Evans is the son of Mr. Walter Evans, of Washington, D. C., and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Evans of Hardy county, West Virginia.

After the ceremony the couple motored to Niagara Falls, N. Y., and through Canada to Detroit, Michigan, where they will make their home.

Mr. Evans became connected with the National Bureau of Standards in Washington, D. C., in 1927 and has been with the Federal Government continuously since that date. He is now an Internal Revenue Agent, Income Tax Unit of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, assigned to Detroit.

Hayden, being one of them, and if our memory serves us right the late Franklin P. Arnold and the late L. A. Rudisill were both employed in the House. NATION-WIDE SEAL SALE BEGINS ON THANKSGIVING

Prompt and Generous Buying of the Little Stickers is Urged

Thanksgiving Day, as usual, will mark the opening of the nation-wide sale of the Christmas seals through which much of the tuberculosis work in this country is financed. The allotment for this State will be distributed through the Maryland Tuberculosis Association. The sale will continue until the close of the Christmas season.

Urging prompt and generous buying of the little stickers, Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the State Department of Health, said: "Put 'tuberculosis seals' as 'Item Number 1, Important,' at the head of your Christmas shopping list. Buy early and often—and then buy some more. You can have great satisfaction in the investment because every seal you buy helps provide ammunition for the fight against this disease that hits hardest at young people and at older ones in the prime of life. It is significant that special emphasis is laid in the design for this year's seal, with its tiny picture of a family group, on the protection of the home from tuberculosis.

"Every part of the State, and every age group—young and old—benefit from the sale of the little seals. Some of the 'capital' derived from your investment in the seals is used for the chest clinics held in the counties under the joint direction of the State Department of Health and the Maryland Tuberculosis Association. Since the partnership was started fifteen years ago, over 50,000 persons—men, women, and children—have had the benefit of chest examinations by physicians with special experience in this field, and of advice and after care in sanatoria or in their own homes.

"Some of the money derived from the sale of the Christmas seals is used for the purchase of portable x-ray outfits and other equipment that enable the doctors to detect the presence of the disease before irreparable damage has been done. Some of it is used for educational purposes, for training doctors and nurses in the treatment and care of those exposed to the disease or suffering from it. The summer work at Miracle House, where children who have been in contact with tuberculosis are cared for, and built up so that they can resist the disease is also made possible through the sale of the seals.

"Underlying the whole plan of the campaign against tuberculosis is the idea of prevention, of checking the disease at its source, of discovering its presence when the possibility of cure or complete control is greatest. You will be helping to accomplish these things when you invest in the seals. The price of the seals—only a penny apiece—makes it possible for every body to help.

"So let's all do our part to make this the best seal sale we have ever had."

Scoop's Column

By Scoop Himself

In a Kansas shop is this sign: "We require a deposit of 50 percent from customers we don't know and 100 percent from some we do know."

Nobody beat us out of anything recently—we just happened to see this item somewhere, and believe it fits at least a few in this area.

WPA Heard From—Or Maybe CIO

Two weeks ago we got an answer to our hunting story sign, but this is our first opportunity to make it public.

The gentleman who gave us the reply wanted it as an amendment. We stated that when out hunting not to shoot until you saw it move, that it might be a WPA worker. He said that if it didn't move, it still might be a WPA worker, but that owing to cold weather (what cold weather?) and lack of food and clothing, he might be frozen to death and not able to move.

The gentleman then disclosed that he was Leonard Paugh, of Deer Park, and chairman of the organization around here which is claimed to be an affiliation of the CIO.

* * *

Here is something else of much more value from another WPA worker, and it's my bet that this one really works.

"Dear Sir: Enclosed please find $3.00 for credit on subscription to The Republican. I will send more as soon as I can spare the money. I am still on the WPA and still hoping that some day soon times will get better in these parts. By the looks of things the Communist CIO will be trying to run the WPA in Garrett county and also the U. S. government.

"We have them here but I am not fool enough to join them. I am an American and always will remain an American, but the CIO isn't Americanism."

CONTRIBUTED

New Deal Patient

I don't want to beg; nor I don't want to steal;
But you can imagine how I feel—
I'm looking down at a pair of feet
That walks in trousers without a seat.
I'm not a bum, or a common thief,
Just another poor devil on "Relief."

Just another poor victim of the Roosevelt Plan
That spends our money and don't give a dam.
I voted for him for the country's sake,
And now I'm dying with the belly-ache.
I have his salve and took his pills
But they nauseate me and give me chills.
They do not seem to hit the spot
For the kind of sickness I have got.
And I'm getting weaker every day
I know I need some other dope
I'm all discouraged and have no hope
His medicine will not make me well,
And I'm going to die as sure as ——!
He examined me carefully in '32.
And tried to tell me what to do.
He said I had Hooveritis sure
And the prescription he gave me was a sure cure.
I took it the way the directions said
But it made me worse and now I'm almost dead.
He gave me a dose of NRA
Then he gave me a shot of I'WA
But I can't get it anymore—they say
Now he wants me to take some WPA
I used to take medicine long ago
From good old doctors I used to know
It cured my aches and relieved my pain
I'm going back to them again.
I'll take their medicine and soon get well
And the New Deal quacks can go to ——.

Times have changed. A farmer today, visibly irritated, said he'd like to plan his next year's program but he was sure to conflict with the New Deal program.

The "independent farmer!" Remember him?

It looks like the Nation is returning to the Republican fold in most cases.

EYE-OPENER! With all its extra value, this Buick sedan lists at $51 less than last year!

IT makes the eye glad and grateful—you spot that the instant your gaze takes in this sparkling Buick for 1939.

It's sleek and swift and businesslike, lean and clean in every line, the trim bonnet low-set, the graceful upper-structure light-and-airy looking, neat and fine.

Will you step in, please, and look it over closer?

Why, it's almost like being in an open car, with the outlook you've got here!

The long nose tapers quickly out of eye-way, the pillars modestly retire to the background, overhead stop lights drop into easy vision—ahead, to right, to left, you can see!

The ruler will tell you there are as much as 413 added square inches of safety glass in this Buick, and these inches are placed where they count.

It has a lot to do with making Buick beautiful, this grand expanse of openness!

And like "catwalk-cooling": radiators low where air pressure is greatest—and the lines of the bonnet: broad, clean, aerodynamically better—Buick's stepped-up visibility both sets a pattern and fills a function.

So take a good look into its bigger, better, broader outlook. It's one thing among many that Buick's got that you'll want in your next automobile.

Hunters Urged to be Careful While In CCC Territory

A warning has been issued by the Game division of the State Conservation commission, E. Lee LeCompte, state game warden, asking that hunters be careful, while hunting, not to shoot toward a CCC camp or in the vicinity where men are working in the forests.

It was pointed out that there should be no hunting done within one-half mile of any CCC camp, and that hunters should look before shooting. "By cooperating in this manner you may save a life which is more valuable than any species of game you may miss or possibly kill," Mr. LeCompte said.

Cooperation was also asked in preventing fire from destroying the forest areas. Hunters are urged not to drop matches or empty their pipes or throw lighted cigars or cigarettes on the ground unless they are sure the fire is out.

YEARS AGO TODAY

WITH youth and determination: in the name of "making the world safe for democracy" they marched off to war. Some of them were consecrated by the tomb of the Unknown Soldier. Some of them rest in peace, out there in Flanders Field. Some of them came back older, wiser men. They fought for an ideal, and helped to preserve it. They don't want wars for war's sake; they don't want to see their children embroiled in battle unnecessarily. But they do believe that peace must be kept—peace with honor. On this day, Armistice Day, we join the veterans of past wars in selling this new ideal before the youth of America—let us maintain peace with honor!

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 62. OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MARYLAND, NOVEMBER 17, 1938. NUMBER 38.

REORGANIZATION G. O. P. IS PLAN OF GOVERNOR NICE

Governor Calls Upon Party Leaders To "Make No Commitments" On Offices In 1940

Governor Harry W. Nice has announced plans for reorganizing the state Republican party in preparation for the 1940 election on Saturday and has called upon party leaders and workers to "make no commitments" in regards to offices to be filled in the election two years hence.

At the same time he declared, "I'm not a candidate for anything. What I will do two years from now is a matter I'll decide in two years. I do not intend to surrender my position as titular head of the Republican party without making a most aggressive fight to retain it, but I want to insist I am not a candidate for anything at this time."

Believed Aiming For Senate

The governor's reorganization plans, announced in a letter to Republicans throughout the state, had been interpreted by some as a forecast that the Governor would be a candidate for the United States senate in 1940.

"My interest now is that of the Republican party and in no sense of the word is my interest personal," Nice asserted. "My desire as titular head of the party is to aim to take advice of Republicans all over the state and endeavor to bring the party to a condition where we may carry on successfully in 1940."

What we shall do in 1940, he added, "will be decided in 1940. . . . Anyone is at liberty to draw any and all conclusions as they desire."

The Governor was defeated for re-election Tuesday by Attorney General Herbert R. O'Conor, Democrat, who amassed a 70,000 vote lead.

Vote On Three Offices In 1940

Senatorial aspirations were attributed to the Governor by some who pointed out that Marylanders will vote on only three major offices in 1940—the national presidency, a senator and congressman.

In his letter, Nice said Republicans lost by about 70,000 votes "and this should not discourage us."

"I intend, with your help," he wrote, "to reorganize the Republican party in order that we may go into the fight in 1940 with assurance of success. Will you do me the personal favor of not making any commitments in connection with any office to be filled in the 1940 election, and contact your host of friends, as well as the Republican candidates in the last election in your section, making a similar request of them?"

Says Something Wrong In Party

The governor said "there is something radically wrong in the party. I think I know the real trouble. Therefore I want the advice of all rather than a selected few. . . . ."

Nice said he will return to the private practice of law at the expiration of his term in January. He probably will confer with Governor-Elect O'Conor on state matters next week. Following the inauguration of O'Conor, Nice plans a vacation to Florida with Mrs. Nice.

Youth Club Banquet Reaches Large Proportions; Dr. Nat T. Frame To Speak

Reservations for the banquet to be given Friday evening, November 18, at which Dr. Nat T. Frame, director of Oglebay Institute, Wheeling, will be the speaker, have continued to increase to such an extent that approximately 125 are now expected to attend.

The dinner will be served in the auditorium of the Friendsville High school building, beginning at 7:00 o'clock. Arrangements are in charge of committees of the Garrett County Youth Club, under whose auspices the dinner is being served.

There will be guests from most every section of the county and some older 4-H club members from Allegany county. Included in the program will be an address of welcome by Miss Jessie Guard, president of the group, toastmistress, a response by Rev. R. L. Greynolds, and special music and group singing. A candle service will be led by Mylo S. Downey, assistant in club work, at the close of the program.

Dr. Frame, the speaker, is quite well known in this section, having been former director of Extension for West Virginia University at Morgantown, at which time he was much interested in the development of this section as a part of the Allegheny Tableland.

Meeting Planned to Broaden District Work Of Scouts

A meeting which has for its objective a closer contact with Boy Scout activities of this county, has been called by Raymond C. Lalor, scout executive of the Potomac Council, under which Garrett county troops operate.

The meeting is to be held Monday evening, November 21, at 7:30 o'clock in the City Hall. It is planned at that time to name a district chairman and elect a district committee, which will be responsible for scout activities in this area.

Interested men are being invited from Friendsville, Accident, Deer Park, Kitzmiller, Mountain Lake Park, Crellin, Gormania and Oakland, and approximately fifty are expected to be present at the gathering. Anyone interested in the Boy Scout movement will be welcome at the meeting, Mr. Lalor stated.

Preliminary plans for the organization of this area were outlined at a recent meeting in Oakland by Mr. Lalor before members of the troop committees of the Oakland troops.

SEEKS BETTER WAYS FOR FIGHTING FOREST FIRES

Two-Year Program Is Planned For CCC Camps In This Area

Improvements to prevent the spread of devastating forest fires and to protect the growing timber and the stands that remain in Western Maryland now, will be the future object of the forestry department.

Plans are to be prepared for construction of additional fire protection aids for the woodland by District Forester H. C. Buckingham.

Walter J. Quick, assistant State forester, in charge of fire control in the State will make a survey and check on the situation, and supervise the plans. The program will include two year's activities under the direction of the Civilian Conservation Corps enrollees.

The improvements are expected to include the coastruction of several miles of truck trails, fire trails in the forests, additional lookout towers, water holes, and temporary stations for fire fighting forces at strategic points.

Under the progress that has been made in the last five years, and the purchase of large woodland tracts not suitable to agriculture, with thinning, planting of seedlings, and other work, a definite program of reforestation in Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties is bringing results. The State Forestry Department is hopeful of attaining its objective conserving a valuable natural resource and in a generation to restore a substantial area in productive forest land. This also means the conservation of wild life. The suppression of forest fires is the vital problem, it is stated, to obtain return of the great stands of timber that once covered the mountains.

Kitzmiller Booters To Battle Hagerstown High Today

Kitzmiller High soccer team, Garrett county champion, and surprise 2-0 winner over Beall High of Frostburg, Allegany county champ, at Kitzmiller, last week, will meet Hagerstown High in the Western Shore semi-final battle this afternoon.

Hagerstown eliminated Brunswick Monday in the play-off series by the score of 3 to 2. Brunswick copped the Frederick county crown and then disposed of Westminster High, Carroll county titleholder.

Kitzmiller won the county soccer title for the twelfth time in 18 years by defeating Grantsville, and then pulled a surprise upset by downing the Allegany champs 2-0 last week. This is the third time that Kitzmiller has defeated Allegany county winners, defeating Bruce in 1933, 2 to 1; and Central, in 1936, 1 to 0.

Mt. Top Ministers To Meet At Bittinger On Monday

The November meeting of the Mountain Top Ministers' Association is scheduled to be held next Monday morning, November 21, at 10:30 o'clock, in the Lutheran parsonage at Bittinger. The members will be guests of Rev. A. C. Curran at luncheon following the business session.

A book review will be delivered by Rev. W. S. Patterson, of Oakland, and the informal address entitled "The Ministry of Example," will be given by Rev. A. B. Leamer. All members are being urged to be present.

TURKEYS SEEM PLENTIFUL FOR THANKSGIVING FEAST

Price, However, Remains Uncertain With Prospects of 10 Cents A Pound; Other Foods Same

PRICES MAY TAKE DROP

With demand for native-grown turkeys expected to reach a new high in the State, Maryland producers are now ready to supply quality birds not only for Thanksgiving but for months to follow, but nobody seems willing to set the price. It is predicted by merchants, however, that in spite of the fact that turkeys in this section are plentiful they will sell for around 40 cents per pound, dressed.

This means the Thanksgiving dinner is going to cost about the same as it did last year, as some foods are higher and some lower. Prices may drop, however, before next Thursday.

The prices of turkeys for the past several years has been from 35 to 40 cents. It is estimated that there are about fifteen thousand marketable turkeys in Garrett county. Expansion in turkey raising in this State has resulted from the high regard in which housewives look upon native birds. The birds are not "forced" and are thus very tender. In Maryland, according to J. M. Gwin, associate professor of poultry husbandry at the University of Maryland, practically all birds are given mash feed, containing a large percentage of dried milk, which adds a good flavor to the meat. Maryland birds are also kept plump and tender because they are not permitted to "roam the range," as in other States.

Cranberries this year are expected to be about 20 cents per quart. Merchants quoted other probable prices: sweet potatoes, 3 cents per pound; white potatoes, 29 cents per peck; eggs, about 40 cents per dozen; butter 30 to 33 cents per pound; celery, 10 cents per bunch; puanpkin, per can, 10 cents; mince meat, 20 to 25 cents per pound; nuts, 23 to 28 cents; ducks, 30 cents, and chickens, 29 cents.

On the national average the cost of a dinner for a family of five has been figured around $5.00.

MORE THAN $8,500 TO BE PAID BY CHRISTMAS CLUB

Approximately 250 Depositors to Receive Checks December 1

More than $8,500 will be sent out from the two Oakland banks on December 1 in Christmas Savings club checks. The money will be distributed among approximately 250 depositors of the First National Bank and the Garrett National Bank in Oakland.

Cashiers of the local banks stated that this year had shown an increase over the previous year, when only $6,000 was distributed, and that most of those who had started the savings had more nearly completed what they set out to do. Practically all had paid up accounts.

Throughout the nation over 330 million dollars will be distributed to about seven million members. The total distribution for 1938 is about three percent in excess of 1937 and the number of members to receive the checks shows an increase of approximately six percent. The average distribution per member amounts to $17 as against $48.55 for 1937.

According to the national estimate 32.1 percent will go toward Christmas purchases; 26.7 toward permanent savings; 14 toward year end bills; 9.7 toward taxes; 9.3 toward insurance premiums; 4.2 toward education, travel and charity; and 2.3 toward mortgage interest.

The Christmas club savings feature was established thirteen years ago in the county by the First National Bank, in Oakland. The following year it was also adopted by the Garrett National Bank.

Christmas clubs for next year will be started as soon as old checks are mailed out, the first payment being due on December 6. There are clubs for as little as 25 cents a week. There will be no interest paid on these deposits, according to a regulation of the bankers code, but they merely offer a systematic and regular way of saving money for a time when it is much needed.

Dr. and Mrs. Wong are occupying an apartment in the Hamill apartment house on Second street. Dr. Wong was recently transferred here as physician at Potomac CCC camp.

GARRETT FARMER KILLED BY CAR NEAR DEER PARK

John Wesley Adams Is Struck While Walking Along Sand Flat-Deer Park Highway

DRIVER IS EXONERATED

John Wesley Adams, 68-year-old retired attorney, of Deer Park, was instantly killed last Friday afternoon, November 11, when struck by an automobile near his home.

According to Neil C. Fraley, State's Attorney, the victim was walking along the Sand Flat-Deer Park road when he stepped into the path of a car driven by Edward Newton Myers, 28, of Shenandoah Junction, West Va.

Both his legs were broken and his skull was fractured. He was dead when Myers stopped the car.

The driver was detained for a coroner's inquest which was held Saturday morning. The inquest exonerated Myers of blame in Adams' death. Myers said Adams stepped in front of the car without warning. The inquest was conducted by Magistrate C. F. Hammond, acting coronor, assisted by the State's Attorney. The accident was investigated by Sheriff Clarence Spear, and Corporal Thomas Currie, of the State police.

Mr. Myers was on his way home after taking his wife to the Hopemont sanitarium for an examination. They remained in Oakland Friday night. Mr. Myers was not arrested.

Mr. Adams was born October 8, 1870, at Salineville, O., the eldest son of Peter and Marjorie McBane Adams. He was graduated from the Washington and Lee University Law school, at Lexington, Va., and entered law practice with the late Judge W. J. W. Cowden, at Wheeling, W. Va. Later he formed the law firm of Adams and Amos. He retired from active practice to become secretary and manager of the Stratford Springs Company, Wheeling, and built and operated the Stratford Springs hotel for 12 years before it burned in 1918.

He had resided at "Oakleigh Acres," at Deer Park, for six years. Surviving are his widow, Sarah Ellen Nickison Adams, to whom he was married December 23, 1902; three daughters, Mrs. Merron L. Latta, of Akron, O.; Mrs. Irwin A. Fluharty, of Wheeling, W. Va.; and Miss Marjorie Adams, at home; also one grandson, Merron L. Latta, Jr., of Akron.

Funeral services were conducted Monday morning at 11 o'clock from the home with Rev. D. C. Trimble, rector of St. Matthew's Episcopal church, Oakland, officiating. Interment was in the Deer Park cemetery.

Legionaires To Banquet As Climax To Membership Drive

As a climax to the American Legion membership drive which was concluded on Armistice Day, Friday, November 11, there is being held a pig roast and banquet this evening, Thursday, November 17, in the Manhattan Hotel, at which sixty or more are planning to attend. The dinner will be at seven o'clock.

A number of Legionaires will be present from Cumberland, including George Henderson, former State Commander of the Legion, and members of the present State department are also expected.

Stanley S. Stahl, post commander here, stated that the membership drive had resulted in an enrollment of 53 members, which is the highest for the local post since 1933, when there were 101 members. Last year there were but 36 members of the post.

At the banquet this evening Donald R. Sincell will be the toastmaster.

Pin Factory Burns

Fire of undetermined origin entirely destroyed the woodworking plant of the Henderson Lumber Company, located at Gorman, Garrett county, at an early hour Wednesday morning. The company manufactured wooden pins for telephone poles upon which insulators are attached.

The Oakland Fire Department was called to prevent the spread of the flames to nearby buildings.

Besides the mill 100,000 pins were destroyed. The loss is estimated at $5,000, with no insurance. Twelve men were employed in the factory. It was thought R. D. Henderson, the owner, would make preparations to reopen a new plant there or to rebuild.

Get News In Early

It has been ordained that the year 1938 is no exception to other years, when it comes to Thanksgiving Day.

Because Thanksgiving Day is in the habit of falling on Thursday, our publication day, due to a proclamation of President Lincoln in the year 1863, it is difficult for members of The Republican staff to publish the weekly newspaper and to do justice to the traditional roast turkey both on the same day.

And because Thanksgiving is also declared a national holiday, observed by the postoffice, banks and most business establishment,

Therefore, be it resolved, that next week's issue of The Republican will be published on Wednesday.

Accordingly advertisers and country correspondents are requested to submit material to this office one day earlier than usual to insure publication.

FIVE ESCAPE SERIOUS INJURIES IN CAR WRECK

Two Autos Collide At Street Intersection Monday Evening

Five people miraculously escaped serious injury in an automobile accident Monday afternoon about 5:30 o'clock at the corner of Second and Penningson streets, Oakland.

A car owned by James Towler, but being driven by Kirk Cosner, who was delivering it to the Towler home following some repair work on it, collided with a car driven by Mrs. Gladys L. Philippi, of Friendsville. The latter car turned over three times and skidded on its top to a point about two hundred feet distant from the point of collision. In the car were Mrs. A. J. Mason and Mrs. Kathryn Kendall, of near Frostburg, formerly of Friendsville; Mrs. Eugene Greenwald and Theodore Friend, also of Friendsville.

Mr. Friend and Mrs. Kendall received cuts on their heads and all were painfully bruised. It was at first feared that Mr. Friend's injuries were of such a nature that he would have to be taken to a hospital for treatment. All occupants of the car were taken to Friendsville later Monday evening. The accident was investigated by Corporal Thomas Currie, of the State police.

FARMER WOUNDS MAN IN RAID ON HIS HENHOUSE

Three Others In Jail, Two Of Them Charged With Larceny, As Result of Investigation

JACOB BEITZEL USES GUN

An attempted raid on the henhouse of Jacob Beitzel, farmer of the Bittinger community, early on Sunday morning, sent Paul Pratt, 27, of Davistown, Pa., to Memorial Hospital, Cumberland, near death as the result of a shotgun wound in the back of his neck, and is the cause of three others being held in the Oakland Jail, two of them on charges of larceny.

Pratt is paralyzed on his one side as a result of the wound and has been reported in "fair" condition by hospital authorities. He was found lying in the county road at some distance from the Beitzel farm where his accomplices had evidently cast him from the car in which they were endeavoring to make their escape.

TWo of the three held for questioning since Sunday were released yesterday, but two additional persons were arrested. Harry Fisher, of Davistown, and Ralph Browning, of near Oakland, were the two released from custody, but John Pratt,brother of the wounded man, of Rockwood, Pa., has been detained on a larceny charge.

Yesterday's arrests brought Arthur Alexander and Nelson Alexander, of near Accident, into the sheriff's office for questioning and both are being detained. The former is charged with larceny, while the latter has had no criminal charge preferred against him.

According to State's Attorney Neil C. Fraley, Mr. Beitzel was awakened at four o'clock Sunday morning by a commotion in his henhouse. Investigating, armed with a shotgun, he came upon one man carrying three chickens. Beitzel fired his gun as the man fled through the woods, and after a short chase Mr. Beitzel returned to find a Ford roadster, with two men, preparing to leave the premises. As the car was being driven out Beitzel again fired his shotgun and he saw the car going down the roadway, seemingly out of control, as it was going from one side of the highway to the other side. Mr. Beitzel then went for the assistance of neighbors.

Returning they later found Pratt lying in the roadway a mile away from the Beitzel home, with gun wounds in his neck. Pratt was taken in charge and later sent to the Cumberland hospital.

The car, owned by John Pratt, was found later behind a rock pile two miles away, and abandoned. Beitzel's chickens were scattered over the countryside Sunday morning.

The State's Attorney, Sheriff Clarence Spear and Corporal Thomas Currie questioned John Pratt, Fisher and Ralph Browning Sunday afternoon, being with Paul Pratt in Oakland on Saturday evening and who were all staying temporarily together at the home of Grover Browning, near town.

John Pratt said the machine had been borrowed by his brother. All of the parties denied any knowledge of the chicken thieving. Fraley attempted to get some information from the wounded man as to the identity of his companions, but he would not talk.

County authorities said that there had been a number of thefts of chickens and other poultry from farms in the Oakland area but that this probably would have a tendency to lessen such activities.

In the Bittinger community several farmers have suffered the loss of cattle, sheep and hogs as well as having their meat houses entered and robbed in recent years.

Union Thanksgiving Servics To He In Episcopal Parish House

The churches of Oakland will unite this year as formerly in a union service of Thanksgiving, which is to be held in St. Matthew's Episcopal parish house, at 10 o'clock on Thursday morning, November 24. The sermon will be delivered by Rev. A. B. Leamer, D.D., of St. Mark's Lutheran church.

The Young People's society of St. Matthew's church will decorate the Parish house in suitable harvest style. The Community Chorus will render special music. Everyone is invited to attend.

Lesson for November 20

THE SACREDNESS OF THE HOME

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 20:14; Matthew 5:27, 28; Mark 10:2 16.
GOLDEN TEXT—Keep thyself pure.—I Timothy 5:22.

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

The importance of the home as the divinely appointed center of all human life has always made it a special target of Satan. That onslaught of the power of hell is apparently redoubled in our day. Books, plays, movies, magazines, all contribute their filthy efforts to break down all sense of moral responsibility. Sex is magnified, and not in any useful or normal sense, but rather for the stimulating of unholy desires and purposes, the breaking down of Christian standards of living and the ultimate prostitution of the most sacred of all human relationships to a level of which animals might well be ashamed.

The lesson of today should be taught with care and tact, but also with a holy boldness and a plainness that will make it effective for God and for our homes. We begin with a word which is little spoken, while far too often the sin for which it stands is practiced and tolerated.

1. Adultery — a Grievous Sin (Exod. 20:14; Matt. 5:27, 28).

First, let us note that any violation of the divine plan for the marriage of one man and one woman, in loving communion for the founding and maintenance of the home, is a direct violation of the law of God. It is also a violation of the law of man. It brings serious results in the destruction of the home, and in the ruin of individual life—physical, moral, and spiritual.

The words of Jesus broaden the interpretation of the commandment to cover all sexual impurity in thought, word, or deed. While we recognize that the outward act of immorality carries with it consequences both in the life of the individual and those with and against whom he sins, which do not follow upon the thought of evil without the act, yet it is true that essentially he is guilty who had it in his heart to do the wicked thing even though a sense of prudence or circumstances hindered its execution. We need clean hearts and minds if there are to be clean lives.

II. Marriage—a Divine Institution (Mark 10:6-8).

As the proper background for a discussion of divorce our Lord makes clear that marriage was ordained by God, and that it involves a holy union of two individuals which makes them one. All those who look forward to marriage should realize that it is not a casual thing, or a merely temporary legal contract. It is a union for life—be it for better or worse, in sickness or health, in prosperity or adversity. All who are married should therefore highly regard their sacred vows.

III. Divorce Limited and Remarriage Forbidden (Mark 10:2-4, 10-12).

This passage, and other scriptures, teach that divorce is not permitted except on the ground of adultery (Matt. 5:32), and that any remarriage involves the parties in the guilt of adultery. Aware as we are of the laxness of some branches of the church in such matters, and the almost entire lack of standards in the world, we cannot but present the plain teachings of our Lord and urge every reader to follow the commandment of God's Word.

There can be no question that divorce is a major evil in our day. The writer has been astonished to find one family after another in his own respectable neighborhood where the children bear one name and their mothers another, or there are two "sets" of children in one family with different surnames because of divorce and remarriage. In some cases he knows of the fathers of children coming to see their offspring at the home of the second husband. What utter confusion such situations must create in the minds and hearts of the boys and girls!

IV. Children—the Gift of God to the Home (Mark 10:13-16).

How relieved we are to leave the consideration of such sordid, even though vitally important, matters as moral impurity and divorce, and turn to the beautiful picture of Christ blessing the little children. It would appear that Jesus desired to turn the thought of His hearers from the negative "thou shalt not" to the positive solution of the home problem.

Children make the home. They are God's benediction upon the marriage of man and woman. Sad and disillusioned will be the men and women who make themselves childless, hoping thus for more comfort and pleasure. The road to happiness does not go that way. The soft and tender baby hand has led many a couple to full happiness, and the joy of watching our children grow into manhood and womanhood cannot be evaluated in the mint of gold or earthly pleasures.

Stuffing The Bird

Although no two birds may be stuffed by exactly the same recipe, all poultry and meat stuffings are built on the same general pattern—a starchy base, melted butter, or some other good-flavored fat, and seasoning with its 101 possibilities.

For the perfect bread stuffing, first look to the quality of the bread crumbs. Use bread two or three days old. Cut each loaf in two and "fork" out the inside, leaving the crusts. Crusts may be handy for other dishes later, but their hard, brown lumps ruin the texture of stuffing. Pick the large crumbs apart with the tips of the fingers until all crumbs are fine and even size. Fineness is less important for a moist than a dry stuffing, but it always makes for a complete blend of flavors. For every pound of dressed bird that weighs less than 10 pounds use a cup of bread crumbs, minus one. For a bird weighing 10 pounds or more, use a cup of crumbs, per pound of bird, minus two.

Among the seasoning possibilities, herbs alone offer a wide choice. Some of our grandmother's favorites are back in fashion now with the revival of the kitchen herb garden—summer savory, thyme, sweet marjoram. Mixed herbs, such as savory and poultry seasoning, are probably safest for the hostess who is not well acquainted with her guests' tastes. Sage still holds prominence, but is most effective in very small quantities. Celery seed is also excellent when used with caution.

Seasoning vegetables—celery, onion, and parsley—have a better flavor if chopped fine and fried in fat for a few moments. Try out some of the fat from the bird, if there is any to spare. Or sometimes enough fat comes in the bits of crisp salt pork, bacon or sausage added to the stuffing.

And, if possible, fry the seasoning vegetables in a skillet or pan large enough to hold bread crumbs and all. Then the stuffing can go into the bird piping hot. Putting the stuffing hot into the bird, speeds up the roasting and improves flavor. But if your time plan calls for stuffing the turkey on the day before the big feast, keep the stuffing cool, and the bird well chilled. If held over night the turkey will absorb some of the flavor of the stuffing, sometimes a decided disadvantage.

If you want something just a little different for the 1938 Thanksgiving stuffing, add mushrooms to the bread crumb base. For mushroom stuffing, with a delightful flavor, allow a pound of mushrooms to every quart of crumbs. To get full benefit of the mushroom flavor, fry them in butter for 5 or 10 minutes, before adding them to the crumbs. A generous quantity of chopped celery and parsley are good with mushrooms, but it's better to reduce onion, herb, and other potent seasonings to a minimum, as they mask the mushroom flavor.

Nuts, in large or small quantity, also do much to improve a plain bread stuffing. For a true nut stuffing, a good proportion is about one-third as many chopped nuts as bread crumbs.

For the popular chestnut stuffing, the easiest way to remove the shells and brown skins is to boil the nuts about 15 minutes. Then keep them very hot, while you cut off the outside layer with a sharp knife.

Blanched filberts, or blanched, sliced almonds or Brazil nuts give a pleasing bit of crispness. Pecans are very rich, and are best broken in pieces. Peanuts, pine nuts, and walnuts are also good. Stir the nuts into the crumb mixture, just before stuffing the bird.

APPLE STUFFING, popular with those who have a slight sweet tooth, is especially good with duck or stuffed spare ribs of pork. The stuffing will have more apple flavor and be less compact if the apples are "candied" before they are added to the mixture. To do this select very firm, tart apples, and after they are pared and cubed, sprinkle with sugar, and cook slowly in fat in an uncovered skillet until the juice evaporates. Good proportions to every cup of bread crumbs are 5 or 6 tart apples, ½ cup of sugar, ½ cup of celery, a little chopped onion and parsley, and if desired, diced salt pork fried until crisp.

And here is a rice and apricot stuffing especially delicious in roast duck. For a 5-pound duck use about 3 cups of flaky, cooked rice; ¼ pound of dried apricots; 3 tablespoons of butter; one cup of chopped celery and tops; one small onion and a sprig or two of parsley, chopped; and ½ teaspoon of savory seasoning. The rice is sure to go on swelling inside the duck, even if you let it expand over hot water after cooking. So leave plenty of room. For the apricots, simply wash and dry them first, then snip them into strips with the scissors and mix them in with the rice and seasonings.

And here are some last minute warnings. Taste the stuffing again to check the salt and pepper. And whatever else you do DON'T PACK the stuffing into the bird. Stuffing swells as it cooks so give it plenty of room.

FISCAL PROBLEM FACING OFFICIALS OF MARYLAND

Voters Turned Down O'Conor's Proposed Graduated Tax On Incomes

There seems to be a major fiscal problem facing Maryland state officials.

Voters in the general election turned thumbs down on a proposal to levy a graduated tax on incomes along lines of the Federal income tax, Garrett county opposed the income tax 600 to 1610.

With that expression of public opinion the props literally were pulled out from under a proposed new fiscal setup, for it was on the income tax case that Democratic party leaders had planned to stand in lopping off some existing taxes. Taxes which had been scheduled for elimination or reduction included many of the so-called nuisance taxes.

Abolition of the four and one-half million tax on intangible securities and freezing of real estate taxation at present levels also had been contemplated.

Governor-elect Herbert O'Conor has set machinery in motion for finding a solution of the fiscal problems with announced intentions to set up committees to study the whole financial question. His inquiry would go into the budget, reorganization of state departments as a possible means of cutting expenses and new revenue sources.

Social Security Officer To Be Here Weekly

Macon G. Williams, manager of the Cumberland Field office of the Social Security Board, has announced that he will be in Oakland in the office of the Maryland State Employment Service (over the post office) each Thursday between the hours of 1 and 3 p. m., and in Piedmont, W. Va., in the post office, each Friday between the hours of 1 and 3 p. m.

Mr. Williams further announced that this is to carry out the policy of the Social Security Board by bringing the Social Security Act as close to persons affected as possible. This is particularly true as the Board is now paving benefits and persons who have reached the age of 65 since January 1, 1937, and who have been employed in industry generally, and the heirs of persons who have died since January 1, 1937, and who had been working in industry generally, are entitled to make application for Old Age Insurance benefits.

Easy on the eye—easy to buy—on General Motors terms!

LOOK at it! Standing still, every inch seems itching to get going. Streaming along, as you see it here, it's the perfect picture of perfect action!

Now, just put yourself behind that wheel!

Imagine your eyes looking out over that comely, streamlined bonnet—your hand on that ready, instant-answering wheel—your foot on the gas treadle, bossing that ablest of the straight-eights!

You hardly know your engine's turning, so quietly does it pour forth its power!

The big bad bumps are like a mill pond's ripples, so smoothly do giant coil springs level them for you!

You look out on the wide, wide world past narrower posts and through deeper, wider windshields and windows—up to 413 more square inches of safety plate glass let you see America first, last and all the time!

Comfort? You've never known the like, what with lower floors, and wider seats, and as much as four inches more to stretch out your legs!

Convenience? It's everywhere—from a gearshift out of knee-way to a direction signal that operates by a simple flip of a switch!

An idle dream, you say? Not a bit of it! This great car's calling pointedly to you when it so plainly invites, "Step in! Let's go!"

Though bigger, though better, though more beautiful than ever, this great Buick is actually lower in price! Lower than last year—lower by far than you'd ever think to look at it—lower even than some sixes!

So, why don't you visit the nearest Buick dealer—just to see the surprising news that's written on his price tags?

LOOKING FORWARD

By FRANKLYN WALTMAN

Publicity Director, Republican National Committee

A sweeping investigation of political activities in Federal relief administration, reaching from the very top to the bottom, is forecast by the revelations now being made by Federal grand juries and before the Sheppard Committee Investigating Campaign Expenditures.

Republicans in the next Congress are certain to sponsor such an investigation and a large number of Democrats enthusiastically will support it. Everyone engaged in funny business with relief funds or workers had better watch their step, for they are going to be on a hot spot when Congress gets back to Washington.

What is more, if anything is certain in politics, it is that a movement will be launched in the next Congress to nail Relief Administrator Harry Hopkins and put an end to his arbitrary powers over hundreds of millions of dollars of relief funds.

Mr. Hopkins has been the fair-haired boy of the Roosevelt Administration. He is perhaps closer to Mr. Roosevelt than any other person in the New Deal. He is the biggest employer in the country, having on his payrolls not only more than 28,000 administrative officers and employees, but also more than 3,000,000 relief workers.

Hopkins Is "Mr. Big"

For instance, Mr. Hopkins has an administrative and supervisory staff twice the size of the Commerce Department and larger by some 7,000 persons than the number of persons employed in the Departments of State, Labor and Justice, combined. Whereas a majority of the employees in those four old-line departments have had to run the gauntlet of the Civil Service to get their jobs, Mr. Hopkins has been free to hand out administrative and supervisory jobs to anyone he pleases—and to fire them when he pleases, without any ifs, ands or buts about it. He is the "Mr. Big" of the New Deal.

Even though Mr. Hopkins has had some hard sledding in the last year or so on Capitol Hill, he was safe from Congressional wrath until he commenced stepping on Democratic toes. Harsh as it may sound, it is nevertheless true that House and Senate Democrats did not become outraged about Mr. Hopkins and his meddling into politics as long as he confined his efforts against Republicans. He made his mistake when he became one of the foremost figures in the recent, mournful Democratic purge effort.

Now Mr. Hopkins has against him not only all the Republicans—and as a result of what has happened in the last month they are fighting mad about him and his political activities—but he also has against him all those Democratic Senators who survived the purge—Tydings, George, Adams, Smith and all the others. But he also has against him most of the Democratic Senators who will be up for re-election in 1910. Having seen what he tried to do to their colleagues this year, they propose to take no chances whatever with Mr. Hopkins. They intend to get him before he gets them.

Grand Juries Indict

There are other factors which point to the descent of the bright political star of Harry Hopkins. New Deal politics in relief administration already is commencing to have a bad odor, as evidenced by the indictments returned by the Federal grand juries in New Mexico and New Jersey. For instance, the New Mexico grand jury included in its indictment a son-in-law, a sister, a cousin, and a nephew of Senator Dennis Chavez, of that State. Senator Chavez last spring made the most ardent and moving plea for the rejection of the Hatch Amendment to take politics out of relief. Should he again open his mouth on the subject he would be laughed to scorn, to say the least.

Then there is the case of Senator Morris Sheppard. Last spring he apparently did not believe there was any politics in relief administration for he voted against the Hatch and Austin amendments. But now Senator Sheppard knows what has been going on from his experiences as chairman of the Committee on Campaign Expenditures—and he has had the courage and honesty to shun partisanship and say so.

Let it be recalled that the Hatch Amendment in the Senate was defeated by the close vote of 39 to 37, while the more severe Austin Amendment was defeated 35 to 33. Even then a number of Democrats, as well as all the Republicans, were fed up with the political Mr. Hopkins. Now they are more determined than ever that they will not be undone by any Praetorian Guard led by Mr. Hopkins.

Hopkins Suspected Of Ambition

There is still another factor which points to Mr. Hopkins' early downfall. It is the suspicion that he very definitely cherishes ambitions, believe it or not, to be the Democratic Presidential nominee in 1940. It has been whispered around that one reason why Federal relief rolls are not decreased in response to improved business conditions—even in years in which there are no elections—is that Mr. Hopkins wishes to maintain and build up this relief army as a political machine to further his Presidential aspirations.

For that reason alone there are a number of Democrats who will join hands with the Republicans in the Senate to clip Mr. Hopkins' power. First will come an investigation—the first real, genuine investigation conducted into Mr. Hopkins' activities. It will not be aimed at relief—for that will be maintained as long as necessary; it will be aimed at Mr. Hopkins, his satellites and the Democratic machine bosses who have undertaken to use relief for their political advantage.

It will be a merry party—and when it is over, perhaps, it will not be necessary to do anything about Mr. Hopkins. Despite his rhinoceros hide, perhaps a sensative spot will be found—and perhaps Mr. Hopkins will get sick and resign to go into business. After all, you cannot expect a great patriot like Harry Hopkins to sacrifice his entire life to the public service!

DEMOCRATS TO HOLD BIG ADVANTAGE IN ASSEMBLY

Garrett and Allegany Counties To Send Solid Republican Front

Democrats in the State are going to hold superior majorities over Republicans in both Houses of the Legislature convening at Annapolis next January 4.

Results of last Tuesday's elections, a survey shows, ousted Republicans from five seats in the state senate and about eight in the House of Delegates, with two Charles county seats in doubt.

Democrats won 103 seats in the House and Republicans won 15—compared with the 95 held by Democrats in the last legislature and 23 held by Republicans.

Approximately 82 of the 120 House members will be newcomers whose names were not on the rolls at the last session of the General Assembly, while 21 of the 29 state senators were replaced.

Garrett and Allegany both maintained an unbroken Republican front, but Washington county replaced its Republican senator with a Democrat and gave its Democrats in the house a majority of four to two. Frederick county likewise replaced a Republican senator with a Democrat and gave its house delegation a Democratic four-to-one majority. Charles, Somerset, Carroll and Caroline counties will have Republican senators.

Here are brief sketches of the county's legislators:

Senator

Clifford Friend, Republican, has been in the State Senate since 1934. Forty-three years old, he is a farmer and lumber man, served with the navy in the World War. A native of Pennsylvania, he lives near Accident Md., is married, has three children.

Delegates

Martin Luther Groves, Republican, like Senator Friend, also first went to the Legislature in 1934. A native of Garrett county, he is 43, married and lives with his family on a farm near Swanton, where he raises stock.

Nelson Brenneman, Republican, at 55, is a newcomer to politics. Born and reared in Garrett county, he lives at McHenry with his wife and children and engages in farming.

Darwin B. Martin, Republican, also is a newcomer to politics and is the youngest of the county's delegation. For seven years he was clerk to tax collector at Mountain Lake Park, where he formerly was associated with his father, C. P. Martin, in the mercantile business. Now he is studying law at night school in Baltimore. He was a delegate to the G. O. P. State convention in 1931. He's married and has a family.

STATE ROADS COMMISSION READY TO CONQUER SNOW

Fences Up At Points Where Drifting Is Likely To Occur

The State Roads Commission from end to end of Maryland, but especially in Garrett county, is ready to cope with snows that may or may not come during the months ahead. A small army of men equipped with modern power machinery has been assigned to the task of keeping the highways clear.

Thirty miles of snow fences in Garrett county, and a total of one hundred fifty miles throughout the State, have been erected at points where observations over a period of years indicate drifting is likely to occur. And the big fleet of plows to clear the highways has been made ready for immediate use.

Two hundred and fifty heavy-duty motor trucks have been fitted with "A" frames and underframes of heavy welded steel members to which pusher type plows may be readily attached.

To cope with deep snow and drifts which pushed plows can't remove satisfactorily, fifteen powerful rotary-type plows, two of them in this county, which pick up the snow much after the fashion of a giant vacuum cleaner, and then blow it far to one side, have been made ready. Thirty "V"-type plows, mounted on heavy-duty tractors, are also available to aid in keeping highways open. Garrett county has three other tractor plows and 25 truck plows.

Hills To Be Treatetd

Moreover, along bad curves and on steep hills, piles of cinder sand and slag and shovels have been placed so that in event of sleet dangerous points may be treated to prevent skidding of vehicles.

Foremen in charge of the various shops of the Commission have been instructed just what to do when snow begins to fall, and when sleet storms come, men will leave their homes and report to their posts immediately so that the work of clearing will keep pace with the snowfall.

OPENED BARBER SHOP IN OAKLAND WHILE FUGITIVE

Is Recognized And Jailed; Held On Assault Charge In Allegany

Assigned Saturday in the Justice of the Peace Court in Cumberland on charges of assaulting a State policeman and carrying concealed weapons, James H. Winebrenner, 25, of Corrigansville, was committed to the Allegany county jail in default of $1,500 boml for action of the Allegany county grand jury.

Winebrenner was apprehended in Oakland by Officer Carl G. Storm, State Police, after he hed eluded officers since last April 21, when he battled several officers who sought to arrest him at his home. A .38 calibre revolver, which police said he brandished during the fight, was exhibited in court.

Winebrenner, a powerfully-built man, was accused of attacking Sergt. A. M. Spioch, State Police, when officers went to his home on April 21, after neighbors reported he had made a threat to kill his wife and chased her from her home. He fled in the darkness and fell into Wills Creek while the officers were chasing him. Winebrenner said he was ill for several weeks from exposure and an injured knee.

After wandering about the country several months, he came to Oakland and opened a barber shop on Third street, where Officer Storm recognized him.

Hagerstown Choir To Give Program Here December 3rd

Much interest appears to be displayed in the coming visit of the Hagerstown a cappella choir to Oakland on Saturday, December 3, when a program is to be presented in the High school auditorium.

The Hagerstown group took first place in the Mt. Lake Choral festival in 1937, and participated this year, although not competing for prizes in the contest. Tickets are being sold for 15 and 25 cents.

Those who are volunteering to "put up" two for the night and provide breakfast, are requested to notify Mrs. Irene U. Brann, Oakland. One free ticket will be given each one who does this.

The program is being sponsored by the Oakland Community choir. The local group sang selections from "Elijah" last Sunday afternoon in the Methodist church.

Former County Resident Shoots Himself At Daughter's Home

Edgar Barnard, 47, of Westernport, former Garrett county resident, shot aml killed himself last Saturday morning about 7 o'clock, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Gilbert Warnick, at Keyser, W. Va., where he had been visiting for the past few weeks.

When found in his room, Mr. Barnard was fully clothed except for his shoes. He had used a shot gun arranged so that he evidently pulled the trigger with his toe. The shot went through his heart.

A note said ill health was the reason for suicide. Mr. Barnard, who was employed as a school bus driver from Bloomington to Westernport, had been unable to work recently because of illness. He and his children moved from Chestnut Grove, near Bloomington, to Westernport, several months ago.

Besides Mrs. Warnick, three other children survive, Mrs. J. C. Titchnell, near Westernport; Helen, June and William, at home.

STATEMENT SHOWS WHERE RED CROSS MONEY GOES

Annual Report Is Made By Mrs. E. Z. Tower, County Chairman

A financiel statement of the Garrett County chapter of the American Red Cross, made by Mrs. E. Z. Tower, chairman, shows receipts of $219.25 during the year, $201.50 of which was half the memberships from 403 members in last year's drive. The other half goes to National headquarters.

Expenditures included glasses for children, $63; Chinese relief, $30; stranded transients, $16.50; Home hygiene and first aid books, $10.80; aid for World War Veterans, $10; and other small items.

Other activities included two classes in first aid conducted by Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, and one now being instructed by Dr. H. R. DuPuy, county health officer; instruction in two home hygiene and care of the sick groups; furnishing clothing to 1195 individuals from supplies furnished by national headquarters. Of this number 549 were school children. Twelve half-fare tickets have been used in transportation. The Oakland Girl Scout troop, No. 1, under Mrs. Nelson Krause, captain, and Miss Beryl Davis, lieutenant, made 20 layettes from material furnished by the Red Cross chapter. A high school student also made a layette.

The Red Cross roll call for memberships for the ensuing year, is now being conducted. A call for the support of all citizens is being made.

Self-Help University Has Now Completed Nine Weeks Of Study

The Mountain Lake Self Help University has now completed its first nine weeks of curricular activities with seven instructors teaching thirteen classes. The school began on September 17.

Work is now under way to complete the gymnasium at the Assembly Hall, and regular basketball practice is to get started by December 1, according to B. L. Linsey, instructor in physical education.

Miss Frances Miller, of the university staff, and a former missionary to China, gave an interesting lecture on "Changing China," in the Lutheran church in Oakland last Sunday evening. A quartet composed of Dorothy Kelly, Louise Raymer, Bernice Campbell and Henrietta Peyton, sang "Publish Glad Tydings."

The ministerial society of the university and their adviser, Dr. W. B. Love, met in honor of the birthday anniversary of Professor C. B. Doren, at the home of Miss Josie Weimer, in the Park, last Wednesday evening, November 16.

The regular meeting of the Patrons' Association is scheduled for next Tuesday evening, November 29, at the college building. Everyone is invited to attend. A program is being arranged.

Mr. Rathbun said the new instructor would teach English, mathematics and music. Several are under consideration, but no appointment has been made.

DR. NAT T. FRAME TALKS AT ANNUAL 4-H BANQUET

"Take time out for recreation and an enjoyment of nature, music, and the fine arts," Dr. Nat T. Frame, former West Virginia Extension director, and now director of Oglebay Institute, near Wheeling, told 125 or more people who attended the annual 4-H club banquet at Friendsville last Friday evening.

Dr. Frame was the principal speaker on the program and he brought out the idea of the proper use of time for the better things in life, even though "you had to get the hay in the barn before it rained." An appreciation of the finer things in life is important just as the work on a farm, was his opinion, expressed to 4-H club members, the older youth group, and parents, who attended.

Miss Jessie Guard, Friendsville, toastmistress. Rev. R. L. Greynolds spoke briefly and a number of guests were introduced. Mrs. Delma Arnold and Mrs. Frances Smith, Kitzmiller, rendered special music. A candle service, at the close of the meeting, was led by Mylo S. Downey, assistant in club work for Maryland. The meeting was under the direction of John H. Carter, county agent, Miss Mildred Barton, home demonstration agent, and members of the Garrett County Youth club.

FIFTY-SEVEN MARRIAGES PERFORMED DURING WEEK

Brings November Total To 153; New Law Effective December 8

Fifty-seven marriage licenses were issued during the past week ending Tuesday noon from the office of The clerk of the Circuit Court, bringing the total for November thus far to 153. Fifteen of those issued were on Saturday. One applicant was refused, while ten of the number were marked "don't publish."

After December 8, a forty-eight hour delay will be in effect between the time of application, and the time of issuance. Just what effect this new law will have on revenue for the clerk's office, is problematical. For the past number of years the revenue from various fees, after the state's share is subtracted, was sufficient to purchase all record books and supplies of that nature, relieving the County Commissioners from this expense.

The fact that girls may marry younger in this state than in most nearby states may tend to keep the number of licenses obtained here over the 1,200 mark, as it was several years ago before restrictions were passed in Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

Maryland law permits issuance of a license to an 18-year-old girl without parental consent, while several adjoining states require the girl to be 21 before a license can be obtained without consent. Neighboring states also have a waiting period uniformly longer than that required in Maryland. There is a three-day wait in Pennsylvania and West Virginia, and a five-day wait in Ohio. Increase of the license fee from $2 to $3 is also seen as tending to offset any revenue decrease resulting from fewer licenses.

Falls 65 Feet Into Deep Creek Lake While Painting Bridge

Walter Bell, about 27 years of age, while engaged in painting the Deep Creek bridge, 10 miles north of Oakland, fell a distance of 65 feet into the lake, and narrowly escaped drowning.

Fellow workmen immediately began the work of rescue and dropped block and tackle lines to him. Bell was reported to be a good swimmer but his clothing hampered him greatly and he was having difficulty keeping afloat. He was able to grab one of the lines tossed to him and was hauled to safety.

OAKLAND MERCHANT WINS INSURANCE CLAIM SUIT

Jury Returns Verdict For Plaintiff In Amount Of $1,783

The claim of Frank H. Feld, Oakland merchant, against the Equitable Life Insurance society, was upheld late Monday by a jury in Circuit court of Allegany county, at Cumberland.

After deliberating an hour, the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff in the amount of $1,783.

The amount represents disability benefits allegedly due Feld on three policies held with the company, together with premiums paid on them.

The jury declined to assess interest on the claim, amounting to $231, which would have brought the total to $2,015.

Trial of the suit was begun Friday morning and resumed Monday morning after a week-end recess.

Feld claimed total disability from December, 1935, to September, 1936, and asked payment of benefits totaling $125 a month.

Testimony purporting to show that the plaintiff was actively engaged in business during the period he was alleged disabled was introduced by the defendant company.

Lengthy depositions of doctors who had treated Feld for a throat disorder and other ailments were read to the jury.

W. W. Dawson and E. Ray Jones, of Oakland, and William A. Gunter, of Cumberland, were attorneys for the plaintiff, while William S. Jenkins and Walter C. Capper, of Cumberland, represented the defendant.

The case went to the jury after almost two hours of argument by opposing counsel.

Mr. Feld was a former merchant at Weston, W. Va., and was a patient at Hopemont in 1931, later removing to Oakland in 1932, where he and his brothers opened the Half-Price Stores. There are now stores at Petersburg, Franklin, W. Va., in addition to the Moorefield, Parsons, Kingwood, and Oakland store.

Heaviest Demand For Hunting Permits Since 1930

State Game Department officials have reported the heaviest demand for hunting licenses since 1930. An additional 3,000 permits, of various kinds, were ordered from printers on a "rush" basis when court clerks in every county suddenly began reporting sell-outs.

Sales thus far indicated the 65,740 licenses originally distributed in the countys were nearly gone and that the total issued would exceed 70,000. Eighteen counties reported sell-outs in county resident permits and ordered 5,300 additional. Heaviest sales were registered in Baltimore, Allegany and Garrett counties.

There had been 2328 resident permits issued at the office of A. G. Ross, clerk of the circuit court, in Oakland, up to Tuesday noon.

HENRY TARRING IS NAMED WPA RESIDENT ENGINEER

Change Effective December 1; To Bave Office in Cumberland

A "step-up" along the line of WPA officials was announced this week to include Henry Tarring, Jr., who has been field supervisor in charge of Garrett county for the past two years.

Mr. Tarring will become resident engineer for Garrett and Allegany counties, with offices in Cumberland, effective December 1st, while E. F. Hovermill, who is now resident engineer there will become area supervisor of operations, with headquarters in Frederick.

Mr. Tarring's place here will be filled by James Pollock, who has been supervising timekeeper in the Oakland office for a number of months. No appointment has been made for the position of timekeeper, but this is expected shortly.

Mr. Tarring will continue to maintain his residence here, at least for the time oeing, he stated. He is a member of the local Rotary club, and was instrumental in obtaining the municipal golf course for Oakland.

ROTARY CLUB TO SPONSOR BOYS' BAND ORGANIZATION

Permanent Committee Is Named —Will Seek Budget of $600

The Oakland Rotary club unanimously decided last Friday evening to sponsor the Oakland Boys band and make a permanent organization for the youth of the town. The plan of organization was presented to the Rotarians by Delbert Davis, and at a meeting of the Board of Directors at Table Rock on Monday evening, a permanent hand committee was appointed.

The committee includes Delbert Davis, chairman, Grover C. Stemple, Dr. W. W. Grant, Ralph E. Weber, Arthur Lawton, Foster D. Bittle and Emroy Bolden. A temporary committee, elected several weeks ago, met with Mayor Lawrence Fraley and worked out the details which were presented to the club last Friday night.

The organization will seek a budget of $600 annually. Legislation already makes it mandatory for the town to levy $200 annually. The club expects to obtain $150 from town organizations, and donations from citizens amounting to $250.

With this budget it will be possible to pay a band leader and to take care of other necessary expenses. A practice session is being planned for next Tuesday evening.

Gonder - Wooddell — Miss Kathryn Wooddell, a daughter of Mrs. Sallie Wooddell, and Mr. Bernard I. Gonder were married in Cumberland Tuesday morning, November 22. The wedding came as a surprise to a large number of friends.

Mr. Gonder left Oakland early on Tuesday morning, apparently to attend to some business matters in Baltimore and then continue to Durham, N. C., for the Pitt-Duke football game on Saturday. A telegram to relatives here said he would carry out his plans, except there would be tickets for two.

Mr. Gonder operates the Maryland Theatre, Oakland, and the Grand Theatre, Friendsville, and is the representative of the Western Union Telegraph company here.

The bride has been in the employ of the Shaffer Jewelry store for a year or more.

FAIRCHANCE LUMBER CO. LOW BIDDER ON SCHOOLS

Additions To Be Built To Oakland Elementary And Kitzmiller High School in Near Future

BIDS OPENED ON SATURDAY

The Fairchance Lumber Company, Fairchance, Pa., was low bidder on both additions to the Oakland Elementary School and the Kitzmiller High School, it was announced by F. E. Rathbun, County Superintendent, following the public opening of bids in the office of the Board of Education last Saturday afternoon.

At the time more than twenty-five interested parties were present, including Ralph Hutchins, of the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works, and F. J. Thurman, of Smith and May, architects.

There were four bids submitted on the Oakland Elementary addition, and five bids on the Kitzmiller addition, as follows:

Oakland Elementary

Fairchance Lumber Company, Fairchance, Pa., $35,995.

George F. Hazelwood, Cumberland, $42,735.

Paul S. Horner Company, Clarksburg, W. Va., $46,000.

Hardesty Brothers, Oakland, $18,-227.

Kitzmiller School

Fairchance Lumber Co., $40,995.

Geo. F. Hazelwood, $46,289.

Paul S. Horner Co., $48,713.

Snider Brothers, Keyser, West Va., $47,430.

Hardesty Brothers, $52,995.

The Board, at its meeting, authorized W. W. Dawson, president, and F. E. Rathbun, secretary, to enter into formal contracts for the construction of additions and alterations to the two buildings in accordance with the legal requirements of the Maryland public school law and the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works.

The contract will be awarded to the Fairchance Lumber Company, following formal approval by the PWA authorities, Mr. Rathbun stated.

Actual construction work on the addition to the Oakland addition is expected to get under way on Friday.

KITZMILLER TRIMS HUB CITY BUT LOSES FINALS

Soccer Team Defeated By Lackey High In Western Shore Championship

Scoring all its points in the last quarter Lackey High school came from behind to defeat Kitzmiller High 4 to 2 and win the Western Shore soccer championship in a contest at Frederick on Monday afternoon.

Both of Kitzmiller's points were scored in the third quarter.

Kitzmiller had reached the finals by defeating Hagerstown High at Hancock last Thursday afternoon by a score of 4 to 0. In the Hagerstown game, Moore, right inside forward made a goal in the first period and Markley, center forward, booted one in the second. The entire Kitzmiller team seemed to play inspired soccer to completely outclass the Hub city boys.

The team is composed of Weicht, goal Crosco, right fullbacks; Youkon, left fullback; Cardaro, Gough, and Pratt, halfbacks; Paugh, Moore, Melvic, Markley, Hershberger, on the forward line.

This is the most advancement that a Garrett county soccer team has ever made in state tournament play. The team is coached by Joseph Sollars, former Oakland High student and Frostburg State Teachers College graduate. While in high school Sollars was goalkeeper for the Oakland High soccer team.

Laymen's League To Have Minstrel and Amateur Contest

Members of the Layman's League of St. Matthew's church are arranging for a combined minstrel and amateur contest, to be held in the Parish house on Tuesday evening, December 6. Tickets will be 10 and 15 cents. Simon Cogley and his associates will have charge of the minstrel show. Any amateurs specializing in musical, dance and other original numbers may enter the contest by applying to Mr. Cogley, Oakland, or to Dr. Oscar Hall, Mt. Lake Park. Cash prizes for the contest are being offered.

Safety Expert To Measure "Dime" On Which Car Can Be Stopped

Measurements of the "dime" on which many drivers claim they can stop their cars, will feature a safety demonstration, to be given at Accident High school, on Friday, December 2, at 9 a. m., by Harry M. Pontious, of Columbus, O., safety director of a farm bureau organization, according to Ross Speicher, district manager.

The device to measure the "dime" consists of two 138 calibre revolvers loaded with yellow paint and mounted on the front bumper. One gun is fired by the demonstrator as a signal for the driver to apply his brakes. Another gun is connected to the brake pedal and is fired when the brake is applied. The distance between the marks made on the pavement will represent the reaction distance. The distance will also be measured from the second mark to the point where the car is finally brought to a stop. The two distances will represent the actual stopping distance.

Drivers to take the test will be selected from the crowd. Two tests will be run at 20 miles per hour, one at 30, and perhaps one at 40. A half-hour lecture, "Safety on the streets and highways," will precede the demonstration, which will be held on the street in front of the school.

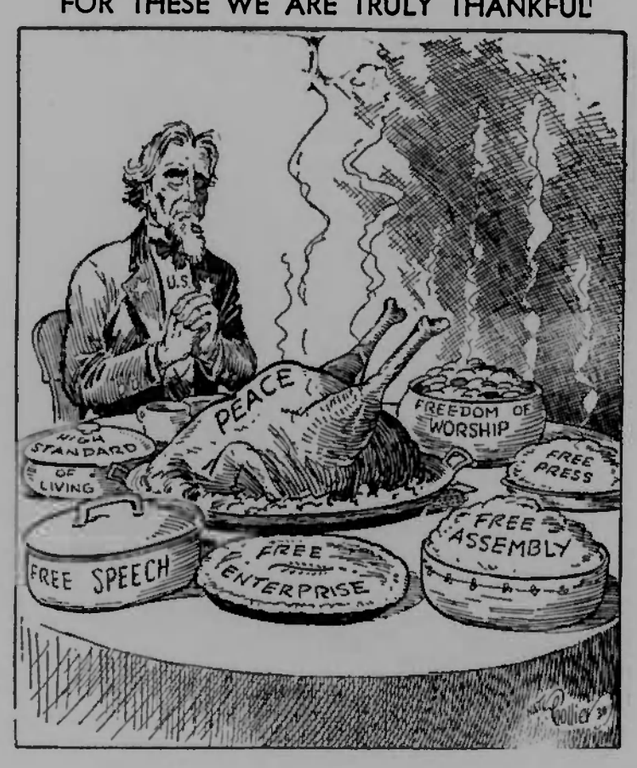
THANKSGIVING

WHEN, in 1620, the Pilgrim Fathers set up a cross on the shores of New England and knelt in prayer, they humbly returned thanks for their safe journey across the sea, and for their deliverance to America where they could worship according to the dictates of their own hearts.

FOR THESE WE ARE TRULY THANKFUL



NOW, in 1938, let every American ponder the thoughts in the hearts of those people on the first Thanksgiving Day and truly no period in history could prompt America to be more thankful or more grateful than we are on this Thanksgiving Day.

REAL SPORTSMEN AROUSED—

Real sportsmen are being aroused in Garrett county to such an extent that before long there may not be such utter disregard for the game laws as there is at the present time.

Conservation of wild life is a subject about which more has been said and less done than anything in the world except the weather, but with America's wild-life population on the downhill skids, Garrett county included, sportsmen of this area are awaking to the fact that something must be done.

A member of the State Game department was brought here Monday to discuss the question with a number of hunters and sportsmen. That gentleman was given "an ear full" of the lack of enforcement and the utter disregard of game laws. He was told of the continual practice by scores of people of hunting deer out of season, of killing pheasants and other game at almost anytime, and of having dogs in the woods after game, out of season.

Hunting and fishing are two valuable assets for Garrett county, and if this section is to remain a resort area, a sportsmen's paradise, and a place that will attract others in the future, these assets will have to be preserved along with conservation of our natural resources such as forests, streams and lakes.

Throughout the county groups of citizens are forming Wild Life Protective Associations, Gun Clubs, etc., whose purpose is to properly protect these assets. They will attempt to educate the people to have regard for the laws, and to enforce these laws, if they continue to be disregarded.

Any true sportsmen will agree that the game laws are considered jokes here in this county, and such a situation is deplorable.

We need respect for game laws, and a sincere desire for conservation. Americans seem to be pouring down the rathole much of that which Nature gave them. Purposeful organizations such as are being formed in Garrett county can do much to stop such a practice.

BITTINGER

A special Thanksgiving service, with an interesting program, will be held in the Lutheran church on Thursday evening, Thanksgiving Day, and all are cordially invited to attend.

A number of Reverend gentlemen, ministers from the various sections of the county, were entertained by the Rev. and Mrs. A. C. Curran at the Lutheran parsonage in this village last Monday.

Miss Bulah Buckle, Cumberland, is spending this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Buckle, at their home here.

Dr. Gracy, Cumberland, came to this neighborhood for a day's hunting last Saturday, but the rain fell steadily most of the day and the Doctor was obliged to return to the city without any sport or game.

The ladies of the Womans' Missionary society will serve, at reasonable prices, an excellent lunch on next Saturday on the Charles H. Wiley farm, near here, while Mr. Wiley is disposing of his personal property.

Miss Marie Stark, who has been employed in Grantsville during the past summer, has returned to her home here for an indefinite stay.

Ira Hnff, the genial proprietor of the Grantsville Market, was a pleasant business caller in this village one evening last week.

The local Home Makers club was entertained at their regular monthly meeting in the home of Mrs. Lawrence Fortney, Thursday afternoon.

Miss June Brenneman, Cumberland, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Brenneman, in this village.

Messrs. Cheston Browning and Blaine Gieseman, Oakland, passed through this section one day last week.

James P. Treacy has had a substantial second story porch built on the rear of his apartment house adjacent to The Republican office, the work being done by Robert Glass.

To The Editor of The Republican:
Sir:

When will our farmers, and people in general, wake up to the terrible damage which is being done to Garrett County by the destruction of her forests? The last two or three years have seen the cutting of trees on such a wide scale that the County Agricultural Agent says there are not enough left to keep the top-soil from blowing away. And still the damage continues, although even timber dealers complain of poor business and low prices. Not only this, but many a fine shade tree in town and country has been sacrificed for no apparent reason.

Everybody knows of the steady increase of high winds here. Perhaps everyone does not think of the flood damage to lower territories, and yet this forest devastation is primarily responsible.

We are systematically driving out our game and birds, for even where trees are spared, there is so much clearing of undergrowth that no cover is left. And with the going of the birds, harmful insects are greatly on the increase.

There seems to be a universal tendency to clear away. Do not the persons who do this realize that Garrett County's principal charm lies in her rugged woods, and that to attempt to make cultivated parks of them spoils their natural beauty, beside leaving no shelter for game? How can we expect this County to become a playground or summer resort if it is devastated of trees, or tamed into a series of parks? Witness the pitiable spectacle of Route No. 219 this last year or two.

HUNTERS SHOULD SEEK ONLY HEALTHY RABBITS

Precautions Are Urged As Safeguards Against Rabbit Fever

With the hunting season under way, and with rabbits on the menu again, Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the Maryland State Department of Health, cautions hunters, market men, housewives, and cooks, and any others who have occasion to handle the game, to be sure they bag, or buy, healthy specimens, only, and to exercise special care inskinning the rabbits and in preparing the meat for the market or for the table. Cooks and housewives are advised that all rabbit meat prepared for the table should be cooked thoroughly.

"All of these precautions are urged," Dr. Riley continued, "as safeguards against contracting rabbit fever. If you are a hunter or food handler you probably have heard of the disease and know that it is contracted in handling diseased rabbits—wild rabbits, particularly. While it is familiarly known as rabbit fever, it is also listed in the text books as Tularemia, from the place in California in which it was first identified.

"The disease spreads from animal to animal through the bite of infected ticks, or of ceratin kinds of flies. It attacks wild rabbits, particularly. Domestic rabbits, as a rule, are free from it, probably because they are not exposed to ticks. Human beings contract the disease either in handling, skinning, or cutting up the meat of the infected animals, through the bite of infected ticks, or in crushing the ticks. The infection can be absorbed into the system through an open cut, or even the merest scratch in the skin. Severe cases have occurred through rubbing infectious material into the eyes, while preparing the meat for the table. The disease has even been contracted in handling the fur of infected animals.

"Fortunately not all wild animals are infected and sportsmen are warned to be on their guard against the animals that move slowly or seem to be sick, and to kill only those that are lively and alert and that move quickly.

"If you handle the game or prepare the meat for the market or the table use the following precautions:

"Use rubber gloves. Don't handle the game with bare hands. If it is impossible to use rubber gloves, wash the hands thoroughly with soap and water after handling a rabbit.

"Don't allow the meat or fur to come in contact with any scratch or open cut in your skin. Keep your hands away from your face and your eyes.

"Burn all papers or wrappings that have been in contact with the game.

"Be careful in handling rabbit fur. Don't give the fuzzy tails or 'the left hind foot' to the children to play with.

"If you buy your rabbit meat for the table, have the rabbit skinned for you.

"Cook the meat thoroughly. Complete cooking destroys the germs of the disease."

Married

Brookhart-Engle—Miss Martha M. Engle, daughter of Mrs. Etta V. Engle and the late Ralph Engle, of near Grantsville, and Maurice S. Brookhart were married Saturday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock at the Methodist Episcopal church, Hagerstown by the Rev. Mr. Horn, pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Spoerlein, of Dillsburg, Pa., were the attendants.

The bride attended St. Mary's Seminary, St. Mary's, Md., and was graduated from Western Maryland college, Westminster, in 1928. Since then she has been teaching in Garrett county, having been an instructor in the Grantsville high school for the past several years, prior to which she taught in Oakland high school.

Mr. Brookhart, formerly of Baltimore, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Brookhart, Sr., has been employed as cost and progress accountant by the local headquarters of the Bureau of Agriculture Economics for the past two and a half years. He is a graduate of the Baltimore School of accounting.

Thanksgiving the Day of Feasting

Thanksgiving and the Fourth of July are the only two nationally observed holidays peculiar to the United States. We share Christmas and Easter with other countries, but on Thanksgiving and Independence Day we hold monoply. Just why this should be is a question. Others have as much to be thankful for as we do, but apparently they are thankful for their blessings when they remember to be, and have not set aside a day for gratitude.

We all know how Thanksgiving started. How the fifty-five English people who survived the year in America set aside a day in which to give thanks and invited Massassoit to come to dinner. Now Massassoit, being an unusual man, brought along ninety companions. How the good Pilgrim mothers worried about having enough to feed the unexpected guests, hut how the Indians obligingly brought their own venison, and some to share, besides.

Thanksgiving became a regularly observed holiday in New England, and later spread to the other states. The governor of each state issued a Thanksgiving proclamation to suit his fancy, and until 1863 it was possible to boast of having eaten four Thanksgiving dinners in as many states, for rarely did any two governors have the same inclinations. In this year, however, Abraham Lincoln set the example, and since then succeeding presidents have proclaimed the last Thursday in November as Thanksgiving Day.

The words Thanksgiving and dinner go together as unfailingly as Christmas and tree. Perhaps because a well-fed person gives thanks more sincerely than a hungry one. Possibly Governor Bradford realized this tendency of future Americans—to be thankful chiefly on full stamochs—and set an example by proclaiming the first Thanksgiving as a day of feasting. We wonder, though, is Thanksgiving more of a holiday than a holy day? Do we think more of the dinner we get than the thanks we give?

Mr. Brown has made out an order for 275 new books for the school library. These include eighty-two prominent works of fiction and books of travel, adventure, biography, science, social studies, and physical education by well-known authors. These volumes will raise the number of books in the library to something over twenty-five hundred.

Some of the outstanding books include Siple's "Boy Scout With Byrd," Robert's, "Northwest Passage," Young's "So Red the Rose," Hurt's, "Goals—The life of Knute Pockne," and the recently published book, "Maryland—1938," a W.P.A. printer's project.

These are only a few of the many and interesting books.

If you should walk into one of the biology classes this year, you might see hundreds of microscopic animals bustling about in a drop of water, or you might see in an ordinary onion that you eat every day, brick-like little parts lined up end to end and side by side like a pavement, as well as many other interesting things.

This has been made possible through the efforts of the school, Miss Dillon, and the County Board of Education, by purchasing a machine that is called a microprojector. Heretofore our work has been handicapped in using a single microscope. The basis of all biology is microscopic and it has been almost impossible for each person in a large class to spend more than a minute or two looking through the microscope during a single period.

The microprojector works on the following principal. A powerful light is formed by an arc lamp. This goes through a tube, strikes a mirror, and is reflected up through the object placed on the microscope stage. At the top a reflecting prism causes an image to be formed on the screen. Everyone in the class then sees the same thing at the same time. This new equipment represents a considerable advance for the science department, and Miss Dillon deserves a lot of praise for her efforts used in obtaining this splendid machine.

One hundred nine pupils made the honor roll for the first term, 35 freshmen, 25 sophomores, 20 juniors, and 28 seniors.

State's 1939 License Plates To Reverse Present Colors

The gaudiest display of license plate colors ever seen on American highways will appear in 1939, the Automobile Club of Maryland reports in announcing color schemes for next year's auto tags.

At the same time, it is noted there is a great increase in recent years of the use of slogans and decorative designs on license plates, giving them greater individuality and making it easy to identify immediately the State of origin.

"Thirty-one States have adopted entirely new color schemes for 1939," according to Leonard E. Kolmer, general manager of the Automobile Club. "Sixteen States and the District of Columbia have contented themselves with the present colors and will merely reverse them as to numerals and background. One State, Connecticut, which is using 'permanent' plate, will stick to its black-on-aluminum combination. Maryland will reverse the present color scheme, using green letters on white background.

MT. LAKE PARK

This is Thanksgiving week and we may think we do not have a great deal to be thankful for, but if you start to figure you will find more than you thought. There was an old song that we used to hear in Sunday school class and sometimes we heard it in Campmeeting days, "Count your blessings one by one." At least that is the way we remember it. And when you start to count you will be surprised what you really do have to be thankful for.

We know of one group that will be thankful. We refer to a "covey" (we hope that term is correct) of pheasants, or several in fact. On Sunday a group of young sportsmen from Loch Lynn went out and put up shelters for them—a great number were wandering around almost frozen. By the way, this group of young men will bear watching—they are in great earnest about the game laws and the game in Garrett county, they are all for protecting the game of the county and they are doing many things worth while. We understand that they are members in good standing of the Youghiogheny Protective Wild Life League. There is much that we could not learn this week. Other than Mr. Lloyd Cook is president of the organization. Next week we hope to give you something interesting on this fine group of people.

Last week something happened to our column. It was in the office but things came up and it had to be withheld. From the number of people who gave us the "dickens" we figured we would not have much this week—and, the funny part is we don't. So.

Mrs. Daisy B. Hicks entertained her Sunday school class on Friday night with a delightful party at her home here. Those present were Mrs. H. V. Leighton, Mrs. Wiley Welling, Jr., Mrs. E. E. Friend, Mrs. Alice Falkenstine, Mrs. C. A. Burke, Miss Ada V. Leighton, Mrs. Albert Brown, Mrs. W. B. Love, Mrs. Gregory Bleakly, Mrs. A. V. Schaeffer, Mrs. Mary May, Mrs. Albert White, Mrs. Camphor, Mrs. Ernest Wotring, Mrs. Albert Schrock, Mrs. Schoup, and Mrs. W. B. Brock. Assisting Mrs. Hicks was Mrs. Wiley Welling, Jr. Earlier in the evening Mr. H. V. Leighton, class superintendent of the Methodist church, dropped in and talked to the class. Refreshments of pumpkin pie, coffee, mints and nuts were served. Games were played and a general meeting held.

Mr. and Mrs. John Stevenson and daughter are moving into the Warder Cressen property this week for the winter.

Last Saturday the young folk of the Park held a theatre party at the Maryland theatre. Those in the party were Willard Hayden, May Lou Sanner, Douglas Dawson, Joyce Welling, Robert Stevenson and Nancy Bolden. This is a weekly social affair with these young people.

Luther Walters, of Deer Park, was a Park visitor the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hinchcliff and children have rented the Wildman cottage for the winter. Mr. Hinchcliff is with the Loch Lynn Garage.

Union Thanksgiving services at Mt. Lake Park will be held at the Methodist Episcopal church on Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. Rev. E. A. Crites will deliver the invocation, with Rev. W. B. Orndorff giving the scripture lesson, and the sermon.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Griffith, Baltimore, spent several days with Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Shipley, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Kimmell, of Wolf Summit, were guests of Mrs. Nine and Mrs. Schooley over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Miller, Friendsville, spent the week-end with Mrs. Miller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. White.

Roland Ready will spend his Thanksgiving vacation here with his mother, Mrs W. C. Ready.

Mrs. M. M. Schrock has gone to Miami, Fla., for the winter.

Mrs. Frank Warren and son, Mrs. Kirkpatrick, of Wheeling, West Va., were guests of Mrs. Clara Cochran over the week-end.

Oil Paintings Made Into Unique Chest

Miss Miriam Peck, of Springs, Pa., an art student of Miss Carolyn Wallace at Holmes-Wallace studios here for the past year, has done exceptional work. Among her most recent work were four original oil paintings of scenes from Shakespeare's "Macbeth" which she has had made into a chest, 20 inches long, 10½ inches high and 10½ inches wide, which will be lined with plaid silk. The pictures, each framed in natural linished wood, are entitled "Birnam Wood comes to Dunsinane," "The Sleep Walking Scene," "Witches on the Heath," and "Infirm of Purpose, Give Me the Dagger." It will be on exhibition at the studios some evening in the near future. Although painting was not taken seriously until September, 1937, when she enrolled in the art department at the studios, Miss Peck has been drawing ever since she can remember and has been painting off and on for eight years. A life-size portrait of herself, 18 by 28 inches, is an example of her fine artistic talent.

Oakland High Anticipates Successful Basketball Season

With the declining of the soccer season, the athletes turn their attention to basketball.

Approximately 40 bays turned out for the first practice. The group is divided into two squads, 12 boys on the "A" team, and 25 boys on the "B" team. Mr. Baucom, as usual, will have charge of the varsity team and Mr. Slaysman, a new member of our faculty, is entrusted with the "B" squad.

Practice has been in full swing for two weeks and the teams are beginning to take shape.

By the way, have you noticed the splendid new basketball shoes the boys are wearing? These were bought by the boys themselves and as we have learned from experience, they're certainly easy on the feet. ("Ducky" Fazzalari's and "Meshack" Browning's were so large they had to be shipped in boxcars.)

By the time the first opposing team shows up, Oakland should have a team that will give any opponent a tough fight.

The first game scheduled is with Central High, of Lonaconing, on December 2. This will be played on the home court.

FEDERAL JURY CONDEMNS LAND FOR RESETTLEMENT

U. S. Government Becomes Possessor Of 1,000 More Acres Of Land In Garrett County

OWNERS AWARDED $1,000

The United States government was the possessor of 1,000 more acres of Garrett county land, and three Garrett county residents were some $4,000 richer as a result of condemnation proceedings completed Tuesday in United States district court at Cumberland.

The September term jury returned a verdict in the case Tuesday afternoon after viewing the land, which the department of agriculture wanted for a reclamation project.

Condemnation proceedings were necessary to clear the titles on the tracts, six in number, it was explained by C. Ross McKendrick, of Baltimore, assistant United States attorney.

Salem O. Broadwater was awarded approximately $2,800 for two tracts; Earl H. Ault, approximately $200 for one tract; and Stuart F. Hamill, approximately $1,000 for three tracts.

The land is in the Grantsville area, where the state and federal governments already have approximately 35,000 acres for a project looking to prevention of soil erosion, floods, and forest fires.

Judge William C. Coleman, Baltimore, presided, and the government was represented by Paul A. Ulman, Oakland, junior administrator of the Soil Conservation service, and Mr. McKendrick.

The jurors heard testimony as to the valuation of the property Tuesday. The preceding day they had been taken to the scene by U. S. Deputy Marshal Howard P. Loughrie.

ALLOTMENT APPROVED FOR SEALING OLD MINES

WPA Provides $114,000 For The Work In Garrett and Allegany

Considerable interest is being attached in Garrett and Allegany counties to the announcement that a WPA allotment of $114,000 has been approved for sealing abandoned mines in the two counties for the protection of the public health.

The project, sponsored by the Maryland State Board of Health, is being carried out by a force of seventy-eight men under the general supervision of S. Graff Haverstick, of Frostburg. Gershon Anthony, of Frostburg, is superintending the work in Allegany county and John T. Hughes, of Gorman, the work in Garrett county.

The operations at present, according to Mr. Haverstick, consist of sealing with clay and masonry surface crevices through which water enters the mines.

Two New Instructors In Oakland Elementary School

No instructor has been named yet to the additional teaching position made available last week by an announcement of Dr. Albert S. Cook, State Superintendent.

F. E. Rathlun, county superintendent, said several applicants are being considered.

There are two new teachers in the Oakland Elementary school, Miss Eleanor Sneed, Speers, Pa., and Miss Margaret E. Renstrom, of Fayette City, Pa. Both are graduates of the California State Teachers' College, California, Pa.

Miss Sneed takes Mrs. Leona Hart's place, and Mrs. Hart takes Mrs. Doren's place, in the fourth grade. Mrs. Doren had been substitute teacher for several weeks. Miss Renstrom takes the place of Mrs. Hall, in the seventh grade.

Four Men Held On Charges Of Theft

Before Justice of the Peace C. C. Campton, at Keyser, West Va., on last Saturday afternoon, Joe Burrell, 28; James Burrell, 24; Rowland Davis, 26, and Mike Hershberger, 24, all of Kitzmiller, Garrett county, were committed to the Mineral county jail, being unable to furnish bond for $500 each for their appearance at the grand jury term of court in that county.

The four men stand accused of taking seven cases of beer from the beer garden operated by Hugh Strachan, of Blaine, West Va., the night of November 21.

Recommended For Postmaster

J. Frank Browning has been recommended by Representative David J. Lewis for the position of acting postmaster, which will become vacant on January 1 when the resignation of Mrs. Frances H. Matthews takes effect.

Mr. Browning for the past several years has been city clerk for the Mayor and Town Council.

There may be other recommendations by the Democratic State Central committee, but thus far no names have been mentioned.

Lewis' recommendation was sent to W. W. Howes, first assistant postmaster, in Washington, D. C., for action, but no appointment has been made.

ROTARY AND GUESTS TO HEAR OF CONSERVATION

J. D. Steele, Baltimore, To Present Program December 9

Members of the Oakland Rotary club and invited guests who will be more than casually interested in wildlife conservation, will learn about the coordinated conservation program to promote a more intelligent use of the natural resources of Maryland, when J. D. Steele, of Baltimore, will speak to the gathering on Friday evening, December 9, at the William-James hotel.

The prpogram is presented by the Maryland Outdoor Life Federation, Inc., and Mr. Steele, the representative, has been a student of conservation for many years. He is a member of the Baltimore Board of School Commissioners, and chairman of the educational committee of the Outdoor Life Federation.

When fertile acres and virgin forests were the pioneers of America, just for the taking, there was some plausible excuse for what is now known as uncontrolled, often disastrously wasteful, exploitation of the soil, forests and other natural resources, the preamble of the program states.

It continues, "But no longer are these resources 'free for the taking'. The free exploitation of the past has shown the necessity of safeguarding the interests of the present and future generations, in the conservation of natural resources."

This new program will probably be presented to the new legislature which convenes in January.

St. Peter's School Organizes A Hobby Lobby Club

The children of the sixth, seventh and eighth grades of St. Peter's school in Oakland have organized a Hobby Lobby club under the direction of their teacher, Sister Mary Alfred, R.S.M. The club meets on the last Wednesday of each month and the purpose is to teach the children how to conduct a club meeting as well as to cultivate the habit of useful hobbies.

The following are officers: Robert Browning president; Thomas Thayer, vice-president; Edward Lambert, secretary; Robert Helbig, treasurer.

Among the hobbies thus far exhibited are collections of rare stamps; signatures of outstanding persons, and mounted matchbox covers. Some of the girls have gone in for candy making as their hobby and passed out samples to members.

Merit badges are given each month for the best exhibit and special prizes will be awarded at the end of the school year for the boys and girls who will have the largest number of stars.

Hagerstown Choir Concert To Be Given Saturday

Music lovers of the community are looking forward to the concert to be given on Saturday evening, December 3, by the Hagerstown a cappella choir, under the direction of Prof. Raymond K. Hollinger, in the Oakland High school auditorium.

The presentation is being sponsored by the Oakland Community Choir.

The Hagerstown organization won first place at the Mountain Choir contest at Mountain Lake Park in 1937, and participated in the festival this year, although not as a competing choir.

Paul Stockman, who recently opened a dairy lunch in the Broadwater building on Third street in Oakland, in company with some Terra Alta friends, left here Monday morning for a motor trip of a month through the South, their objective being Miami, Florida.

COMMISSIONS OF NEWLY ELECTED ARE RECEIVED

Some May Take Office As Soon As They Qualify and are Sworn

Commissions for all of the recently elected county officials, with the exception of State's Attorney, were received yesterday at the office of A. G. Ross, clerk of the Circuit Court.

They were signed by the Governor, Harry W. Nice, and the Secretary of State, E. Ray Jones, and most of them begin as soon as those elected obtain their commissions and are sworn in by Mr. Ross. In a few instances, as in the case of sheriff, treasurer, clerk of the Circuit Court, and register of wills, the filing of a bond and its acceptance by the court is required before the person elected can assume the duties of his office.

Newly elected officials usually wait until the latter part of December or the first of January, but are eligible to take office just as soon as qualified.

In a number of instances this year the encumbents were re-elected. The County Commissioners, however, may take office the first meeting in December as a new law requires the laying of the levy early in the year.

An unusual situation arose at the Sheriff's office yesterday with the announcement of sheriff-elect J. W. Owens, that he had named his deputy Clarence Spear, who is the retiring sheriff. This does not usually occur.

Commissions were received for J. J. Ashby, treasurer, who serves from January 1; T. E. Bishoff, Frank Callis, and William A. Smith, judges of the orphans' court; J. W. Owens, sheriff; C. Milton Sincell, county surveyor, who serves from the first Monday in January; W. G. Meyers, clerk to the Commissioners; Blaine Giessman, Cheston Browning and Paul Friend, county commissioners; Mrs. Vernie R. Smouse, register of wills; A. G. Ross, clerk of the Circuit Court.

PATRONS' ORGANIZATION MEETS AT MT. LAKE PARK

Self-Help University Has Offer Of Broom Factory Equipment

The Patrons' Association of the Self-Help University met Tuesday evening at the Assembly Hall in Mountain Lake Park. Miss Miller, of the school staff, gave a talk on China, and told of the many interesting things which occurred during her six and a half years' there.

Earl D. Ford, of Cleveland, O., secretary of the University, was the guest speaker of the evening. Mr. Ford, who is connected with a publishing concern in Cleveland, has donated nine tons of books to the University. Some of these books are being used as text books, while others are on sale, of which the proceeds are to be used to help finance the school.

Mr. Ford stated that he had just received permission from the Foreign Mission Board to sell any vacant lots in the Park for the erection of buildings and use the money thus derived for support of the University.

Mr. Rogerson, of Moundsville, W. Va., who is a summer resident in the Park, has offered to donate to the school the equipment of a broom factory and a definite move has already been made to get the establishment here.

A number of new members have joined the organization. The next public meeting will be held December 15.

Red Cross Raises $99

The annual drive for Red Cross membership has netted a total of $99 thus far, according to Mrs. Paul B. Naylor, roll call chairman. Of this amount Grantsville has contrihuted $19, Friedsville. $25, Selbysport $6, Mt. Lake Park $20, and Oakland $29.

Mrs. Naylor stated that necessary material would be sent to district chairmen at Accident, Vindex, Bloomington, and Kempton this week, so that the drive could be conducted there.

A plea to sportsmen and others interested in wildlife to provide food during sleet and snowstorms, to preserve birds and small game animals that might otherwise starve, has been issued by E. Lee LeCompte, State Game Warden.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilburn, of Fairmont, W. Va., announce the birth of a son Tuesday, November 15. Mrs. Wilburn is the former Miss Hazel Gates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Gates, of Swanton.

Hunters who have been scouring the woods for rabbits, pheasant, quail, wild turkeys, etc., began to concentrate this morning on larger game, while many more who don't spend much time with small game, will get out their rifles in the ohpe of bringing down a buck during the next several days.

The deer hunting season opened this morning and will continue until December 5 at sundown. As December 4 falls on Sunday it automatically limits the hunting season to four days.

During that time there won't be any safe hideouts for the deer and less peace of mind for the hunters. The word hunters includes the veterans, the amateurs and just plain gun toters. The woods will be full of the conventional red danger signs, with generous patches of red flannel being worn on the backs of hunting jackets and the hunters' caps.

During the open season it will be lawful to kill a male deer with two or more points to one antler. The bag limit is one animal per season per person.

Every person killing a deer must within twenty-four hours write to the State Game Warden, giving name, address, hunter's license number, county and location where said deer was killed, or to Richard S. Browning deputy game warden, at Deer Park.

Deer must be hunted through the use of a gun propelling one all-lead or lead-alloy or soft-nosed or expending bullet or ball at a single discharge. It is unlawful to hunt deer in any manner except through the method of "still hunting." It is unlawful to use dogs. It is also unlawful to shoot at a deer while it is taking refuge in or swimming through the waters of any pond, lake or stream.

Aware of the large number of people who will scour the woods during the open season, a warning is being issued for hunters to be extremely careful and to be on the alert at all times.

Approximately there have been 2,400 hunting licenses issued from the office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court in Oakland and several hundred persons are sure to be out in the woods during the four-day period.

Be Careful!

WEAR RED AND KEEP YOUR HEAD, WARDENS WARN DEER HUNTERS

Fashion note from E. Lee LeCompte, State Game Warden: "The smart deer hunter this year will again utilize accessories in bright red tones.

Mr. LeCompte really isn't so interested in fashions as he is in safety; and by the word "smart" he means intelligent, rather than chic.

Looking to the opening of the deer season today, Mr. LeCompte, seconded by deputy game wardens in the State, has given a few pointers on safety, chief among them being the advice to include plenty of red in the hunting costume.

The usual khaki-colored togs are entirely too similar to the color of a deer, unless broken by a brilliant red hue, they point out.

A temporary hack and front of some inexpensive red cloth sewn or pinned to a hunting coat should suffice.

Or a red hat, or perhaps red trousers, may be the means of preventing one hunter from taking potshohts at another under the impression he's a deer.

In their plea for exercise of extreme caution to prevent accidental shooting, Mr. LeCompte and his deputies also suggested:—

Look and identify your target before your shoot;

Don't shoot at something merely because it moves. Be sure your quarry has pronged antlers before you draw a bead;

And don't shoot then, unless you have a fair shot with a reasonable chance of mortally wounding your game. A deer that bounds away seriously wounded to die in the fastness of the forest benefits no one;

Handle firearms with care at all times;

YOUNG DEMOCRATIC CLUB TO LAUNCH CHARITY DRIVE

Money To Be Used To Aid The Needy; Ball Is Announced

In a meeting held Monday night, the Charities Committee of the Oakland Young Democrats club made definite steps to inaugurate the first annual Community Chest fund of Oakland, according to Richard Gonder, president of the organization. The drive will begin Saturday.

According to plans small boys will be placed in all business places in Oakland where customers of those places may make small contributions. The money thus secured will be used to buy coal, food and other necessary supplies for the needy.

A committee was also appointed to make final arrangements for the charity ball which will be given in the Manhattan Hotel during the week following Christmas.

COUNCIL WILL DETERMINE EXTENT OF DECORATIONS

Just How Gayly Town Will Be Lighted Depends On Meeting

That Oakland would be gayly lighted for the Christmas season, just as in former years, seemed to be a certainty this week, but just how gayly will depend upon the action of the Mayor and City Council at the meeting of that body next Monday night.

Merchants are already engaging evergreen trees to be placed along the curbs in front of their establishments, as in previous years. There will also be a community tree on the Presbyterian lawn, even though much smaller, but just as pretty as it was last year and the years preceding. The Girl and Boy Scouts planted a tree on the church lawn this year and presented it to the town. It is about twelve feet in height, whereas the ones that were brought in by the firemen in past years have been about thirty feet high. Its value, however, is expected to increase with each recurring Christmas season.

The unknown quantity is the amount of vari-colored bulbs and strands of decorations that will be put across the main streets of the town.

The citizens themselves will decorate their homes, just as in the years past.

In 1935 and 1936 the Oakland Rotary Club was assisted by the Town Council in arranging decorations and last year the town furnished funds for decorating purposes with members of the Rotary Club assisting in the work.

Forest Fire Season Thought To Have Been Ended By Snow

Thirty-nine of the forty-five towermen and forest guards of the State have been laid off.

The men were relieved of their duties as the result of the heavy snowfall which is expected to bring to a close the fall fire season. The season usually ends early in December.

Six towermen are being kept on duty in the eastern part of the State, but all have been relieved in this county.

Walter J. Quick, Jr., assistant state forester, called the fire season over the state lighter than last fall, but that most of the fires were confined to Western Maryland. Mr. Quick explained that the towermen and guards were paid from $60 to $90 per month.

Surprise Party Held For Oldest Resident

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Otto, of New Germany, gave a surprise party at their home Sunday night in honor of their father, Christian Otto, who celebrated his ninetieth birthday. Mr. Otto is the father of eight living children, is hale and hearty for his years, and is the oldest resident of the community. He thoroughly enjoyed the greetings and best wishes bestowed upon him and received a message from the absent children who live in Akron, Ohio. Mrs. Olin Broadwater, Mrs. William Harris, and Miss Ruth Otto were unable to be present.

Mr. Otto has been superintendent of the Sunday school at New Germany Reformed Church nearly seventy years.

Word was received here last evening of the death of Mrs. H. H. Parker, of Mogollon, New Mexico. She was formerly Miss Annabelle Mann, a sister of Milburn W. Mann, Oakland, and Mrs. Edward P. Kahl, Mt. Lake Park. The body will probably be brought here for burial.

STORM ON THANKSGIVING BRINGS 10 INCHES OF SNOW

Sudden Appearance of Winter Source of Grief To Motorists But Joy To Youthful Skiers

8 BELOW ZERO RECORDED

Garrett countians sat around their Thanksgiving dinner tables on last Thursday and looked out on one of the most persistent early snowfalls in years, and postponed any plans they had for outdoor celebration of the holiday. And it may be said in passing that about the same condition existed all over the eastern, northeastern and southern section of the United States, according to radio reports to the effect that the storm area was from Maine to Northern Florida.

Other Marylanders complained of snow flurries, in some cases as deep as ten inches, especially in the Baltimore area. Garrett county had the same number of inches.

The snowstorm struck about seven o'clock on Thanksgiving morning and brought grief to motorists who were apparently unprepared for winter weather conditions. But skiers were busy in the snow to raise Thanksgiving appetites.

A number of garagemen failed to have their turkey dinners on time, for they were swamped with pleas from automobile owners to thaw out radiators, repair chains and tow them from where they had been parked. Anti-freeze and other storm accessories were sold in great quantities in all parts of the county.

The mercury got no lower than 15 degrees above zero on Thanksgiving Day, but began to sink after that until it reached 8 below zero on Saturday morning, just to notify the deizens that the long, overly-pleasant autumn was at an end.

State Roads officials had become prepared for winter none too soon, and had all plows working on the highways to keep them open. There was no difficulty in this respect as there was not much drifting until Sunday and Monday when additional snow fell and the wind began to whip the snow about. All State roads were kept open.

Busy on Their Skiis

With the snow almost too deep for much coasting hundreds of youngsters turned to skiing, which has become a popular sport here in recent years. Some of the youngsters are becoming so adept at the art that they are making and using ski jumps several feet in height. The week-end recess of school for the Thanksgiving period gave the students several days in which to enjoy the sport.

No motor accidents were reported, as people were warned by highway officials to stay off roads unless compelled by circumstances to be out in the storm.

Thawing of the accumulated snow and ice began on Tuesday morning when the sun came out clear without a cloud in the sky.

Records at the government station showed an official snowfall of 7 inches on the 24th; 3 inches on the 25th, and three-fourths of an inch on the 27th.

The offical low temperature recordings were as follows:

November 24	15 above
November 25	10 above
November 26	8 below
November 27	1 below
November 28	10 above
November 29	18 above

Lesson for December 4

THE SIN OF LYING

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 20:16; John 8:42-47; Ephesians 4:25.
GOLDEN TEXT—Behold, thou desirest truth in the inward parts.—Psalm 51:6.

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

"God is truth. The word truth describes the very nature of God. Lying, therefore, reveals a character opposite from God. Satan is a liar. He was a liar from the beginning and is spiritually the father of all liars. A lie does not neccssarily have to be an untruth. A statement of a truth may be a lie if its purpose is to deceive. A half truth may be the worst kind of a lie. Satan's lies . . . are usually mixed with truth." Consider "modernism, which has enough truth in it to make it accepted by thousands of people, but sufficient error to deprive it of any power to save souls" (L. D. Higley).

I. Forbidden to Lie (Exod. 20:16).

This commandment specifically forbids perjury, which is one of the worst forms of lying, because it may result in the forfeiture of the very life of a fellow being. It is obvious, however, that it includes all forms of lying, whether in business, in social contacts, in the home, or in the church. We might do well to consider what the Bible has to say about whisperers, talebearers, backbiters, and others (see Lev. 19:6; II Cor. 12:20). A man's reputation may be as easily ruined by a whispered lie over the back fence or the luncheon table as by formal perjury in the courtroom. "Thou shalt not bear false witness" at any time, anywhere, or in any way.

II. Fountain of Lies (Matt. 15:19, 20).

Our constant concern for the body that it may be healthy, clean, and well groomed is commendable up to the point where it becomes an attempt to "glorify" the flesh. But after all, the body is not the most important thing. The heart is what makes a man (read Matt. 15:7-11). But what comes out of man's unregenerate heart? What a horrible catalogue we read in verse 19! It is not what a man eats or what he wears that makes him, but what is in his heart. How foolish then to hope to redeem humanity by improving housing, having better schools and bigger playgrounds. All these are desirable, but the one thing needful is that man's heart be washed in the blood of the Lord Jesus Christ, that he be born again.

III. Father of Lies (John 8:42-47).

Liars had better consider their "family tree" and see how they like their spiritual father. He is lustful, murderous, and there is no truth in him (v. 44). If you belong to that family would you not like to change families and be born into God's family.

As we have already suggested, the prize lie of Satan is modern religious liberalism. We quote again from Mr. Higley: "The first lie was told by Satan and it brought about the fall of the human race. The last lie . . . by Satan is being told even now . . . in the form of modernism, that makes the Church impotent even to save its own people." Let us have no part in putting forward this falsehood.

Note that in verses 45-47 Jesus challenges His enemies to convict Him of sin or of falsehood. No one has ever been able to meet that challenge. Even those who deny His Godhood and Saviourhood speak swelling words of commendation of His pure life and exalted moral teaching. If then He told the truth about other things, surely He spoke the truth about Himself. The claims He made for Himself as the Son of God and the Saviour of the world are plain and unmistakable. If we deny them we either make Jesus a liar, or we lie ourselves, and it is obvious that the latter is the case.

IV. Forsaking of Lies (Eph. 4:25).

"Wherefore" refers us back to the preceding verses where we are told how, as Christians, we have put off the life of the "old man" (v. 22) and put on the "new man"; therefore we are to live in true holiness. But evidently the Ephesian Christians still fell into their old heathen habits of lying. Would that the tendency had died out with the early Church, but as a matter of fact, it seems to have become aggravated as the years have come and gone.

Being in Christ—members of His body and thus united to one another in Him—should make us scrupulously truthful toward all men. Let us—which means you and me—scrutinize every relationship of life and be sure that we have not by word, act, or inference told lies. Think carefully of your family life, your church life, your community life. Deal with such practical things as grocery bills, taxes, tendencies to gossip. We preachers need to consider our sermons. Are they true to God's Word? Are they honestly prepared? Do we "stretch" our illustrations to make them effective? Surely all of us who bear the name of Christ must put away every form of falsehood.

Some Encouragement

Here's some encouragement about the winter, in spite of what happened over Thanksgiving and the week-end.

The goosebone weather prophets have informed the world that this will be a mild, warm winter because:

There are no black squirrels this year.

There are thin corn husks.

Frogs, snakes, and groundhogs didn't dig in until late.

Groundhog's dens are shallow.

Hornets nests are built close to the ground.

Leaves fell from the trees instead of sticking tight.

The meat on hogs was small.

Autumn was dry and late.

Another prediction was that the winter would be mild, with the cold part first because there was more black on the front end oft he caterpillar than there is on the rear.

* * *

If any prophet of Garrett county can offer any additional reasons, or even why the winter is going to be the reverse, they will be added to this list as time goes on.

Thawing Out Saturday 'Twas Only Eight Below

Most parents, seeing boys gambling, will either take punitive action or shake their heads and ease the situation by comment to the effect that gambling is an instinct, that instincts are a part of human nature, that you can't change human nature, but a headmaster at an academy did neither when boys in his charge played the slot machine.

He went to police headquarters, secured a confiseated gambling device, and had it set up in the mathematics room of his school. Then he arranged with the mathematics instructor to work up a problem involving the law of mathematical probability. The boys were to play the machine with "phoney" money to solve the problem. And they discovered several surprising things.

They learned, for example, that a player hits the "jack pot" once in 4,000 times. At a nickel a "throw" that meant it would cost about $200 to win $5. They learned also that the next highest "payoff" was once in 2,000 plays, and made it cost $100 to win $1.

Anyone thinking quite seriously on the subject couldn't help but decide that it doesn't pay to attempt to beat the slot machine.

* * *

Bobbie Bittle's bike ought to be safe for a while, at least until the snow disappears and it becomes warm and balmy again. Twice now his bicycle has been "borrowed" from his garage. The next morning it is discovered in a nearby place. It is supposed whoever is "borrowing" it, is using it to travel to see his girl, and when the "date" is over he rides back to Oakland and leaves the bike where is ean be found the next morning. Very convenient—but very dangerous, if caught.

* * *

Many people of the community don't realize how fortunate they have been in the past two weeks. Oakland was just about to lose a much valued and respected minister. He had offers to become the minister in other towns, much larger than Oakland, where the remuneration would be much larger, and the field possibly more concentrated, with less travel involved.

After much thought that minister decided he wanted to stay here and so declined the calls to other communities. In case you didn't already know, his initials are David Churchman Trimble.

His going would have meant much loss to this section of the county.

* * *

A Georgia editor calls Secretary Ickes a "sansculotte." The word, while referring to the radical revolutionists back in Paris, is said to mean "one without breeches." If this is true then the taxpayer after Mr. Ickes and his friends get through with him is the real "sansculotte."

GORTNER

Her funeral will be conducted at the Brethren church in Eglon.

Jackson Fike, of Uniontown, was in this community last week buying mine timber.

Albert and Vernon Robeson spent the Thanksgiving holiday period here with their parents.

Alvin Broawater was visiting at the Robert Crowe home on Sunday.

The social that was to have been held at Avilton on Monday evening, was postponed on account of weather conditions. It will be held on a later date.

Earl Garlitz, James Turner and Geo. Brown, Jr., made a business trip to Uniontown Tuesday.

IN MEMORIAM

Dearest Ernest, how we loved thee
In the home you loved so well,
But God loved thee far, far better—
Now you've gone with Him to dwell.

From our circle once more broken,
Leaving earthly cares aside;
Now you've gone to dwell in heaven
With the angels to abide.

SNOWSTORM IS CAUSE OF DECREASE IN MARRIAGES

Thirty-Two Make Application At Clerks' Office During Past Week

Although a snowstorm which came to this community unheralded last Thursday caused a lessening of applicants making the journey to Oakland over the past week-end, there were still thirty-two marriage licenses issued during the past week ending on Monday at noon from the office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court. This number brought the total for November thus far to 185.

Saturday was just like any other day, with only nine applicants appearing on that day. One license was issued on Thanksgiving Day. Four licenses were issued with the "don't publish" mark on them.

IN MEMORIAM

A tribute of love to the memory of my dear husband, Silas Oliver Wiley, who passed away one year ago, December 3, 1937:

Today my heart is heavy—
My thoughts are all of thee;
Oh, how I miss you.

One year it has been since you left me:
Never shall your memory fade—
You were so good, so gentle and so kindly—
I was happy when you were with me,
But now my heart is sore.

Some say time heals an aching heart,
But no, it isn't true,
For one year has passed away
And my heart still longs for you.

Loved in life—in death remembered;
The rolling stream of life goes on,
But still that vacant chair
Recalls the lover, the voice, the smile
Of the loved one who sat there.

—By his Wife, Lavina E. Wiley.

BACK IN THE RUNNING—

The Boys' Band got back in the running again Tuesday night when regular practice sessions began. There are about 35 boys interested in seeing the band remain active, and quite a number of the citizens of the town are beginning to realize what the Rotary club accomplished when it made definite arrangements for sponsorship of the organization.

With the Rotary club behind the band, its budget and activities, that group should reclaim some of its lost honors. It is a valuable asset to Oakland and those in the Rotary club responsible for its rebirth, deserve sincere congratulations.

PARAGRAPH OPINIONS

Protection Needed

During the present year assessable property around the lake increased over $80,000. Of this amount over $33,000 was for the new telephone line, but over $50,000 was for additional cottages around this body of water. With additions like this happening for the past several years and likely to happen for many years to come, it is important that county officials give serious consideration to proper protection of property owners from thieving. Authorities, of course, are doing all that is possible to do, as they can't patrol the area, but it is a problem for serious discussion.

Let The People Reforest

Both candidates for governor during the recent campaign saw the necessity of long time planning in respect to reforestation of Garrett county.

It is our opinion that the government's place in this work is to educate people to see the need of reforestation, and let them have the trees with which to do the work, and let them do it. The way it is now the federal and state governments want to own the land, and do the work, and eventually give the county in which the land is situated 15 percent of the receipts from sale of timber.

People may finally lose all the land they own.

Place To Coast Wanted

The snowstorm of the past week brings to mind again the need for having a place for boys and girls of town to coast. A designated street, properly roped off, with proper supervision, and certain hours of the day for actual coasting, is a responsibility for the Mayor and Council that they should accept.

With our climate what it is, sledding and skiing should be easily available to all. Children, especially, should not be denied these things.

Can't Blame It!

Astronomers are of the opinion that the moon is slowly drawing away from the earth.

Sometimes, when we think of the various New Deal schemes, we don't blame it.

Ugly Facts

Never a day should pass that citizens concerned about the future of their country should neglect to think upon the eight years of successive national deficits. This country is to have a deficit the ninth year. It will be in the neighborhood of four thousand million dollars. In 1940; when a new President is to be elected, the national debt will be $40,000,000,000 and of it $20,000,000,000 will be the Roosevelt debt. All this in piping times of peace. At the moment is no other fact that should so much concern you citizens. No other is so ugly and menacing.

A FREDERICK STINK BOMB

All is not well with the Democratic organization down in Frederick county, according to a recent issue of the New Citizen, the weekly published by David C. Winebrenner III, which declares that there should be an investigation of certain rather odoriferous suspicions that appear to abound concerning the recent election, and that the rank and file of the party as well as the public should know where it stands.

"Those particularly interested in the welfare of the party—the candidates and the office holders and others who contribute funds to the campaign chest—are entitled to know who used the money and in what manner," says the New Citizen.

"If there was treachery within the councils of the party," it continues, if the campaign funds were used other than in the best interests of all candidates, everyone should know all about it.

"Evidence already gathered implicates some of those who worked at the polls on November 8, supposedly in behalf of the entire Democratic ticket. The finger of suspicion has been directed toward some who hold public posts by virtue of appointments of Democratic officials.

"While party leaders recognize the independence of the average voter to cast his or her ballot as judgment dictates, they also hold that persons using party funds and holding positions under Democratic officials are obliged to work for the best interests of the entire party ticket.

"In reaching a decision to carry on a thorough investigation of individual and factional activities in the recent election, the Democrats are moving in the right direction. They can hope to beat down disloyalty in no other way. It is only by revealing behind the scenes trickery that the party can hope to establish any security in its position.

"It is the feeling of those sincerely interested in the welfare of the Democratic party in Frederick county that it is better to return to the former position of minority party than labor under false impressions."

One can sympathize with the righteous indignation of one party member or group who may have been denied access to the party war chest, while some other member or group got the privilege of spending it; but it may be said that the latter suggestion by the New Citizen can be viewed with the utmost complacency by Garrett county Republicans so far as party management is concerned and even with much enthusiasm in regard to governmental management.

IN DAYS OF OLD

FORTY YEARS AGO

Spain yielded to demands of the United States Government under protest at a joint peace commission meeting in Paris on November 28, and the Spanish-American War was over.

Hunters reported cotton tails very plentiful. There was much snow. The thermometer in Oakland registered 6 degrees below zero.

The sudden and unexpected fall of snow put a stop to further work on the foundations for buildings on Second street to replace those that had been burned a few weeks earlier in the year.

Furniture for Dr. McComas' sanitorium had arrived and was placed in the building secured on Second street which was to be used for hospital purposes.

The curfew law in effect in Oakland was decided as being a perfect success, in relieving the parents of boys and girls the necessity of looking up their offspring at unseemly hours of the night.

There was on exhibition in the Oakland Pharmacy window a picture of Upton Bruce, the hermit, who lievd on wha tis onw the Daniel E. Orendorf farm, a short distance south of town.

The Maroney Livery stables, located in the extreme east end of Oakland, moved to a point on Green street (where the Hinebaugh Gargae is now located) where the proprietor expected to increase business and render better service to the general public.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Butter was selling at 60 cents per pound, and eggs at 60 cents per dozen.

Merchants in Oakland, Mountain Lake Park, Accident and other communities were warned not to charge more than one cent profit on each pound of suger, by the Food Administration of Garrett county.

A report of the United War Work Campaign showed that Garrett county had considerable exceeded its quota of $8,000. District No. Two's apportionment was $530, and the people of the community had subscribed the sum of $1,075. Rev. L. K. Young was the chairman for that section.

There was a grave possibility of a shortage of kerosene for the coming winter.

The Board of Education's financial statement of expenditures for the year for the support of the public schools of the county showed an expenditure of $83,323.47.

Many soldiers were ill of the new disease "Spanish influenza." Residents in towns and cities were also ill of the malady and many deaths resulted, especially in camps provided for the men in training.

Merchants of Oakland were offering 35 to 40 cents in trade for fat dry picked turkeys.

Demobilization of the American soldiers began at Camp Meade. Most of those from Garrett county in that camp were expected home before the first of the year.

Garrett county, with 15,000 home gardens, was the banner county of the United States in this "win the war effort." Previous to 1918, Garrett had imported yearly an average of 1700 carloads of produce for home consumption. In 1918 there was not a carload imported.

On the Trail of Tuberculosis

Boy Scout having tuberculin skin test—a means of telling if tuberculosis germs are present in his body. Tuberculin testing activities are carried on throughout the year by the income received from Christmas Seals.

Diagnostic clinics similar to this one are held in each county of the state by the Maryland Tuberculosis Association. They are for both white and colored patients.

Richard Davis, for some time past a clerk in the Hamill Book Store, has been appointed as a clerk in the office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court, assuming his new position this morning. William Porter has secured the place in the Hamill Store made vacant by the transfer of Mr. Davis to his new position.

The Parent-Teachers' Association of the Oakland High school will hold a benefit card party on Wednesday evening, December 14, beginning at 8 o'clock, in the High school auditorium.

I See by The Dailies

Seventeen members of the Clay H. Murray family were baptized in a single ceremony and joined the congregation of the Greenville Lutheran church, near Somerset, Pa., on Sunday. This is believed to be a church record. Murray is 36; his wife, 35. There were six boys and nine girls making up the family, ranging in age from two months to 15 years. Murray is a farmer. Rev. W. T. Sigler, former pastor of the Lutheran church at Grantsville, officiating at the baptismal ceremony and received the family into the church as members of the body.

A decline of 14,043 in the number of persons on WPA rolls during the week ended Saturday, was noted. Maryland's WPA rolls declined by 253, and now stand at 15,935.

The heads of State government departments and institutions are taking their budget problems to the State Treasurer's office this week to discuss needs for the next two years with a special committee named by Governor-elect O'Conor.

There will be reassessment of property in sixteen counties of Maryland this year. Garrett county completed its reassessment last year and is one of the counties exempted.

The election of a United States Senator, six Congressmen and a Governor in Maryland cost the Democrats for campaign expenses $99,241.

Pope Pius XI showed improvement and was back to normal following a heart attack at Vatican City last week.

A proposal that administration of relief be turned over to bi-partisan State boards has come from a group of Democratic Senators in Washington, and a bill to that effect is already being drafted.

The worst snowstorm in years on Thanksgiving day hit much of the United States.

VOTERS ARE THANKED

I wish to thank the voters of the county for their splendid support in the general election. Although I was unopposed for re-election as Judge of the Orphans' Court, nevertheless I appreciate the large vote I received. I shall endeavor to merit your continued confidence in me.

W. A. SMITH.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS. . . . . .

By FRANK R. KENT

Copyright by the Baltimore Sun and reprinted in The Republican by permission.

The Answer Is Obvious

Washington, Nov. 26.

Congressman Dies may not be a zany as Mr. Ickes calls him and Mr. Ickes may not be a crackpot as Mr. Dies calls him. Or they may both be right. But that isn't the important point. The important point is whether what the Dies committee has developel about the Communistic flavor of certain Administration agencies and the Communistic saturation of certain of its political allies are facts—or whether they are not facts.

* * *

Since he began his hearings a great deal of denunciation has been heaped upon Mr. Dies by Administration spokesmen and the professional liberals who are thrown into a fury at the mere suggestion that Communism is a disease which should not be allowed to touch any part of the Government. There has been plenty of denunciation but not many denials. Without going into details, there has been on real denial that the sit-down strikes in Detroit were led and inspired by Communists; that many key men in the C. I. O., largest financial contributor to the Roosevelt 1936 campaign, are Communists; that Communists are active and numerous on various WPA projects; that the official economic adviser of an important Government board is openly against the capitalistic system; that at least one important Government official is sympathetically affiliated with an organization in which Communists are conspicuous.

* * *

Now none of these things means that Mr. Roosevelt or any member of his Cabinet is Communistically inclined. On the contrary, the President has almost violently denounced Communism on various occasions. There is no question of his sincerity. Nevertheless the facts cited have not been contradicted except with abuse of Mr. Dies. The President's own unprecedented effort to discredit the committee was a defense of Governor Murphy rather than a denial of fact. The methods, the motive and the character of the investigation have been criticized—and probably justly—but few facts have been successfully assailed. It is easy to understand why Mr. Dies is so cordially hated—why Administration leaders are preparing to further discredit him and his report when the House convenes. The fight will be over whether he is to continue his investigation or the committee is to be squelched. The outcome is in doubt. Administration politicians are furious at being compelled to debate and deny. They recognize that the discussion contribuates to a sentiment politically damaging to the New Deal. While perhaps there is no real danger of Communism in this country and the Communists by themselves are impotent and insignificant, nevertheless a deep resentment exists against Communist agitators and activities. Any contact or cooperation with these upon the part of their public officials is extremely repugnant to the great bulk of the American people. The reasons are clear.

* * *

There is general recognition of the Communist desire to overthrow the American system and substitute their own. Economic chaos is concededly the essential step in that goal. No balanced person believes they will ever get far in this country through their own efforts, but the popular distaste for Communists is such that no politican candidate can afford even the appearance of tolerance. Hense, the intense New Deal dislike of the Communist support thrust upon them, and which no amount of disclaiming discourages. In New York, for example, after both the President and Governor Lehman had curtly rejected Communist proffers, the New Deal candidates were given the solid Communist vote, which amounted to more than 100,000. No one disputes that. In order to support the New Deal ticket in New York the Communists actually sacrificed their party status and threw away their right to a place on the ballot next time.

* * *

It is an interesting situation and not without humor. The doving adoption by the Communists of the New Deal as near as and Mr. Roosevelt as a man going in their general direction the slogan of the Daily Worker—"let's pass the Roosevelt program and go on from there"; the eulogistic speeches of Mr. Earl Browder and other Communists—these things greatly incensed the White House politicians. Fully aware of the political liability of such support, they rage at the futility of insults and denunciation to shake it loose. The more they kick this dog in the face the closer it follows. The real reason for the Administration about Mr. Dies is that his investigation tends to call attention to this strange state of affairs. Nothing makes New Deal leaders more miserable than to ask why the Communists so enthusiastically support the Roosevelt policies. The answer is as devastating as it is obvious.

Here's Where We Get Thrown for a Loss!

Fair Enough

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

So, at last, they totally obliterated the Jews from the face of the earth. The last few hundred thousand were taken to sea in old merchant boats, packed in cages and locked up tight, and when the rusty flotilla reached the appointed spot, far down in the South Atlantic, the crews and sailors opened the sea cocks, abandoned ship and made for the vessels of the International Navy, which took them on board and opened fire with their guns.

It was like shooting barnyard ducks. In less than an hour it was done. The mopping up was simple but thorough. Picket boats went out among the wreckage with sharpshooters in their bows to pick off the few half-conscious floaters who had been blown free by the explosions and had been able to grasp fragments of furniture, doors and booms. There was not one Jew left on the face of the earth, not one, and the remaining peoples of the world sighed with relief and said, "Now we shall have peace and progress and no more greed, lying, cheating, conspiracy or theft."

The property of the Jews was distributed according to promise, and there was now no reason why the people should fail to prosper and get along as friends.

* * *

Hard to Tell Friend From Foe

Yet there were alarms, and complete trust and cooperation were lacking. The Japanese had united the Asiatics and were moving against the Russians. The Germans attacked the Poles to rescue an oppressd minority in the Sudeten precedent and Mussolini pounced on Great Britain's lifeline because, even though they were indubitably Aryans, the British were arrogant, cunning and acquisitive, and honor was not among them.

"The Englishmen," little Italian soliders wrote on the blackboards in their schools, "is the scourge of the earth and must be destroyed."

These moves pitched the world into a general war in which it was difficult for any individual to distinguish friend from foe. The French fought the Germans with the slogan that there could never be permanent peace as long as any German lived and verified the slogan themselves by quotations from Hitlers book to the effect that France must be destroyed.

The Americans held off a while, but finally pitched in against the Japanese, and the jumble became so confused that a bomber could unload his bombs almost anywhere outside his own country and find justification in some evil and menacing trait of the pople living there.

Not only that, but within the warring countries individual and group hatred grew. There were still greed, lying, cheating, treachery and theft. Men swindled one another, circulated evil rumors, conspired for power, failed to pay their bills, seduced maidens, robbed nnd stole. God had seemed to have the measure of their moral frailty, but they had alwnys told themselves that it was the Jews alone to whom the Ten Commandments were addressed. With the Jews gone they thought the Ten Commandments would become superfluous if not even a little insulting—a sort of insinuation that even they were not above the sort of conduct for which the Jews, of course, were peculiar and notorious.

The Africans were wiped out early. In Asia starvation and disease destroyed millions, but the Western nations were no better off. They could feed themselves better and knew of sanitation, but their weapons were much more deadly.

* * *

An Eden Without Adam and Eve

Still the world fought on long after the last Jew had gurgled beneath the waves until just two small bands were left, the freckled-faced people and the non-freckled, each claiming to be pure and to possess exclusively the virtues of honesty, honor and clean blood and each sworn to exterminate the other as the only guarantee of peace, progress and decency on earth.

It ended with just two survivors, an old man and an old woman, together in a hut. He was one-eighth freckled—that is to say, he had a few small freckles. She was of the pure- non-freckles strain.

So one night she slugged him with an ax as he slept and fell dead of the poison he had put in her soup that evening. And the horses and the asses romped in the fields, never again to be beaten or overburdened; deer walked in the open, unafraid of being shot by man; rabbits and birds took courage, cities moldreed and the world was purified of cruelty, dishonesty, treachery and greed.

MT. LAKE PARK

A Worthwhile Organization

Old Man Winter with his frosty beard has been much in evidence since last Thursday. Here in the Park we all had our troubles—frozen water pipes, stalled cars, drifted streets. The snow plow was out as soon as possible, however, and helped considerably.

The squirrels and birds were beggars, but not in vain, for food was provided for them. We know of one summer resident who always leaves grain to be fed throughout the winter. We refer to Fred. C. Fleming, of Fairmont. Others in the Park looking out for wildlife are Dr. W. B. Love, J. A. Clark, Wiley Welling and many others.

One group of wildlife need have no fear for the winter to come. On the Ed. O'Donnell property the quail have found shelter. Last week we spoke of this, but could not give you all the data. This week we can: Each week, on Sunday, to be exact, some of the members of the family go to the shelters and leave food for the week. Many quail are making this their home for the winter.

A word as to the members of the local wildlife organization. There are to date 33 members in good standing. The officers are: Lloyd Cook, president; E. G. Smith, secretary; John Morgan, treasurer. On Thanksgiving at the rifle range, their headquarters, a shooting match was held and turkeys won by Hnrland Bittinger, Ben Shaffer, Israel Moore and John Dixon.

Members of the organization wish the public to understand that the organization is for the protection of wildlife, nnd each and every member is pledged to do this and to obey all game laws.

HISTORY IS REPEATED IN PLIGHT OF THE JEWS

Today It Is Hitler Who Ousts Them; 34 Centuries Ago It Was Remeses II.

If the Jews are removed wholesale from Germany it will be just one more mass migration in the history of a race that has known the scourge and the sword for thirty-four centuries.

Today Adolph Hitler wields the scourge. Thirty-four centuries ago it was Rameses II of Egypt. In between dozens of conquerors and rulers have tried their hands. And the Jews themselves, when not fighting or fleeing, have let quantities of Jewish blood by feuds within the family. It was a war of Jew against Jew about the time of Christ that hastened the destruction of Jerusalem and the banishment and enslavement of the people.

Various Reasons Given

There have been various reasons for the persecutions—religious, economic, political and now racial. Frequently it has been a result of the Jews multiplying rapidly, amassing wealth and attaining power. In many periods of history there has been little sympathy for non-conformist groups who kept to themselves and to their own religion.

But whatever the explanations, one of the great phenomenons of history has been the contiuity of Jewish history under adverse conditions.

First Persecution In Egypt

It is obscure who first oppressed Israel, historians say, but subjugation came to them after the Pharoahs gave them permission to graze their flocks in Egyptian territory.

Biblical tradition holds that they struggled to positions of some wealth and power and became too numerous to suit ruling Egyptians. The first born of every Jewish family was soon marked for death to keep down the birth rate, and finally the Israelites were driven back across the wilderness, possibly during the reign of Remeses II.

Then followed the bloody conquests of the other tribes of Palestine. Before Jewish ancient history was completed all this ancient land, including Jerusalem, was nominally under their sway. In Jerusalem, the great ancient temple was built. Palestine became the crossroads of the world.

Harassed By Kings

Even though the Jews held local power, they were harassed by distant kings. Egypt, Babylonia, Greece, Syria, Persia and finally Rome demanded tribute as the price of peace and freedom to worship.

The second persecution of the Jews came from Babylonia, about 500 years before Christ. Many Jews were forced to work as slaves.

Jerusalem was then restored and the Jewish empire rebuilt; but civil strife cut the advance short. The Syrian, Antiochus, interpreted one civil war as a revolt, moved in his army, reduced Jerusalem and took advantage of the ancient Jewish rule forbidding fighting on the Sabbath.

11,000 Jews Murdered

About 11,000 Jews allowed themselves to be murdered by the Syrian soldiers. After that the Sabbath ban was removed.

The great Judas of pre-Christian times then appeared to reconquer Jerusalem for the Jews and rebuild the temple.

Outside, the Romans were marching to world conquest, and when Pompey and his Roman legions appeared in Damascus, two rival brothers presented their case to him. He nominated one to rule as a vassel prince. But, as this did not stop the bloodshed, he captured the city. Some 12,000 Jews perished in the ensuing massacre, and Rome became master of Jerusalem. Within a few years some 30,000 Jews had been enslaved.

COUSINS TO THE CABBAGE

Mark Twain's comment about cauliflower—"Nothing but cabbage with a college education"—may also apply to some of the other cousins of cabbage --Brussels sprouts, bhoccoli, kale, Chinese cabbage, etc. However, some of these have more education than others!

Some forms of the cabbage have more vitamin C than others, but all rate as "excellent" sources of that vitamin which must be supplied daily because it cannot be stored in the body. All the green cabbage cousins are rich in vitamin A and in calcium and iron. The greener the leafy vegetables the more vitamin A, calcium and iron it is likely to contain. The leaves of broccoli are one of the very richest vegetable sources of vitamin A, the flowers are excellent and even the steams of broccoli have more of this vitamin than most vegetables. Kale and the greener forms of Chinese cabbage also furnish much A, a vitamin which is often low in the families that find it necessary to economize on food. When buying cauliflower on the market, select heads that are clean and white, firm and compact, and heavy for their size. Heads should be smooth, rather than ragged or "ricy" in appearance, and should show no brown color or traces of decay. Outside leaves should be fresh, green and firm. The best broccoli heads are of good size, 3 inches or more in diameter, compact and not overmature. The length of stalk and head should be at least five inches.

Brussels sprouts are best if their outer leaves are fresh and firm and of a delicate green color. They should not show traces of worms or plant lice. The outer leaves of the Chinese cabbage should be fresh and crisp. Kale should be picked while it is still very young and tender.

It is esepcially important to avoid overcooking any member of the cabbage family, for they develop a strong taste, disagreeable odor, and an unattractive color if you do. Any of these greens will keep their color better if you cover them with rapidly boiling salted water, leave the cover off, and cook for the shortest time possible. Avoid adding soda; it might improve the color, but it is sure to destroy some of the vitamin C, and give the vegetables an unattractive slimy surface.

Cauliflower can be kept whiter if you add a pinch of cream of tartar to the cooking water, but who objects to cauliflower with a creamy yellow tinge? Red cabbage will turn a blue purple, which is most unappetizing, unless you cook it with very tart apples. Or a generous rash of vinegar or lemon juice at serving time wil bring back the original "red." Strange as it may seem, there will be less odor if the cover is left off when cabbage, cauliflower or kale are cooking.

Cooking broccolli presents the problem of getting the thick stems to the tender point without overcooking the fragile flower tops. Pare off the tough outer "bark" of the very large stems, for even thick broccoli stems give real food value which is too likely to be wasted if the outside is stringy and hard. Probably the neatest way to get all parts of the broccoli stalk "done" at the same time is to slice the stems lengthwise leaving a lacy fringe of green flowers at the top of each slice. Or the stems may be cut in pieces in some other fashion.

Kale is best if the midrib and the stringy portions are disearded and the leaves chopped into small pieces before cooking. Kale, like green cabbage, is delicious "panned" or cooked in a skillet with hot fat, but no water. After "browning", cover the skillet and let the kale steam slowly 15 to 20 minutes. Sprinkle with flour and add a little cream or milk before serving. If you use this method, no part of the food value is discarded in cooking water.

There are dozens of delightful ways of serving cauliflower, and one of the best is to use it raw in fresh vegetable salad. Not a bit of the vitamin C goes to waste. Salad fanciers break cauliflower into very small flowerets and let them stand in a cold place to crisp. They are particularly attractive served on a relish tray with raw carrot sticks and green and ripe olives.

Too many green Brussels sprouts are ruined by overcooking. If overcooked, they become watery and very strong-flavored, and their delicate green develops an ugly bronze tinge. Strip off any wilted or discolored outer leaves and boil in salted water until barely tender—probably never longer than 20 minutes.

PRECAUTIONS URGED FOR PROTECTION FROM COLDS

Doctors Throughout Country Report Increase In Number of Cases

Here are some precautions advised by the Bureau of Child Hygiene of the Maryland State Department of Health for the protection of babies and young children from colds and their damaging after effects:

"Doctors from all over the country report a striking increase in the number of common colds occurring in the general population. Babies and young infants are particularly susceptible to colds. In this, as in many other instances, prevention is much easier than cure.

"Treatment of colds in babies and young children is not very satifactory. Some infants who contract colds early in the year will be coughing and sneezing all winter. The danger does not lie so much in the cold or running nose itself as in the complications which come later. Not only is the child's general resistance lowered but the cold offers an excellent avenue for more dangerous germs to get into the body.

"Prevention is not easy, but it is very much worthwhile. The method to follow is simple but requires diligence and attention to details. In the first place, don't take the baby to crowded places. Do not allow neighbors, relations and friends to play with the very young infants. For the older child, attempt to make the contact as short as possible and refuse to allow it at all of the visitor is coughing or sneezing. The germs discharged in coughing or sneezing may be sprayed out over remarkably long distances so that a person with a cold should not remain in the same room with a baby.

"The same precautions apply to members of the household but, of course, it is impossible for the mother to stay away from the baby when she has a cold. If this happens the mother should wear a mask whenever she is near the baby. An effective mask may be made by binding a square of gauze, 3 by 4 inches in size, and tying tapes to the corners. On the front of the mask one should pin a piece of paper towel. The paper is a better protection than the gauze, but must be changed when it becomes moist. The mask can be fastened over the nose and mouth by tieing tapes behind the head or ears.

"Be particularly careful about washing the hands before handling the baby, and before preparing the baby's food. Careful observance of all these details will prevent a great number of colds, much discomfort and serious illness. Nose drops for the prevention or treatment of a cold should never be used except under a physician's directions.

"It is very important for the child's general health to be kept up to as high a level as possible. The well baby who is getting enough of the right kind of food, plenty of cod liver oil, and tomato juice or orange juice, is in a much better position to resist colds and other infections.

"Every well child should be under the regular supervision of a doctor. For those who cannot afford this service the Bureau of Child Hygiene maintains clinics in all the counties of the Saate. You can find out about them from your county health officer."

DEER KILLED WILL REACH MORE THAN 100 IS BELIEF

Season Ended Monday Following Four Days Of Sport For Approximately 2000 Hunters

SUCCESSFUL ONES LISTED

Prohabilities that the number of deer killed in Garrett county during the four-day open season, which elosed on Monday evening at sundown, would total 100 or more seemed more and more certain as Richard S. Browning, deputy game warden, continued to check up on reports coming in to him. The number killed is expected to be greater than last year.

While many had reported kills to the local officer, a number of others had reported direct to the State Department in Baltimore and quite a number of Allegany county hunters and those who live close to the county line had reported to the Allegany county warden.

Again Sunday cut one day from the five-day season, and although hunters were bemoaning this fact, hunting tales have echoed in every town and around the stoves of many farm homes in the county.

Weather conditions were favorable for the hunters except on Monday, when they roamed the rain-drenched woods in their final attempt. Just how many shot at deer and missed is entirely a matter of speculation, as those in this class were reticent about owning up to any attack of "buck fever."

It is said that Deputy Sheriff Clarence Spear found it extremely difficult to get the range. He shot six times with one hundred per cent error. Shivering as a result of cold is considered an excellent excuse for buck fever and is used many times, according to seasoned hunters, but Deputy Spear is said not to have given that alibi.

Vic Tasker had to go to court to obtain the deer he shot. The wounded animal wandered on to posted territory and died as a result of its wound. Tasker and his party obtained the deer, only to have it claimed by James P. Treacy, owner of the property. Justice C. F. Hammond ruled in favor of Tasker on a writ of replevin. There are rumors of further proceedings, it being alleged that Treacy is charging the deer hunters with trespassing. Tasker, it is also alleged, plans to to charge Treacy with larceny of the deer, should an arrest be made on the warrant charging him with trespass.

Grantsville Youth Gets His

The youngest hunter to bag a deer was Cecil Edwards, 15, of Grantsville, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Edwards. In company with Lee Carder, he left his home at six o'clock and returned by 8 o'clock with the deer, and in time for classes at school where he is a senior.

Two Youths Wrestle With Buck

Norman Shrout and James Gower had to wrestle with a buck before it was finally killed, near a hunting camp at Buckhorn on Roman Nose mountain, near Round Glade.

Seven were camping there, Eddie Walburt, Charles Walburt, E. H. Dillie and son Delmar, Ernest Junkins, Shrout and Gower. They wounded a deer but he started for the glades. With everybody out of shells they pursued on foot. The younger soon outdistanced the older men. Norman Shrout and James Gower reached the deer, one grabbing his legs and another his horns, and threw him. Eddie Walburg then came up and finished him with a hunting knife. The wrestlers were awarded the deer by the other members of the party.

Whitney Reese, of near College Park, almost lost a thumb when he became over anxious to clean the 8-pt buck he killed near Swallow Falls on the opening day.

As he prepared to cut open his victim with a hunting knife the deer gave a last convulsive kick, striking the knife and driving it deep into the man's thumb. He had to come to Oakland for medical attention. The end of the thumb was almost severed.

Following is a list of those reporting (not complete):

Cecil Edwards, Noah Frickey, J. U. Stanton, John Beachy, Woodrow Custer, Roy Wilburn, Raymond Miller, Sylvan Durst, Henry J. Beerman, of Grantsville; Jesse J. Ashby, Jr., Victor Tasker, George M. Browning, Buster Sines, Michael DeWitt, Darwin DeWitt, Oakland; Whitney Reese, near College Park; Herman Shank, Clarence Grady, Cumberland; Kenneth Crowe, Frostburg; John Williams and Walter Funkhouser, Luke; Harry Vayles, Barton; Hubert M. Bowman, McHenry; J. W. Hawk, Charles W. Poole, Frederick; Richard E. Pryot, Sabillasville; Clyde O. Smith, Smithburg; Irvin Savage, Friendsville; Robert Wildesen, Ryan's Glade.

Additional deer reported killed by Scott Sisler, George Uphold, Ted Reckert, Sang Run; Kermit Teets, Cranesville; Frank Schell, Oakland; Earl Selders, Ohio; George Shawley, Elbert Fazenbaker, Jesse Bittinger, George Bittinger. Bittinger; Harry O. Miller and Lee Beachy, Grantsville; Edward Harris, Swanton.

Game Warden Richard S. Browning, a few minutes before this paper was being put on the press, reported in person a list of 120 hunters who were successful in the chase. This list included some of those already named in this artiicle. It is estimated that the kill will reach 150 or more when all reports are complete. The additional list of names will be printed when more space is available.

AGED COUPLE NARROWLY ESCAPE DEATH BY FIRE

Their Home and Contents Entirely Consumed Tuesday

The home of Sherman G. Savage, located between Sang Run and the Power House on the Youghiogheny River, was burned to the ground early on Tuesday morning and Mr. and Mrs. Savage, aged 75 and 68, respectively, barely escaped with their lives.

The home belonged to their son, Edward H. Savage, and there was no insurance. Nothing was saved from the fire, not even clothing or personal belongings.

Mrs. Savage was awakened by the smell of smoke about six o'clock and discovered fire burning through the wall between a bathroom and bedroom. She called Mr. Savage who ran to an upper rear porch where he became trapped. Mrs. Savage made her escape down the stairway and ran for assistance. It was some time after her return with help that they found Mr. Savage, who had been trying to attract their attention. Neighbors secured a ladder and rescued him from his perilous position several minutes before the walls of the house collapsed.

As the couple is left without any furnishings, James A. Savage, a son, is receiving numerous things from people in the community.

DAMAGES BEING SOUGHT AS RESULT OF ACCIDENT

Oakland Youths Remain In Hospital As Result of Injuries

Notice that damages will be sought as a result of an accident November 6, at the curve in the 700 block on Washington street, Cumberland, has been filed with the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland, by Lewis M. Wilson, attorney for Oscar Turney, of Oakland, father of Milton Turney, 18, who was injured.

Turney, and his companion, Stanley Stark, both of Oakland, are still patients in the Allegany Hospital, Cumberland, and the exent of their injuries have not been determined. The notice to the city officials does not mention the definite amount of damages to be sought in the action.

The Wilson letter declares that Turney is in the hospital as a result of "injuries caused by negligence of the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland in permitting the public street where the accident occurred, to remain, over a long period of time and with full notice of the same, in a dangerous, unsafe and unskilfully engineered condition due to improper grading and other things."

Mayor Thomas W. Koon, of Cumberland, said the point where the accident took place is well marked with signs, lines, a dummy and reflectors and that accidents would not occur if automobiles were not speeding.

Stanley Stark also remains in the hospital and is said to be in a very serious condition as a result of head injuries sustained in the accident.

DEER HUNTER LOSES LIFE FROM WOUND INFECTION

Roy Miller, 31, Grantsville, Dies In Cumberland Hospital After Being Shot In Knee

SHOOTING IS ACCIDENTAL

Roy Miller, 31-year-old farmer and greenhouse operator of near Grantsville, died in Memorial hospital, in Cumberland, on Sunday evening, as the result of a gangrenous infection of the right leg. It was Maryland's first fatality of the hunting season.

Miller was shot in the knee on Thursday, the first day of the deer hunting season, when a rifle carried by Daniel Brenneman, Grantsville, authorities said, was accidentally discharged.

He was taken to a hospital in Meyersdale immediately after the accident and from there was taken to Cumberland. Miller died as doctors prepared to amputate the leg in an effort to save his life.

Gun Discharged Accidentally

Miller and Brenneman were members of a party of ten hunting on Negro mountain, near Keyser's Ridge, in this county.

They were tramping through the woods in single file when Brenneman's gun, held under his arm point downward, was discharged in some unaccountable manner.

By a strange twist of circumstanees, Miller had changed his position a few minutes before the accident.

He had been leading the party, according to his brother, Ralph, but dropped back into third place just in front of Brenneman. He had only taken two or three steps when the gun went off, the bullet passing thru his knee, Ralph said. The body was removed to Grantsville for burial.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Viola Wiley Miller, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Wiley; three daughters, Leona Marie, Virginia Mae, and Rhoda Darlene Miller; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Miller; three brothers, Ralph, Paul, and Alton Miller; two sisters, Misses Grace and Viola Miller.

The deceased was a son of John L. and Mary Little Compton and was born February 1, 1887, in Oakland. He was married to Miss Orpha Slabaugh twenty-six years ago to which union three children were born, James, Mary and John, all at home.

Besides his widow and three children he is survived by three sisters and five brothers, John, Fairmont; Elwood, in Ohio; Grover, Baltimore; James and Joe, Oakland; Mrs. Elizabeth Brown, Salem, O.; Mrs. Mamie Cozad, Pittsburgh, and Miss Nell Compton, Oakland.

He was a member of the Presbyterian church and was a plumber by trade. Funeral services will be conducted Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the home with interment in Oakland cemetery. Dr. A. B. Leamer will be in charge of the services, assisted by Rev. Gregory Bleakly.

The youth is expected to recover.

Boy Plays Hookie By Teacher's Request

Nicholas Long, 12, of Broadford, fifth grade pupil in the Oakland Elementary school, didn't attend classes on Monday and the truant officer made no attempt to see that he did. He loafed around the school building and the principal didn't beckon him to come in. He just watched a man working nearby.

A solicitous neighbor inquired: "Sonny, don't you go to school?" "Yes ma'am," he replied somewhat shyly. "Where do you go?" In answer to this question he merely pointed to the nearby school. "Well, why aren't you in there now?" the woman asked.

"I skun me a polecat," he grinned.

Streets To Have Curb Trees And Strands Of Colored Lights; To Be Up By Saturday

CHILDREN TO GET TREAT

Oakland, already beginning to assume a holiday atmosphere in many of the stores, will be gayly decorated for the Christmas season, according to present plans of the City Council and business men.

Members of the City Council and the West Maryland Power company are taking charge of the street decorations to be made of laurel and strands of colored bulbs. At a meeting of the City Council on Monday it was decided to give an amount not exceeding $30 toward the expense of such decorations. The city will designate two workmen to be responsible for assisting the Power company in erection of the decorations.

Business men will again erect and decorate their curb Christmas trees, and those in charge are asking that this be done as soon as possible. Most of the trees are being brought into Oakland this week and will be distributed.

There will alse be a community tree at the corner of Liberty and Second streets, on the Presbyterian church lawn, which will be decorated by the power company. This is a permanent tree, donated to the town and planted this spring by the girl and boy scouts. Families and householders do not plan to decorate until about December 20.

According to present plans all decorations in the business section are to be in place either the latter part of this week or the first of next so that Oakland will begin to radiate the Christmas spirit in plenty of time.

Stores To Remain Open

Beginning around December 15, a number of stores will remain open in the evening to accommodate those who desire to make their Christmas purchases and avoid the last minute rush. Grocery and other stores not featuring Christmas goods especially will remain open in the evenings after December 20.

There were also tentative plans for some special service around the community tree.

BITTINGER

Members of the Women's Missionary Society of the Lutheran church will hold an oyster supper and bazaar in the village school house next Saturday evening, December 10, at which time and place many things good to eat will be on sale, as well as many articles suitable for Christmas gifts will be on display and may be had at reasonable prices. The general public is cordially invited to attend.

The special Thank-Offering service which was held in the Lutheran church last Sunday evening, was generously attended and has been pronounced a very interesting and successful occasion.

Earl Selders and Jay Brenneman, former residents of this community, but now residing in Ohio, accompanied by an Ohio gentleman, spent last Thursday, Friday and Saturday at their old home near here and all three days they hunted for the wary deer. On Saturday Mr. Selders brought down a splendid buck, which the party took with them to their home in Ohio on Sunday.

During the recent open season for deer, local sportsmen were numerous and enthusiastic, but those who were successful in bagging the animals were comparatively few, they being so far as we can learn, George Shawley, Elbert Fazenbaker, Jesse Bittinger and George Bittinger. Some non-resident hunters also killed deer in the neighborhood.

Elwood Glotfelty and Clarence Stephen were business callers in this village Monday evening.

Homemakers' Column

Edited by Miss Mildred Barton, Home Demonstration Agent, Oakland

Gifts From The Kitchen

Many homemakers are looking, considering, buying—trying to get something to please each person on her list. And often it is that, even after weeks of diligent searching, she finds herself with several names left over, and no ideas.

When a homemaker finds herself in such a quandary, the answer to her problem sometimes is right at home in the kitchen—on the spice shelf, in the flour bin, and the sugar canister. In these and equally prosaic places she finds the makings of gifts that show her holiday good wishes in the time and care she gives to their preparation.

For families in which the homemaker has a limited time to devote to cooking, these home-made dainties are some of the most welcome of all gifts. A jar of jelly or preserves, a batch of cookies, a fruit cake, or a plum pudding are old-time favorites. Other kitchen-manufactured presents might be salted, roasted nuts, glace nuts, candied fruits, candies, mincemeat, maybe a jar of canned pumpkin.

To crisp nuts use one quart of cooking oil for one-half pound of blanched almonds, raw peanuts, or filberts—all weighed after shelling. Heat the oil to about 300 degrees F., or until a cube of bread brown in 5 or 6 minutes. Roast the nuts by lowering them into the hot fat in a wire basket that is deep enough to prevent them floating over the top. Try out a few nuts at first to find the time that is required to get them just right. Roast the nuts only until they are a light brown. They will continue cooking for a few minutes after they are removed from the fat. Spread the nuts on absorbent paper, pat them gently with paper to remove excess fat, and sprinkle with salt.

Halves of pecans, Persian (English) walnuts, or hickory nuts may be salted in much the same way. But they are heated in a small frying pan over low heat. And they need just enough oil or butter to cover the surface of the nuts. They must be stirred until they are hot, then drained on absorbent paper.

Very colorful gifts from the kitchen may include jellies, jams, marmalades, cranberry relish, etc. Some homemakers look far enough ahead to put up extra containers all during the year for Christmas gifts.

Other timely kitchen gifts are sweets of all kinds—cookies, fruit cakes, plum puddings, candies.

In foods cooked with honey, drying out will be no problem. For honey has a special power—the ability to absorb and retain moisture. There are many recipes that have been worked out with honey as an ingredient. And in others, honey may be substituted for part of the sirup or sugar.

In quick-bread and cake recipes honey may be substituted cup for cup for sugar. But the liquid will need to be reduced. For medium thick honey, if substituted for all the sugar in the recipe, reduce the liquid one-half. If honey is substituted for only half the sugar, reduce the liquid one-fourth. Following is a recipe for drop cookies worked out with honey as an ingredient.

Cream ¼ cup butter. Mix 1 beaten egg with ¾ cup honey and 2 tablespoons of milk. To 2 cups sifted flour, 2 teaspoons of baking powder, and ½ teaspoon salt, add 1 cup chopped nuts, ½ cup chopped dates or other dried fruit, and ½ cup candied citron or pineapple. Then add the nuts and dry ingredients alternately with the liquid mixture to the butter. Drop by small spoonfuls on a greased baking sheet and bake in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) for about 10 minutes.

PARAGRAPH OPINIONS

Hunters are bringing in stories of what they have seen in the woods during the past few days.

Does were being killed by the dozen during the deer season. Some of the deer which had been shot had marks of buckshot on them from hunters prior to the open season. One deer even had his eyes shot out by buckshot.

One hunter tells of a group of three carloads of hunters who came to this county prior to the opening of deer season and hunted with high powered rifles prior to last Thursday. You just don't hunt pheasants with high powered riffles, and the logical conclusion is that these people were hunting deer. They returned to Allegany county before the season really opened. Perhaps they brought down a few bucks.

In Pennsylvania and West Virginia the game laws are enforced and sportsmen have respect for the laws. Everybody knows how game laws are not respected in this county. But before long the people are going to get aroused about it. Then we'll see some action.

As the County Commissioners begin their new term, it is our opinion that for the good of all concerned, a close account of the minutes of various transactions should be kept, so that at any time any citizen may inspect the record and see what the commissioners did, what they didn't do, what they hope to do, and what they don't expect to do. It is our belief that the new board plans to carry this out.

In Thousand Languages

Universal Bible Sunday will be observed throughout the country on Sunday. The Scriptures has now appeared in 1,000 different languages. Whatever one's religion, this is a fact that should command the respect of all serious-minded people. The Bible is more than just another book. It is a world institution. Sales of Bibles, Testaments and portions have run into the tens of millions every year.

Not for Politics

We have no doubt in the world but that the Young Democrats were most sincere in their desire to raise funds for the needy, but that it should be called a "Community Chest Fund" seems to us to be somewhat out of the way.

While we have no doubt either that the money would be expended to those in need, regardless of political party, we believe that a drive for funds for a "Community" chest should originate and be handled by some community welfare agency such as the Red Cross, Mayor and Town Council, or some other similar organization, and not by Democrats or Republicans.

The present plan has too much the appearance of a political move to corral the relief and needy vote, although that idea is probably far from the minds of the Young Democrats in charge.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS. . . . . .

By FRANK R. KENT

Copyright by the Baltimore Sun and reprinted in The Republican by permission.

The "Crossroads" Again

As the day for the convening of Congress appproaches, the question of what course Mr. Roosevelt will pursue is again profoundly debated. The same thing has been discussed almost in the same way just ahead of every Congressional session since, in 1934, the direction in which the first New Deal was carrying the country became clear.

Upon at least six such occasions it has been impressively stressed that the President was "at the crossroads"; that he had to make "a choice"; that he could follow farther along the road of expenditures and experimentation or turn toward retrenchment, conciliation and solvency. In view of the fact that upon not one of these occasions when the President had a choice has he chosen to turn right, but always continued left, it would seem absurd again to point out the "choice."

* * *

Yet, although the answer is always the same, these "pointers out" seem never to abandon hope that the day will come when Mr. Roosevelt will take the path to the right. Singularly enough, this is being urged upon him now not only by the few conservatives left around him but actually by some of the more realistic New Dealers who, discouraged by the failure of the purge and the results of the election, privately admit that the whole New Deal philosophy is wearing out; that at bottom this is a business country, and that six years is longer than the sob stuff about the "underprivileged third" can be effectively used. In brief, the country is beginning to turn.

* * *

Realizing this, it has been suggested to the President that the recent election makes it not only easy but certainly wise for him to make concessions to conservative and anti-New Deal sentiment. He could, if he will, nullify much of the criticism against him and restore a good deal of this prestige and position. For example, it is agreed that the people as a whole have become distrustful of the WPA setup. The political saturation of the relief organization and the fact that it was administered by Mr. Roosevelt's personal agent played a considerable part in the New Deal defeats. There will be an irresistible drive to change this system and put relief in the hands of nonpartisan boards or commissions. Instead of trying to block this movement and insisting upon Mr. Hopkins' purity and the virtue of the system, Mr. Roosevelt's friends urge him to take the initiative in the change.

* * *

Similarly, it is suggested that rather than wait until amendments to the Wagner Labor Act are forced on him, he himself propose amendments that will remove the great grievances of the employers against the Labor Relations Board and make of it a really impartial tribunal. It is also said that, with great benefit to himself and to the country, he could effect changes in the TVA administration, such as making its yardstick really measure thirty-six inches instead of about twenty-two. He could also profitably remove the public impression that its purpose is to crush private enterprise without regard to law or justice. And, finally, he is urged not to frustrate the efforts of the Under Secretary, Mr. John Hanes, to present to Congress, with White House backing, a tax bill that will not inflame business interests generally or further block the road to recovery as did his surplus-profit tax scheme.

* * *

There is nothing in the situation which should make it hard for Mr. Roosevelt to do any of these things. Clearly, it would be common political sense to do them. Certainly, he would be widely commended by many who now do nothing but criticize him. But those who know him best are sure that he will continue to the left, just the same. The reasons are these: First, he is congenitally a crusader whose instincts and desires are toward the left. The Left Wingers are the fellows he personally likes. Second, the most potent appeal that can be made to Mr. Roosevelt is that oft-repeated phrase, "Don't let the people down." Every time his radical friends have used that one—and they do it every time he has a "choice"— the President responds with greater expenditures and more strictures against business. Third, he cannot bear the thought that he must make concessions to business and not business to him. Those who recall the heat of that Madison Square Garden 1936 speech, in which he declared that in his first term the bad business men had "met their match" but in his second term they would "meet their master," can appreciate his repugnance to concessions. Perhaps self-interest may induce him to restrain his desire again to plunge ahead with the "forward-looking men." But the best-informed opinion is that this time, as on other occasions, the answer will be the same.

"SHE IS JUST AWAY"

I cannot say and I will not say
That she is dead—she is just away!
With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand,
She has wandered into another land,
And left us dreaming how very fair
It needs must be since she lingers there.

And you, O you, who the wildest yearn
For the old-time step and the glad return,
Think of her passing on, as dear
In the love of thee, a love of her;
Think of her still as the same, I say:
She is not dead; she is just away!

—In Memory of Miss Eliza E. Lee.

Auditorium Well Filled To Hear Hagerstown Choir

The auditorium of the local high school was fairly well filled last Saturday evening for the musical program presented by the Hagerstown a cappella choir under the auspices of the Oakland Community choir. Twelve choral numbers were presented together with a male quartet, a women's ensemble and a group of tenor solos by Romayne Beyard.

This is the choir's eighth season. The program was composed chiefly of Russian and American church music of high excellence. Music lovers were aware that the organization was bent on mastering the most difficult choral literature and presenting it with an arresting style, Rev. Felix Robinson stated. "Its choral tone possessed not only body but sweetness and clear resonance. Its diction was clear."

The local postoffice is the busy place in this community right now. Each day sees a pile, or rather piles of parcels coming in, early Christmas shopping. It seems a pity that all of this shopping should be done outside our own county and community. Nevertheless it's a fact that the mail order houses get the bulk of the holiday trade. And just incidentally, you have to pay the cash in advance.

Loch Lynn is a busy community these days. New improved roads are being laid through the town. A member of the town council told us that they figured it was cheaper to make these roads than to keep up the old roads,wh ich really sounded like good common sense.

Note To All Sirens

If some of the modern girls had lived under the laws of the Euglish parliament in the 18th century, it would have been too bad for them. As for instance, an act passed in 1670 contained the following:

"A woman of whatever age, rank, profession or degree, virgins, maids, or widows, that shall from and after the passing of this act, impose upon, entrap into matrimony and of his majesty's male subjects by scents, cosmetics, paints, washes, artificial teeth, false hair, Spanish wool, iron stays, high heeled shoes or bolstered hips, shall incur the penalty of the law now in force against witchcraft, sorcery and such like misdemeanors and that the marriage upon conviction shall stand null and void."

NEW MARRIAGE LAW NOW IN EFFECT IN MARYLAND

Most Applicants Who Don't Know of Regulation go Ahead Anyway

Applying the brakes to marriages by the new 48-hour law has failed to deter many couples seeking licenses to wed at Oakland. Three made application on last Friday and although two couples didn't know of the law they decided to accept the waiting period necssary before the actual license can be issued.

The law actually went into effect here at eight o'clock last Thursday morning, according to Clerk A. G. Ross who said he was following instructions of the Attorney General. The law went into effect in other places in Maryland at midnight last Thursday.

Six couples applied for permits last Thursday and although they didn't know of the requirements of the law, they went ahead. Couples from Pennsylvania and West Virginia were the applicants. An Ohio couple on Saturday decided they would not wait forty-eight hours and left to obtain a permit elsewhere. They were planning a honeymoon to the West Coast immediately.

Five couples made application on Monday and one made application on Tuesday.

The new marriage law here is expected to cut the number of licenses issued to at least one-half. There have been from thirty to fifty each week for the past two years, with seventy five in a week's period occasionally.

The going into effect of the law did did not cause such a stir here as it did in Elkton and other Gretna Greens of the State. Ministers here did not depend on marriage fees for a livelihood and Clerk Ross kept only regular office hours, opening at 8 o'clock and closing at 5 o'clock. No licenses were issued to applicants on Sunday.

Town Council Pays Interest On Reservoir and Water Bonds

At a meeting of the Mayor and Town Council on Monday night the borrowing of $2,000 from the First National Bank of Oakland, was authorized.

Bills amounting to about $1,700 were then ordered paid. The amount included interest on reservoir bonds, the payment of bonds coming due and the payment of interest on the 1909 water bond issue. The borrowing, it was said, was necessary at this time due to slow collections.

FARMERS MUST SIGN TO GET CONSERVATION CHECK

Meetings Now Being Held In The County; 1400 Applied For Money

Meetings of farmers are being held at different points in the county to receive their 1938 applications for payment under the Soil Conservation program. Fifty-five applications for payment were made at Swanton this week and about 400 more will be received at Friendsville. Meetings are in charge of County Agent John H. Carter.

Each farmer who applied for payment this spring has been notified by letter when meetings are being held, and Mr. Carter pointed out that it was important that applicants come and sign when notified, because forty per cent of those applying in the spring must sign up before the Federal Government will issue any checks in payment of claims.

According to the last census there are 1,999 farmers in this county and if all had made application it would have been possible to receive $76,000 to be distributed among that number. Mr. Carter said that about 1,400 had signed up this year and that between $40,000 and $50,000 will be paid by the Government to farmers in this county.

41,000 Acres Are Added To State's Forest Land

Maryland's 65,000 acres of state forests will be augmented soon by addition of approximately 41,000 acres of submarginal land turned back to the State by the resettlement administration.

State Forester F. W. Besley said the negotations would give Maryland a 99-year lease on 34,000 acres in Garrett county and about 7,000 in Worcester county, originally purchased by the government as part of the program to take submarginal land out of cultivation.

Under terms of the lease, the State Forestry Department must administer the property for forestry purposes, wild life conservation, and recreation. Approximately 15 percent of the income from the acreage will be paid to Garrett and Worcester countise in lieu of taxes.

STRANGE INTERVIEW

A little tin train with a few little cars painted in yellow and green,
Met a wonderful new-fangled electrical train, bright in its modern schene.
Sneered the haughty new train: "I am streamlined and all; every gadget is up-to-date;
"Get out of my way, little engine of tin; how much do you think that you rate?"

Oh, the little tin train was abashed and so meek; it was awed by the splendor it saw,
And marveled how much at the click of a switch that modern new monarch could draw.
It ran on real rails and had headlights that shone and cars were uncoupled at will;
And it swung around curves with a speed that indeed gave every observer a thrill.

But the little boy there with his blue eyes so sweet, looked sadly awhile at the twain—
And bless'f he didn't sit down in the end and pick up the little tin train.
Oh, he put a new cord on the front of it there and started to pull it along—
And somehow I joyed in the smile in his heart and the tenderness of his song! —B. B.

By Folger McKinsey, the Beltztown Bard, in his "Good Morning" column in The Sun.

There are a lot of other toys besides trains that would look just as well to blue-eyed boys and blue-eyed girls if they were fixed over just a little bit.

The Boy Scouts are making over old toys to present to the needy around Christmas time. The recreational division of the WPA is showing how appropriate toys can be made with a very small outlay of money, but which requires time at home by individuals. In this way many children may be able to have toys at Christmas who would otherwise be without.

It is reasonably certain that those children would be just as delighted with hand-made toys as with the electric train of which the Bard speaks in his poem.

PARAGRAPH OPINIONS

Protect Your Gifts

Prudent shoppers who come to Oakland in their automobiles will lock their car doors. Others not so prudent who deposit their gift packages in their cars may find several missing when they arrive home if they become careless.

There is no special amount of thieving going on but at this time of the year there is always the danger of packages being stolen from cars when doors are unlocked.

Car thieves seldom break locks or windows, but they will remove packages from unlocked cars. They loiter in the neighborhood of parked cars into which parcels go and watch to see if the owners lock their doors. This warning is particularly aprops at this season when Christmas shopping is under way in earnest.

Punch Boards

During the past several months we have received from some specialty concern some punchboards. These don't cost us anything but it is urged that we sell the chances and then turn in the money for one or two prizes and a present for ourself.

Just to confirm my suspicions of several years, I took the several punchboards and punched out the holes. One of the rules was that if you punched out a hole which had a higher figure than 29 you only had to pay 29 cents. If the number was lower you paid only corresponding to the number drawn. In every instance there were only two numbers under 29, a number 1 and a number 28.

In other words the persons who expect to "beat" a punch board have no more chance of doing so than the persons who play slot machines—and that chance is a mighty slim one. There seem to be plenty of punch boards and slot machines around the county.

Should Get Together

Various groups of conservationists are spread over the county. They all believe that wildlife should be preserved and steps taken to insure plenty of hunting and fishing for the true sportsmen of the area.

These various groups should get together and have a common organization for the entire county, with branch groups where they now are and a few additional ones formed where the interest justifies.

It is only by joining for a common purpose that any ultimate good will be accomplished.

Likewise it is our belief that the state-wide organizations for the preservation of wildlife should get together. There are several distinct groups and each group has a plan. A coordination of effort will bring about more good than scattered effort.

Fire Fighters

A report of the activities of the Oakland Volunteer Firemen in this week's issue shows several things.

It shows the department is ably manned. It shows the members will go a long way to do the little and big "extras" besides what is called for in the regular line of duty. They answered calls to fires and calls to save property from flood, and to attempt to save life from drowning and electric shock. Oakland appreciates its firemen.

Keep your fires friendly at Christmas time. There's nothing so cheerful as a blazing log in the fireplace at Christmas. Lighted candles are cheerful, too, but they may touch off pine-needles or window curtains almost instantly and fire may break out of bounds.

GORTNER

Pupils of Swan Meadow school will give their play at Sunnyside Grange Hall on the evening of December 22.

Mrs. Ernest Gortner, who was home from the hospital for a week, suffered a relapse, making it necessary to return her to the institution on Sunday where she underwent an operation on Tuesday. Mrs. Anna Bittinger and Mr. Gortner were in Cumberland with Mrs. Gortner.

Revy Miller, who now resides in the State of Washington, and is visiting his brother at his former home at Mason, spent one day last week visiting at the home of J. A. Shaffer. Among the various changes in the community during the fifteen years' absence of Mr. Miller was the missing school house at Mason where he was a student during his early boyhood days.

David Hardesty and family, of Oakland, and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hamilton, of Red House, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Spoerlein.

Rev. E. A. Crites, Loch Lynn, was among those visiting Mr. and Mrs. Elza Biser on Sunday.

Newton Lee is a patient in a Cumberland hospital for appendicitis recently. At last reports he is said to be recovering.

Simon Burkholder, of Somerfield, spent one night last week with Mr. and Mrs. Otis Swiger.

Miss Cleda Friend visited Miss Loretha Henline Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Swartzentruber, Mrs. H. E. Yoder and son, D. J. Swartzentruber and son Simon and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Yoder were among those who attended the funeral of their relative, Roy Miller, at Springs, Pa., on Wednesday.

Charles Vaught, of Eglon, was the preacher on Sunday in the Union chapel here.

Sam Friend, Vernon Miller and Merle Swartzentruber visited Junior and George Lohr at Sunnyside on last Sunday.

Miss Louella Snyder, of Sunnyside, is at the home of Ernest Gortner.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sisk attended a kitchen shower for Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brenner at Loch Lynn on Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Davis and their daughter Mildred, of Cumberland; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Cavanass, of Pinehurst, N. C., spent Wednesday here as guests at the Gortner home. Harvey Gortner and family, of Grantsville, were also guests on Sunday.

Van Deem has returned after visiting his son Ralph and family, at Table Rock.

MT. LAKE PARK

"Now the laborer's task is o'er:
Now the battle day is past;
Now upon the farther shore
Lands the voyager at last.
Father in Thy gracious keeping
Leave we now Thy servant sleeping."

In the sudden passing of "Tommy" Compton last week the Park lost another fine and useful person. This community was shocked, and he will be missed.

Almost at the same time and on the same day "Billy" Traver passed away down in Virginia. "Billy" spent the greater part of his life here in the county.

And so it goes—each year there are a few more missing faces.

Our articles on the Young Wild Life League have brought us a number of interesting facts. Unfortunately space does not permit us to give them this week. One thing we will mention, however:

Edward O'Donnell is afraid he will get the crdit for the game shelter on his property and he asks that we tell you that the Young Sportsmen's Club and League of Loch Lynn alone are responsible and that he only gave the ground for this.

And speaking of shelter, Mr. Wiley Welling says if there is anyone knowing of needed shelter or food for wildlife, will they please get in touch with him. One thing seems certain, neither the birds or the squirrels will suffer this winter.

One person wants to know "what about all the poor stray cats and dogs wandering around the Park?" Well, we know of two stray cats and one stray dog that found homes last week, which wasn't bad, considering the looks of all three. A month from now we won't know them.

Mrs. Joseph Winders and nephew, Tom Johnson, of Cumberland, spent Sunday here with Mrs. Winders' parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Burk.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Brown are both ill at their home here. Mrs. Brown, who had been ill for several days was improving, when Mr. Brown was taken sick. Later she suffered a relapse. Mrs. Brown is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Schaeffer.

Mrs. Bessie Zahan has returned from a visit to Clarksburg with friends there.

Mrs. Wiley Welling spent several days in Cumberland with her daughter, Miss Norma Welling.

Mrs. F. P. Arnold left the Park on Friday for Baltimore where she will visit relatives and will later go to Jacksonville, Florida, to spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. James G. Jarboe.

Mrs. J. A. Turney spent Sunday in Cumberland.

Mrs. Allie Haymond is in Kingwood where she will remain until after Christmas.

J. A. Clerk is confined to his home with a light attack of grip.

Mrs. Joyce Webster spent Tuesday in Morgantown.

Mrs. E. L. Winchell returned to her home here Saturday following an absence of three weeks or more which she spent with relatives and friends in various cities of Ohio.

Miss Bettye Martin will arrive home on Saturday from St. Mary's Academy to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Britten Martin.

Mrs. Helen Muratt, who is attending State Normal at Frostburg, spent the week-end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Z. Gibson.

Dr. and Mrs. C. Oscar Hall entertained a number of friends at a 500 party on Saturday night.

The condition of Miss Mildred Ford, Loch Lynn town clerk, is causing her friends much alarm. Miss Ford recently returned home from a Philippi hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. James Sebold have moved into their new home in Loch Lynn.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Stevenson, Jr., remains quite ill at Mercy Hospital, Baltimore, to which city she was taken last week. Some little improvement was noted on Monday but the child is critically ill.

This evening at Thoburn Inn there will be a chicken dinner. This dinner is for the benefit of the Self-Help school. The charge will be fifty cents, and those in charge have promised a fine dinner. Don't miss it.

The annual Christmas party of the Mountain Lake Park-Loch Lynn Homemakers club was held last Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Leatha Smith. Miss Mildred Barton and Mrs. Mason Glotfelty were guests. Seasonal decorations and the singing of carols created a pleasant atmosphere. Games were played. Refreshments made in Christmas designs were served.

Officers elected for the new year are: President, Mrs. Leatha Smith; vice-president, Mrs. Gladys Weeks; secretary, Mrs. Alice Fitzwater; treasurer, Mrs. Florence Rathbun.

Mrs. Eichelberger wants to thank the business people of Oakland for their donations making it possible to serve an oyster supper to the students of the Self-Help University at Mountain Lake Park. The number present was approximately sixty.

DIED

WILLIAM S. SHROUT

William S. Shrout, 88, of Gorman this county, died on Wednesday, December 7, at the Reeves clinic, Westernport, where he had been a patient for a month.

A native of Grant county, West Va., Mr. Shrout was a lumber cutter in his active career and was well known in pioneer timber development in the section bordering the Potomac River in Garrett county and West Virginia.

He was a charter member of the Knights of Pythias lodge of Gormania, West Va., and a member of Oak lodge, No. 8, I. O. O. F., at Mountain Lake Park. Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Laura Miller Shrout and five grandchildren.

WILLIAM TRAVER

On Thursday, December 8, at Richmond, Va., occurred the death of William Traver, a son of J. William Traver and the late Harriett Miles Traver.

"Billy," as he was familiarly known in Mountain Lake Park and in Oakland, was 45 years of age and had lived in this county the greater part of his life. Daath was caused by an attack of acute indigestion and heart trouble. He had apparently been in his usual health when he left Mountain Lake Park a few weeks ago for Richmond.

Burial was made Saturday at South Boston, Va., in the family burial plot.

Surviving are his father, J. W. Traver, and one sister, Mrs. Hal Jacobs.

REV. E. E. CAMPBELL

Rev. Elmer E. Campbell, retired Lutheran minister, former pastor of the Bittinger parish, died at his home in Nevada, Ohio, November 30. He was born April 7, 1864, in Noble county, Indiana, a son of Levi and Lucy McMahon Campbell.

He spent his early life on a farm near Albion, Indiana. He attended a Methodist college at Fort Wayne, Indiana, and Wittenberg College and Hamma Divinity School at Springfield. He was ordained into the Lutheran ministry at Albion in 1895, serving pastorates in Indiana, Illinois, Iowa and Ohio. His last pastorate was at Bittinger, but he also supplied a church at Dungnat, Ohio, after moving to Nevada, until the state of his health would no longer permit. He lectured for the prohibition cause for a number of years. His ministry, however, was his foremost thought.

April 11, 1888, he married Miss Livona L. Bruce, who died October 19, 1923. Surviving this union are seven children: Frank, Davenport, Iowa; Archie, Kenosha, Wis.; Bruce, Bucyrus, O.; Mary, Kirkpatrick, O.; Bertha and Lucy, Toledo, O., and John, of Grantsville.

On January 4, 1925, he married Miss Hazel Brehman, who survives him with four children at home, Ellsworth, Esther, Ruth and Luther. A sister, Mrs. Rosa Rosenberger, of Albuquerque, N. Mex., fifteen grandchildren and one great-grandchild also survive.

Funeral services were conducted at Nevada, with burial at Sulphur Springs, Ohio.

WINTER ARRIVES TODAY THE CALENDAR TELLS US

Is Shortest Day In Year With Only 9 Hours Of Daylight

Winter, that old standby, who has a habit of paying Garrett county a visit annually and sometimes overstaying his welcome, will move in Thursday (today), December 22, and he'll be hanging around, in some shape or another, until the vernal equinox on the 21st of March.

For his first day, he'll have to be satisfied with nine hours of daylight, the shortest day of the year, compared to fifteen hours between sunrise and sunset on the longest day of the year, June 21.

Astronomers announce the arrival of winter when "the sun enters the sign of Capricorn and enters into its most Southern declination."

RADIO INTERFERENCE IN OAKLAND BEING STUDIED

Just What Can Be Done About It Is An Unanswered Question

Radio static, interference and other noises which come from somewhere and are transmitted throught he loudspeakers of numerous radios all over town, are coming in for their share of investigation in recent weeks, but just what can be done about the trouble, if anything, is a subject that remains unanswered up to the present moment.

The Mayor and Town Council, is cooperating with officials of the West Maryland Power Company, in an effort to discover the various causes and if possible to suggest remedies. Also assisting is Baity Ridder and other radio men in Oakland.

L. E. Bates and Don Morrison, West Penn officials, from Fairmont, W. Va., under which the West Maryland Power Company operates, were here two weeks ago and again on Monday night. Two weeks ago they were accompanied around town by Mayor Fraley and all noted by their car radio where interference occurred.

The question came up for discussion at the Council meeting on Monday evening and it was explained that much of the static and interference came from neon signs, electrical equipment in homes and poor wiring in many buildings. Radio dealers now have "gadgets" which they claim will eliminate a certain amount of interference. F. C. Kley, manager of the West Maryland Power Company, stated that an educational program would be necessary to show people what they can do in their own homes and business establishments to eliminate most of the noise.

It was pointed out that neon signs, if properly erected and all connections are welded, will not cause disturbance when turned on. In the same way it was shown that if the wiring in buildings had welded connections there would be no cause for worry in this respect.

Both the Council and the power company have had many requests for an investigation to determine just what has been causing radios to emit sounds ranging anywhere from those depicting a cat on the backyard fence at 3 a. m., to the steady hum of a motor as a dentist grinds on one's molars.

Whether there is more noticeable interference here than in other small towns or in the large cities, is not known.

Oakland High Boys Win From Central High At Lonaconing

Oakland High school's basketball teams shared victory and defeat with Central High school's two teams at Lonaconing last Friday night when the Oakland girls proved no match for Central's sextet and went down 50 to 8, while the Oakland boys staged a fourth period rally that carried them to a 20-19 triumph over Central.

The score was 2-2 at the quarter, with Central leading 7-6 at half time and 17-12 at the three-quarter way. Oakland, with apparent defeat facing it, stepped on the gas in the final frame, Wolfe and Kley, guards, leading the winning offensive. Kley scored four field goals and two of four goals for ten points, while Wolfe scored three field goals. The balance of the points were scored on fouls by Mason, Fazzalari, Sharps and Stewart.

At Oakland last week Oakland boys defeated Masontown high 24 to 22.

The Christmas Story,

According to Saint Luke, Verses One to Twenty of Chapter Two

AND it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed. (And this taxing was first made when Cyrenius was Governor of Syria.) And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city. And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem; (because he was of the house and lineage of David:) to be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child. And so it was, that, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered. And she brought forth her first-born Son, and wrapped Him in swaddling clothes, and laid Him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.

AND there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night. And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid. And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

FOR unto you is born this day in the city of David, a Savior, which is Christ the Lord. And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the Babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger. And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying, Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good-will toward men.

AND it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us. And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph and the Babe lying in a manger. And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this Child. And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds. But Mary kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart. And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them.

Many Fish Get Away—But This Time It's An Egg

There are many large fish that get away, according to fishermen, but this is the story of an egg that "got away."

D. A. King, farmer and excellent citizen of the Accident community, has about a hundred hens and occasionally gathers odd-sized and odd-shaped eggs from his hen house, but his prize was one this week which weighed four ounces. As he was coming to Oakland Monday morning he wrapped it carefully in cotton as "Exhibit A" (or E). to show the editor, but pressing a little heavily on the box in which it was packed he wrecked it.

With his evidence gone (and no one doubts his veracity) he still claims it was the largest egg he ever saw. The egg, a single yolk, was enclosed in two hard shells.

This story should stir the chickens of W. A. Hauser, near town, who have failed to lay golf-ball-shaped eggs since the season closed on the municipal golf course adjacent to Mr. Hauser's hen house.

Dr. and Mrs. John G. Robinson left Oakland the latter part of last week for points in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and in New York City where they will spend the holiday season with their sons and daughters.

Commissioners Listen To Road Delegations And Needy Individuals

The County Commissioners, at their meeting Monday and Tuesday, were kept busy listening to a number of road delegations and hearing requests for financial aid from the needy.

"While every delegation and individual were sincere in their appeal, it looks like the people were just trying out the new board. to see what we would do." one of the Commissioners remarked.

Road delegations appeared from Accident, Swanton, Deer Park, North Glade and New Germany communities.. asking repairs to certain sections of road. Each delegation was promised proper consideration. Relief requests were handled as the Commissioners thought just and fair.

Dr. N. I. Broadwater was appointed physician to the jail and Henry Myers was appointed a constable. No appointment of attorney to the board was made, and other appointments were also postponed until after the first of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hathaway announced Sunday morning the birth of a son, born to them at their home just north of Oakland that morning.

ARTHUR LAWTON IS NAMED CLERK BY TOWN COUNCIL

Appointment Comes After Seventh Ballot Is Taken by Members

At a meeting of the Mayor and Town Council of Oakland on Monday evening, Arthur Lawton was appointed City Clerk to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of J. Frank Browning. The appointment came after the seventh ballot by members of the Council, as there were thirteen applicants for the position. Mr. Lawton received four of the six votes on the seventh ballot.

Mr. Browning resigned to become acting postmaster of Oakland on January 1, following his appointment to that position last week.

Other applicants for the position of City Clerk included Mrs. Irene Bond, G. A. Fraley, Charles F. Hammond, Delores R. Kerins, Percy L. Lawton, H. A. Loraditch, Edward Maroney, Lee R. Mason, Miss Julia Rowan, Howard P. Stuck, and Forrest E. Warnick.

At Monday night's meeting Council reduced the salary of the clerk from $125 per month to $100 per month.

GARRETT NATIONAL NOW PAYING FINAL DIVIDEND

Makes A Total Of 100 Percent Paid on Claims Aggregating $816,696.13 Since 1933

PAYMENTS BEGAN MONDAY

The Garrett National Bank of Oakland, in receivership since the bank holiday in 1933, began to pay its final dividend of five pecent on Monday, December 19. This five percent dividend makes a total of 100 percent paid on aggregate claims of $816,696.13.

The announcement that the payment of these final amounts on deposits was made by John H. Hoffman, receiver. Mr. Hoffman stated that the trust had for distribution to creditors who have proven their claims dividend checks in the approximate amount of $43,258.95.

The assets of the bank have not yet been completely liquidated and a further dividend representing the interest at the legal rate, computed upon the unpaid balances of each claim from the date of suspension, will be paid when and if the further liquidation of the assets warrant such a distribution, it was stated.

Checks for this deferred five percent may be received by calling at the office of the receiver, in the Garrett National Bank Building. In order to expedite delivery all creditors are requested to bring with them the proo of claim issued by the receiver. Due to the confusion during the first week or two when checks are being delivered, checks will be issued only to those presenting the receiver's certificates, Mr. Hoffman stated.

COMMUNITY BUILDING HAS BEEN APPROVED BY W. P. A.

Final Action on Project Is Up To Council and Citizens Of Town

A project for the construction of a community building in Oakland has been approved by the Works Progress Administration, it was announced by James Pollock, field supervisor for Garrett county, this morning.

The initiatory action by the WPA leaves the final action on the matter up to the town of Oakland. An opportunity to vote on a bond issue, providing for the borrowing of money for such construction purposes, will probably be given this spring.

Mr. Pollock said the project covered the construction of a building costing about $74,000, of which the WPA would furnish about 70 percent, or $51,800. This would leave a balance of $23,000 for the town to furnish.

In the original plans discussed by the Town Council and the Oakland Fire Department the latter organization had agreed to accept the responsibility of repaying the loan that would be necessary to erect the community building.

Chauncey E. Ellithorp, of Bittinger, who is slowly recovering from injuries sustained a year ago in an automobile accident north of Oakland, was in the county seat last Friday on a business mission. His friends here will be pleased to learn that his condition is improving, even though slowly.

WILLIAM HARPER, STEYER, KILLED IN TRUCK WRECK

Is Crushed Between Vehicle And Fence In Accident Early Sunday Morning Near Red House

Irvin Steyer, driver of a truck which wrecked early Sunday morning about a mile south of Red House, resulting in the death of William Henry Harper, of Steyer, was absolved of any negligence at an inquest conducted on Monday afternoon.

Harper, a bachelor, aged 65 years, residing in Steyer and that community for a number of years, died as the result of a crushed chest and other injuries before a physician could reach him.

According to the testimony presented at the inquest Harper and Steyer were returning from Silver Lake early Sunday morning when Steyer, who was driving the truck, lost control of the vehicle on account of icy conditions on the highway's surface, ran off the pavement and struck a fence. The impact evidently broke the handle of the door, allowing it to swing open and Harper fell out and was chushed between a fence post and the truck. Steyer was not injured.

Authorities here were notified of the occurrence and State's Attorney Neil C. Fraley with Sheriff J. W. Owens and Corporal Thomas Currie made an investigation. In the meantime a physician had been called from Gorman, near the man's home, but Harper was dead when he was examined by the medical man.

The coroner's inquest was held before Justice of the Peace C. F. Hammond. H. L. Jones was foremen of the jury. After hearing the testimony the jury returned a verdict of "accidental death without any criminal negligence on the part of the driver."

Mr. Harper was born February 7, 1873, in Barbour county, W. Va. Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the White Church, Rev. Harold Gamblin officiating. Interment was in the White Church cemetery with the Knights of Pythias lodge of Gormania in charge of final rites at the grave. Mr. Harper was a member of the Knights of Pythias lodge of Gormania and also a member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

Woman Badly Injured In Wreck

Miss Katherine McLaughlin, of Washington, D. C., sustained a broken nose, had several teeth knocked out and was otherwise bruised about the head last Friday morning when a car in which she was riding left the highway and crashed into a tree.

Pete Frank Castiglioni, of Washington, D. C., enroute to St. Louis, Mo., for the Christmas holidays, was the driver of the car. He was cut about the chin. Castiglioni told Corporal Thomas Currie of the State Police that he had left Washington early Friday morning and had evidently gone to sleep at the wheel.

Miss Olive May Bollinger, Morgantown, W. Va., was the other occupant of the car. Miss McLaughlin, after being treated by Dr. N. I. Broadwater at Oakland, was takeen to Washington in Leighton's ambulance.

Three Cars In Wreck

Three cars were involved in a wreck at Crellin Sunday morning. Corporal Currie said Elmer Shaffer's car was parked when a car driven by Milton Wilson sideswiped it. A son of Duncan Adams, alighting from the Shaffer car, injured his leg. While the cars were still in a tangle another automobile driven by James Arlyn Miller, Hyndman, Pa., sidewiped the Shaffer car again. All have been cited to appear before a magistrate.

At a hearing before Justice Robert Townshend on December 18, Rice M. Johnson, Parsons, was fined $101 and costs on charges of driving a car while under the influence of liquor. The fine and costs were paid. Corporal Currie said another arrest was made on the same charge but that there had been no hearing before a magistrate.

PARENTS ARE URGED NOT TO LET CHILDREN OVERDO

Advice Is Especially Applicable During This Holiday Season

"Of course you want your youngsters to have a good time, but don't let them overdo," Dr. J. H. M. Knox, Jr., Chief of the Bureau of Child Hygiene of the State Department of Health, advises mothers and fathers also, as the Christmas season approaches.

"This advice holds good all the year round," Dr. Knox continued, "but it is especially applicable during the holiday season, when the temptation to over-excitemeit, to over-indulgence in sweets, to keep late hours, and to have too little rest, is even greater than at other times.

"You don't want them to miss any of the holiday pleasures that other children are enjoying, but don't let them get completely worn out from excitement, and from going too hard. Sandwich some rest periods, and extra nap or two, between the Christmas parties and entertainments. Let them sleep later in the morning. Don't wait until they become cross and irritable before you get them to rest up a bit. Guard against over-eating as well as over-fatigue during theh oliday season. Rich mixtures and too many sweets are a bad combination at any time.

"Over-tiredness is a well-known cause of indigestion among children. Suitable food and sufficient sleep are of the utmost importance at all times —not only during the holiday season. Children use up a great deal of energy and strength in the processes of growth and development. Great care should always be taken to safeguard against over-stimulation of a child's nervous system. Over-indulgence in exciting movies, and in too many parties, is likely to leave bad after-effects.

"No matter how carefully a child's diet may be planned, adequate rest and protection from nervous strain are necessary to insure normal growth and development and resistance to disease. By the close of the day, young children from two to six, or older, are usually healthily tired and ready for bed. It is a mistake to let them sit up long after the evening meal and so miss long hours of strengthening rest and sleep. Children indulged in this way are apt to be pale, peevish, restless, irritable and to have poor appetites.

"One of the most important features of a young child's daily routine is the midday rest. Few children under six can store up enough surplus energy in a night's sleep to carry them happily through twelve or fourteen hours of constant physical and mental activity. A nap during the day helps to restore a proper balance.

"Even when children are attending two sessions of school, it is often possible for the youngsters in the lower grades to have a brief rest after the midday meal and between sessions. If this can't be arranged at school, see that the rest is taken after the afternoon session."

Universal Spirit Of Christmas

Christmas Eve. Snow lying white over the town. Stores gaily decorated with silver and red rope, chains hung with tinsel. Windows filled with electric trains, Shirley Temple dolls, elaborate doll houses. Late shoppers scuttling home, arms filled with interesting looking bundles. Tired huddles standing at car stops. Limousines containing snooty chauffeurs and snootier doggies whizzing past. Crowded street ears and busses oozing through the streets, Salvation Army lasses and Santas standing on corners, tinkling tambourines, bells in cathedral playing Christmas carols. Thousands gathered near community Christmas tree which towers a hundred feet into the air. An airplane circling overhead. Cathedral chimes ring out "Silent Night." Silence. Suddenly the tree becomes a blaze of colored lights. The crowd, led by the police band, bursts into "Adeste Fideles."—That's Christmas Eve in a northern city.

Christmas Eve. Palm trees waving under a dark Southern sky. Great rollers, warmed by the Gulf Stream, pounding rhythmically on the shore. Suntanned people walking along palm-bordered streets between rows of poinsettia. The open-air stores hung with holly. A Salvation Army lass taking up a collection for the aid of the poor. A Christmas service in the Little Church by the Sea. Wreaths hung in open windows. Electric fans blowing the straw in the eriche. The sound of waves beating on the shore coming through the window. The chimes play Christmas carols. . . .

That's Christmas Eve in a Southern town. . . .

Strange, isn't it, about Christmas? No matter where you are, it doesn't change a bit. The same carols, sung the same way, sound the same, whether they be sung in Wisconsin or in Florida. Gifts are exchanged in the same spirit, everywhere.

The Christmas season is the time when everyone feels more kindly toward his friends, less hostile toward his enemies, and mankind in general.

It is the time when a feeling of universal brotherhood is prevalent. It is the time when charity is easier to give. Why? It is because it is the season when we remember God's great Gift to us, when we try to make that Gift worthwhile.

DISTINCTIVE FEATURES IN EACH CHRISTMAS SEAL

If you are a stamp collector, or are looking around for an interesting hobby, here is a suggestion from Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the Maryland State Department of Health:

"If you haven't done so already," Dr. Riley said, "start this year to make a collection of tuberculosis Christmas seals.

"Just as in postage stamps," he continued, "there is some distinctive feature in each series of the tuberculosis seals to add to its interest. This year it happens to be biographical. In the corners of each sheet of a hundred seals, you will find the portraits of four pioneers in the fight against tuberculosis. First comes Theophile Laennec, the young French doctor and research workers, who, in 1819, accidentally discovered, from observing some boys at play, that sounds were greatly intensified if listened to through some appropriate medium. He applied the principle, crudely at first, and later developed it into what he called a 'stethoscope,' meaning chest examiner, a device that is now an essential part of the equipment of every doctor. The stethoscope was only one of Laennec's contributions to the early study of tuberculosis.

"In another corner is a tiny portrait of Robert Koch, the great German bacteriologist, who in 1882, after years of painstaking study, isolated the germ that causes tuberculosis. Koch's discovery eventually revolutionized the treatment of the disease, which for centuries had ranked as the 'Captain of the Men of Death'.

"Portrait number three, is that of a great American leader in the fight against tuberculosis—Edward Livingston Trudeau—a young New York physician, who developed the disease, and, in 1873, went to the Adirondacks, to spend what he thought would be the few years remaining to him, in his beloved mountains. Instead of dying, he began to improve and took up again the practice of medicine A translation of Koch's report of his discovery fell into his hands. He communicated with him; got a supply of the living germs from Koch's laboratory and began his own study of them. In 1884, at Saranac Lake, he opened the first sanatorium in the United States for the modern treatment of suberculosis. The great laboratory and the sanatorium that bear Trudeau's name were developed from these early beginnings, and led the way for similar services in other parts of this country.

"The last portrait in the quartet is that of Holboell, the Danish postal clerk, who, in 1904, suggested the use of the tuberculosis Christmas seals, as a means of raising funds for the fight against tuberculosis. The idea was widely adopted and the annual Christmas seal sale soon became an important way of raising money for the tuberculosis campaigin in many countries. Each country originates its own designs and many are very beautiful. All have one symbol in common—the double barred cross that is the mark all over the world of the fight against tuberculosis.

"The seals sold in this country are gotten out by the National Tuberculosis Association. The four tiny portraits are only a part of this year's series. The remaining 96 seals in each sheet of a hundred, carry a tiny picture of a family group and emphasize the thought of protecting the home from tuberculosis. The seals sell for only a penny apiece, and every seal you buy helps to carry on the fight aggainst the disease in this State."

Extend State Auto Inspection Period To January 4

The office of the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles has announced a 15-day extension, or until January 4, of the time allowed for inspection of motor cars in the "Save-A-Life" campaign.

After January 4, motorists whose cars have not been inspected will be given a summons and 1939 licenses will not be issued for cars that have not passed inspection, the announcement stated.

The extension of the time was said to be because 125,000 motor car owners have not yet complied with the law.

Joseph T. Glotfelty, of near Oakland, underwent an operation last Saturday in Mercy Hospital, Baltimore, and although still in a critical condition, attending physicians state that he should convalesce at a normal rate and regain his health within a few months. His trouble was diagnosed as the result of a bursted artery, according to a message from his daughter, Mrs. J. M. Robey, of Washington, D. C., rather than a hopeless malignancy, as was first thought. LATER—Officials at Mercy Hospital, Baltimore, notified Dr. E. I. Baumgartner last night that Mr. Glotfelty's condition was such that amputation of his right leg became necessary to save his life. The operation was performed Tuesday morning.

BLOOMINGTON IS TO GET ITS WATER FROM WESTERNPORT

All Necessary Changes Are Being Made In Lines This Week

Installation of pipe line connecting the Westernport water line with the Bloomington service lines has been completed and everything is in readiness to cut off Bloomington from the Piedmont line. The change over will be made about the first of the week or as soon as a break in the Westernport line has been repaired and more data has been secured regarding pressure resistance of the Bloomington service lines.

The change over for Bloomington from Piedmont to Westernport water will be a protection to the health of that community as the Piedmont water is not treated with chlorine until it reaches the filtration plant in Piedmont, whereas the Westernport water is chlorinated at the dam on Savage River.

Both communities secure water from dams on the Savage River. Both dams are several miles up the stream and are higher than the storage reservoirs on the hills in the two towns served, hence constant gravity flows give an edequate water supply for both towns. Both trunk lines from the dams to the reservoirs pass near the town of Bloomington and are now available to supply water to that town.

Because of the location of the two chlorinating plants the Maryland Department of Health has been urging the town of Westernport for several years to make the necessary changes in the lines and supply Bloomington with water. Recently an agreement between the mayor and commissioners of Westernport and the Bloomington Water Company was reached and connecting pipe lines have now been completed.

Christmas

"And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David, a Savior, which is Christ the Lord."—Luke 2:10-11.

These words are probably known to more people in this world than any others. With all the angels who celebrated His nativity, we add our voice of joy. With the humble who inquired what these things meant, we still search for the truth of the incarnation.

Perhaps it will not go amiss to pray that there will be peace on earth, which, after all, would be a reception of the good tidings.

A very Happy Christmastide to you all!

There will be a Community Tree: that is good news, indeed. This tree will be sponsored by the City Council Thursday night at 7:30, in the old auditorium grounds. There will be music and of course a Santa Claus and a Christmas treat. We were not sure that there would be a tree; somehow it was impossible to get anything definite, but just the same we were figuring that there would be one, so don't fail to be there—and Mickey's Band.

And speaking of Christmas: on Sunday night, at the Methodist church, they are going to have a real Christmas program with a Christmas Carol service. Ever hear of it? Well, it takes in Christmas of all countries. The Christmas of each country is told in carols. The history of these carols will be given by Reverend Gamblin, of the local church. The Pleasant Valley and the White Church congregations will join the Mountain Lake church for the music, which will be in charge of Rev. Felix Robinson. Need we say more?

On Sunday morning Rev. Howard Gamblin will preach a special sermon, "The Beauty of Christmas." This service will be held at 10 o'clock. At 10:50 there will be Sunday school services, with A. T. White, superintendent, in charge.

REVOLVING FUND STARTED TO OBTAIN EYE GLASSES

Through Efforts of Mr. Jesse J. Ashby, Jr., Donations Totaling $150 Have Been Received

250 CHILDREN NEED THEM

Furnishing school children of deficient eye vision with glasses is not a new idea, but it received added impetus here in recent weeks when Mrs. Jesse J. Ashby, Jr., knowing of a child who needed glasses badly, began to wonder if there couldn't be some way to get them. As a result of her efforts the County Health department now has a sum of $150 for an "eye glass fund" which it expects to use as a revolving fund to supply children with necessary glasses.

Four already have been provided and several more will be taken care of in time to give them clear vision for a Christmas present, acording to Dr. H. R. DuPuy, health officer.

Dr. DuPuy said that through Mrs. Ashby's efforts donations had been received from the Knights of Pythias, Pythian Sisters, Eastern Star, Harned Bible Class, Methodist Ladies' Aid, Willing Workers Sunday School class, Miss Crystal Elliott, and one anonymous person, which netted $150.

Glasses cost in the neighborhood of $6 to $6.50 and sometimes more, and it is the plan of Dr. DuPuy to have those needing glasses pay what they feel they are able. In cases where the child's parents are unable to pay anything, glasses will be provided just the same.

Dr. DuPuy stated that records from last year's eye examinations in the schools showed a total of 250 children who needed glasses who were not able to buy them.

In the past the Red Cross has contributed toward the purchase of glasses but funds have been limited for this work. Occasionally individuals have contributed to obtain glasses for a pupil they happened to know needed them.

But the fact that Mrs. Ashby knew of Magdalene Wilt, of the North Glade school, who needed glasses (and now has them), and about two months ago began to wonder about other children, is expected to start the ball rolling to obtain glasses for all children who need them, giving them an equal chance to learn in school what children next to them learn by having better vision.

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 62. OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MARYLAND, DECEMBER 29, 1938. NUMBER 44.

SCHOOL BOARD REQUESTS $421,828 FOR NEXT YEAR

Of This Amount Garrett County Is Asked To Furnish $182,295; State To Pay Balance

CAPITAL OUTLAY $73,000

A total of $421,828 was the sum estimated as necessary to operate the public schools of Garrett county for the year 1939, in the annual public school budget presented to the Board of County Commissioners by the local Board of Education. This includes $334,499 for current expenses; $73,675 for capital outlay and $13,654 for debt service.

The amount requested to be furnished by the County Commissioners is $182,295. Receipts from the State to go into the current expense account were estimated at $239,533. The county is asked to furnish $94,966 for current expenses and the full amount for capital outlay and debt service.

Last February the levy of the county gave the public schools $94,966.31 for general operating expense and $40,000 for capital outlay. In April, 1937, the Commissioners also levied $41,769.98 for the six-months' period.

Teachers' salaries in elementary schools are estimated to amount to the sum of $137,313, all of which is furnished by the State. Teachers' salaries in high schools are estimated at $74,000, of which amount the State will furnish $31,102.

Transportation of school children, it is estimated, will cost $56,156, all of which is furnished by the State. The amount is subject to an additional sum of $13,654, as set forth under debt service.

The funds requested for school expenses were in accordance with the 47-cent minimum county tax requirement set up by the State School Law.

According to County Superintendent F. E. Rathbun, all items of school expense run about the same as for the past year with the exception of increase in salaries of high school instructors due to the additional number estimated as needed, and an increase in funds for transportation facilities for similar reasons.

Capital Outlay

Capital outlay needs were set out in the budget as follows: Oakland High school, $2,500 for approximately six acres of land for an athletic field, the purchase of which has already been negotiated by the County Commissioners; land for Oakland elementary school, $1,850; land for Loch Lynn school, $325; two classrooms and halls for Oakland High school, $15,000; new building at Bloomington, $14,000; classrooms and an assembly hall at Accident, $40,000.

The amount requested from the County Commissioners for current expenses was estimated from the assessable basis of the county (also estimated) of $20,205,598, at 47 cents per $100. The mount for capital outlay and debt service is additional.

The needs of the School Board must be presented to the County Commissioners twenty days before the laying of the annual levy, which must be done on or before February 10, 1939.

OAKLAND SCOUT TROOP TO BEGIN 15TH ACTIVE YEAR

Troop 1 Was Organized In Fall Of 1924; Thirty-Five To Be Re-Registered For 1939

Starting January 1, the Oakland Troop No. 1, Boy Scouts of America, will begin its fifteenth year of existence. It is upon December 31, that the annual charter expires, and in order to continue in existence all active scouts, their leaders and troop committeemen must be re-registered upon the rolls at national scout headquarters.

The Oakland troop will begin its fifteenth year with 35 scouts re-registered, five of them being entirely new scouts, and the others having been in for various periods which have enabled them to advance to Tenderfoot, second class, and first class scouts.

Those boys re-registering include Harold C. Ashby, Robert D. Bittle, Arlie P. Breedlove, DeCoursey Bolden, William A. Casteel, John L. Fitzwater, Ronald Friend, James C. Darby, William W. Grant, John A. Grant, Linn B. Grant, Wendell E. Hanft, Wilbur C. Jones, Foster H. Mann.

Sharps, Clinton Shaffer, Robert H. Stevenson, William A. Shirer, Stanley S. Stahl, William F. Stahl, Robert B. Sincell, Harold F. Stockslager, Ralph T. Thayer, Creigh M. Teets, and William J. Welch.

Howard C. Riggs is scoutmaster of the troop with Bernard Gonder, Jr., assistant. The latter has been active in scouting for 14 years, ever since its inception under Rev. A. J. Torrey, in the fall of 1921. Scoutmasters since then have been Scott W. Shirer, Rev. Paul G. Linaweaver, George H. Hanst, Bernard Gonder, Jr., Robert Stemple, Rev. George Packard and Mr. Riggs.

Members of the troop committee include George H. Hanst, chairman; D. R. Sincell, Arthur Naylor, W. W. Dawson, F. D. Bittle, David C. Trimble, W. W. Grant. Other members are to be added later.

Many of the scouts under Rev. A. J. Torrey have been graduated from college for several years and have good positions; several are married, some having children.

Throughout the fourteen years there has been hardly a scout, who remained interested in scouting for any length of time, who is not a substantial citizen and who is not taking his place in the world, a review of the records shows.

EAST AND WEST COMBINE TO BRING WINTER STORM

Several Inches Of Snow Arrive From East, While Zero Blasts Are Brought By West Winds

ROADS BLOCKED FOR TIME

East and west storms combined this week to give Garrett county, and indeed, the entire country, a good-sized dose of various kinds of winter weather, which brought holiday highway traffic almost at a standstill and lowered temperatures to a marked degree.

Countless numbers of cars were stalled along the main highways on account of the ice and snow drifts, but in only two places in the county were State highways blocked completely as a result of the storm.

U. S. Route 219, from Fisher's Store to Keyser's Ridge, a distance of about two and one-half miles, was closed for about four hours Monday night—from 8 to 12—according to G. Bates Chaires, in charge of State roads in this county. Mr. Chaires also stated that Route 219 between Grantsville and Salisbury, Pa., was closed for a short time, but that the National Highway was not closed at any time on account of drifts. A bus blocked traffic for a time and a motorist, who stopped in the middle of the highway to put on chains and who refused to move until he had done so, caused a blockade on that thoroughfare.

Mr. Chaires said that fifteen truck plows and two tractor plows were in use during the storm and that his entire force of men had worked untiringly to keep the roads open.

Monday's snow was accompanied by a high east wind, for which the county roads were only partially prepared. Most of the storms come from the west and consequently most of the snow fences are on the west side of the highways.

While the government station at Weber's, near town, recorded a snowfall of 3½ inches, apparently there was much more than that fell in the northern section of the county. On Big Savage Mountain, east of Grantsville, it was reported to be approximately 10 inches. A strong wind piled the heavy wet flakes into huge drifts along the highways in which many motorists became hopelessly stalled. Mr. Chaires stated there was much evidence of people abandoning their cars to seek shelter in farm houses, without even bothering to lock the cars, indicating that drivers and occupants were becoming afraid of what the outcome of the storm would be.

The weather moderated Monday evening, however, and thawing occurred until about ten o'clock Tuesday morning, when winds from the west and north brought cold with them and struck with fury in all parts of the county. From then it became increasingly colder, dropping to four degrees above zero Wednesday morning at the Weber station. The strong wind made it appear to be much colder to people who were kept busy firing their furnaces to keep their homes comfortable.

Busses and trains were running behind schedule as late as yesterday on account of the storm throughout the eastern section of the country.

The temperature reading this morning was also 4 above zero, the same as Wednesday morning.

Christmas Mail Here Shows Increase Over That Of 1937

Christmas letter mail at the Oakland postoffice showed an increase of more than 4,500 pieces during the six-day period preceding Christmas this year, compared with a similar period in 1937, postoffice officials revealed this morning.

A total of 38,557 pieces passed through the canceling machines from December 19 to December 24, inclusive.

Stamp sales were also extremely heavy. During that period 50,000 one and one-half cent stamps were sold, 5,000 more than during the same period last year. The officials, however, had enough to supply the demand this year. Last year there was a shortage of the one and one-half cent variety.

Officials announced that the office window would be open from 7:30 to 8:30 on New Year's Day, Monday, January 2. There will be no delivery. The office will be open on Saturday until noon, returning to its usual schedule.

Honesty Still Prevails; Lost Purse Is Recovered!

There are still honest people in the world—many of them in Garrett county!

It pays to advertise in The Republican!

These two statements were proven to be very true last Friday afternoon.

On Wednesday Lester Bittinger, Oakland, inserted a "lost" notice in The Republican stating that a purse containing a sum of money had been mislaid somewhere in one of the stores of town or had been lost on the street.

Friday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sims, of the Underwood Community, came to The Republican office.

They had found a purse with $8.32 in it. The purse was identified, a reward was given to the finders and the purse and balance of the money returned to the owner.

It appeared to make a Merry Christmas for everybody concerned.

TO CONDUCT EXAMINATION FOR POSTMASTER POSITION

Must Apply Before January 17; J. Frank Browning, Acting Postmaster

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an open competitive examination to fill the position of postmaster at the Oakland postoffice. This examination is held pursuant to an Act of Congress, approved June 25, 1938, which placed presidential postmasters within the classified civil service.

The receipt of applications will close January 17, 1939. Veteran preference will not be granted unless documentary proof is submitted. An applicant must be a citizen, must have resided within the town for at least one year immediately preceding January 17, 1939, and within the ages of 25 to 63.

The Commission will certify the names of the highest three qualified eligibles to the Postmaster General who shall submit the name of one selected to the President for nomination. Confirmation by the Senate is the final action. The Commission states it is not interested in political, religious or fraternal affliations of any applicant.

Full information may be obtained at the Oakland postoffice or from the Commission, Washington.

J. Frank Browning was recently appointed acting postmaster of the Oakland office to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. Frances H. Matthews. He will assume his duties on January 1.

School Board To Meet To Consider PWA Grant

The Board of Education will hold its next meeting tomorrow morning at its office in the Court House, at which regular meeting the Board will consider a superseding offer of the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works, the same growing out of an amendatory application for an additional grant for funds for partpayment upon the additions and alterations to the Oakland Elementary and Kitzmiller High school buildings, as result of which the PWA grant in increased from 36,000 to $38,661, or an increase of $2,664.

State Relief Expenditures For 1938 Almost Nine Millions

Maryland's Federally aided 1938 relief program, including old-age pensions, aid to dependent children and direct relief, will cost the State approximately $8,852,089, reports of the Board of State Aid and Charities indicates.

On the basis of monthly figures from January through November the board's records showed total expenditures, month by month, ranging from a low $702,577 last January to a peak of $766,893 last month.

Old-age pension payments were expected to account for nearly half of the total. As of November 30, old-age pensions cost $3,251,509 and December's figures are expected to boost the total by about $301,000. About 800 pensioners were added to the rolls in the first eleven months and relief officials have forecast a continued rise in pension costs.

COMMISSIONERS PREPARE TO OBTAIN MORE ROADS

Machinery Purchased That Will Supplement and Speed up Work of WPA Projects in County

EXPECT TO SAVE MONEY

The new Board of County Commissioners, in office less than a month, have already taken definite steps to give the people of the county more and more miles of farm to market roads.

Machinery that will supplment and speed up the work of the Works Progress Administration road projects in this county, has been purchased by the Commissioners at a cost of approximately $16,000. Some of this equipment has already arrived other machinery is on the way.

With this new machinery it is the plan of the Commissioners to build 50 or more miles of road annually under WPA supervision, where only 20 miles were built before. This will materially reduce the cost of roads per mile, and the credit allowed by the WPA for the use of machinery and other savings which will be effected, are expected to pay for the cost of the machinery in the course of one and one-half or two years.

This is the expressed belief of the entire board of Commissioners, according to statements they made to a representative of The Republican yesterday afternoon. Blaine Giessman, president; Cheston H. Browning and Paul M. Friend are of the opinion that with the new plan Garrett county will be able to repair roads that are now run down and build many miles of new improved roads at a saving to the taxpayers.

"While we have the use of 750 men on WPA, we thought it extremely wise to have machinery available that will speed up the work and give Garrett county some good roads in every direction," Mr. Browning stated.

Machinery already received includes a caterpillar R.D.-7 and trail builder, a caterpiller auto patrol, powered with a Diesel motor, equipped with a 12-foot blade and scarifier; a V-type snow plow to attach to the auto patrol; a hydraulic control grader No. 66, with a 12-foot blade.

Also ordered are two stone crushers with metal bins, one portaole stone crusher and two air compressors.

The scarifier will be used to loosen up roads now rocked, so that they can be rolled smooth again. A coating of screenings and oil will then be added to these roads. The snow plow will be used to open the country roads that sometimes stay drifted for weeks at a time.

FIRE COMPANY ANSWERS TWO CALLS DURING WEEK

First Aid Certificates Presented To Five Who Complete Course

The Oakland Fire Department answered two alarms during the past week.

The firemen went to Vindex on Wednesday, December 21, in answer to a call at 7:26 in the evening. By the time the department with its equipment had made the 20-mile run the fire had been brought under control by employes of the coal company operating there, whose property was endangered by flames originating in a garage adjacent to the coal company's store building. A car, stored in the garage, was destroyed.

Monday, December 26, at 11:40 a. m., a call was answered from the home of Julius Walter, Alder street, Oakland. This was a flue fire and resulted in no damage to the property.

Five Receive Certificates

During the week five members of the department received their certificates from the Garrett County Chapter, American Red Cross, showing that they had completed a course in First Aid, conducted by Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, during the past summer and fall.

This course, among other things included instruction in the use of an inhalator, bandages, artificial respiration, proper procedure in cases of drowning, shock, etc. Members who completed the course and received the certificates were Wilbur Davis, Arthur Lawton, E. A. Shaffer, R. T. Thayer and R. L. Wolfe. These men are now capable of taking charge in any emergency to which they might be called.

Our Prayer To You---1939 . . .

You've come a long way up a difficult trail to take your place in this nineteen hundred thirty-ninth niche of eternity. Yet during all this time you have been mellowing in the wisdom you have acquired through the trials and errors of your brothers. You have witnessed men rise and fall; nations conquer and in turn become conquered; seconds of happiness—and centuries of oppression, hatred and strife. You have seen all this and know the causes and the results.

Now you are no longer the student—you are King. You have been trained long and well for this short but all-important job of ruling us for a year. May you use your painfully acquired wisdom well. Guide us through the pitfalls of intolerance, injustice, hatred and strife. Keep us ever mindful that our nation was "conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal."

Be lofty in your purpose, King of 1939, and just in your judgments. Make your reign one that will be forever remembered by all of us for its supremacy of happiness, prosperity and good-will.

The Question

Many of the suggestions advocating the price of [illegible] Cent. If every [illegible] would "double" this, it seems, would do much.

If similar methods of increasing the price of all products were employed, the American consumer would pay the check of the life.

When you buy a five-dollar pair of shoes, a dollar or more is for taxes. When you buy a three-dollar electric bill, 36 or 40 cents represents taxes. When you buy a forty-dollar suit, close to ten dollars goes for taxes.

You can't escape taxation—unless you're a hermit living in the hills. In a normal day you pay taxes a dozen times, though you may not know it—when you drive over the road, a tax, and lunch, to make a purchase.

When the American people get the truth through their heads there will be a drive for economy in government that will put an end to [illegible] of the facts is a vegetable government's best friend.

Meeting of Interested Citizens Called For Definite Action.

To the Editor of The Republican.

Since the election a number of substantial citizens of the county have called with me about calling a meeting to discuss needed legislation. During the past several days many, and reports have been made that such a meeting be called before the opening of the legislative session next week. Those who have talked with me think that the members of the House from Garrett county as well as myself, should give the people of the county a chance to express their views, especially about getting the roads back to the [illegible] and the building of new ones started.

In view of the above I have decided to call a meeting [illegible] Tuesday, January 3, to be held in [illegible] the Court House in Oakland, and I respectfully urge the Delegates, all other county officials and all citizens interested to attend. I hope that there may be a large attendance from all sections of the county, so that we may get a proper expression of opinion. I [illegible] to attend.

Our Board of County Commissioners has recently purchased a considerable amount of new road machinery, and as a part of the discussion about the proposed road legislation, I believe that there should be an explanation by them of their present road plans. It may be helpful for the people and the members of the Legislature to know what our Commissioners propose to do in the event the law is changed to give them full control over the expenditures. Accordingly, I urge them to be present at this meeting to review their plans.

COMMISSIONERS PREPARE TO OBTAIN MORE ROADS

The caterpillar and trail builder will be used to widen and prepare new roads for the hydraulic control grader.

The stone crushers will be set up at some point in the county where limestone is available, to manufacture screenings for use as top surfacing.

"Garrett county has some of the finest limestone available, at Bear Run, Swanton, Underwood and other points, and we expect to put the cost of crushing screenings in bids," Mr. Clingman stated. Limestone at present costs approximately $1.00 per ton on the job. The stone crushers will have a capacity of 150 tons of screenings per day. They will also be used to crush stone for the roads and in addition the portable stone crusher will be available at the point of operation on any road project where needed.

All roads constructed under WPA during the coming year will be 16 feet in width with substantial rock base, rolled and then oiled and given a coating of screenings which will furnish a year-round road to farmers. "The WPA will allow credit for use of the county's machinery, which is expected to help pay for the original cost," Mr. Friend said. "In addition the county will have more than twice the number of miles of roads annually, and the machinery will be owned by the county." All present oil machinery used on roads must be [illegible] the State Roads Commission, although in constructing WPA roads during the past year, most of the work was done by hand.

Mr. Clingman said that it cost approximately $25,000 annually to maintain the WPA projects in the county, it being necessary to furnish about 10 per cent of the cost of any project. With the new machinery it is not anticipated the cost will be more than twice the mileage.

According to figures in the office of the County Commissioners there are approximately 700 miles of roads in this county under the State Roads system, but that there are 500 miles of roads not under any system. Money to repair the roads under the State system comes from the county's share of the gasoline tax, and runs about $50,000 a year for snow bills, culverts, etc., but that there is no provision for the 500 miles of roads not under the State system. When the gasoline tax allotment is expended, there is no money spent for repair of roads.

Under the new plan it is the purpose to save those roads under the State system which have been evolved to give [illegible] and also to build more roads annually than were ever built before, [illegible] three commissioners. This will be done by using more WPA road projects, and less workers per job than formerly was necessary when machinery was not available.

Girl Scouts Of Saint Peter's Church Have Party

Among the many activities in St. Peter's parish during the holiday season, was a colorful party given the Girl Scouts on Thursday evening before Christmas.

Miss Margaret Stanton, captain of the troop, entertained its members at her home. A Christmas tree was decorated, around which were presents for all the girls. Games were played, Christmas carols and other songs were sung and the party was concluded with the serving of refreshments. A gold necklace with a cross pendant was presented to Miss Stanton by members of the troop.

At the midnight Mass at St. Peter's church, public acknowledgment was made of donations which were received from friends of the Parish. A set of Gothic vestments, used at the midnight Mass, was a gift from a lady of Morgantown, West Va. Another set of Gothic vestments, made by Miss Alma Heany, was the gift of Mr. George Foltz, of Baltimore. A complete set of tabernacle veils and a number of lace surplices for altar boys, were a donation of Miss Dawson, of Washington, D. C., and a donation of Mass intentions was received from the estate of the late John A. Hughes, of Pittsburgh, Pa.

The attendance at the Christmas midnight Mass was probably one of the largest in the history of the Parish.

NEW YEAR GREETINGS

EXIT THE OLD!
ENTER THE NEW!

Old '38 has plenty to tell young '39! He knows the high points and low points of the last year. But the young fellow has an optimistic outlook. He gathers from the experiences of '38 that things on a whole have been on the upgrade, and he sincerely believes that during his reign that the road he travels will be smooth.

The Coffman-Fisher Company shares the optimism of '39, and is looking forward to a year of prosperity and happiness. We sincerely hope that you too will see only contentment and happiness in the coming year.

PETER CALLED TO SERVE

LESSON TEXT—John 1:40-42; Luke 5:1-11.
GOLDEN TEXT—Come ye after me, and I will make you to become fishers of men.—Mark 1:17.

As we embark on the New Year, we gather in our Bible schools to take up an interesting series of studies on the life and work of Peter. The life story of any great and useful man is worthy of our careful study. The life of Peter has peculiar interest because he was so intensely human, and yet so gloriously used of God.

Our lesson for today starts at the right point, for we meet Peter when he as Simon first met the Lord. He was a mature man by that time, successful in business and "settled" in life, but with him (as with us) life did not really begin until he met the Lord Jesus.

I. He Was Brought to Christ (John 1:40-42).

Andrew, of whom we know but little, is a character greatly beloved because having found the Christ he at once set out to bring his brother to Him. He probably did not know that in bringing his rough fisherman brother to the Lord he was bringing one of the leaders of all time. The important thing is that he brought him.

The history of the Church abounds with the stories of humble men and women who have been used to win others to Christ, who have in turn been greatly used for Him. Think of the humble man who led Spurgeon to Christ, the Sunday School teacher who dealt with Moody, the simple but earnest Moravians who won Wesley—and be encouraged. You may have someone near you who may be awaiting your word to bring him to Jesus.

II. He Was Given a New Name (John 1:42).

Simon, meaning "to hear," is changed to Peter, which means "rock." The blessed Lord who in His omniscience knew what the change in Peter's heart was to mean in his life, gave him a new name to fit his new character.

What a blessed truth it is that God in Christ can and will take the blustering fisherman and transform all of his good qualities into power and usefulness for Himself. Thus God who knows just what we are is ready and willing to make us what we ought to be in Christ. Have you gone through the experience of having Christ say: "Thou art . . . thou shalt be?" It may mean that you have passed through or will pass through the pressing experiences which are needed to weld together your characteristics into a "rock," but if it is God's hand that makes the change you will find it to be all joy.

III. His Occupation Was Changed (Luke 5:1-11).

Christ had chosen Peter as one of those who should forsake all and follow Him, as one of his disciples in the inner circle of the Twelve. Note how graciously He carries out His purpose. One day as He stands to teach on the shore of the sea of Galilee the crowd presses Him, and He steps into a boat and asks the boatman to put out from the land. And it "just happened" to be the boat of Simon, who had about a year before met the Lord and received the new name of Peter.

Such things do not "happen." The destinies of men are in the hands of God. The day and hour for Peter's call had come, and here he was to be taught by Jesus through a miraculous draught of fish that he was to be a fisher of men. God's clock always runs on time. Remember that, and also be assured that if you are His child not even the simplest "happening" in your life is unknown to Him. He who numbers the hairs on our heads, He who observes the fall of a sparrow, is not lacking in loving interest and care for His children.

Had our lesson been deliberately chosen for a New Year's message it could hardly have been more appropriate. To the one who knows not Christ as Saviour there is an invitation to begin the New Year by coming to Him. To the Christian there is the admonition to do as Andrew did—bring your brother or friend to Christ. We are not all called to leave our daily work and become full-time Christian workers, but every believer should be a soul-winner. To the one who has heard the call of God to leave his nets and follow the Lord in full-time service, here is the urgent renewing of that call. Step out in faith now and follow Him. To the church or religious worker discouraged by the failure of a social or ethical program here is the lesson and example of a life changed by personal contact with the Lord Jesus. The New Year may be blessed and fruitful indeed, if we each one heed the lesson of the day.

Human Nature

When we are most filled with heavenly love, and only then, are we best fitted to bear with human infirmity, to live above it, and forget its burden.—Marla Hare.

BITTINGER

The special Christmas entertainment, given by the young folk of the congregation, in the Lutheran church, on Christmas Eve, was largely attended and has been pronounced a success.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bevans and little daughter, of Washington D. C., spent Christmas Day with Mrs. Bevans' parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Brenneman.

Cecil Brenneman, Washington, D. C., spent the Christmas week-end with his parents here.

A heavy snow fall from the east, accompanied by a stiff wind, swept over this section last Monday, rendering the roads impassable for motor vehicles.

Charles and Thomas Wiley, with their families, Canton, Ohio spent Christmas with relatives in this neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Doolittie spent Christmas Eve with relatives in Cumberland.

Commissioner, Cheston Browning, of Oakland, passed through this village one evening last week.

The year's turkey crop in this territory, which was considerable, was readily disposed of for the Christmas season, and the supply was not sufficient to meet all the demands.

MT. LAKE PARK

If there is any more wind, or if there are any more winds left, we can not guess where they are. For the last few days Garrett county has been "wind swept," and we do not mean maybe. Tops of garages have been taken flying, and anything that was not nailed tighter than tight wert a-flying too. Added to this we have had sleet and plenty of snow and ice, which all reminds us that we wakened up on Christmas morning and found a neighbor sweeping our walks. It was a pretty nice Christmas present and was all he could give us. We did appreciate it. The next day we saw a lad at our house and at other houses with a small hand-made snow plow going through. It was young Forrest Welling. The plow was very good, almost as good as the horse-drawn plow, which we had not seen. Naturally we figured the clearing was being done by the town, but upon inquiry found it was his own idea for his friends. As Walter Winchell would say, "an orchid to him," and our thanks. In fact, anyone who ventured to the post office that morning would have enjoyed their walk, because they had a cleared path. Many thanks, Forrest.

Mountain Lake did not fall behind with the Christmas spirit and their decorations. The community tree was a beauty. Clyde Shipley and Mr. Shoup, both neighbors, had lovely outdoor trees. There were many more, and we have a feeling that a certain Mountain Lake lady shortened her visit with relatives and friends in order that she might have her usual lovely Christmas display. We refer to Mrs. E. L. Winchell. Each year the people of the Park look forward to this decoration. And they were not disappointed this season. The red and blue lights could be seen many blocks away and scores of fortunate—and unfortunate—ones went to gaze at this beautiful spectacle. The spirit of Christmas was in Mountain Lake Park.

A very very Happy New Year to you all!

TWO ARE CHARGED WITH BURNING WESTLAKE HOME

Frank Westlake and Woodrow Baker Jailed Last Night by Officers—Home Burned in September, 1937

Frank Westlake aged 77 years and Woodrow Baker aged 19, son of John Baker, Oakland, are in the county jail on a charge of alleged arson in connection with the burning of Westlake's home in East Oakland on the night of September 24, 1937.

At the time of the fire it was feared that Westlake had been trapped in the building but he made his appearance in Oakland on Sunday morning following the fire and stated that he had been in New Philadelphia, O., visiting a sister.

The house was insured for $3,000 and the furniture was covered by insurance to the extent of $1,200.

The State's Attorney, Neil C. Fraley, and Sheriffs Owens and Spear have been working on the case ever since the fire.

TWO GROUPS ARE SPLIT ON CONSERVATION PLANS

Western Maryland Association Sticks To Approval of "Model Game Law," Secretary Says

LOCAL CLUBS NEUTRAL

J. Wesley Kelley, executive secretary of the Western Maryland Outdoor Life Federation, is taking exception and disapproving the conservation legislation sponsored by the Maryland Outdoor Life Federation, and indicated Friday evening at the meeting of the Oakland Rotary Club that his group would stand "pat on a model game law."

The latter Federation's plan for revamping the conservation department was endorsed recently by the Tri-State Seafood Association at a meeting in Cambridge. Eastern Shore interests were well represented at that gathering.

The Western Maryland Federation has disagreed with phases of the proposed legislation. Mr. Kelley writes:

"Insofar as the bay is concerned, my people are adamant. They want a complete and absolute separation of game and above tidewater fisheries from tidewater fisheries.

"In this they are not without regard for the watermen of the bay. In fact, we invite the watermen to produce a bill similar to ours to provide for the administration of tidewater fisheries, as we have attempted to provide for game and angling.

"The problem of coordinating two such departments would be one of administration, being no more difficult than others confronting the Governor."

Kelley said forty clubs in Western Maryland had definitely set their seals of approval on the model game law. A number of clubs in Garrett county have not committed themselves to either plan.
